EQUALIZERS' WORK WILL BE REVIEWED

WRIT OF CERTIORARI ISSUED TODAY BY JUDGE SIMPSON.

Petition of Benjamin R. Coppage Brought about the Issuance of the Order—Officials Directed to Appear on Feb. 27—Coppage Alleges Irregularities in the Conduct of Business.

Upon the petition of Benjamin R. Coppage, Judge D. F. Simpson this morning issued a writ of certiorari directed to the board of equalization. The writ has been served upon the secretary of the board, State Auditor Iverson, and Former Governor S. H. Van Ypersele, who are ordered to appear before the court on Feb. 27, and submit a report of the qualifications of the members of the board without equalization without uniformity. The action is the long-expected "first move" of the local business men to invalidate the arbitrary increase in Hennepin's personal tax assessment.

The issuance of writ brings all the proceedings of the board up for review and will precipitate a legal fight, involved in its nature and one that will be watched by taxpayers all over the state. Mr. Coppage, represented by his attorneys, H. K. Kollman and C. E. Bostzian, attacks the validity of the board's action on several grounds. He alleges that the board was not constituted according to the statutes; that the members were never qualified; that the board did not meet daily; that no daily record of the proceedings was kept; that the raise in valuation was made without equalization without uniformity; without comparison and was done maliciously.

It is probable that the first move on the part of the defendants will be to petition the court to quash the writ. This will probably be made on Jan. 27.

TWIXT LOVE AND DUTY

VARSITY DAILY THREATENED BY FACULTY AND BY AN IRATE HOLDER OF A CONTRACT.

As a result of running a saloon advertisement in the Minnesota Daily, the managers fear both the action of the faculty and the wrath of Bill Curran, whose liquor has received a boost in the last two issues of the daily.

On one hand is the publication committee of the faculty, headed by Professor Anderson demanding that the beer advertisement be discontinued. On the other is Billy Curran who has "ad" for three months. If the advertisement is run the student managers see visions of yellow suspension for both the action of the faculty and the wrath of Bill Curran, whose liquor has received a boost in the last two issues of the daily.

It is either "before the faculty" or "before the court" and the student managers are considering the daily staff has already decided to take its chances before the bar of justice and maintain its standing in college.

RESENTED CONDUCT OF THE HEARTLESS KEEPER

Because Superintendent McDonald of the workhouse refused to allow her to inflict corporal punishment on the other prisoners, Letitia Patterson became despondent yesterday. She attempted to end her life by drinking a bottle of liniment—the kind advertised as good for man and beast. It was not particularly good for women as Letitia discovered to her sorrow.

Letitia is serving a sentence for drunkenness, and also suffering with rheumatism, is able to stand up for her rights. Yesterday a female fellow prisoner made a face at her as she passed thru the laundry. Letitia, chagrined at the affront, retaliated with a blow straight from the shoulder. The facial contortionist was counted out. Letitia had knocked her so far that it required several minutes for her to come back. Then followed a reprimand by the stern superintendent. Letitia was completely unnerfed. Shortly afterward the matron took her to her cell to give the daily treatment for the rheumatism. While the matron's back was turned Letitia snatched up the bottle of mysterious drugs and nearly drained it.

Strong emetics and antidotes were administered and by night Letitia was declared out of danger. This morning she was heard to say that "when a woman had served the city faithfully as long as she had, and could have a little innocent fun, it was time for her to die."

TRIO IS IN THE TOILS

FEDERAL AUTHORITIES ARE PUSHING A VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN AGAINST ALLEGED SWINDLERS.

Harvey Rogers, Percival R. Ross and a woman whose name is withheld were arrested yesterday afternoon by United States Marshal Grimshaw. The trio is charged with using the mails to defraud. The mails were arranged before United States Commissioner Abbott and held for the federal grand jury. In default of bail, fixed at $1,000 each, they were taken to jail. The woman was released with instructions to appear before the grand jury in April.

Rogers was arrested at his office in the Bank of Minneapolis building and Ross was found at his home at Sixteenth avenue S. The arrests resulted from investigations by Inspectors Simmons and Tullis of St. Paul and are in line with the efforts of the postal authorities to prevent fraudulent use of the mails. The scheme of Rogers and Ross is said to have involved the publication of want ads, the aim of which was to open a correspondence with prospective victims. Rogers is said to have conducted the "Winter Remedy Company," which offered $10 a week for letters copied at home. The federal authorities say that when the letters asking for particulars were received, the course of procedure was to ask a payment of $1 for the "Winter Remedy" and letters to be copied would be returned. Rogers is accused of having appropriated the dollars to himself. Ross is accused of having operated the "Guaranty Advertising Co." along similar lines.

Both men were former postoffice employees who had been dismissed. Rogers was indicted for opening letters two years ago and Ross was arrested last spring on a charge of similar offenses. The men were acquitted at their hearings.

STRONG MEN TO HELP

VARSITY ATHLETES WILL ASSIST IN PARK AVENUE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH "GYM" SHOW.

A squad of university athletes and strong men under Dr. Cooke, are to add to the entertainment at the Park Avenue Congregational church gymnasium this evening. The program will wind up with a tug of war, on the new university cleats, between two teams of strong men. The teams will be composed of five men each, and will contain some familiar faces from last year's football squad. Brush and Vita will probably act as anchor men in the contest.

Dr. Cooke will start the program by calling for an impromptu "gym" class of men from the audience. This class will be made up entirely of the uninitiated and Dr. Cooke will give them a little taste of his medicine. The audience will incidentally get a few tips on exercise without apparatus. The Park Avenue "gym" singers, a male quartet consisting of Kinsman Fowler, Richard Stine, in which the late Robert Fowler, will sing a rollicking song; Charles N. Chadborn will recite "Doolley's Microbes"; R. H. Labbit, of the university, will sing a song; Messrs. Hartson and Brush will do some tumbling and there will be work on the German horse and parallel bars by university gymnasts. One of the featured acts will be the comic acrobatic act by Thornhill Bros. in costume.

ARE STILL AT LIBERTY

Highwaymen Who Shot Emil Roggatz Evade Clutches of the Police.

After working nearly forty-eight hours on the hold-up at the residence of Dr. Philip M. Stine, in which Emil Roggatz was shot and seriously wounded, the police seem to be at sea. Two suspects were in police court this morning on charges of vagrancy, but they vindicated themselves by the robbery is concerned.

Chief of Police Doyle says the officers are not working entirely upon the theory that the bandits were members of the gang in South Minneapolis which has caused so much trouble. He says that the fleeing of the men in that direction may have been done to mislead the police. Emil Roggatz, the coachman still languishes between life and death. The physicians have been unable to locate the bullet which entered his abdomen, and he has little hope of his recovery. Roggatz was removed from the city to the Swedish hospital this morning, where he is under the care of Drs. F. A. Dunsmoor and Philip Mueller.

The wounded man is being attended to by surgeons are doing everything in their power to save his life. The nature of the wound is such that the outcome is a matter of conjecture. Yesterday afternoon he made an ante mortem statement to Assistant County Attorney J. F. Bernhagen, in which he told all the circumstances of the hold-up and his own injuries. He says that he did not offer resistance to the hold-up men nor does he remember making any move that could be interpreted as resistance.

OLD COMMITTEE IS RE-ELECTED

OPPOSITION IN EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION MUSTERS STRENGTH.

New Constitution Adopted Which Perpetuates Present Members on Executive List—W. C. Whiteman Elected President—Association Refuses to Release Secretary Stime and H. P. Hall from Duty.

The Minnesota Editorial association held its annual business session this morning. An attempt was made to revive the fight on the old set of officers, but the friends of the present regime were too strong, and voted it down. The matter came up on a motion by G. S. Pease of the Anoka Union, that none but active newspapermen be elected to office. This was aimed at the secretary and two members of the executive committee. The motion was carried on the table on motion of W. R. Hodges of the Sleepy Eye Herald. Later on a new constitution was adopted which continues all members now in good standing as active members. There was no contest whatever over the election of officers.

Whiteman Becomes President.

W. C. Whiteman, editor of the Ortonville Herald-Star, was elected president by acclamation on motion of H. C. Miller of the St. Peter Tribune. President McDonald, in introducing his successor, recalled their contest of last year, and said Mr. Whiteman was more fortunate than he, in being elected without opposition. Mr. Whiteman accepted the honor in a brief speech of thanks.

C. A. French of the Monticello Times was elected first vice president on motion of E. A. Paradis. Alvah Eastman of St. Cloud nominated A. J. Halstead of the Brainerd Tribune for second vice president. For third vice president H. I. Peterson of the Litchfield Independent was elected on motion of Carlos Avery of the Hutchinson Leader.

John E. King moved the re-election of C. P. Stine as secretary, also Mr. Stine had declined it. He said that the election was due Mr. Stine in view of certain criticisms that had been made. E. A. Paradis declared that the only opposition was due to the fact that Mr. Stine was not an active newspaperman. Mr. Stine tried to protest, but was not recognized, and the motion was carried with a cheer.

David P. Romaley, the veteran treasurer, was re-elected by acclamation. H. P. Hall wanted to retire from the executive committee, declaring his belief that it was time for a change. He had served long enough. Haldor E. Boon of Fergus Falls promptly moved that the three present members be elected by acclamation. This was carried unanimously, and the proposed opposition to the old committee faded away. The committee consists of C. C. Whitney of Marshall, Frank J. Meyst of Minneapolis and H. P. Hall of St. Paul. President McDonald remarked that the "Editorial Hall" did not seem to have much influence with the members.

A motion was then put thru requesting the executive committee to purchase a testimonial expressing the gratitude of the association for the services of Secretary Stine. This was carried.

New Constitution Adopted.

President McDonald as chairman of the committee on constitution and by-laws, presented the draft agreed on. It was prepared after examining the constitution of other associations, but makes little change in the present organization of the association. Only actual working newspaper editors and proprietors may be active members, but after dropping out of work they may remain honorary members, and honorary members may serve on committees. All members of the association, as long as they pay dues. Several regular committees are provided. As to meeting dates it provides that the association shall meet in St. Paul on years that the legislature is in session, and in Minneapolis on the other years, "unless otherwise directed by the association." Winn Powers of St. Paul and C. S. Bartram of St. Paul objected to the constitution shutting out monthly papers. It was explained that they would remain members. The constitution was adopted entire.

Eddy Talks on Paper Trust.

Frank M. Eddy went after the paper trust at this morning's session. He said editors were not seriously damaged by the silk trust or the diamond trust. The paper trust, however, struck at their vitals. The Standard Oil and the beef trust, powerful as they are, do not control all the sources of production. The paper trust, however, controls the situation, and they are not entitled to any sympathy for the condition they are in.

State Fair Advertising.

Captain C. C. Whitney of the Marshall News-Messenger related his conference with the board of managers of the state agricultural society last week on the subject of advertising. He proposed that they place state fair advertising thru the executive committee of the association. The board decided that they could not discriminate, and could not limit the advertising which is to be removed from the St. Louis exposition, to the use of the editors. Secretary Randall of the society, who is a member of the association, promised to discuss the matter with the board of the exposition, which is to be removed from the St. Louis exposition, to the use of the editors. Secretary Randall of the society, who is a member of the association, promised to discuss the matter with the board of the exposition, which is to be removed from the St. Louis exposition, to the use of the editors.

B. B. Hubert, founder of the National Editorial association, and a former president of the Minnesota association, addressed the editors briefly. The report of the committee on the Bill Nye memorial was adopted, voting $25 from the association funds. A committee was named to draw resolutions for the annual meeting in St. Paul, late editor of the Wabasha Herald.

Home Print People Meet.

The Home Print Press association held its annual meeting in Parlor B in the Windsor hotel last evening. A motion was made to change the date of the annual meeting to the second Tuesday in July.

The following officers were re-elected: President, B. B. Avery, Hutchinson Leader; secretary, E. K. Whiting, Owatonna Chronicle; treasurer, H. J. Miller, Luverne Herald. The association was formed some five years ago for the purpose of securing foreign advertising for "home boys," papers of Minnesota. It was started with less than twenty members, but has grown until it now includes over sixty papers. At this meeting a number of new members were added to the association.

Want an Appropriation.

John E. King, of Red Lake Falls, opened up the question of publication of the session laws at the association meeting yesterday. He said the great volume of laws to be published this year would be a heavy burden on the editors in debt to the publisher of the supplement. He moved the appointment of a committee to investigate and request an $80,000 appropriation from the legislature. President McDonald appointed a committee of seven, consisting of the three members of the executive committee and four others, J. E. King, Julius Schmah, S. A. Langum and A. N. Darc.

A committee on legislation was named consisting of E. A. Paradis, St. Paul; G. S. Pease, Anoka; C. S. Schurman, St. Paul; J. D. O'Brien, Minneapolis, and J. C. Applegate, Cannon Falls. The committee on resolutions consisted of W. M. James, Breckenridge; H. C. Miller, St. Peter and W. R. Hodges, Sleepy Eye.

Judge John W. Willis of St. Paul, president of the state immigration society, spoke to the association on the need of an aggressive effort to attract settlers to the state. Leslie Matthews of the Swift County Monitor discussed the price of a weekly paper, urging that the subscription price be held up to what will make a high standard paper. He held that no good paper could be issued for a dollar a year with less than 1,000 subscribers. C. C. Eastman discussed the primary election law, and defended it eloquently, declaring
