Meyers met the swindler in a Second street employment office.

JONES WILL GAIN IN THE RECOUNT

NO CHANGE FOR HAYNES TO MAKE GAINS.

Recount of the Votes on the Judicial Ticket Was Called Off This Morning by Mutual Consent—Gains and Losses in Thirty-two Districts Canvassed—No Serious Discrepancies Discovered.

David P. Jones will probably gain rather than lose by the recount of the ballots. From the lessons of the judicial recount the judges of election as a rule, reported fewer votes than were actually received. In the first few precincts of the first ward, the republican candidates made slight gains and the further the recount progressed the greater grew the vote.

Should the same rule apply in the recount of the majority vote, the plurality for Jones will be much larger than that returned by the canvassing board. There seems to be no chance for James C. Haynes to gain, as all the ballots are so plainly marked that none of them can be thrown out. Occasionally a judicial ballot was rejected because five candidates had been voted for, but such cases were extremely rare.

Judicial Recount Abandoned.

The judicial recount was called off this morning after all the precincts in the first and third wards and two test precincts in the fourth and fifth wards had been canvassed. The errors expected did not develop and, by mutual agreement, the work was abandoned. In thirty-two election districts Andrew Holt gained 10, H. D. Dickinson 6, A. M. Harrison 3, J. D. Smith 21 and F. C. Brooks lost 2 votes. This increased J. D. Smith's plurality to 406.

JUDGE TORRANCE MAY BE PENSION COMMISSIONER

Judge Eli Torrance of Minneapolis has been suggested as a possible successor to Pension Commissioner Ware. While Judge Torrance has never given the question any thought, he is undoubtedly a logical candidate for the position, considering his high connection with the Grand Army of the Republic as past commander-in-chief, and his close relations of confidence with the high powers in the nation and among the leading men of the Grand Army.

During his incumbency as commander Judge Torrance is known to have given the pension question much study, and is believed to have well-defined views on the management of the office which is of such importance to the aged defenders of the union.

IT COST MR. JONES $15 TO BE ELECTED MAYOR

It cost D. P. Jones just $15 to conduct and win one of the most strenuous majority campaigns ever conducted in Minneapolis.

This surprising bit of information is awarded to the public in an affidavit of expenses filed with the city clerk. Of the $15 amount, $10 was paid to the county auditor for filing his certificate of nomination and the remaining $5 was given to the city clerk for filing his certificate of election.

When asked concerning this expense affidavit, Mr. Jones said that the money spent in his campaign was donated and used by gentlemen interested in his election and with whose business the candidate had nothing to do.

AMUSED MINNEAPOLIS WHEN CITY WAS YOUNG

Memories of Minneapolis a quarter of a century ago were recalled by Harold Russell, who is playing in "Weather-Beaten Benson," before a group of reporters yesterday afternoon. Mr. Russell was a member of the Phosx McAllister Stock company which amused Minneapolitans in the old Pence opera-house on Bridge square in the early eighties.

There were only 40,000 people in Minneapolis at the time, but it was a good theater town nevertheless. I imagine a good many people will remember Charles Stedman, our leading man, and A. B. Phelps, Ted Irving, Fred Hight, Bessie Hunter and Nita Harris. Railroad facilities were poor, and Minneapolis got few of the good road companies.

Health of Defendant Causes Postponement Until Monday.

Dr. A. A. Ames was feeling indisposed this morning and was not in court when his case was called. His attorney asked for a postponement until Monday, which was granted. Then the work of selecting the nine other jurors needed will be resumed.

CLAPP SHIES AT THE COOPER BILL

DECLINES TO EXPLAIN ATTITUDE TOWARD THE MEASURE.

It Is Rumored in St. Paul Today That His Position Is Likely to Estrange Him from the State Administration—Duluth Appointment Makes Trouble.

The pathway of Moses E. Clapp, leading back to the United States senate, is strewn with difficulties in increasing number. Today his attitude on the subject of the railroad bill is questioned and he does not make answer.

The interview he had yesterday afternoon at the capitol with Governor S. R. Van Sant has given rise to much comment. The general opinion is that it was regarding the address Governor Van Sant gave last evening at Cannon Falls on closer governmental control of railroad rates and the government's hold endorsement of the Cooper bill, now in the hands of a congressional committee of which Senator Clapp is a member. The story is that Clapp wanted Van Sant to handle the subject with kid gloves and that the Clapp is at heart opposed to the measure, such announcement at this stage of the senatorial contest might prove fatal.

Senator Clapp was seen at the Merchants hotel, St. Paul, this morning and asked if he was willing to go on record as to his attitude toward the measure.

"Why, no; I don't care to," was the response of the senator, who immediately turned on his heel, evidently not desiring to meet further questions. With Van Sant's friends endorsing the Cooper bill, and with Clapp refusing to express himself in favor of the measure, it is a question how long the administration forces will stay by Clapp, as the issue is bound to increase in importance daily.

Is Bede Miffed?

Another story this morning was that Congressman J. Adam Bede and Senator Clapp cannot agree on a federal appointee as collector of customs at Duluth. Rumor says that L. M. Willcuts, the present incumbent, was unfriendly to Bede in his congressional campaign; that Bede considers that as the office is in his district he should have some voice as to who should succeed Willcuts. Clapp, on the other hand, is friendly to the present incumbent. Further developments may mean the withdrawal of Bede's support of the present incumbent, or the resignation of Willcuts.

There are rumors today of an important meeting in the near future of the powers that be in the Hennepin county republican caucus, to bring out the senatorial candidacy of J. B. Gillfillan more formally. And political gossip from good authority is that when Gillfillan shows his hand it will be an eye-opener to the opposition. Gillfillan headquarters opened in St. Paul as well as in Minneapolis.

ROBERT C. DUNN HERE

Defeated Candidate for Governor Denies Visit Has Political Significance.

Robert C. Dunn, the defeated republican candidate for governor, was in Minneapolis yesterday. He registered at the National hotel and was there joined in a luncheon by Thomas Girling, chairman of the Hennepin republican committee, and A. A. Rahn, secretary of the committee. The trio occupied a private diningroom all three denied having had any political significance.

O'Brien May Yet Win Out.

The unofficial recount of the vote of Ramsey county in the district judgeship contest, with some 20,000 votes yet to count, gives T. O'Brien a rain of twenty-one votes over Oscar Hallam, who was first conceded the election, and the democratic candidate now leads by eight votes instead of being fifteen to the bad.

A CRAZED JANITOR STIRS UP A HOTEL

Joseph Bohle, janitor of the Opera hotel on First avenue S., became suddenly insane this morning and set the hotel screaming and frightening the guests out of their rooms. The police were summoned and two officers arrived to find the crazed janitor demolishing the furniture. He was taken to Central station and will be examined in the probate court Monday.

POPULAR "CON" DEAD

Fred E. Tefft Was Connected With the Milwaukee Road Twenty Years.

Fred E. Tefft, who has been connected with the Milwaukee road for twenty years and who has been conductor of the Pioneer Limited train ever since its first run, died at his home in Chicago Thursday of pneumonia. He was taken ill Sunday, but refused to stop work. Wednesday morning he was so serious that he was taken home, where he died early on Thursday.

In Minneapolis Mr. Tefft made his headquarters at the West hotel, which was a favorite with all who knew him and was always spoken of as one of the most popular conductors on the Chicago run.

"TED" SMITH HONORED

Re-elected Captain of the Pillsbury Team at Owatonna.

At the annual banquet given to the champion Pillsbury football team at Owatonna, "Ted" Smith of Minneapolis, quarterback and captain of this year's team, was re-elected to the captaincy of the 1905 eleven. Smith was formerly a North Star high school boy. He is considered the best field general of any player among the preparatory school stars.

THOUSANDS GO HOME FOR "JUL" FOR RAINY LAKE?

HOLIDAY TRAVEL FOR SCANDINAVIANS IS HEAVY.

One Special Train This Week Carried Nearly 300 Home-Goers Who Sailed Today from Boston and There Are to Be Several More Special Parties.

Christmas travel to Scandinavia has begun. Steamship agents have been booking travel for a long time and already personally conducted excursions to the north to arrive in the old country before yuletide.

The Soo Line took out a special steamship excursion train Wednesday night for delivery to the steamship agency of the Cunard line at Boston. This steamer sailed today with one of a series of personally conducted fall and Christmas excursions. Axel H. Three more excursions are billed. For the latter excursion the passengers will leave Minneapolis Dec. 10, due in Scandinavia Dec. 24.

Northwestern Scandinavians have enjoyed much prosperity the past harvest season that during the slack months thousands of them will visit their birthplaces in Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Finland, while immigrants take the trip, and the interesting advantage of the rates this way.

Home-sickness strikes the newcomers pretty hard the first five years, and if they have collected enough money to make the trip, they are in a dilemma at home, the farms put in order and the start made for a trip which generally satisfies them that they would never again be contented on the old farm in Scandinavia. It is the nostalgic cure for many an immigrant and also results in relatives and friends breaking home ties for a fortune hunt in the great free country of America.

WOOD HILL FARM HAS FOUR TOP-NOTCH CATTLE

Cattle raised by W. H. Dunwoody on Wood Hill farm carried off the highest class premiums than the cattle of any other single exhibitor at the Chicago livestock show this week. Among the important prizes captured by Mr. Dunwoody's stock were:

First prize to Lavender Clipper, a white bull sired by Choice Goods, champion bull at St. Louis this year, Clipper won out in a stiff competition in the senatorial candidacy of J. B. Gillfillan more formally. And political gossip from good authority is that when Gillfillan shows his hand it will be an eye-opener to the opposition. Gillfillan headquarters opened in St. Paul as well as in Minneapolis.

First prize to Juno, a red heifer, in a class of thirty junior heifers, from days will be returned to the United States and Canada.

First prize to Golden Bud, a white 2-year-old heifer, in a class of thirty from a similarly extensive territory.

FRANK F. DAVIS WEDS ONE OF HIS CLIENTS

Copies of the New York Times containing notice of the marriage of Frank F. Davis, formerly of Minneapolis, has been received. Mr. Davis took as his bride, formerly a Minneapolis girl, and sister of F. B. Lewis.

Something of a romance is connected with this union. Mr. Davis left Minneapolis several years ago, after a brilliant career as attorney in Los Angeles. While there he was attorney for Miss Lewis, who had married a second time. Four years later Mr. Davis moved to New York and at present lives in New York city. He is now a partner in the home of his wife also. They were married Nov. 25 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Rutherford, New York, by Rev. W. D. Sexton.

Mrs. Davis belonged to one of the old families of Minneapolis. She married A. G. Hush of the banking firm of Hush & Sons. At the time Mrs. Hush was well known locally as a singer of songs. Her second marriage followed.

The first Mrs. F. F. Davis was suffocated about a year ago by the accidental inhalation of gas.

SOME LUCKY JAGGER IS TO GO SCOT FREE

Lucky, indeed, will be the man charged with drunkenness who is last to be arraigned in police court next Monday, for he will go scot free.

Monday will be the last day that Judge H. D. Dickinson will sit on the criminal bench in municipal court, and as he celebrated the beginning of his term, four years ago, by letting the first man charged with drunkenness go free, he will be sure to depart by suspending sentence on the last man arraigned for drunkenness.

Judge Dickinson will go on the civil bench Tuesday morning until Dec. 29, when he will resign and give way to C. L. Smith. Judge Holt will preside over the criminal division until Dec. 29, when he will retire to go on the district bench.

TEACHERS AT A SOCIAL

The first purely social gathering of the teachers of Hennepin county was held this morning in Judge Elliott's courtroom. Of the 171 teachers of the county more than 100 were present. The bar, tables and piano were floridly decorated.

The teachers were received by Superintendent McKenzie and the executive committee, Louise Snyder, Adelaide Patterson, J. K. McBroome and B. T. Shaver and a special reception committee made up of Miss Annie McKean, J. J. Manthey, Miriam Burch, Mrs. Marguerite Schell, Constance Harding, Clara Burns, Peter McSweeney, Ella M. Stratton, Mina Goodwin, Mrs. J. Benton, A. J. O'Brien, Mrs. May Wilcox, Herbert M. Wilcox, Mabel M. Stone, Ellen M. Crotty and Margaret Curran. Miss Clara Patterson sang "The Rosary" and "Oh, Dr. Thacker's Tears." Rev. Donald McKenzie of Excelsior spoke briefly. C. W. G. Hyde gave some interesting reminiscences. Members of the reception committee served frappe and coffee.

IS BELIEF STRONG AT THIEF RIVER FALLS.

Line Northeast from That Point Would Penetrate a Fertile Country Which Is Soon to Become a Mecca for Settlers—No Road Traverses the District as Yet.

While no official confirmation is vouchsafed, Thief River Falls business men are assured that the Soo line will certainly be built from that town to the Rainy lake country, possibly Koochiing. The information leaked out in a conference regarding some privileges asked by the management in that town, including first thirty acres for terminals, and later, as a substitute, the vacation of certain streets for right of way. It was promised the townspeople, it is stated, that following the improvements made by the company, Thief River Falls would double in size during the year following the changes.

Such an extension by the Soo line would lay a fine timber country and if continued to International Falls would give the road traffic which is being sought also by the Great Northern in an extension to the same town. Minneapolis capital is to be expended in large sums on both sides of the river at International Falls in the development of its industries and of the region lying about them. There will be enormous and would promise much business should the Soo go in.

WANTS A BRANCH LINE

Black River Falls Seeks Extension of Green Bay and Winona Road.

Black River Falls, Wis., Dec. 3.—The plan is being agitated here of having a cut-off from the Green Bay & Winona railroad from Hixton, twelve miles south to this city. The proposed extension of the Green Bay road again at Hatfield. The great mistake of the city was in fighting the building of the road thru here when it was first built. The object of the cut-off is looked upon favorably by the business men of the city and negotiations will be opened with the managers of the road to see what can be done.

Two Officers Leave the Alton.

J. N. Faithorn, vice president of the Alton road, and F. A. Wann, general agent, have resigned from the army. Mr. Wann will become first vice president of the Pere Marquette and second vice president of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton. Mr. Faithorn will devote his time to the Chicago Terminal Transfer Railroad company. Mr. Wann's headquarters will be Cincinnati instead of Chicago, as the natural traffic center.

RAILROAD NOTES.

Western railroads have ruled that boys under 18 may not accompany stock to market and that no return transportation be issued to boys or under an account of such stock shipments. Official announcement of the sale of the Great Western road by the Chicago & North Western may be made tomorrow, but it will come from Chicago. A preliminary official offer in St. Paul made this statement yesterday.

ELEVATOR WOULDN'T STOP SUDDEN SPEED OF A FEDERAL BUILDING "LIFT" STARTLES THE OCCUPANTS OF THE BUILDING.

One of the new elevators in the federal building got beyond the control of the operator at 10:15 this forenoon, while going up, and crashed against the ceiling of the fourth floor with great force.

The noise attracted employees of the postoffice and other federal officers and visitors, who thought the elevator itself had fallen from the top.

There were but two occupants of the car at the time of the accident, the operator and a young man. Both were badly scared, not knowing but the elevator would fall the four stories. Had it done so it is possible that death to one or both of them would have resulted.

FARM IMPLEMENT TRUST IS AGAIN DISCUSSED

Rumors of a proposed inclusion of the entire farm implement business in the International Harvester company alliance has again been discussed. The progress of the deal is lacking, however. A man close to both the implement and the harvester business said today that the International Harvester company alliance denies the purpose to manufacture a full line of farm machinery. Should it do so it would be necessary to take in one of the implement companies of national fame and established reputation. He said that the harvester trust followed the Standard Oil method of never giving anything out until it was actually accomplished, and then only so much as was thought fit.

When the harvester trust was formed the rumor that the big company would take in both the Deering and McCormick companies was ridiculed as impossible, while it later transpired that not only were both concerns under one roof, but two or three other firms as well.

It is the belief that would the harvester trust take in the implement business it will find two or three sturdy competitors, not only for the harvester business, which it will dominate, but also for the implement trade.

WOLF-HUNTING EXPEDITION

Hunters Organizing for a Roundup in the Ripple Country.

BEMIDJI, MINN.—A band of hunters is being organized here to join in a wolf hunting expedition in the Ripple country, fifty miles north from Northome, the end of the Minnesota & International. The wolves have been seen since the settlement of this section of the state have been seen so numerous in Germany, has disappeared and his friends and they are exterminating him far faster than he can be reproduced. The wolves are heard at the little settlement of Ripple daily and at night the howling is so close that it is dangerous to venture out alone.

The other Martin of this city, who owns a homestead in the Ripple country, returned from a visit to his claim today, and he reported that he had seen a wolf in the Ripple country, especially at its northern end, strewn with the bones of deer and sheep. Twice on his way home he drove the wolves from carcasses of deer upon which they were feeding. Hunters close of the season, report that such sights are common and that he has not any time during the season been safe to venture far from the camp alone at night.

Otto Schmidt of Northome, who recently inherited and collected a fortune of $10,000 in Germany, has disappeared and his friends in Northome fear that he has been foully dealt by some party. He was last seen in Northome, Minn., and he is believed to have been followed by a man who was seen in Northome. Schmidt has been watched by a gang of toughs ever since he got his money and it is believed that he has been followed by the man who was seen in Northome.
