In Social Circles

The charity ball Friday evening at the West hotel will be a rallying place for society after the summer's wanderings. The arrangements have been carefully made by the members of the two boards of the Home for Children and Aged Women, the beneficiary of the affair, and the plans sound very attractive. The charity ball is not the most elaborate function of the year, perhaps, but it is one of the pleasantest and has been looked forward to annually by society for many years. The women of the two boards are all prominent society and they have spared no pains to make the ball a success.

The guests will be received by Mrs. Charles J. Martin and Edward C. Gale for the senior board, and Mrs. Charles Cranston Bovey and Charles S. Jolley for the junior board. John R. Chandler, Alfred F. Pillsbury and Charles P. Case, Cavour S. Langdon, George W. Porter, Charles S. Jolley, Chauncey R. Lamb, William K. Morrison, Arthur E. Martin, Howard M. Morton, H. E. Smith, Charles D. Volie, Benjamin H. Woodworth, Robert K. Buckman, Jr., Edward C. Gale, Theodore Wetmore, John Crosby, George P. Case, Cavour S. Langdon, Henry L. Carpenter, Robert A. Hastings, George K. Belden, Charles S. Gale, Walter G. Hudson, Charles E. Hefflinger, John S. Pillsbury, David B. Tenney and Thomas F. Wallace.

Mrs. James T. Wyman and Mrs. Enoch William Underwood will issue invitations Monday for a reception to be given Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 16, from 3 until 6 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Wyman, 1029 Fourth street SE. To introduce Miss Echelewyn Wyman, the daughter of James T. Wyman and belongs to a prominent old Minneapolis family. Miss Wyman is a college girl and received her diploma from Wells in June. During the summer she traveled in Europe with Mr. and Mrs. Wyman and has only returned to Minneapolis after what has been practically a four-year's absence. A number of other affairs will be given for her later in the season.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Partridge gave a handsomely appointed dinner last evening at their home on Groveland terrace for Miss Alice Smith and Charles F. Hepburn. The decorations were all in green and white with maidenhair ferns in the center of the table and bride roses and lilies of the valley at each of the twenty covers. The place cards were in green and white and tied with long streamers of green gauze ribbon. After dinner there was dancing in the ballroom.

Today Miss Smith, Mr. Hepburn and the young people of the bridal party went out to Minnetonka to be the guests at a house party over Sunday at the home of Mrs. Marjorie Northrup in Ferndale. Monday evening Miss Smith will give a dinner for her maids, Mr. Hepburn will entertain his ushers and best man at dinner, and the whirl of gaiety will close with the wedding Wednesday, which will be a most beautiful and elaborate affair with its charming bride and eight pretty small bridesmaids, the Misses Julia and Cordelia Hepburn, of New York, Mr. Hepburn's sisters. The marriage service will be read in Plymouth church at 8 o'clock, and it will be followed by a small reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Alden Smith, on Harmon place.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hepburn will come from New York to attend the wedding of their son, and Mrs. Hepburn and her daughters will arrive on Monday.

Mr. Willis J. Jones has cards out for a tea which will be given Thursday afternoon at her home on Mount Curva avenue for the Misses Christian, who have recently returned from Europe.

Mrs. William Hooker will give a tea Friday afternoon from 2 until 6 o'clock at her home, 2200 Fifth avenue S, for Mrs. Roy Hooker.

Dr. and Mrs. Willard B. Pineo have issued invitations for a bridge whist party which will be given Tuesday evening at the Holmes hotel.

The Alpha Phi sorority will hold its annual bazaar at the home of Mrs. E. B. Long, 41 Groveland avenue, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. In the evening a short play will be given by the members of the sorority. Friends of the sorority will be welcome without special invitations.

The debutantes in St. Paul are having their coming-out parties and a large number of Minneapolis women went over Thursday to attend the debut of Miss Lillian Ranney, daughter of Mrs. Thomas Ranney, who will introduce her daughter, and on Thursday Mrs. J. M. Forest will present Miss Alice Forest. It is rather strange, but St. Paul nearly always has more debutantes than Minneapolis, which would seem to prove that the girls of the saintly city care more for society than those in Minneapolis. There are several young girls who will really make their first appearance among the "grown ups" this winter, but who have refused to have a formal "coming out," deeming that clearing so much more fun to slip into society quietly than to be ushered with all the formality which surrounds a debutante.

Mrs. Eugene Hay of New York, formerly of Minneapolis, was the guest of honor at two charmingly informal affairs today. Mrs. A. E. Martin of Clifton avenue gave a luncheon of twelve covers and later in the afternoon Mrs. A. E. Merrill of Harmon place had a few women at a tea to meet Mrs. Hay. Mrs. Hay is the guest of Mrs. C. C. Webber of Clifton avenue, and she has been much entertained during her friends' stay in the city by Mrs. H. E. Francis. She will return east the first of the week.

Mrs. George R. Lyman and the Misses Lyman gave a tea yesterday afternoon at their home on Chicago avenue. Chrysanthemums were used with palms in the decoration of the parlors and the dining room had red carnations and shaded lilies. The assisting women were Misses George Beach, Walter Eggleston, Percy Jones, Frederick L. Lyman, W. L. Halleck, Charles Hale, Samuel Morris, C. A. McCollon, George Jamme, Misses Grace Harrison, Lucy Hart, Katharine Lyman, Ida Patterson and DeMars.

Last evening Miss Springer gave a preserve shower for Miss Gliese at the home of Mrs. Gliese. The jars of sweetmeats were arranged in a pretty booth in the parlor. The decorations of the house were white and red, and in the dining room red tapers were used. The bride's chair was tied with a tulle bow. The guests were Misses Johnson, Hill, Dean, Waddington, Draman, Roff, Benson, Donaldson and Claypool.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Dwinell of Groveland avenue entertained at dinner Thursday evening for Mr. and Mrs. George Hyde Preston of St. Paul.

The wedding of Miss Clara Savoid and Charles W. Smith took place Thursday afternoon at 11 W. Thirty-third street. Autumn leaves decorated the rooms and the bridal party stood before a bank of chrysanthemums while the service was read by Rev. R. A. Vander Las, Mr. and Mrs. Orvil Merrill were the attendants. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Smith entertained a few friends at their new home, 3251 Nicollet avenue.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL.

Mrs. H. P. Bulmer entertained the Jolly Six Thursday. There were twelve guests of Harry Stuart and a spending a few days with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Stuart, of Portland avenue.

The Union Club will meet Tuesday with Mrs. G. A. Putnam, 1303 Yale place.

Mrs. Kate Whiting has arrived from Washington, D. C. for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Lawrence of 3044 Park avenue.

Lorraine Social club will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Louis Hoke, 316 Second avenue S. Tuesday afternoon.

Lorraine chapter, No. 16, O. E. S., will give a reception in honor of Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas, mother of the bride, at the home of Mrs. E. C. Shevlin, 1110 Hennepin, Monday evening in Masonic Temple.

Minneapolis arrivals at Holland House, New York, for the week were: A. Long, Orvil and Mrs. E. C. Shevlin, Miss Charlotte Passenore, J. K. Quail, R. D. Clark, F. W. Plant, Mrs. A. Brown and Miss Fox.

Miss May Herlihy of 481 Seventh avenue S was pleasantly surprised Thursday evening by twenty-five friends. Games and music were the amusements and refreshments were served.

WHAT THE MARKET AFFORDS

It pays families using many apples to buy them by the barrel if they have a cool cellar or closet for storage. The average price of apples is $2.50 a barrel and this is probably the cheapest time to buy them while the selection is good. For $2.50 one may have a variety of pippins, Northern Spy, Greenings and Winter Sweets; Bellflowers and Concord grapes have about reached the end of their season, but can still be had in fair condition for 25 cents a bushel. The price of grapes is the best now in the market, but Tokays have gone up to 15 cents a pound. Malagas at 20 cents are about as good as they get. Grapes are more generally useful, having a more tender skin and few and small seeds.

New nuts are in the market, but they are uncommonly high at this time. The best selling for 20 cents a pound. Italian chestnuts have made their appearance. These are as large as English walnuts and are used in a great variety of dishes as well as eaten boiled or roasted. Foreigners are very fond of these nuts, which are a staple article of food in continental Europe. The price of nuts in Minneapolis is confined chiefly to a stuffing for turkey.

BURNETT'S EXTRACT OF VANILLA is the best, perfectly pure, highly concentrated.

ROOSEVELT CLUB'S SHOW

CAST SELECTED FOR "CINDERELLA AND THE PRINCE"—REHEARSALS ARE BEGUN.

The first rehearsal of "Cinderella and the Prince," the new Barnet opera which is to be given this season by the Roosevelt club, was held last evening in the club rooms in the Lyceum building. D. K. Stevens of Boston, who is R. A. Barnet's right-hand man, proved to be a most choro musician and a composer of rare ability. He possesses the necessary ginger to put life and action into the work and the first rehearsal went with a swing that promises success for this year's show.

After several competitive trials, the play committee last night announced the cast with but a few exceptions, and those who will have the solo parts this year are:

Cinderella.....George Meader
Her proud sister, Gladys.....Hal Stevens
Her other proud sister, Minnie.....Edgar T. Hanson
Her godmother, Titania.....(Not announced)
Golden Hair.....W. O. Newgard
Her great big bear.....W. Z. Morrell
Her medium bear.....(Not announced)
Her little wee bear.....W. M. Splan
The Duke.....Frank C. Lane
Robinson Crusoe.....Frank C. Lane
His man Friday.....Carlton Pillsbury
His man's ruse.....(Not announced)
His man's rival Saturday.....Tom W. Russell
Auntie's cat.....Merry mortals, Lady Lasses, woodland elves, mountain sprites, fays and fairies.

The cast is the strongest one that has yet been secured by the Roosevelt club. While several members who have made hits before are absent from the cast, their places have been filled by very capable people. Business has prevented Gilbert Byron from appearing this year, but his many friends will be glad to know he will act as dramatic coach. Miss Ethel Malcolm will again have charge of the dancing and that feature will have her usual careful attention. Miss Elizabeth Woodcock will act as accompanist at all the rehearsals.

CIVIC AFFAIRS

INTEREST WOMEN

FEDERATED CLUB WOMEN CONSIDER REFORMS.

Professor Willis M. West Urges Civil Service Reform as a Remedy for Corruption and Politics and Economy and Efficiency in the Public Service.

The growing interest of women in civic affairs was shown yesterday afternoon by the large attendance at and the deep interest in the meeting of the district of the Minnesota Federation of Women's clubs called to consider civil service reform, the protection of young girls and other questions of public interest. The meeting was held at the White club room and was presided over by Mrs. W. B. MacLean. Professor W. M. West of the university was the principal speaker, his topic being civil service reform. His conclusion was "Offensive partisanship must be given up in order to secure purity of politics. The merit system was recommended from a business standpoint as affording better service for the expenditure and from a patriotic standpoint as ridding the country of the evils of corruption. It was emphasized that civil service is not limited to parties but to their support by corrupt methods. So long as the spoils system prevails, it is too much to expect that men will enlarge their positions by pernicious activity in the performance of their duty. The instance of a brave and honest gas inspector who was quietly removed for telling the whole truth in his reports, was given, and the comment added that probably the gas had improved, for there had never since been any official criticism of its quality.

Mrs. H. A. Towne, speaking on the work the federation is engaged in to secure a separate training school for girls, said: "It is time the women of the state spoke out in this matter. Minnesota has never done her duty by her unfortunate and erring girls and women. Its reformatory work for men is excellent, but for women nothing adequate has been done."

Mrs. M. B. Lewis reported the movement inaugurated by the Humane society to give better protection for girls and the desire of the society to have an additional officer detailed specially for this work. She recommended consideration of helping this movement on all of the individual clubs. She was followed by Mrs. Sarah B. Schaeffer, police matron, who told of the need of the work of protection. She spoke of the fact that the number of cases of young boys and girls coming under her care, 190 last year, against 95 in 1901.

Mrs. Schaeffer spoke strongly against the employment of young girls in stores, as the influences it leads them into are responsible for many of the cases with which she has to deal. She especially urged the number of help in securing the closing of stores employing young girls at 6 o'clock Saturday night as well as other days. The ignorance rather than the indifference of the mothers was the reason given for their neglect to protect their daughters.

An invitation to the federation to act as a house mother at the annual art exhibition was accepted and will be arranged by a committee.

The following committee of arrangements for the annual convention of the state federation was named: Mrs. W. M. Hopkins, E. M. La Penotiere, W. W. Sykes, C. E. Dickenson, Heck Merriman, C. W. Gamble, P. P. Quinby, and J. A. Crosby. The committee will elect its own chairman.

It was voted to hold a vote meeting in the interest of forestry, to be in charge of Lydia Phillips Williams, chairman of the forestry committee of the Minnesota and general federation to present plans for local forestry work.
