Four Facts For Sick Women To Consider

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has an Unequalled Record of Cures-Mrs. Pinkham's Advice Is Confidential, Free, and always Helpful

FIRST.—That almost every operation in our hospitals performed upon women becomes necessary through neglect of such symptoms as backache, irregular and painful menstruation, leucorrhœa, displacements of the uterus, pain in the side, burning sensation in the stomach, bearing-down pains, nervousness dizziness and sleeplessness.

SECOND.-The medicine that holds the record for the largest number of absolute cures of female ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It regulates, strengthens and cures diseases of the female organism as nothing else can. For thirty years it has been helping women to be strong, curing backache, nervousness, kidney troubles, all uterine and ovarian inflammation, weakness and displacements, regulating menstruation perfectly and overcoming its pains. It has also proved itself and the change of life.

THIRD.—The great volume of unsolicited and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time published by permission, give ab-solute evidence of the value of Lydia E. Pirkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

FOURTH.—Every ailing woman in the United States is asked to accept the following invitation. It is free, will following invitation. It is free, will provide separate schools to be known bring you health and may save your life.

Magazine Publishers Acknowledge Their Inability to Substantiate Charges.

PHYSICIAN'S CAREER AN HONORABLE ONE.

Dr. R. V. Pierce of Buffalo, whose "Golden Medical Discovery" and "Favorite Prescription" have established themselves in the patent medicine field under the crowded conditions is emas remedies of extraordinary merit, has every reason to feel highly elated over the outcome of his suit for $200,000 damages against a well-known peri- izing influence; the ability to do one odical. This publication declared in a recent issue that Dr. Pierce's remedies were not all of what they were represented to be. Now, that the doctor has brought this suit for damages, the publication has come out with an article in which the publishers acknowledge that they had absolutely no proof of their statements.

PRETTY COMPLIMENT. Comley's "History of New York tate" has this to say of Dr. Pierce: Every nation owes everything that distinguishes it as an individual na-tion to the few men who have had the courage to step beyond the boundaries prescribed by professional tradition or social custom

"Of this class of men the medical profession has furnished a distinguished example in the successful and justly celebrated physician, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and any history treating of the industries of the Empire State would be incomplete without a sketch of his express and useful. out a sketch of his earnest and useful

"That his success is real is evidenced by the fact that his reputation as a man and physician does not deteriorate; and the fact that there is a steadily increasing demand for his medicines proves that they are not nostrums, but reliable remedies for disease."

BUSY INSTITUTION. Dr. Pierce has a large laboratory in Buffalo and a hospital for the treatment of various ailments. The place is full at all times, and treatment is given by the best of graduated specialists. The doctor is not only one of the principal manufacturers of patent med-icines in the country, but he is one of the greatest advertisers. He knows that to deal properly with the public, it is necessary to let the public know you have something that is needed.

Human nature is very contradictory. Human nature is very contradictory. A merchant advertises his business, and it is all right. He has $1 silks he is selling for 64 cents; but if a doctor undertakes to tell the public that he has a new remedy for a particular ailment, he is frowned upon—by the other doctors. When a man has something he knows is good he can't expect to sell it unless he lets the public know about it too. Fake advertisements carry a business for a short time only. ry a business for a short time only. Lincoln was right when he said: "You could not fool all the people all the time." A business which, like Dr. Pierce's, has stood the test of forty years, could not have been built up on fake advertisements.

JUVENILE COURT IN LOS ANGELES

WISE POLICY OF PREVENTION HAS BEEN ADOPTED.

Delinquent Children Are Provided For by a Combination of a Detention Home for Their Restraint and Care and a Parental School and a Juvenile Correspondence of The Journal.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 30.—A residence of several months in Los Angeles has deepened the conviction that she has earned the right to be called a progressive city. Los Angeles seems to have the long-look ahead policy, which seeks to prevent those disasters that cause such great wastes to society, namely: The loss in good citilzenship and namely: The loss in good citizenship and the large sums of money annually expended to care for the bad citizen or the incipient criminals, not to speak of the loss to the individual nor the suffering entailed upon the family involved, which cannot be estimated.

Fortunately there seems to be a general waking up of the conscience of the whole country to the importance of pre-whole country to the importance of pre-vention in dealing with these great wastes of society. In Los Angeles the three instrumentalities of this nature ing its pains. It has also proved itself the juvenile court, the detention home invaluable in preparing for childbirth and the parental school were organized early in the year 1904 in accordance with the provision of a law enacted by the legislature of 1903.

If the parent or guardian gives evidence that he or she cannot control his children, the child or children must be placed under some judicial authority. To meet this need the law provided for the establishment of a detention home for such juvenile offenders where they might live under wholesome conditions, but also under supervision. The law also empowered boards of education to his care. At the same time he has the judicial mind that is able to see what course of action will bring them back est time.

The detention home was established in the old county jail. A matron and two supervising officers were placed in charge. Soon after the organization of the home Judge Wilbur and his commission decided that the children under the care of the court should be required. the care of the court should be reg-ularly employed and instructed by or-dinary school methods. The board of education was asked to select a suit-able teacher for this difficult work, which the law had empowered them to do. This request was promptly granted and a teacher was selected who had been eminently successful in the ungraded schoolrooms of the city.

At the end of three months the board of education appointed an asboard of education appointed an assistant teacher, a young woman physician who had an aptitude for teaching and a love for this kind of work. Besides these qualifications, her ability to diagnose the physical condition of these children makes her a most valuable assistant.

The mere acquisition of booklearning is held to be subordinate in this school line of work seems to have a humanthing well gives great satisfaction.

In the Detention School.

It was my privilege to visit this school, and I was delighted at the methods employed to develop the best in these unfortunate children, who, in most cases, were not so much to blame for their condition as were their par-

Careful study and close observation has convinced the teachers that inefficient home training and uncomfortable home environment more than all Superintendent Foshay says: "We find the principal causes of truancy are the indifference of the parents, labor required of children, vaccination requirements, bad home influences, lack of parental control, cigaret smoking, a general hoodlumism, together with a lack of sympathy on the part of teachers and principals toward such pupils, who are always lagging behind others in their classes."

As I looked into the faces of these delinquents it seemed to me that almost without exception there was a lack of good physical development manifested. When I asked the boys and girls how many of them would prefer to be making something useful or work ing in the garden or on land, almost every hand came up instantly. They were starving for just such work. There could be nothing better for such children than putting them to work on land. Such work would build up the physical as far as it is possible to make up the loss in physical development of the earlier years.

I am glad to note that the board of education has recently voted $150,000 much interest has been aroused in Minneapolis in the matter of juvenile court by Judge Hurley and others. The time seems to be very auspicious for the beginning of such an enterprise.

With the old courthouse and jail, the old city hall, all public property unused for public purposes, there must be room for the beginning of such a movement.
