Henry De Witt Company G was chosen as orderly to the governor. The review, in which the governor's staff participated, was held in khaki uniforms on account of the heat. The alignment of the companies and their accurate step was remarkable in view of the roughness of the ground. Spectators who had witnessed all the reviews held this year said that so far nothing had come up to the magnificent alignment of last evening.

Guard was mounted this morning by Battalion Adjutant Pearce and Sergeant Matt Beckner of the First regiment. The following officers: Captain McMillan, Company K, officer of the day; Lieutenant Nolan, Company K, officer of the guard; Lieutenant Olson, Company G, junior officer of the guard. MICHIGAN

NEW DAILY FOR MENOMINEE

If It Materializes It Will Be Democratic in Politics.

MENOMINEE, MICH.—J. C. McArthur, who is at present operating a newspaper in Terre Haute, Ind., proposes to move his plant to Menominee and start a daily paper, provided the Menominee merchants will guarantee him enough business to warrant his doing so. The paper will be democratic in politics. Menominee and Marinette were visited by a storm of green bars filed last night. They came in perfect clouds and settled on all buildings and walks. Several business houses had their doors open when the pest came, and before the owners were aware the stores were filled with the insects, and they were swept out into the street in shovelfuls. All the sidewalks were covered with their dead bodies this morning. The storm was a relief to the city, and the rays of this morning's sun killed them off, but their traces were left thickly in all directions.

NORTH DAKOTA SONS OF THOR FARE VERY WELL

SCANDINAVIANS OF N. D. CAPTURE SIX GOOD PLACES.

How the Turning Down of Spalding Came About—He Wasn't a Good "Mixer" and Wouldn't Hustle for the Nomination.

Special to The Journal. Fargo, N. D., July 22.—The Scandinavians of North Dakota should be satisfied with their representation on the republican state ticket. The quantity is there, if the quality is satisfactory to the sons of Thor. Before the state convention there had been considerable agitation over lack of representation for the Scandinavians in proportion to the percentage of votes they cast. In fact, the Scandinavian Republican league was organized to secure better representation and to secure better representation on the ticket.

While not all of those nominated by the republicans have the official endorsement of the league, the fact that such a league had been organized had a strong effect. The Scandinavians on the ticket are Edward Engerud of Fargo for supreme justice, J. Gronna of Lakota for congress, A. Peterson of Cogswell for state treasurer, C. N. Frich of Lakota for attorney general, John Christensen of Tower for railroad commissioner, and Erlin Stafne of Abercrombie for railroad commissioner.

This gives six of the best offices on the state ticket to the Scandinavians, and the arrangements or appointive officers also provide for a good representation. The convention presented some unusual features. There was only one candidate nominated for each place except congress, where there were two, and that was B. F. Spalding made a last stand for the Fargo man. Neither of the railroad commissioners was renominated. Both Shea and Lord had served as long as they wished, having been renominated two years ago, and Andrew Schatz of Harvel failed to get in the system when his local delegation was being selected.

The nomination of both justices of the supreme court from Fargo was perhaps the most unusual proceeding. N. C. Young had formerly a residence in Pembina county and located in Fargo after his election for the greater convenience as a residence. His nomination was counted rather from the state at large than from this city, the opposition to the selection of Spalding was made on the ground that both were from Fargo. On the dramatic and sudden death of Justice Cochrane another vacancy on the bench was created, and Engerud of Fargo was named. His selection, in view of the conditions, was a remarkable tribute to his special qualities as a jurist. The one nomination made without a combination slate.

The Turndown of Spalding. Opponents of Spalding fought his nomination on the ground that he was not a justice of the supreme court, and then, with glaring inconsistency, gave congressmen and attorneys precedence to one of the smallest counties in the state—Nelson. The defeat of Congressman Spalding was no great surprise to Fargo, as it was known he was not likely to be elected. Spalding's efficient service was conceded on all sides, but he has never had an enthusiastic following. He is naturally a reserved man and impossible as a mixer. His popularity was based by service, with the handicap of a personality that attracted few. He was too independent over his nomination and regarded it as a right for which he should not be compelled to fight. The political leaders didn't like his position, and thought if the nomination was not worth hustling for it should go elsewhere. So Spalding was slated for the ax.

Despite the agitation in his favor by a few friends, Governor White was a nonentity in the convention. He was not consulted on combinations and was overlooked in the results. WISCONSIN

WISCONSIN DEMOCRATS

Said That They Propose to Steal La Follette's Thunder.

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Chairman Warden of the democratic state convention has issued a call for a convention to nominate a state ticket for the year ending Aug. 31. Letters to the Chairman Warden in response to inquiries sent to the state convention are being received. The convention is likely to adopt a platform favoring a primary election law and a commission to regulate railroad rates. These are two of the leading planks in the LaFollette platform.

BLOOMER, Wis.—C. L. Christenson of this village was the successful bidder for steam tractors for a company which moved to Chicago Heights and failed. Mr. Ketchum has been engaged in the implement business, wholesale and retail, here and is one of the best informed men on freight tariffs in the state. His peculiar knowledge in this line made him a strong candidate with the commercial lumber company, and D. S. Peek visited Dietz, and both sides agreed to submit all their differences to the arbitration of the state board of arbitration for final settlement, all of the interested parties being Masons.

HAYWARD, Wis.—This controversy between the Chipewick Lumber and Boom company and John Dietz has been settled. William Irvine of Chipewick Falls managed the lumber company, and D. S. Peek visited Dietz, and both sides agreed to submit all their differences to the arbitration of the state board of arbitration for final settlement, all of the interested parties being Masons.

FIELD, Wis.—The first number of the Fifth Liberty yearbook will appear tomorrow. Mark R. Bell of Prentice is editor and publisher, and the paper will be the LaFollette republican in politics.

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Colonel John Hicks of Oshkosh was elected president, W. G. Weeks of Delafield secretary, and E. W. Weeks of Milwaukee treasurer of the Wisconsin Republican Editorial association, organized here yesterday. The association was named for each of the eleven congressional districts, and an executive board comprising seven members was elected. Resolutions were adopted informing the national and state republican platforms.

RAPID CITY, S. D.—The body of Lester Sanders was found at this ranch Monday and brought to this city. There are several theories as to the cause of his death. He was 19 years old and very well known in the west part of the hills. One theory is that he was overcome by a stroke of lightning and wandered off to a waterhole, where he was found dead.

HUMBOLDT, IOWA.—The Humboldt county fair will be held August 1-2-3-4. Great preparations will be made to make the fair a success.

FERRY, S. D.—An importation of Japanese laborers was made to this place this week by the Burlington Railway company. It has been almost impossible to find enough white laborers for the work. The railway company is now negotiating with the place and Spearhead. No trouble is anticipated between the whites and the Japanese.

NORTH DAKOTA THE DEVILS LAKE PRESERVE IS NEXT

REGISTRATION AT GRAND FORKS AND DEVILS LAKE, AUG. 8.

Arrangements to Preclude Necessity of Standing in Line for Hours and to Head Off "Sooners"—Full Instructions for Homeseekers.

Special to The Journal. Grand Forks, N. D., July 21.—Registration for claims on the Devils Lake Indian reservation will begin Aug. 8, at Grand Forks and Devils Lake, and will close on Aug. 22.

The Central school building will be used for the registration in this city, and ample facilities will be afforded those who desire to take a chance in Uncle Sam's land lottery. The drawing to determine in what order claimants may file on the reservation lands, which will be conducted by the commissioner of the general land office, will begin at Devils Lake on Sept. 6, and each person registered will be notified by mail when the facts of such a drawing at Devils Lake land office to make their entry. Those whose names are not drawn soon enough to entitle them to any land will be notified of the number their name was drawn.

Each person must personally have a notary prepare his registration affidavit before he goes to the booth to register, except soldiers and sailors who may register by an agent. Blanks for these may be had now from the general land office at Washington, but the agent's name must be given in the affidavit. Any fee extracted from an old soldier or other person, in the line of locating fee, until it is determined by the drawing, will be considered as a loan, and will be in the nature of an imposition. No Advantage in Being First. There will be no charge for registration and no advantage will be gained by being the first or the last to register, therefore crowding at the registration booths will be discouraged. Five years from date of entry is required on homesteads for perfecting the title, but these lands may be commuted after fourteen months actual residence and cultivation, by paying the balance of the Indian purchase price of $4.50 per acre. At the time of filing, the sum of $1.50 per acre must be paid, together with the usual filing fee of $4. The balance of the purchase price must be paid in yearly installments. Only qualified homesteaders will be allowed to register, and they must affirm that fact before a notary public before going to register. Registration blanks will be furnished by the clerk in charge, previous to registration, and by all notaries in Grand Forks and Devils Lake, who sign an agreement to charge not more than 25 cents for preparing the same.
