STATE BOARD MAY RECONSIDER COMMITTEE WOULD CUT HENNEPIN'S RAISE IN HALF.

After Long Conference, the Probable Outcome Is a 10 Per Cent Increase on Goods and Merchandise for This County—Street Railway to Be Taken Up.

Members of the state board of equalization returned this morning from their session in St. Paul.

The assessment of Hennepin county for logs and lumber was discussed again but no action taken.

A session of the committee on goods and merchandise was held in the governor's office at noon.

W. L. Harris, representing the Minneapolis retailers, presented their protest against the 20 per cent increase on goods and merchandise, and the question was gone over thoroughly.

After the conference it was unofficially stated that the committee would recommend a reduction, and that Hennepin will be raised only 10 per cent.

The street railway assessment is to be taken up this afternoon or tomorrow morning.

'CHAW-TOBAC' HAD THEM ALL GOING

VARSITY GUARDIANS BELIEVED HIS STORY OF A TUNNEL.

As a Matter of Fact Six Small Boys Had Dug a Hole Under the Grandstand and Huddled in It Till the Football Game Began.

'Chaw-tobac' Egan was the proudest newsboy on the East Side of the river yesterday, for the Sunday papers had told of the ninety-foot tunnel into Northrop field, dug by the gang of which 'Chaw-tobac' is king.

Today young Egan is saying nothing, for the story is out and Chaw-tobac's 90-foot tunnel is now only a hole in the sand six feet deep.

While the game on Northrop field was engrossing the attention of the spectators, a vigilant policeman under the grandstand discovered boy after boy emerging from a hole in the ground.

An investigation showed what appeared to be the entrance to a large tunnel, and the officer at once stationed himself at the entrance. Only one more small boy, very dirty, appeared, but this had when questioned, told a story that has not only misled the policemen and the athletic management, but which was being placed in the Sunday papers.

The true story is this: Egan, in company with six others of the 'gang' dug the hole Friday night of last week. They were dirty, and they were in the field and encased themselves safely within the limited confines of their hidingplace. There they waited, packed together so that it was impossible for them to move, until the game began.

Some one has suggested that the board of control issue season tickets to Chaw-tobac and his six cronies.

VOTERS' LEAGUE ANSWERS

No disclosures are made in the answer which, in effect, states that the league had reason to believe that the charges were true.

PETERSON GOT HIS CHICKENS

STATE GAME COMMISSIONERS LOST IN MUNICIPAL COURT.

James A. Peterson Declares the Taking of Thirty-one Prairie Chickens by Deputy Game Warden Was a High-Handed Procedure—Throws Several Bouquets Toward Mr. Fullerton.

A case of vital interest to sportsmen was ended in municipal court this morning when Judge H. D. Dickinson directed the jury in the replevin case of James A. Peterson against the A. Booth Packing company and the state game commission, to find for the plaintiff.

Mr. Peterson went to the White Earth reservation Oct. 2 for a hunting trip. In three days he shot thirty-one chickens, took them with him to Forston and then to Crookston, where they were put on the Great Northern train which Mr. Peterson came to Minneapolis. After breakfast he went to get his chickens and found that Deputy Game Warden Williams and Mair-bank had taken them to the Booth Packing company. He went there and demanded them, but was refused.

He then went to St. Paul and saw Executive Agent S. F. Fullerton, who promised to aid him in getting back his chickens. But this brought no results and Mr. Peterson swore out a writ of replevin. He found it necessary to summon the manager of the Booth company before him if the chickens were in storage there.

Judge Dickinson ordered the manager to say whether the chickens were in storage. He admitted that they were, and as the game commission could show no authority for having seized the game, the court ordered the jury to find for the plaintiff and either the chickens, or the amount of $31, will be surrendered.

'After the chickens were taken from me by the warden,' said Mr. Peterson, 'I assumed that he was acting in good faith. Mr. Smith of Jackson county and I called upon Mr. Fullerton and fully explained the case. I told him that the chickens were shot by me and brought to Minneapolis on the same train, and that they belonged to me. Mr. Fullerton said he would help me recover them. Instead, he has done everything in his power to prevent me from finding them.'

'I consider the action one of the most high-handed procedures I have ever known.'

Deputy Game Warden Williams says that he made the seizure upon the law which prohibits the shipping of game. The state game commission, according to Mr. Williams, will appeal, so as to get a ruling from the supreme court.

MAKES STRONG DENIAL

PERCIVAL ROSS DOES NOT KNOW HOW THE MARKED BILLS CAME INTO HIS POSSESSION.

'Altho the marked bills were found in my possession, I have no knowledge how they came there, and I swear that I never saw them from the mails.' The plea of Percival Ross, the Minneapolis postal clerk, who was detected in an alleged robbery of the mails by enclosing bank always burned up in these words. Mr. Ross was on the witness stand for over an hour, but could not explain how he happened to have the bills.

The rest of the morning was taken up with the cross-examination of several witnesses who told of the good reputation of Percival Ross, and the fact that the suit of Laura Rickard against the Milwaukee railroad for damages for the death of W. B. Rickard, her husband, has been dismissed.

HILL IS ARRAIGNED

He Pleads Not Guilty to Charge of Embezzlement.

Max W. Hill, indicted on the charge of embezzling $600 from Frank M. Boyce, was arraigned yesterday before M. Harrison this morning. He pleaded not guilty and his bail was fixed at $750.

R. D. Currier, one of the Robbinsdale bookkeepers, accused of selling liquor on Sunday, was arraigned and pleaded not guilty. The defendant was released on $100 bail. Trial was set for Oct. 17.

A. S. Dowdall, attorney for one of the Robbinsdale saloon men, flatly attributes the arrest to politics. He says that a certain party leader demanded that the Robbinsdale saloon be closed, threatening prosecution under the Sunday laws if they did not comply.

HITS ADMINISTRATION

Rev. G. L. Morrill Says City Is in Most Immoral Condition.

In a characteristic sermon yesterday at the People's church service, Rev. G. L. Morrill commented upon the seriousness of the recent Chinese outrages and their effect upon the present administration as follows:

We have had a wide-open administration which is as bad as any I have lived under here in fifteen years and would disgrace hell in its plainest days. Shamelessness is our only characteristic. Immoral resorts have been maintained by married men. The aristocratic and the conventional classes have been welcomed back into good society. Depravity has forgotten that decency has any right to be respected.

Let us plan to pray as we vote and vote as we pray.

Mayor Haynes declined this morning to discuss the attack on the present administration by Rev. G. L. Morrill. 'Mr. Morrill is given to spasms,' he said, 'and I suppose that he has had another. At any rate, I will pay no attention to him.'

Tomorrow put your Want Ads in The Journal and get a two-pound package of Pillsbury's Vitas free.

BACK WENT THE TREE

RAINS RESTORE FALLEN TREE TO THE PERPENDICULAR.

Big Elm at Lake Minnetonka Left Prone on Ground Aug. 20—Sawed Off Twenty Feet from Roots—Recent Rains Soak Later Until They Pull Trunk Back into Position.

Out about the beautiful village of Mound, upper Lake Minnetonka, the natives are ringing the changes on 'back to the woods' in telling a wonderful tale of the powers of wind and water.

In the big storm of Aug. 20 the upper lake suffered with the rest of the storm-stricken region and among the some-time victims of the forest which bit the mud on that wild night was an immense elm which fell across the roadway below the Hotel Buena Vista.

The trunk was some hundred feet in length and three feet thick at its base. When it fell, its roots pulled up many tons of earth.

In order to restore communication by roadway the tree trunk was sawed off twenty feet from the roots and the prostrate stump left to its own devices. This was a month ago. Last week the rains came and the rains fell and the trunk was pulled back into its original position by the topography of Mound.

The water, soaking into the tons of earth about the roots of the fallen tree, broke and raised the trunk and arose in a minute the old pride of the forest was upright again, its feet in the ground and its trunk pointing heavenward.

This was the position in which the line men of the Twin City Telephone company found it when they came to repair the break, and natives who are unbelievers cite these employees as corroborators.

BUCKMAN SUIT IS FILED TODAY

STATE ASKS CONGRESSMAN TO PAY $45,236.20 FOR TIMBER.

Judgment Asked for Trespass on Three Sections—Same Trespass Was Settled by Auditor Dunn for $4,000—The Attorney General Himself Served the Papers Which Ignore Dunn's Action.

Attorney General Donahower filed the complaint in his trespass action against Congressman B. Buckman in St. Paul at noon today.

The state sues Mr. Buckman for $45,236.20, with interest from June 1, 1899. No motion is made in the complaint to discontinue the suit.

The complaint cites three causes of action for trespass committed on state lands between October, 1897, and June 1, 1899. For each trespass the state demands double the value of the timber, being the least that the law allows in a settlement for trespass.

The first cause covers a trespass on sections 7, 8 and 16, township 68, range 20, amounting to 8,305 trees, and 2,153,784 feet. These logs were cut and banked, and sold on the bank. The second cause covers a trespass on sections 36-65-24, amounting to 1,302 trees, which scaled 672,980 feet. These are also valued at $3 a thousand, amounting to $5,383.84, and the state demands double the amount or $10,767.68.

The third trespass was for only 1,330 feet on section 31-65-23, valued at $3 a thousand, or $3,990, and judgment is asked for $7,980.

The three items total $45,236.20, and interest at 6 per cent would bring the total amount asked up to about $55,500. The suit was filed on the November term calendar of the Ramsey county district court. The papers were served by Mr. Donahower himself Oct. 4, but the complaint is dated Aug. 10.
