Mrs. D. B. Rollins and Miss Rollins entertained at six-hand euchre yesterday afternoon at her home, 600 University avenue SE. Sixty-five women had been invited to play and were received by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. P. C. Worance, Mrs. George Knobel and Mrs. Harry Bergman. The rooms were charmingly decorated with autumn flowers. Bouquets of marigolds, asters and nasturtiums, and the mixtures of colors into a bright ornament on the tables and on the cabinets, and golden-eyed flowers gleamed among the thickness of ferns which banked the mantels. After the game a light supper was served from the tables.

The fall reception given Wednesday evening for Rev. and Mrs. E. W. Shurtlett by the members of the First Congregational church, in the church parlors, was one of the handsomest social events. Receiving with Rev. and Mrs. Shurtlett were President and Mrs. Cyrus Northrop, the deacons of the church—Hiram Scriber, C. T. Rickard, T. H. Colwell, Mr. Lyons, F. M. Boyl, Professor Haynes, and the ladies, Meses. J. B. Cooper, W. S. Pattee, Lebbitts, E. E. Coleman and J. A. Kennedy. Refreshments were served in the diningroom, which was a mass of autumn flowers and foliage. The center of the table was a huge pyramid made of nasturtiums, shaded from the palest yellow to the deepest bronze, and at either side stood candelabra with red tapers and the lights were in red. The arch was hung with woodbine and suspended from the center were Japanese lilies, Japanese petunias and other garden flowers were arranged on the mantels and tables and made a charming mixture of all the bright colors of the rainbow. Meses. H. E. Coleman, J. E. Ware, Miss Coleman, Miss Campbell and Mrs. Monroe were in charge of the arrangements. Meses. Wilson, O. J. Dyer, A. M. Monroe, S. A. McIntire, presided at the tables, and the Meses Harriet Seeley, Hazel Sherburne, Blanche Monroe, Hel-

CHURCH SOCIETIES

"Mother Goose Rhymes" are to be staged into a delightful performance Oct. 20 by the Ladies' Aid society of Holy Trinity church. At a meeting held Tuesday morning by the committee—Meses. Purves, Malmstedt, Kennedy and Todd—the plans were further decided upon, and one of the most delightful entertainments was looked for. Those who will take part are to be a group of women of the Ladies' Aid society and the male characters will be played by men from the Rectory Aid. The first half of the program will be scenes from "Mother Goose" and the second half will be a reception by Mother Goose (Mrs. Harry F. Kennedy) and her geese which is to be a real goose. At the reception are to be all who took part in the scenes and a group of additional "Mother Goose Rhyme" characters.

The program will open with a grand march, and the first act will be three scenes of "The Old Bachelor" in his home in London and on his way home. Ralph Parker is to figure as the old bachelor, and Mrs. Bigelow will be the chosen wife. Mrs. J. S. Todd is to be the mother of the six daughters from which the scenes are taken, including Meses. Bigelow, Pearce, Nyberg, Purchase, Newbert and Chapman. Little Bo-Peep will be assigned to Mrs. Ralph Parker, who "sat on a tuft." "Little sheep" a herd will be drawn across the stage by an invisible wire.

In "Queen of Hearts" Mrs. Timberlake will be the queen, Mr. Timberlake will be the king, and Ernest Munn will be in the role of the knave, who stole all the tarts. Mrs. Ernest Munn is to be Miss Muffet, who "sat on a tuft." Mrs. C. M. Malmstedt is to figure as Mother Hubbard, and will be assisted in looking into her cupboard by a real dog. "The Spider and the Fly" are to be personified by Dell Smith and Miss Mabel Wheeler. "Ride a Cock Horse" and "Jack and Jill" will also be on the program. Little Boy Blue (Theo Newson), The Old Woman Who Lived in the Shoe (Mrs. Frank Clark), The Ring Lady, Humpty-Dumpty (Frank Clark) and other "Mother Goose" characters will be on the stage and will take part in the quadrille which is to close the entertainment. The undertaking will be unique and will be enjoyed by old and young, for the "Mother Goose Rhymes" in all their amusing simplicity never fail to touch a responsive chord in an audience.

The Unity club of the First Congregational church will meet next Tuesday at the home of Mrs. R. B. Laird, 610 Eleventh avenue SE. The last meeting was held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. J. E. Ware, 1108 Sixth street SE. It was given up to the opening of the program of the Home and Missionary societies. The Foreign Missionary society is to study China this winter, and Mrs. Davenport gave as an introduction the geography of China. Mrs. Shurtlett spoke on the rulers and provinces of China. Mrs. Coleman of the Home Missionary society spoke on "Leavening the Nation." After the meeting tea was served, and a social hour was enjoyed by the members.

FALL OPENINGS

Shoppers in the East Side districts availed themselves of the delightful opportunity to attend the fall opening of Craig, Lunde & Craig at their dry goods store, 305-11 Central avenue. The store was handsomely decorated for the event, and in the evening a full orchestra played. Pains, ferns, asparagus ferns and other potted plants stood on the counters and were sold at remarkably low prices, after having performed their duty of beautifying the surroundings. Of special attraction was the millinery departments under Mrs. Hotchkiss, where the most fashionable styles in millinery were shown. The shoe department, which has been enlarged twice its size, speaks well for the popularity of the store. The basement, too, has been considerably enlarged and renovated and is now under the management of C. A. Tagin. A new addition to the already complete stock in the art and embroidery department is the display of Corticelli wash silks for embroidering. For the home dressmaker, the Peerless velvet, plumes, ties and other accessories added as there are none better in the world. The store is one of the best-equipped up-to-date places for shopping.

One of the interesting events on the East Side last week was the formal opening of the millinery department at J. M. Armstrong's, 1114 Central avenue. The fall display of hats and millinery comprises some of the finest models imported from Chicago and New York. The store is under the supervision of Mrs. Armstrong's supervision. The hats shown are suggestive of the rich autumn colors, and brown, burnt velvet, plumes, ties and other accessories added in the trimmings of the day.
