ID Social Circles

The marriage of Miss Harriet Side Wagner and Harry Ide Belden took place last evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. H. W. Wagner on Park avenue. The house was transformed with smilax and palms and in every room the walls showed a tangle of foliage in which tiny electric lights gleamed and glistened. The stairway was wreathed with vines and the glossy green of leaves and tendrils twined round the doorways and windows. Clusters of American beauty roses were caught in the green in the drawing-room, but the livingroom where the bride and groom were seated was all green and green with great white chrysanthemums on either side of the simulated altar. The library where punch was served glowed with red tapers. The ballroom was used as a supperroom and it was veiled with the foliage against which quaint wall pockets held American beauty roses in an enormous basket of the queenly flowers was on the table.

Danz's orchestra played a program of nuptial music as the members of the family and the smaller group of friends gathered to witness the wedding. As the notes of the "Lohengrin" chorus were sounded, the bride and groom, with the bridesmaids and groomsmen, were waiting the coming of the bride.

The bride was attended by her two sisters, Miss Kate Wagner and Miss Harriet Side. She wore white chiffon cloth fashioned with panne satin. The matron of honor, Mrs. Herbert L. Hankinson, wore white lace over chiffon and both had great corsage bouquets of violets and lilies of the valley tied with violet ribbon. The bridegroom was of white panne velvet enriched with duchesse lace. The veil was caught with a white ribbon and the bouquet was of white orchids and lilies of the valley. The orchestra played a solo accompaniment to the service and at the close sounded the Mendelssohn march.

A reception for Mr. and Mrs. Belden followed and several hundred guests came to offer their congratulations. The bride couple were aided in receiving by Mrs. Wagner and Judge and Mrs. Belden, Mrs. Morris Towne of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hankinson of Hankinson, N. D., and Miss Grace Waters of Kansas City were the out-of-town guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Belden went away for a short trip and they will receive Wednesday in January at 1509 Portland avenue. Mrs. Belden's going away gown was of black and blue cloth with a hat to match. Tuesday evening there was a bachelor girls' supper at the Minikahda club for the bride and twenty-four of her young women friends were present. A basket of American beauty roses formed the centerpiece and all of the appointments were in red.

Getsemans church was elaborately decked with chrysanthemums and palms last evening for the marriage of Miss Jessica Ruth Morgan, daughter of the late D. F. Morgan, and John Duval Cottrax of New Orleans. The heavy headed flowers banked the altar and were caught in clusters on the pews reserved for the family. The organist played a program of appropriate music as the guests arrived and were seated by the ushers, E. A. Prendergast, Richard Morgan of Minneapolis, Stephen Palmer, Chapman Perkins of John Solari and John Menge of New Orleans.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Bessie June Morgan, who wore pale blue embroidered net over white, and held a great cluster of yellow chrysanthemums. The bride wore a lace robe over a slip of white acordon pleated silk. Her veil was of tulle and held a great cluster of yellow chrysanthemums. The bridegroom and his best man, Bert Henry of New Orleans, met the bride at the church steps, and the service was read by Rev. I. P. Johnson.

The reception was at the Hampshire Arms, and foliage and red roses made a pretty decoration thru the rooms. The out-of-town guests included Mrs. Genevieve Wallace and Miss Marie Cottrax of New Orleans, Miss Jane Clay of Kentucky, Mrs. E. S. Pyndale of Chicago, Mrs. Helena Worman and Miss Worman of Red Wing. Mr. Cottrax and his bride left for St. Louis, to remain for some time before going to their home in New Orleans, where they will receive after Dec. 1, at 3204 St. Charles street.

BURNETT'S EXTRACT OF VANILLA

Has taken gold medals against all other brands. WHAT THE MARKET AFFORDS. The spring green vegetables are with us once more in all their vernal freshness and crisp tenderness. The bunches of watercress, small scarlet radishes, big white, yellow, black and rose-colored winter radishes, onions, make one hungry to look at them. Lettuce was never more tender than now both in leaf and head varieties. The small crisp-leafed heads provide an ideal material for a dinner salad without any accessories. All these are so cheap that they should be eaten freely and heavier salads left for weather when the prices of green things go up. For the people who tire of lettuce and its like, chicory and endive, the white crisp tender head of cabbage of Ford variety. This combined with shredded sweet green peppers is piquant and pretty. Peppers are a valuable cooking accessory, adding an agreeable and mild flavor to soups, stews, hashes and other salads. Peppers stuffed and baked are an elegant and substantial dish and as cups in which to serve salads, hashes, etc., are serviceable and pretty.
