SENDING BOYS TO THE FARMS

Salvation Army officers undertake a campaign.

Will Persuade Dependents to Leave the City and Strike Out for Themselves on the Farms of Minnesota—Four Lads Will Handle a Big Farm This Year.

"To the farms" is the war cry of a Salvation Army campaign under Captain W. H. Gooding to get boys and girls, who are dependent on their parents in the city, into good farm homes. There is always a demand for workers in the country, even when there are hard times in the city. The great difficulty has been to persuade even the most dependent to leave what are called the "attractions of the city." Under a new system of investigating the farms, the army is able to keep in touch with those who are out of work.

Henry Hey, a boy of 14 years, found homeless by Ensign A. P. Storey, was sent to Monticello yesterday. The boy had been wandering about for days with what little baggage he had under his arm. He dropped into the army Sunday school and was noticed by Ensign Storey, who took him to headquarters. Captain Gooding made an investigation with the result that the farmer, under whose charge the boy will be sent transportation.

Three city agricultural boys were provided with necessities and sent to a farm about forty miles north of Minneapolis. It is expected that the boys will be able to meet expenses themselves, as the farmer has 400 acres of land rented for a small sum. The boys will have a team, which they took with them. Before starting they loaded up with cooking apparatus and bedding at the army store. At the last minute they came back and bought four high silk hats from the store, saying that now, that they were to have a home of their own, they wanted to dress up on Sunday.

STARTLING STATISTICS GIVEN AT CONFERENCE

Mrs. E. A. Russell presented interesting and significant statistics before the W. C. T. U. conference yesterday. America, she said, had one saloon for every 1000 people, but only one church for every 3000 people. In every twenty is connected with the liquor business and one woman in every forty is an outcast. The speaker said that in the United States and $8,000,000 lost in gambling every day. While $23 per capita was spent on liquor and tobacco in 1904, only 12 1/2 cents per capita was given to missions. Even on chewing gum $22,000,000 was spent in one year to a comparatively paltry $5,000,000 on missions.

GOLCONDA IN NEVADA

Minneapolis Investors Said to Have a Bonanza in Gold Fields.

Gold mines far ahead of anything found in the Klondike are being developed in the new gold fields of Nevada. W. S. Anderson of California has just made a discovery of gold in the new mining property owned by Minneapolis business men, and was in the city last night to report. He says that the truth about the Nevada gold fields sounds like fiction. The richest mines ever discovered are now being worked, and in many instances the ore will run more than $100,000 to the ton.

ONE MINUTE TALKS

What would you think of a man who with a street-car line at his door, walked ten miles a day to his place of business, not because he could not afford to ride, but simply because he had "never seen it" with what the man who tries to solve all of the little problems of life without using journal want ads, simply because he has "never tried it."

A "Business Opportunity" ad. may secure for you the capital needed to pull one of your "air castles" down to earth if it can be done without shattering the structure.

A "To Rent" placard is "Publicity turned stupid." Real tenant-hunting requires real advertising—"The Journal Want ad" way.

The business man who has "a head to contrive" will need many "hands to execute." If you can keep another pair of hands at work, let a Journal want ad find them for you.

What merit to be dropped on Fortune's Hill? The honor is to mount it. And, to most people with ambition, Journal want ads afford the safest and easiest "steps upward."

PUPILS ON VACATION

Must Await the Repairing of the Summer School.

Pupils of the Summer school must wait until the damaged building is repaired before they can attend classes. This was decided at the special meeting of the board yesterday afternoon.

Building Inspector Roughton reported that the roof of the building was unsafe. H. N. Leighton was appointed to examine the structure and determine the extent of the damage and time necessary for repairs. He will report at a special meeting Saturday.

Dr. Jorlan reported all the schools crowded and there is not a vacant building in the vicinity that can be rented for school purposes. The children will have a vacation.

SIX BIG TRIALS SET FOR APRIL

ALL WITHIN A RADIUS OF A HUNDRED MILES.

Charge in the Six is that of Murder in the First or Second Degree—The Defendants and Their Alleged Crimes—Two Trials Will Be Held in Minneapolis.

Within a radius of one hundred miles of Minneapolis, six trials, in which the charge is murder in the first or second degree, are to be held in April. The first of these will be that of Palmer and Crawford at Elk River, accused of murdering Heine Lundeen of Moorhead, Minn., on a boxcar on the Northern Pacific railroad last November. It will probably be called April 10, by Judge A. E. Giddings of Anoka, and will last about one week.

Immediately after the trial of Palmer and Crawford, on April 17, Judge Giddings will call the cases of Orin Kaldervit, John Kolb and Charles Hammon, the three accused of holding up the Columbia Heights saloon on the night of Nov. 23 and murdering Freddie King, an 8-year-old boy. This case will probably occupy the attention of court and jury about ten days.

The third set for April is that of Dr. George R. Koch, the New Ulm dentist, who is to have his second trial on the charge of murdering Dr. Louis A. Gehlhard in his office on Nov. 1. The case will be called at Mankato April 19.

In addition to these three trials, that of Edward Gottschalk, accused of murdering Christian H. Schindler, the St. Paul butcher, will probably be on the calendar of the Ramsey county district court in April.

Hennepin county itself is not going to be without murder trials and two are on the April calendar of the district court. Henry or "Ike" Rivers, the colored barber accused of killing Richard Connor, also a member of the Williams and Walker company, will probably be the first defendant. Nick Eekes, the Osseo saloonkeeper who killed Fred Roma last fall, will be the next to stand trial. He will face a charge of murder in the second degree.

BACK IS BROKEN

Michael Connelly of Minneapolis Fatally Injured at Anoka.

Anoka, March 10.—Michael Connelly, who lived at Twenty-eighth and Central avenue in Minneapolis, was crushed and his back broken by the falling of some heavy machinery which he was helping to remove from an old mill here. The tackle that hoisted a piece of the ironwork suddenly broke and its load fell upon Connelly, who is at the point of death. He is about 50.
