JOHN J. KEMPf STRIKES BACK

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE AGAINST LA FOLLETTE.

Culmination of Lightning Changes in State Administration Affairs at Madison—Row in Official Family Reaches Supreme Court and Date Is Set for a Hearing.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 1.—The state treasury is now in the supreme court. Upon the application of John J. Kempf, thru his attorneys, Chief Justice J. B. Cassady last evening signed an order compelling Governor La Follette, Secretary of State House, Attorney General Sturdevant and Thomas M. Purcell to show cause next Tuesday why permission should not be granted Mr. Kempf to bring suit in the supreme court to require him to resign as state treasurer, and to restrain them permanently from preventing him from exercising his duties as such officer.

The order of the court was the culmination of a series of swift events in the treasury situation. The first thing was the announcement of the appointment of Thomas M. Purcell of Cumberland, who has been deputy state treasurer for several years, as temporary state treasurer. This was followed by his qualifying by taking the oath of office and filing a bond in the sum of $100,000 as required by the governor. A short time later he announced the appointment of his department assistants. Then the order of Chief Justice Cassady followed.

FINE QUESTION FOR THE COURTS

SEQUEL TO "SLIDE FOR LIFE" FATALITY AT FORT DODGE.

Beautiful Young Woman Who Was Killed in Fall from High Wire Struck a Spectator in Her Descent and the Latter Sues the City to Recover Damages for His Injuries.

Special to The Journal.

Fort Dodge, Iowa, Sept. 1.—Judge Whitaker of the district court is engaged in hearing a case against the city for $20,000 damages for personal injuries sustained by M. M. Wheeler on July 4, 1903, who was struck by Clara Rasmussen, a "slide for life" performer, who met her death here on that date by the breaking of the harness which she wore.

The case involves a question of liability on the part of the city for the accident and the injury of the plaintiff, who was a spectator. The legal talent has been engaged and the case is being bitterly fought.

One of the attractions on July 4 was a "slide for life" act. A wire was fastened to the top of the courthouse and run to a large pole some 300 feet distant. The performer was an amateur and the proper height was not observed. A temporary one was constructed of webbing and preparations were made for the attraction. A crowd of several thousand persons was on hand to witness the daring act. The performer was a beautiful young girl whose home was in Omaha. She had been engaged to do vaudeville work, but agreed to make the slide for the regular performer.

She was given the start, but the pulley stuck and she complained that something was wrong. A hasty examination was made and everything pronounced all right. She was given another start and had proceeded but a short distance when the harness broke and she was sent flying and she was precipitated into the crowd below with fearful velocity.

In her descent she struck M. M. Wheeler, who was seated on the pavement, but his injuries were very painful, did not prove serious. The girl was instantly killed and her manager and his wife secured a sentence for criminal negligence. Mr. Wheeler now seeks to recover damages from the city on the ground that it is liable. The question of liability is conceded to be a close one and is creating wide interest.

HEADLESS BODY FOUND IN RIVER

LAND SEEKER MURDERED BY A GANG OF OUTTHROATS.

Third Mysterious Disappearance in the Neighborhood of Cody, Wyo.—Head Severed from Body to Destroy Identity and Puzzle Officials—Robbery Believed to Be the Motive.

Special to The Journal.

Butte, Mont., Sept. 1.—A body, special says the headless body of an unidentified man has been found floating in the Yellowstone river a short distance from this city, and great excitement prevails as the result of the find, this being the third mysterious disappearance in the past few months. An examination of the body failed to reveal anything that might lead to identity.

The man was well dressed and was of large size, and the condition of the body shows that he had undoubtedly been in the water for some time before the body was found. The head was severed from the body to prevent the officers from ascertaining the identity of the victim, and the trunk is believed to have been disposed of in all efforts of the authorities no trace of the head can be found.

The man was undoubtedly one of the large number of land buyers who are now coming into the Big Horn basin to seek homes under the great irrigation project. The officers have accepted the theory that he was murdered and robbed.

Two home-seekers who came here some time ago have disappeared and not the slightest trace of their whereabouts can be discovered. It is believed they were murdered and that a regularly organized gang of outthroats is operating in this section.
