

OPPOSES BONDED CANADIAN WHEAT

Senator Hansbrough of North Dakota Against Plan the Millers Favor.

By W. W. Jermans. Washington, Nov. 30.—Senator Hansbrough, representing a great wheat-growing constituency, is not in favor of the proposition which finds so much favor in Minneapolis, of importing Canadian wheat into this country in bond, for consumption in American mills.

The farmers of the northwest are not sympathetic to the efforts which are being made to secure a treasury department decision favoring the wholesale and indiscriminate importation of Canadian wheat in bond.

Northwestern wheat-raisers are much interested and they have about reached the conclusion that there is a mysterious relationship between the demand in certain quarters for Canadian reciprocity and the concurrent agitation for the admission of frosted wheat from Canada without the importation of Canadian wheat in bond.

Not Wedded to Tariff. These wheat-raisers are not so wedded to existing tariff schedules as to insist upon a particular rate of duty. A reduction might not be detrimental to their interests in case congress should enter upon a general readjustment of the tariff, but whatever the duty is or may hereafter be, they feel that it should be honestly adhered to, and that no sort of legislation to deprive them of its benefits should be contemplated.

The imperial government treated wheat at a low ad valorem duty which simply meant a flood of grain from Canada under the supervision of inspectors who might not know the difference between frosted wheat and shagwheat.

For Tariff Revision. "Do you favor a general tariff revision?" he was asked. "That behalf," was the reply. "Tariff duties should be adjusted from time to time to meet changed conditions, and conditions have changed decidedly during the eight years."

What measures will the North Dakota delegation seek to secure during the coming session of congress? The only one which has any real progress in the matter of irrigation, and to pass the bill introduced by my colleague, Senator McCumber, in the senate, and to inspect the people of the northwest are much interested in both of these matters. It is pleasant to know that the officers of the irrigation bureau are not originally disposed to declare that there were no available irrigation projects in North Dakota, now proclaim the existence of at least two in the state and one in the Montana line. Others will doubtless be discovered."

HE SEES DANGER IN A CONSTITUTION

Spokesman for Russian Autocracy Says People Are Not Ready for the Change.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 30.—Prince Metchesky, editor of the Grashin, who is the foremost spokesman of the autocracy, holds that the proposed reforms in Russia have actually been prejudiced by the irresponsible agitation for constitution which is now in progress.

Autocracy he considers vital to the life and future greatness of Russia as a nation. In his opinion, he maintains, are necessary, but they cannot be introduced except by the autocracy. Moreover, declares the prince, a broad plan of reform was already mapped out for gradual introduction when the whole work was thrown into confusion by a discussion of a constitution, which followed Minister von Plehve's death.

Autocracy is Vital Need. After a meeting of ministers today, Prince Metchesky said:

The question is often asked: Why not introduce a constitution? Russia might as well ask an American or a Briton why not introduce autocracy? A constitution is just as necessary to Great Britain or the United States as autocracy is for Russia. Russia without autocracy would cease to be Russia.

Constitutional government is impossible in Russia. A constitution would prove an actual danger, because the nation includes such elements as the Poles and those of the Baltic territories, who are more advanced and developed than the rest. They consequently would obtain a predominant voice in the parliament, which would call forth the opposition of the great mass of the population and lead to the disintegration of the nation.

The imperial manifesto of February, 1904, laid down a basis of reform. The fundamental idea of this reform is to extend local government by the creation of autonomous provinces. The project contemplated a complete reorganization of the present form of zemstvos, whereby local affairs would be submitted to the control of a local assembly, which would be elected by the population of the province at large would be referred to a representative provincial council, under the presidency of the governor.

More Agitation. Of course the zemstovists when they meet to talk and agitation, but I have no apprehension of any serious difficulties as a result of such agitation.

Cowboys and deadshots of that prairie country are rounding up to go on a man hunt.

VENEZUELA PLANS TO EVADE PLEDGE

Castro Will Open New Customs Ports and Avoid Paying Debt to America.

New York Sun Special Service. Washington, Nov. 30.—The state department has discovered that Venezuela is planning to evade the agreement by which 30 per cent of the customs receipts of the ports of Guayana and Porto Cabello were set aside for the payment of the foreign debt by opening up new ports through which much of the dutiable imports would be carried out to effect the state department will interfere and insist that Venezuela carry out the agreement in spirit and letter.

The information as to President Castro's plans was furnished by A. F. Jauret, the American editor who was expelled from Venezuela on twenty-four hours' notice for criticizing the government. The state department has not decided what action it will take in Mr. Jauret's case.

The state department mathematician has figured out that the American claims against Venezuela will not be paid before 1914, probably not until much later.

COURT STRIKES EIGHT-HOUR LAW

New York's Appeals Tribunal Declares State Statute Is Unconstitutional.

New York Sun Special Service. Albany, N. Y., Nov. 30.—The eight-hour law was declared by the court of appeals to be unconstitutional today. Under this decision no municipality can demand that a contractor shall not employ his men more than eight hours a day on public work.

I fear that the many outrages of labor organizations or of some of their members have not only excited indignation, but at times have frightened courts into plain legal inconsistencies and into enunciation of doctrines which if asserted in litigation arising under any other subject than labor legislation would meet scant consideration.

The notion that a contractor can acquire any title or right to the compensation at stake in the contract to be paid to him, except on compliance with the terms and conditions upon which it was agreed to be paid, and may successfully assert that the law has intentionally violated his contract, he is still entitled to his compensation, seems to be one of those fallacies that would never gain currency save in labor litigations.

The action upon which the decision is given was brought by Harry Cossey, who constructed scows for the use of the New York city street-cleaning department. City Controller Groat refused to pay Cossey on the ground that he had been notified by Deputy Factory Inspector Williams that Cossey had violated the eight-hour law in allowing his men to work more than eight hours a day.

WISCONSIN LOSES 29 DEER HUNTERS

Season's Fatality List is Unusually Large—Fifteen Also Wounded.

Special to The Journal. Milwaukee, Nov. 30.—Twenty-nine dead and fifteen seriously injured is the record of the deer hunting season which began Nov. 11, and closed today in Wisconsin.

All the deaths and injuries are believed to have been accidental. Every man or boy killed or hurt was mistaken for a deer.

Hunting coats are buff colored as a rule. Consequently, even experienced hunters are liable to mistake their fellow hunters from game at a distance or in the thick woods.

Hunters report that lack of snow made the sport tame. This lack of snow also explains in part the large casualty list.

A movement is now on foot to stop duck hunting in the state, and it is believed that that effect will go to the legislature this winter.

HILL INVESTS AT SIOUX CITY

Quarter of a Million Spent for Terminals—Significant as to Extensions.

Special to The Journal. Sioux City, Iowa, Nov. 30.—The Great Northern railway turned a trick here today which is believed to augur the speedy construction of at least two westward extensions.

The company undertook some time ago to purchase the holdings and property of the Union Terminal company, but the price was so high that the negotiations fell thru. Today it is announced that it has just completed the purchase of a quarter of a million dollars' worth of property and will begin the construction of an independent terminal system. This property consists of about six blocks of lots adjoining the present yards of the company.

With that question of terminals settled there is the best reason for believing that the Great Northern will close the gap of about a mile separating its yards and the combination bridge and will build the proposed line from Sioux City to Ashland, Neb., and extend from O'Neill, Neb., probably to a connection with the Burlington's Denver line. The territory is a shortline to the metropolis of the middle Rockies.

The Great Northern deal also means in all probability that it will build a station of its own here and make other improvements of a permanent character.

DR. KOCH TO BE ARRESTED BY CITIZENS' COMMITTEE

Is Taking Sworn Evidence—Night Conference Secret.

Special to The Journal. New Ulm, Minn., Nov. 30.—The citizens' committee, which is doing its best to run down the murderer of Dr. Gehl, was arrested last night by the county commissioners and other officials.

The meeting is deemed of much importance and has renewed the intense interest taken in the case. All present were sworn to secrecy, and the nature of the business transacted has not leaked out. Mayor Silverson, Commissioner Eckstein and others approached today, positively declined to discuss the meeting or the purpose for which it was called.

Members of the citizens' committee say that Dr. George H. Koch ought to be arrested for the murder, and in all probability his step will be taken in a day or so. They are gathering evidence and taking testimony before Justice Henningson on the assumption that Koch is the guilty man. The proceeding is unusual, but has been taken to get the witnesses on record and to provide against failures and contradictions should they be called into a regular course of law to testify against Dr. Koch.

A complaint was regularly made and signed by Mayor Silverson and Albert Eckstein, but it has been taken to get the witnesses on record and to provide against failures and contradictions should they be called into a regular course of law to testify against Dr. Koch.

A complaint was regularly made and signed by Mayor Silverson and Albert Eckstein, but it has been taken to get the witnesses on record and to provide against failures and contradictions should they be called into a regular course of law to testify against Dr. Koch.

A citizen feeling has grown up between the friends and supporters of Dr. Koch on the one hand, and those who insist that he should be arrested and tried on the other. This has permeated all classes and has excited antagonisms that may never be healed.

The citizens' committee disclaims any hostility to the daily constituted authority, and is not disposed to understand in any way that all interests will work harmoniously in the search for the murderer.

Monkeys are being used in the case, but are not talking for publication. The public has almost forgotten the various clues that have been advanced from time to time, but the name of the monkey is being kept in the public mind in the activity of the committee and its assumption that Dr. Koch is the guilty man.

LATCHSTRING OF CLAPP HANGS OUT

His Manager Ready, Even tho Legislators Have Gone. Hereafter Mondays and Tuesdays Will be Busy Days in the Senatorial Contest, as Clague Will Be in St. Paul for That Portion of Every Week.

Some of the political heavyweights have left St. Paul and there is comparative quiet today in the senatorial situation. Notable among the departures was that of Frank Clague of Lambert, speaker-elect, whose presence at the Menasha is being missed.

Clapp's Manager on Deck. Congressman Steenerson, and Donald Grant of Faribault, were two other prominent Clapp men who left St. Paul last evening.

Today there were comparatively few non-resident legislators in St. Paul, although W. Rich continued to keep his headquarters at the Merchants for Senator Clapp. Mr. Rich claimed today that three-fourths of the house members, outside of the twin cities, were absent on campaign pledges to Mr. Clapp.

Among the callers at the Clapp headquarters was L. P. Hunt, editor of the Menasha Press. Hunt is one of the three representatives in his county were elected on Clapp pledges, and will support him, as also will the senator.

Clapp's re-election is in danger and that they must lose a hand. "I have not agreed to support Clapp or any other candidate as yet," he said.

Does Bixby Bear Aid. Tams Bixby was at the Merchants' yesterday afternoon and evening. The Clapp men assert that Bixby was with the intention of aiding the junior senator and that from now on he will work for Clapp.

Frederic Von Baumhach of Alexandria, a member of internal revenue, was in the lobby of the Merchants' today, and the story goes that all federal appointees have been "tipped" that Clapp's re-election is in danger and that they must lose a hand.

The Clapp workers are energetically circulating the story that to elect anyone but Clapp would be to disrupt the party and that the gubernatorial campaign came near doing so, and the only way to cement the conflicting factions is to unite on Clapp for the senate.

LABORER'S BODY FOUND HANGING. Special to The Journal. Hudson, Wis., Nov. 30.—August Hanson, a laborer and single, hanged himself to a tree near the sanatorium. He was found on Monday and was found dead with a intention of aiding the junior senator and that from now on he will work for Clapp.

FAKERS ATTACK PRESIDENT'S SON

Loeb Issues Statement Puncturing Tale of a Tortured Turkey.

Washington, Nov. 30.—William Loeb, Jr., as secretary to the president, today issued an official signed statement denying that President Roosevelt's children had cruelly treated the Thanksgiving turkey sent to the president by Mr. Vose of Rhode Island, in accordance with the latter's annual custom. In the statement Mr. Loeb says:

The president's attention has just been called to a news item, which contains an account of supposed maltreatment by his children of the Thanksgiving turkey which Mr. Vose kindly sent to the White House in accordance with his annual custom. The article states that the children released the turkey and chased it all over the White House grounds, plucking at it and teasing it and yelling and laughing until the bird was well-nigh exhausted, while the president looked on and laughed.

"As a matter of fact, the turkey was dressed when Mr. Vose sent it and was used for Thanksgiving dinner. There was a bronze live turkey sent from Milwaukee. This turkey was never taken out of its box, but was shipped to Oyster Bay because of its beauty and is living peacefully with the rest of the inhabitants of the barony. No such incident as that recounted has ever taken place since the president has been in the White House, and nothing in the remotest degree resembling it has ever taken place. Secretary Loeb after the statement had been issued, said:

"No attention would have been paid to this attack if it had been upon the president personally, but as it has been extended to members of his family, he feels that he ought to reply to it."

The correspondent who is said first to have published the story has been barred from the news facilities of the White House.
