

HEARST MEN SEE PURPOSE SERVED

Rinehart Says Cleveland Boom Was Killed and That Was All They Were After.

From a Staff Correspondent.

St. Louis, July 8.—Orville Rinehart of Minneapolis says the Hearst movement has really accomplished what he had in mind when he joined the organization. That is, the elimination of Cleveland as a possibility.

"There was a strong undercurrent of Cleveland strength thru the country," said Mr. Rinehart today, "and it was my duty to see that it was not organized, the leaders of the eastern democracy might have succeeded in nominating him."

Mr. Corrigan made a good showing on the credentials committee, where he was a hard-working member and was one of the nine who signed Bryan's minority report. It is generally conceded that they had right on their side. Judge Corrigan says he did not agree with the minority report in the cases of Hopkins and Cable of Illinois, who had no opponents. If they were not legally seated, there were no properly elected delegates for those places.

Frank D. Larrabee of Minneapolis was asked to make one of the speeches seconding the nomination of Hearst. He declined because the invitation came so late he felt he would not have had sufficient time to prepare.

When the Bryan demonstration was at its height yesterday afternoon and the Nebraska banner was waving, Larrabee seized the Minnesota standard and waved it frantically in the aisle alongside Nebraska. The Parker delegates from Minnesota did not like it, but could not help themselves. They could not object to paying a compliment to Bryan.

Minnesota's vote on the Illinois contest, which was a test roll call, and in some respects, a test vote of the convention, was the same as in the caucus Tuesday night. It stood 12 to 10, the 12 in favor of Bryan and the 10 in favor of Hearst.

Minnesota delegates are as badly divided on presidential preference as ever. When the vote is reached, Chairman Buck will have to give Minnesota to at least three and probably four candidates.

S. J. Mealey of Monticello, one of the anti-Lind men, is not a Hearst man and is inclined to vote for Richard Olney of Massachusetts. Chairman Buck himself and Frank A. Day have agreed to vote for Charles A. Towne.

The Minnesota member of the resolutions committee, C. E. Vasaly, helped Bryan this morning to defeat David B. Hill's gold plank.

Minnesota does not know how to vote on vice president, for the reason that lines have already shaped themselves. There is a friendly feeling for Turner of Washington, who will get a good vote from Minnesota if he has a chance to win.

THE SLOCUM'S SISTER SHIP IN A COLLISION

New York Sun Special Service. New York, July 8.—The steamer Grand Republic, sister ship of the General Slocum, collided last night with the Coney Island boat Dreamland, in a dense fog off Sea Gate, Coney Island. Both boats careened dangerously from the impact and the passengers were thrown into a panic and rushed wildly for life preservers.

SINGERS ENTERTAINED

Taken for Drives Thru City and Grain Fields Near Grand Forks. Special to The Journal. Grand Forks, N. D., July 8.—The san-gar-fest visitors spent the forenoon in driving about the city. Carriages were placed at their disposal by members of the local committee, and all the points of interest in and about the city were viewed. The university was visited and a part of the course took the sightseers among the fields of grain, which are a novel sight to many from a distance. Rehearsals were held this afternoon and in the evening comes the second and last of the grand concerts.

CONVENTION STORIES

St. Louis, July 8.—Eight years ago on the floor of the Chicago convention, immediately following the triumph of the Bryan wing over D. B. Hill, a reporter went to Mr. Hill, and, thinking of his famous utterance, "I am a democrat," asked him if he would still be a democrat. "Yes," he replied, "I am a democrat still—very still." Late last night the same reporter called on Mr. Hill in his rooms in the Southern hotel and recalled the incident of eight years before. "Well," he said, with a smile, "I am a democrat still, but not so still as I was."

"I wish," said a Kansas City democrat of the Cleveland kind, "that somebody would call the roll of the Palmer and Buckner convention at Indianapolis eight years ago. I'll wager you that a good share of the men active in that movement would respond. I was in the convention and I've met dozens of men here as delegates who were in that gathering; the reorganizers have surely reorganized."

There is no picture of Cockrell in the Missouri headquarters. A Missouri delegate was in headquarters when some visitors came in and asked where Cockrell's picture was. "We have no picture of our candidate," he said, "but here is a picture of the delegation," and he pointed to a large painting on the wall. It was a peasant girl herding a flock of geese.

Maelyn Arbuckle, the actor, stood on the stairs of the Jefferson and looked at the chattering, orating, arguing, periphrastic crowd of democrats in the lobby. "Reminds me of a visit to an insane asylum. I walked thru miles of corridors and saw shapes of fear and frightful travesties on mankind everywhere. I grew afraid when I observed how few were the guards in proportion to the inmates. 'Great heavens,' I said to the keeper, 'suppose these maniacs should combine, they would overpower you with ease.' 'Yes, that's so,' he drawled, 'but you see, they'll never get together. No two of the critters has the same delusion.'"

When someone suggested Richard K. Fox, editor of the Police Gazette, for Hearst's running-mate, the mad enthusiasm in the hotel barber shops was uncontrollable. Even the razors were keenly interested and the sponges absorbed the details greedily. Sporting barbers please write.

GIANT CRACKERS CAUSE PARALYSIS.

New York Sun Special Service. Waukegan, Ill., July 8.—Mrs. Dolan, 90 years old, is dying. The noise of fire-works annoyed her. Knowing this, many boys let off their giant crackers around her home. The shocks of the explosions caused a stroke of paralysis.

CHILD DROWNS.

Special to The Journal. Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., July 8.—While Mrs. Frank Belanger of Brimley was working in her garden her 2-year-old daughter fell into a pool of water and drowned.

TRAIN WRECK MYSTERY IN VANISHED FAMILY

New York Sun Special Service. Chicago, July 8.—The mystery surrounding the case of Benj. E. Connell, 1155 West Monroe street, Mrs. Connell and their 4-year-old daughter Irene, who were on the Wabash train wrecked at Litchfield, Sunday, has not been solved. The conductor of the train, who was a friend of Connell, declares the family was in the third car. They left Chicago to visit Mrs. Connell's uncle, E. J. McGroarty, in St. Louis. Three brothers of the missing woman, Stephen, William and James McGroarty, who were in St. Louis at the time of the wreck, have searched Litchfield in vain. Deputy Governor Buckley and A. R. Ford left for Litchfield and St. Louis last night hoping to solve the mystery. Either they were cremated in the wreck or have been taken to some private residence, where they have not yet been identified.

BALTIC ENDS FIRST TRIP.

New York, July 8.—The new White Star line steamer Baltic arrived here today from Liverpool on her first voyage, which occupied seven days, thirteen hours and seven minutes, or an average speed of sixteen knots per hour. The new steamer, altho the largest in the world, made the trip without a hitch of any character.

Unprotected Judge.

The stage manager catches one of the actors smoking behind the scenes. "Here! you can't smoke on the stage," he says. "What's the odds? The scenery is fireproof." "But you're not." "As the actor discovered when he got his two weeks' notice."
