THE FOSTER & WALDO PLAN OF SELLING PIANOS

THE reason of the positive success of our one price plan is that this one price is the right price. This right price is the lowest price possible that pianos of equal grade can be purchased for in any market in America. This lowest price is the result of years of piano investigation obtained by first, last and all time buying pianos for spot cash in quantities. Every piano manufacturer in the country knows that we are the only house in the Northwest that buys absolutely for spot cash and if they have anything special to offer they come here first. This means lowest prices for us and in turn lowest prices for you. We represent the cream of the piano world—the Steck, Hardman, Krakauer, Behning, McPhail, Briggs, "Crown," Sterling, Kohler & Campbell, Huntington, Mendelssohn, Singer and others.

WE CAN SAVE YOU $50.00 TO $150.00 ON A PIANO.

Terms Cash or $5.00 to $10.00 Monthly.

TEMPERANCE FOLK ALL STIRRED UP

DON'T LIKE CHAIRMAN OF SENATE TEMPERANCE COMMITTEE.

He Hopes to Be Attorney for Large Liquor Interests and They Believe He Will Block Any Temperance Legislation—Prohibitionists See a Chance to Make Political Capital.

A CONFLICTING PERSONALITY

W. W. Dunn, Senator, Ramsey County, Chairman of senate committee on temperance.

However this suits the liquor interests, the temperance workers are up in arms. There is an inclination among many of them to regard the action as a vulgar joke, but others place the matter in a more serious light and consider it an outrage on public decency.

The deliberate appointment of a man constitutionally and by all his affiliations unable to take an unbiased view of the very matters referred to the committee, is a travesty on legislative procedure and an insult to the committee of fair play.

It is agreed among all temperance workers seen today that the appointment will effectively shut off all temperance legislation. Rev. J. M. Cleary expressed a belief that the appointment was probably intended as a protection against blackmailing legislative work.

George W. Higgins welcomed the move as a help in effective temperance work. He said: "The more such foolish and irritating actions are taken, the better prohibitionists and friends of temperance are pleased, for such actions throw a strong light upon the liquor business and stir up people who otherwise never give the matter any thought."

WILL OPEN SUNDAY

Poultry Show Promoters Grant a Popular Demand. In response to an urgent demand from the merchants, poultry fanciers and lovers of blue-blooded dogs and cats, the managers of the poultry show have decided to have the exhibition open all day tomorrow, from 9 a.m. until 10 p.m.

The delegates to the National Poultry association and the Minnesota State Poultry association were the guests of the street railway company and the St. Paul Commercial club today. They were given a two-hour trolley ride thru the city this morning, the tour ending at the Commercial club in St. Paul, where luncheon was served.

FOR ARBITRATION

Hodcarriers' Convention Discusses the Best Methods. Low was in charge of the Monogram club, a waiting room organization at 224 Nicollet, at the time the raid was made on the place, early in the week.

WILL ENLARGE EXHIBIT

HAMLIN MAY GET A FIVE-CENT FARE

STREET RAILWAY WILLING TO EXTEND LIMITS.

The Concession Is Offered in Consideration of a Waiving of the Gross Earnings Tax by St. Paul and Has Not Yet Been Passed Upon—Merchants Are Interested.

The street railway company is willing to grant a 5-cent fare from Snelling avenue to Minneapolis, and thus extend the present line from Fairview avenue down nearly a mile farther into St. Paul territory. This willingness on the part of the street railway company was expressed last evening before a meeting of the St. Paul city council, by G. Goodrich and M. D. Munn, representing the company.

It is agreed to continue in operation the Prior avenue line as a part of the city's first proposition that a third interurban line be constructed along national avenue and a street to Minneapolis, but would not promise to macadamize Marshall avenue from Cleveland avenue west to the river. It would extend the Bond street line to Lexington avenue instead of Chatsworth street, and the Hamline avenue line to University and Prior to connect with the Merriam Park line.

It is fully twenty years ago since agitation began for abolishing the Milwaukee's grade crossings. The question has bobbed up periodically ever since and with the people ever ready for beginning work under either plan immediately.

A BELATED NEW YEAR'S

The Holiday Celebrated Today by the Local Greek Church. Praise for the mercies and glories of the past year were offered by the 800 members of the Russian colony in Northeast Minneapolis today.

The litany and praise service were read by the priest, Rev. Konstantine Popoff, who holds his authority directly from the Russian church. As most of the members of the church are naturalized Americans, the prayers of thankfulness for the successes of the United States in the past year were ardent, but when the priest alluded to the czar, and the success of the nation war, there was a suppressed feeling of hopelessness for the Russian cause.

FUEL IN DEMAND

High prices for fuel are beginning to tell on the city's poor, and the coal snap lasts a few days longer, the January fuel expense will exceed that of any month since the poor, department was established.

Since Jan. 1, the number of persons who have asked for fuel has doubled, in almost every instance they have been found to be in need of fuel. It is scarcer this year than last, and before spring work opens, many more families are expected to be forced to seek aid from the city.

The same conditions prevail at the Associated Charities and the Salvation Army offices. They find that the only way to aid the poor is to give them fuel and provisions outright, as there is little that can be done toward helping them to earn their own living.

HERE GETTING IDEAS

South Dakota Legislators Looking at Minnesota Capitol. A party of five South Dakota legislators are spending a few days in St. Paul inspecting Minnesota's new capitol. South Dakota contemplates erecting a new state house, and the delegation of lawmakers from that state assert they would like to see Minnesota's building duplicated, but that their state only intends to spend $1,000,000.

The party is composed of Senators Cooper of Deadwood, May of Lead, Patrick Murphy, two country boys, and Vermillion, Hutchinson of Huron, Secretary of the senate L. M. Simmons of Mitchell, and Representatives Shaw of Deadwood and Clark of Hot Springs.

GOT 982 PENSIONS

Adjutant General's Office Had Many Claims Granted in Two Years. Major Oscar Seebach, in charge of the pension administration, reports that the adjutant general's office, has completed its biennial report. It shows that in the past two years, 982 claims have been granted in the Washington pension office thru Mr. Seebach's work. These bring an income to the pensioners of $11,876 a year. This is an increase of 300 per cent over the department's report for the previous two years.

NEW CEMETERY CHAPEL

Lakewood Will Have One Costing Between $35,000 and $50,000. One of the most artistic cemetery chapels in the country will be built by the Lakewood Cemetery association. Superintendent A. W. Hobert has been instructed to get plans for a chapel at the entrance to the cemetery at Grand and Hennepin avenue to cost between $35,000 and $50,000.

WALKED HERE FROM SIOUX CITY. With their shoes and clothing worn to shreds from walking from Sioux City, Iowa, to Minneapolis, Tom Kennedy and Patrick Murphy, two country boys, staggered wearily into the Central police station last night and asked to be locked up that they might plead guilty to vagrancy this morning. Their story appealed to the men about the station and they were soon provided with shoes and permitted to sleep in the trap room. Today they are trying to find work.

A New Congregational Church.—The Lynnhurst Congregational church has taken out a building permit for a church at Forty-third street and Bryant avenue to cost $800.

FIGHT HAS BEEN ON TWENTY YEARS

AGITATION AGAINST GRADE CROSSINGS AN OLD STORY.

Revived After Almost Every Disaster, It Lives a Short Life and Is Forgotten—City Engineer's Office Chock Full of Plans for Remedy—How Chicago Did It.

With the intimation from the Milwaukee road at last night's council meeting that it is desiring to clear the grade crossings in Minneapolis, comes the question as to how it shall be accomplished. Any plan means a heavy expenditure of money, and it is expected a great saving of human life and suffering and will doubtless work a saving of money in the long run.

The Milwaukee road has grade crossings all the way from Sixth avenue S and Third street to the Milwaukee shops in South and out on the Hastings & Dakota line. There are two possible remedies—to lower the tracks and throw bridges over the street crossings or to raise the tracks and run the highways under the tracks.

It is fully twenty years ago since agitation began for abolishing the Milwaukee's grade crossings. The question has bobbed up periodically ever since and with the people ever ready for beginning work under either plan immediately.

One of the first agitations resulted in the passing of the Washington avenue bill, which provided for the raising of the tracks and the raising of the street to the level of the tracks.

At one time the chief officials of the Milwaukee system had consented to lower the Hastings & Dakota tracks from the grade to the level of the street, but an alderman who thought the railroad was getting too many privileges for nothing blocked the game.

The most comprehensive plan which was seriously considered provided for raising the whole Milwaukee track system from the grade to the level of the street and from the junction to Lake Calhoun. This plan went the way of the rest.

CHAMBER ON RECORD

Little Trouble in Getting Signatures for a Petition. The rapid growth of the movement against the deadly grade crossings in Minneapolis is shown at the Chamber of Commerce this morning by the ease and rapidity with which a petition addressed to the common council and calling for a quick remedy, was filled with signatures.

The report of the Winona headquarters of the Chicago & North-Western railway, covering the movement of grain in the territory tributary, from Aug. 1 to Jan. 1, makes a showing almost sensational. The total wheat receipts show a shortage from last year of 7,000,000 bushels.

DO NOT PROPOSE TO LET BIG MILLS GET ALL THE GRAIN IN NIGHT.

The report of the Winona headquarters of the Chicago & North-Western railway, covering the movement of grain in the territory tributary, from Aug. 1 to Jan. 1, makes a showing almost sensational. The total wheat receipts show a shortage from last year of 7,000,000 bushels.

The annual meeting of the Minnesota Editorial association will be held in St. Paul Feb. 23 and 24. The sessions probably will be held in the parlors of the St. Paul Commercial club. The sessions will include a program of papers by members of the association and invited outsiders, a banquet and the usual business session.

He was arrested by the Wisconsin authorities, and Tripp, who was arrested in Minneapolis, has been taken back. He had served a sentence at Stillwater.

IS COLLECTING DATA

POSTMASTER W. D. HALE PREPARES FOR COMING OF TUBE SYSTEM INVESTIGATORS.

Postmaster W. D. Hale has been working steadily for two weeks, drawing plans and collecting data for inspectors Greaw, Master and Vail, the post-office experts, who are making a tour of the largest cities in the interests of pneumatic tube service. It is expected that they will be in Minneapolis the last week of January.

"Our beginning," said Major Hale "will not be large, but will be a nucleus of a system that will grow as the demand grows. What we need now is a start. What is proposed is to connect the office with the Milwaukee station, the union station, and the St. Louis station. We will also be connected with the Chamber of Commerce post-office station, the St. Anthony Falls station, the Riverside station, and the Plymouth 'C' station. This will relieve the present congestion. Last Wednesday, the day of the heavy snowfall, we sent out about 250,000 letters. As the mail wagons were all late, one can easily realize the immense amount of work required of the clerks to get the mail off. With the new system the letters are sent at the rate of a mile a minute from the stations and will be sent at the same rate to the railway stations. An average of the most of mail carried from the substations to the main office can be obtained when it is manifested that the St. Anthony Falls station sells over $100,000 worth of stamps in a year."

The actual work of installing the tubes will rest with the Pneumatic Tube company. It is a patented invention and is patented and rented to the post-office authorities by the distance. In crossing the river to the East Side there will be some difficulty. I presume, but danger of freezing may be avoided by running the tube at the same temperature as the outside air. However, the details rest with the company.

OFFICE OF SHERIFF IS A MONEY MAKER

Sheriff J. W. Dreger has completed his annual report for 1904. Notwithstanding the falling off in the number of outside prisoners amounting to more than two thousand dollars—the office shows a balance in favor of the county of $5,733.74.

The total expenses of the office amounted to $31,648.34 of which salaries amounting to $25,087.91 was the chief item. The other expenses were divided between clothing for persons at the jail, the expense of running the jail and the expense of criminal work. The receipts were $37,380.08. Service for criminal work brought in $13,760.65, and the balance of $23,619.43 was the remainder was received for board of Hennepin county prisoners, civil work, cash board outside prisoners and convicting prisoners. The disposition of prisoners received during 1904 was as follows:

THIEF GETS SIX YEARS

JOHN DUSENBERRY SENTENCED TO STILLWATER—A. L. GORDON DREW WORKHOUSE SENTENCE.

John Dusenberry, accused of numerous small burglaries, and convicted of stealing clothes from the Pantorium, this morning faced Judge H. D. Dickinson for sentence. The young man, who has calmly passed thru all the stages of his prosecution and trial, showed the same nonchalance which so often indicates the hardened criminal. He answered the questions of the court in a clear voice, and had no objections to offer to sentence being passed upon him. W. E. Hewitt, his attorney, asked for clemency.

Judge Dickinson, largely on account of the defendant's previous bad record, was not moved to leniency and sentenced Dusenberry to six years and six months in the penitentiary. In his remarks to the court Mr. Hewitt stated that the defendant was engaged to a fine, respectable young woman, who intends to stick by him to the end.

Albert Anderson, who had pleaded guilty to an indictment charging grand larceny in the second degree, admitted that he had previously served sentence in the reform school for petty larceny and was sentenced to the state reformatory. A. L. Gordon, a young man with a previous good record and who had pleaded guilty to forgery in the second degree, was recommended to the reformatory by Assistant County Attorney J. P. Dahl. He was sentenced to the county jail for three months.

William Thomas, an old man, a typical tramp, who had pleaded guilty to stealing a small sum of money from the railway station at Loretto, told a pitiful story of hunger and necessity driving him to commit crime. He was sentenced to six months in the workhouse. When the judge had partially pronounced sentence, the prisoner interrupted with: "Couldn't you do me any better than that? I don't care about going there." The remark caused a general laugh, but was passed unnoticed by the court.

TYPOS MAKE MERRY

Celebrate Thirty-second Anniversary of Their Union. The thirty-second anniversary of the founding of Minneapolis Typographical union No. 42, was celebrated last evening by the securing of the Unique theater for an amateur performance by members of the union and their friends, followed by a dance in A. O. U. hall.

President J. P. Kennedy delivered the opening address and spoke of the increased growth of the union and the bright prospects for the year. He then announced that the program was to be given over to amateurs. The statement was greeted with enthusiasm. Among the singers were Miss Fannie Murphy, Fanny Marks-Hicks, and C. A. Austin. A violin solo was given by Miss Jennie Briggs and Ed Shakespear reading by Edward S. Kern. Several feats of magic, rivaling the doings of the fakirs of India, were performed by E. L. Winters. Johnson and Clark had a word contest and Billy Howard Percy Faigo had a four-round glove contest.

At the conclusion of the entertainment everyone adjourned to the A. O. U. hall for the annual refreshment. After the dance refreshments were served by the women's auxiliary of the union.
