TORMENTING RHEUMATISM

Columbus, Ohio, May 20, 1903.
Six years ago I had a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism. I was laid in bed for six months, and the doctors I had did me no good. They changed medicines every week and nothing they prescribed seemed to help me. Finally I began the use of S. S. S. My knee and elbow joints were swollen terribly, and at one time my joints were so swollen and painful that I could not close them when opened. I was so bad that I could not move knee or foot. I was getting discouraged, you may be sure, when I began S. S. S., but as I saw it was helping me I continued it, and to-day I am a sound well man and have never had a return of the disease. S. S. S. purified my blood and cured me of this severe case of rheumatism after everything else had failed. I have recommended it to others with good results.

R. H. CHAPMAN,
1355 Mt. Vernon Ave.

The poisonous acids that produce the inflammation and pain are absorbed into the blood and rheumatism can never be conquered till these are neutralized and filtered out of the blood and system. S. S. S. goes directly into the circulation and attacks the disease itself. It purifies and restores the blood to a healthy, vigorous condition. It contains no potash, alkali or other strong minerals, but is guaranteed entirely vegetable. Write us and our physicians will advise without any charge whatever. Our book on Rheumatism sent free.

WHERE HONESTY IS A COMMON VIRTUE

"PUBLIC OPINION" PAYS HIGH COMPLIMENT TO SWEDEN.

Police-men Are Largely Ornamental, for Petty Thieving Is Almost an Unknown Vice, Even in the Cities—Norway Reports a Backward Season in the Herring Fisheries.

It is necessary to have lived some time in Sweden to have gained an idea of the extreme honesty of the country, says Public Opinion. Thieves are rare, crimes still more so. The majority of the stores of Stockholm merely close their doors at night, the most respectable stock being protected only by a sheet of glass. In fact, the policeman is merely an ornament. In the theaters a large room open to all is used as a cloakroom. Here everyone leaves his things without in any way guarding them, and there is never a loss. It is needless to say that this feeling of mutual confidence makes the spirit of the country a very delightful one. One of the most distinctive characteristics of the Scandinavian spirit from time immemorial has been the respect for women, and the most constant form of the feminine spirit has been the love of battle and the desire to obtain the same rights as man. While the woman of the south has been dominated by her charms, the woman of the north has ruled by her force. The woman of today has kept the same love of physical exercise and the same thirst for independence, in the majority of the towns the boys and girls being placed together and at the age of ten, young girls go out alone and have every liberty. There is no country where the woman who is obliged to earn her living is better cared for than in Sweden. All positions are open to her. She may be a physician, professor, journalist, manufacturer, employee in the government offices, etc., without losing her feminine position in the world. The first transportation company of Stockholm was founded and directed with success by a woman, many printing shops employ only women, and in literature the head of the idealist school is Miss Selma Lagerlof, and the most bitter antagonist is Miss Ellen Kar. The consequence of all this has been a scorn of marriage, an increase in the number of women who live alone.

ORDERED OLD GLORY DOWN

Russian Official Says American Flag Shant Fly at Vasa.

The stars and stripes were ordered hauled down in Vasa harbor recently by an officious Russian officer, but fortunately for the officer, he saw his blunder in time to prevent any unpleasant consequences to himself, and gave permission to raise the flag again.

On a recent trip of the steamer Sundsvall to Finland, there were many American tourists aboard, and in their honor the captain flew the stars and stripes from the mizzen mast. When the steamer arrived at Vasa, a captain of gendarmes boarded the vessel and demanded to know the significance of the American flag on the Swedish vessel. He peremptorily ordered it down, at the same time announcing that only the French or German flags could be used on such occasions. The flag came down, but the matter earnestly protested that the act was discourteous and insulting to a mighty nation. The captain became somewhat alarmed after thinking over the matter and then recalled his order.

LIGHT HERRING-CATCH

But Norway Is Doing Well with Salmon and Whales.

Norway's herring-catch for this summer has been very light at last reports, but no alarm was felt, as it is not unusual that the herring do not appear in large schools until late in August. The catch, however, was only 1,778 barrels as compared with 11,000 barrels for the corresponding period of 1903 and 6,000 in 1902. Further north the conditions are satisfactory. The salmon season, which is now over, yielded about the average.

Encouraging reports are received from the whalers and sealers. In the Spitzbergen waters whales are reported plentiful and the seal also numerous, and engaged in the industry are doing well.

FINNISH SAVANTS ABUSED

Russia's Treatment of Helsingfors Professors Causes Heated Protests.

Georg Brandes, in Politiken, delivers a highly indignant protest against outrages perpetrated against the members of the faculty of the university at Helsingfors, Finland. He calls upon the university professors of the three Scandinavian countries to resign, and a formal protest is sent against the barbarities practiced on innocent men and to encourage the scholars of England, Germany, France, Italy and other countries to do likewise.

Denmark's department of justice will prosecute the publisher of the newspaper "Klokken 12" (Twelve O'clock) for insults to the Russian government.

ARCHAIC GRAVES OPENED

Mounds Near Helsingborg, Sweden, Yield Some Historic Relics.

More than twenty burial mounds near Helsingborg, Sweden, have been opened this summer under the direction of the archaeological society. Helsingborg, which is at the narrowest stretch of the straits between Sweden and Denmark, has an ancient history and its vicinity is the opposite shore of Denmark has been of great interest to archaeologists. In the graves were found urns, ornaments, and other articles, dating from the bronze age.

BJORNSTJERNE WRITES

The Bauta Sten at Fargo Pleases Him Mightily.

Bjornstjerne Bjornson, who is at present at Montenegro, Italy, writes an interesting letter to a friend at Abercrombie, N. D., acknowledging the honor shown him in erecting the Bjornstjerne bauta at Fargo. He writes that he has been unable to read the flattering things that were said about him, but desires to have his thanks conveyed to his old friend, John W. Abercrombie, with whom he would like to talk again.

PORTFOLIOS EXCHANGED

Norwegian Ministry Reorganized, According to Recent Cables.

Portfolios have been changed about by the Norwegian ministry. Mr. Michelsen of the Norwegian department at Stockholm has been made chief of the department of finance and customs in place of Mr. Kildal, and Mr. Vogt became chief for the department of foreign affairs and commerce in place of Mr. Schoenning. Ministers Kildal and Schoenning are presumably transferred to Stockholm, but the dispatches do not say so.

CROPS IN DENMARK

Suffered Much from Drought, but no Suffering Will Result.

Denmark also suffered from drought this summer, and at last accounts hardly an average crop was expected. Some fields will show almost a total loss, while others in low places and good soil will yield good returns. Wherever there is a yield the quality is uniformly good. Only one crop of clover and other hay was obtained, but the quality is reported to be splendid and high prices will prevail.

The wheat is fair, rye below the average, barley and oats uneven and the yield about the average as to quantity. The root crops are generally satisfactory.

Swedes Are Strong Oarsmen.

A rowing tournament was held at Christiania, Norway, Aug. 14, with much success. The course was over Høleikil, which is admirably protected from the wind. Crews from the Stockholm Rowing Club, the junior four-oared race for 2,000 meters in 8:11; the senior four-oared for Langaard's cup in 5:30.2-5; the eight-oared, distance 1,200 meters, 5:54.3; the double scull in 11:20; the distance being 2,000 meters and the four-oared crew, No. 22, of the Christiania Rowing club won the 1,200-meter race in 5:10.7/2.

Costly Fire.

Bjorneby sawmills and planingmill, on Kragerøen, near Fredrikstad, was partly destroyed by fire on Aug. 11. The fire was confined to the works by energetic work, but burning brands started a score of fires in the city, which were extinguished with great difficulty. The loss was 600,000 kroner, but might have been ten times that sum had the flames secured a good foothold in the city.

A Sinister Welcome.

Prince Obolenski's welcome to Finland had a sinister feature. One night some persons had put up around in Helsingfors several placards addressed to the "imperial" senate with such gruesome sentiments as "Obolenski's murderer lives" and "Welcome. After Brinkoff, Him." Some one will be punished for this deed—probably innocent persons, as usual.

A Texas Celebration.

Norise, Texas, celebrated its semi-centennial on July 28, with rather imposing ceremonies. Several of the original pioneers were present. Norise is not the oldest Norwegian settlement in Texas by any means, as a colony located at Normandy, now Brownsville, in 1845, and another at Prairieville in 1848. Both were founded by Johan Reinert Reinertsen, a well-known journalist. The first one, however, was Johan Norboe, who came to Texas in 1832.

Ribe Cathedral is Restored.

Ribe cathedral, the oldest church in Denmark, has been restored and the dedication exercises were held on Aug. 7 with great ceremony. King Christian and nearly all the members of the royal family were present, and the ancient town took on a gala appearance in honor of the distinguished guests. More than seven hundred guests were present at the burghers' dinner.

The work of restoring the venerable structure began ten years ago, and has been under the constant supervision of Professor Amberg, a leading architect. Great care was taken to preserve the ancient features. The total expense, which was paid out of the royal treasury, amounted to 1,100,000 kroner.

Honors to German Fleet.

The visit of the German squadron to Christiansund was a gala event in the town. The vessels illuminated in honor of the town, and the town returned the compliment. The singers went out in the harbor and gave a serenade. Emperor William made considerable of a stay at Thronbjørn and at Bergen, entertaining liberally and associating freely with the townspeople.

Sweden's New Shark.

Hagen (the shark) is the appropriate name bestowed on Sweden's new submarine boat. The machinery and other apparatus has been installed and a picked crew of eight men is being instructed in the workings of the boat. No time has been set for the official trial with a Swedish crew.

Royal Opera Tenor Dies.

K. M. Bratbost, for several years a favorite tenor at the Royal opera, Stockholm, died Aug. 1, at Stockholm. He was a Norwegian by birth and his voice was first "discovered" when he was a member of a quartet or glee club in the Norwegian guard at Stockholm. Ivar Hallstrom became the young soldier's patron, and after three years' study in music and languages, Bratbost secured a place at the royal opera.

Roundabout Cotton Route.

The Norway imports American cotton to the value of 6,000,000 kroner annually, it is not imported direct, but is purchased in Europe. This is the more strange when it is remembered that the merchant marine of Norway is among the largest in the world. United States Consul Cunningham, at Bergen, calls attention to this fact and suggests that it would be more profitable for both countries to deal direct.

Sweden's Mormon Temple.

Mormons are building a temple in Stockholm, which is believed to be the first Mormon temple outside of the United States. It is a distinction that the people of the Swedish capital do not relish, and they watch the progress on the temple for the Latter Day Saints with ill-concealed disgust. The missionaries are active and successful in spite of the state church opposition.

Harry Mitchell's Editorial.

Besides a heavy business with old customers, I had the satisfaction of selling four suits and two overcoats Saturday to business men who, to my knowledge, have always bought $35 and $50 suits and coats in the past.

It was a simple matter to sell them after they had examined the fabrics.

Which proves that it is only a question of a man stopping at my place and looking to satisfy himself that all my talk about $35 quality at $15 is straight goods.

Here's the proposition in a nutshell—you pay a high price for tailoring to get style—fit—wear—in a word, to get satisfaction. And I say to you "Satisfaction or money back." I warrant my suits and overcoats to give satisfaction. And all the time the price is $15, no more, no less. What else shall I say?

You can find in my stock right now absolutely everything that style authorities approve for fall and winter.

Isn't it up to you?

Isn't it worth while to walk down to my place and see if there is anything besides talk in what I'm saying. You stand to save $20 in each purchase, if you're a tailor-made man. If you're a ready-made man, you have surprises coming.

Won't you look me up?

Yours,

HARRY MITCHELL
