CITY NEWS
NEW GOVERNOR
AND HIS PLUMS

APPLICANTS ARE BESIEGING CHAIRMAN FRANK A. DAY.

Mr. Day Likely to Be Private Secretary, While L. A. Rosing Will Be Well Taken Care Of—Public Examiner Johnson May Be Retained—Other Republicans Want to Remain.

John A. Johnson, governor-elect of Minnesota, has not yet taken up the question of appointments, but it will be the principal thing on his mind for the next two months. After a vacation of two weeks he will remain in St. Peter until nearly time for his inauguration. He will be flooded with letters and visited by many applicants for appointment. There are already candidates actively at work for all of the important positions in the new governor's gift. The most important are:

Governor's private secretary, executive clerk, state oil inspector, insurance commissioner, public examiner, dairy and food commissioner, one member of board of control, labor commissioner, superintendent of public instruction, adjutant general, and three surveyors general of logs and lumber.

The position of private secretary is conceded to Frank A. Day, chairman of the state committee and a close personal friend of the governor-elect. L. A. Rosing, who was Mr. Day's able coadjutor in the campaign, is also slated for "something good." Outside of this there is not much determined on. There are plenty of applicants, and they are after Frank A. Day, who has been keeping office at the headquarters since election. He declines to promise his influence to any one, but he is not inclined to the rewards. There are not enough to go around—that is plain.

May Retain Johnson. It is quite likely that some republicans will be recognized in the appointments, as the vote which elected Mr. Johnson came almost as much from republicans as democrats. There is already a movement on foot to retain Public Examiner S. T. Johnson of Minneapolis, in view of the record he has made in the department, and the work he has yet to do. The state auditor's office is not finished, and may not be for some months. The facts he developed in the records of the office had much to do with Dunn's defeat, so there are political as well as other reasons for retaining him. Other republican officials whose friends are hoping to see them retained are State Superintendent Olson, Labor Commissioner O'Donnell and Colonel C. T. Trowbridge, custodian at the capitol.

The governor's patronage is not as large as it was under the Lind administration, when the governor appointed the railroad and warehouse commission and could make the minor appointments. Van Sant Not Thru. Governor Van Sant is not thru with patronage troubles yet. The coming resignation of Bridges Holt and Dickinson will give him many municipal judges to appoint, and he is bombarded with applications from over a dozen candidates.

POLITICIANS SETTLE RIVALRY IN RING

New York Sun Special Service. Mahoney City, Pa., Nov. 11.—In the presence of 200 spectators, Joseph Davis and James Brennan fought a forty-six minutes last night with bare knuckles in West Railroad street, when the police swooped down on them. The principals are rival politicians at Morea, in Mahoney township, and agreed to settle their claims to leadership according to prize ring ethics. The fight was a continuous performance, there being no intermissions for recuperation. Brennan scored four knockdowns and Davis five. Both were badly punished, Brennan sustaining a broken nose and two cracked ribs. Davis was cut and bruised badly about the face and body. Brennan was frustrated in his ambition to become a member of the township school board, and he ascribed his defeat to Davis.

ARCHITECT HODGDON

Who Has Erected Some of the Finest Buildings in Pittsburgh

TESTIFIES

For Munyon's Paw-Paw and Says It Cured Him of Catarrh of the Stomach

No need to tell the people of Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Southern Ohio who C. W. Hodgdon, of Pittsburgh, is, as his name is, an architect, has extended far beyond the confines of that city. He is an ardent believer in Munyon's Paw-Paw Tonic. This is what he says: "Indigestion, which finally resulted in Catarrh of the Stomach, brought on a case of insomnia, and I was almost incapacitated for business. I was induced to try Munyon's Paw-Paw Tonic and the results were magical. Less than half a dozen bottles effected a complete cure and now I feel as well as I ever did." It is such testimony as that which has in one brief year made Munyon's Paw-Paw Tonic and Paw-Paw Laxative Pills the most talked of remedies that the druggists handle. Those who have Dyspepsia, indigestion or Constipation or who are nervous and cannot sleep make a serious mistake in not making an immediate trial of Munyon's Paw-Paw Tonic or Pills. Munyon's Remedies—a separate cure for each disease and Munyon's Witch Hazel Soap and other toilet preparations, for sale everywhere.

BUCKMAN WILL PLAY FOR DELAY

TRESPASS CASE WILL BE APPEALED ON A DEMURRER.

It Will Have to Be Tried By Attorney General E. T. Young—Claim for Treble Damages Is on Piece Out by Kehl & Deary—They Thought Buckman Owned It.

Congressman C. B. Buckman's timber trespass case will not come to trial this year, as his counsel have agreed on a program of delay.

When the case comes up for trial in St. Paul the defense will demur to the amended complaint, and will attack the law which gives the state the right to collect treble damages for willful trespass.

Next will come an appeal to the supreme court on this point. Before the case can be heard by the supreme court, Attorney General Donahower will give way to E. T. Young. The new attorney general, a former colleague of Buckman's in the senate, will prosecute the case.

The amended complaint charges willful trespass only on one tract, which was cut by Kehl & Deary of Duluth, instead of by Buckman. It was included in the settlement made by Buckman, and it is understood that there was a deal between the congressman and the lumber firm, which supposed that Buckman was the owner of the timber.

NEW IDEA IS APPROVED

HIGH-CLASS ARTISTS MAKE THEIR DEBUT IN VAUDEVILLE AT THE ORPHEUM.

MME. LE ROY, Coloratura Soprano.

One of the mutual surprises which the vaudeville stage sometimes produces has come this week to the Orpheum in the appearance of Madame Marguerite LeRoy and Signor G. Ricci, coloratura soprano and violin virtuoso. This surprise comes to the audience because the local public is not altogether familiar with the vaudeville stage and has not been prepared to hear such artistic musical numbers as are given by Madame LeRoy and Signor Ricci. The surprise has come to the artists because it is their first appearance in vaudeville and they come here from New York with fear and trembling. Madame LeRoy was prima donna with the French Grand Opera company in New Orleans and sang with the Duss orchestra last summer in Madison Square Garden, New York. She was educated abroad, as was Signor Ricci, whose musical education was begun at

SIGNOR RICCI, Violin Virtuoso.

Ravenna, Italy, where at the age of 13 years he was given a conservatory diploma as a violinist. He came to this country as a violin soloist and joined the French Grand Opera company at New Orleans in 1888. From 1891 to 1893 he was musical director at the Italian conservatory in Chicago. From 1893 to 1896 he devoted most of his time appearing at receptions and in quartets, and until lately he was musical director of the Symphony orchestra at Terrace Garden, New York. It was thru their successes in the concert field and in grand opera that M. Meyerfeld, Jr., president of the Orpheum Circuit company, became interested in the artists and it was thru his suggestion that they are now making their appearance in vaudeville.

CONGRESSMAN'S FIST PUNISHES A MASHER

New York Sun Special Service. New York, Nov. 11.—Congressman Timothy D. Sullivan and a woman were on their way to the New York theater last night. Mr. Sullivan stopped aside to buy a newspaper. A young man, one of three in evening dress, spoke to the woman. She resented the affront. Without a word Mr. Sullivan swung his right fist on the masher's nose. The young man dropped. His comrades started toward Mr. Sullivan as if to avenge his fall, but one look at the big man's ready fists changed their minds. They carried their companion into a drugstore, where he revived when they huddled him into a cab and took him home. Clay modeling in schools is condemned by European doctors as "worse than slates" as a means of transmitting infectious disease.

TOGGERY OF THE WELL-DRESSED MAN

BROWN THE PREVAILING FALL AND WINTER COLOR. The Popular Color Will Even Be Allowable for Dress Vests—In Fashion. Clothes Are Marked by a Happy Medium as to Lengths and Fullness. The Well-Dressed Man of 1904-5 will select his fall and winter raiment with an eye for varied shades of brown. In other respects the styles are marked by conservatism; there are no freaks and wide and narrow cuts and styles will give away entirely to the happy medium. But brown will be the color, varying from the brown derby to the russet shoe. Even brown dress vests will be allowable for the good dresser. His Hat. The fedora for the business man is running an even race with the derby, but the derby is perhaps more dressy. Brown will be the color for the fedora and black is preferable for the derby. The extreme style in fedoras will be the low crown with the broad brim. The silk hat will show little change, having the bell crown of last year. No freak hats will find their way into the wardrobe of the Well-Dressed Man. His Neck Wear. Wing collars of medium height will be the correct collar. A slight change will be found in the turnover, the best style having a low front with a high back. For evening dress the wing collar is correct. Plain colors, with brown predominating, are correct for four-in-hand ties. Plain green, shaded from hunter's green to emerald, will also be popular. The four-in-hand will be wider than ever, the three-inch width being common. Bows are almost displaced. The granulated stripe is best. The color of the necktie is preferable to the English square. The colors are the same as for four-in-hands. Black is permissible for evening dress, but white lawn ties are in better form for full dress. His Shirts. Stiff-bosom shirts with cuffs attached are again the correct thing. The coat style cut will be found. Mottled patterns are the best, but modest effects in stripes are also correct. In colors, brown and tans hold the field, with grays and blues in good form. Gloves, Handkerchiefs and Hosiery. Light modes with a narrow black strip are the latest and most correct. Grays are also correct, and black will be used to some extent for business gloves. Heavy cape goat gloves, from reddish brown to tan, with the glove for heavier use. The automobile gauntlets will be with or without silk linings in black and brown. Silk handkerchiefs have returned to favor and are found in browns, blues and pinks. For the linen handkerchiefs, plain white, with narrow hems, are alone correct. Bright colors in hosiery have given entirely away and will not be worn by the Well-Dressed Man. Shot colorings over white and ribbed hose are the best. Black is always in good form. His Suits. Square front, single-breasted coats of a happy medium cut will prevail in business suits. Double-breasted coats, with two or three buttons, will also be worn. Unfinished worsteds and chevots will be found most in favor. Trousers are of medium width. Full-dress coats and frocks have not changed, but

The Tuxedo coat will have less roll. Black vests and even brown are permissible for evening dress. The business vest will be of lower cut, with five buttons and no lapel. Cravettes, with a belt in back, will be the popular topeast, the color being gray. Heavy overcoats will be found in stripes, with black and brown in good taste. His Shoes. Button shoes are preferred, with pointed toes and high heels, the foot resting on heel and toe. Black is the correct color. INDIANA BY 95,000. Indianapolis, Nov. 11.—Official returns from eighty-two out of ninety-two counties in Indiana give Roosevelt 325,481; Parker 234,962; Roosevelt's plurality 90,519. The other ten counties will probably increase this to 95,000.
