In Social Circles
The marriage of Miss Mabel Cordelia Stevenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Stevenson, and Charles Rittenhouse Williams took place last evening at the Stevenson residence on Portland avenue. The ceremony was performed in the parlors of the residence. The bride wore her traveling gown. Mr. and Mrs. Williams left on an evening train for the east, and they will make their home in Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Williams is a graduate of the University of the Kappa Alpha Theta society.

Warren Wright of New York, which took place at the home of the bride's brother and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Ulrich, 220 East Twenty-seventh street. Only the members of the family were present at the service, which was read by Rev. C. E. Burton. There were no attendants, and autumn foliage furnished a decorative touch. The bride wore her traveling gown. Mr. and Mrs. Wright left on an evening train for the east, and they will make their home in Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Wright is a graduate of the University of the Kappa Alpha Theta society.

Among the weddings of yesterday was that of Miss Nellie Hart and James O'Brien, which took place in the Church of St. Anthony of Padua. Miss Bacon and Miss Macey furnished the musical music. The ushers were James Hart and Mr. Find. W. H. Deneen acted as best man, and Miss Gainer was maid of honor. She wore tan voile over silk, and her flowers were American Beauty roses. The bride wore a gown of white silk, and the bouquet of white roses. The service was read by Rev. Father O'Brien, who officiated at the home of the bride on Second avenue SE. Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien went to St. Louis for two weeks, and they will reside at the Leane apartments, on Madison street NE.

The Kidneys and Human Life
Dr. Bessie Park Haines Guarantees to Cure Bright's Disease.
Bright's Disease, unchecked, is not only as certain to kill as is consumption, but it is far more speedy in its fatal results. This fell destroyer is claiming its victims by the thousands in this country every year. For these reasons any affection of the kidneys, upon which depend human life, should not be trifled with by the use of "patent medicines" or given into the hands of any but a specialist. Dr. Haines has devoted nearly thirty years to her specialty, and she is one of the foremost and leading specialists in America. Go and see her. She will analyze your urine and tell you where and what your trouble is, and cure you. Dr. Haines is a graduate of all three schools of medicine. No charge for consultation or examination. A group of relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Tryon on Aldrich avenue S last evening to witness the wedding of Miss Lotta Marie Tryon and Mr. Preston Bull. The ring service was read by Rev. A. T. Fowler beneath an arch of bitter-sweet berries. At either side were great bunches of chrysanthemums against a background of red and yellow leaves. In the diningroom red and white carnations formed the centerpiece for the table, which was lighted with tapers. An orchestra played the "Lohengrin" chorus for the entrance of the bride. Miss Gladys Covert, the maid of honor, wore pink silk mull and carried American Beauty roses. The bride wore a gown of cascaded satin with a bertha of duchesse lace and trimmings of pearl passementerie. The bouquet was bride roses. The bridegroom wore a tuxedo. The service was followed by a reception, and about 200 guests were present. The parents of the bride and bridegroom received with them. Misses Blanche Hewitt and Minnie Treadwell served frappe from a flower-decked table, and Mrs. A. M. Mull, Misses Mary Bull and Elizabeth Tryon were in the diningroom. Mr. Bull and Mrs. Tryon went to northern Minnesota on a hunting trip and they will receive after Dec. 1 at 2137 Commonwealth avenue, St. Anthony Park. Mrs. Bull's traveling gown was of blue and she wore a hat to match. The bridal dinner was given Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Coville, next door to the bride and the bride's place was marked with white carnations. A quiet wedding of yesterday was that of Miss Mabel Simis and Edward

FLORISTS OFFER SOLUTION
Would Have the Workhouse Prisoners Make Flower Pots.

Minneapolis florists find, at the beginning of the winter season, that they are unable to obtain a supply of flower pots except by sending to potteries in other states. This has not only caused inconvenience but has resulted in restricting trade and the florists are wondering why a reply has not been made to their request for an investigation by the city authorities into the advisability of establishing a pottery at the workhouse. It is probable that a petition signed by the florists' association will be handed to the city authorities in a few days asking for an answer or an investigation. In reply to the statement of the union workers at Red Wing that the pottery there can supply the Minneapolis market, R. J. S. Wessling said this morning that he had never heard of a florist pot from the Red Wing pottery being used in this city. He said the florists had personally investigated the possibility of a pottery at the works, that the plan was feasible and that its success would be assured. The machinery formerly used by the Swan Brothers is in almost perfect condition and could be purchased at a very low price. The florists know of a former pottery manufacturer who could be secured for a reasonable salary, and say that the prisoners at the workhouse could easily do the necessary work under his direction.

ELKS' LADIES SOCIAL
As Usual It Was a Pleasant and Artistic Success.

Minneapolis Lodge, No. 44, B. P. O. E., gave another of its ladies' socials last night that was a thorough success. Albert H. Hall was master of ceremonies and W. H. Eustis was the 11 o'clock toastmaster. The program consisted of an organ recital by Miss Anna DeWitt Cook, the travesty on Othello by the Esten sisters, recitations, solos, dances and piano selections. The 11 o'clock toast was impressive. In reply to the statement of the union workers at Red Wing that the pottery there can supply the Minneapolis market, R. J. S. Wessling said this morning that he had never heard of a florist pot from the Red Wing pottery being used in this city.
