"MOTHER OF THE HAMILTONS" DEAD

The Dowager Duchess of Abercorn Was Connected Through Her 205 Direct Descendants With Most of the Noble Families of Great Britain—Queen Victoria's Oldest Friend and Illustrious Subject.

DOWAGER DUCHESS OF ABERCORN FROM THE WEST.

London, April 18.—The dowager duchess of Abercorn, who was Louisa Jane Russell, daughter of the sixth duke of Bedford, died of gastritis at Coates Castle, Sussex. The dowager duchess of Abercorn, the "Mother of the Hamiltons," bore the same relation to the British peerage through her family connections as did Queen Victoria to the royal families of Europe. In direct number of descendants, as in a longer term of life, she surpassed the queen, of whom she was the most illustrious of subjects and oldest friend. At the coronation of King Edward and Queen Alexandra, seven of her descendants of the third and fourth generations acted as court pages. She was born July 8, 1812, and was consequently in her ninety-third year. Last year, on her birthday, she received the congratulations of 146 of her 205 direct descendants, and she has seen her great-great-grandson, the infant son of Lord Douglas, who was married in 1892 to the first duke of Abercorn, whose Irish estates at Newton Stewart, county Tyrone, are among the finest in Ireland. She had fourteen children, of whom ten survive, the marchioness of Lansdowne being one of the daughters. Among her sixty-five grandchildren are the duke of Marlborough, the duchess of Leeds, the marchioness of Waterford, the marquis of Hamilton and the earls of Durham, Dalkeith, Lichfield and Kerry. She herself was a Russell, the scion of a noble family, sixth duke of Bedford, who was born in 1766. The family gatherings on her birthdays were interesting occasions, as more than once the duchess's descendants assembled to offer their congratulations to the venerable lady, many traveling from distant parts of the globe to file before her, headed by her oldest daughter, the dowager duchess of Lichfield, with thirteen children and thirteen grandchildren, followed by the thirteen children and fifteen grandchildren of the late countess of Durham. The duchess was regarded with great affection, not only in her own family but in the wide spreading circle beyond it, and she continued to the last to enjoy her alert and active qualities, which were enhanced by her powers of bright conversation.

and Hills has defeated the terrible Sweden. Addresses by the following will be delivered at the meeting of the stock growers: Joseph M. Dilbert, congressman from Montana; George R. Milbrink, associate justice of the supreme court of Montana; S. H. Cowan of Fort Worth, Texas; Dr. A. D. Melvin, assistant chief United States bureau animal industry, Washington, D. C.; and R. A. ENLARGED HOMESTEAD BILL INDORSSED AND INSPECTORS CALLED UPON TO ENFORCE STRICTLY THE LAWS OF QUARANTINE—General Stock Growers' Convention Now in Progress.

Special to the Journal. Miles City, Mont., April 18.—The Eastern Montana Wool Growers' association met today and completed its session. T. B. Hammond of Forsyth was re-elected president, William Lindsay of Glendive, vice president, and S. F. Gale secretary and treasurer. Interesting addresses were made by Dr. Knowles, A. Lacey, James Res, Jr., of St. Paul, and H. B. Wiley. The matter of cash getting into the eastern Montana flocks thru bucks brought in by James A. Smith of Oregon and sold here by D. C. Harvey of this city. A series of resolutions was adopted. First, giving hearty approval to the 640-acre homestead law introduced in congress by Mr. Dixon; the argument being that the same policy which gave 100-acre homesteads in agricultural lands to the homesteaders, should be extended to the stockman, and that the state veterinary and sheep commissioners and inspectors strictly enforce the quarantine laws concerning shipment of foreign sheep into Montana and the moving of domestic sheep from place to place in the state; third, that in establishing a quarantine a thorough investigation be made on the state veterinary, commissioners and inspectors, that in no case a large quarantine district may be established which necessarily includes a large tract of country, and bands of sheep known to be absolutely free from the disease; fourth, favoring the enactment of a law dividing the state into districts, including one or more counties, and that each of these districts have a salaried inspector who shall devote his whole time to the enforcement of the quarantine and other laws relating to the sheep industry; fifth, extending the thanks of the convention to Dr. Knowles for his address and to Dr. Stors for his exhibition of scab by means of photographs and the microscope.

Stock Growers Next. The annual convention of the Montana Stock Growers' association opened today. Great preparations have been made to insure the visitor a good time and to sustain the reputation for hospitality that Miles City enjoys. Last night the wool growers' ball was held; tonight comes the homegrown minstrel show. Wednesday night a boxing contest, and on Friday night "Ole Oleen" will hold the beard at the opera-house. A military drill was given this afternoon by Troop M from Fort Keogh.

END OF A DEBAUCH. Mill Hand at Superior Accidentally Drowns in the Bay. SUPERIOR, WIS.—The dead body of a man identified as Ole O. Hakata, an employee of the MacDonnell lumber mill, was found in the bay at the east end yesterday about noon. Coroners did not hold an inquest, coming to the conclusion that Hakata had fallen in the water and drowned while under the influence of liquor. Investigation established the fact that he had been on a debauch for several days. He was about 29, and unmarried.

LIFE LOST ALL CHARM. Bump Cuts His Throat When Denied a Drink at a Bar. LA CROSSE, WIS.—Because a saloonkeeper refused to sell him a drink, Fred Bump, an employe of the Burlington road, attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat with a pocketknife. He was taken to the hospital. After attempting to kill his mother and sister, Charles White Eagin, an Indian, has been declared insane and will be committed to the Mendota state hospital for treatment. White Eagin was arrested here on a charge of killing a woman, this country, and after his attempt to kill his mother, he was tied to a tree and the sheriff shot him. This is the first insane Indian case known in this country.
