DRAWING THE NET AROUND AN IRREDEEMABLE

STATE PROSECUTING ALLEGED BABY FARMERS WITH VIGOR.

The Girl Whose Life Was Almost Sacrificed Appears in Court, Pathetically Weak, and Tells Her Story to the Jury—The Defendant Shows No Signs of Distress.

Dr. Del Dumas was the principal witness called by the state today in the case against Dr. C. W. Van Damsse, on trial before Judge T. F. Hendell, for performance of a criminal operation.

The witness testified that he took the case under protest and as a favor to Dr. Van Damsse, who was not in condition to attend to business.

Dr. Dumas said he secured a sworn statement from the girl in which she tells the story of her life.

County Attorney Al J. Smith is conducting the trial in a way to avoid friction. He is exceedingly polite to opposing counsel and smiles, but beneath the smiling is a determination and every energy is banded toward bringing out the true state of affairs.

From the cross-examination by the state it appears that the operation was not performed in a sterile room, as claimed that Dr. Van Damsse.

The complaining witness was wheeled into the federal building at St. Paul, and of her trouble. She testified to going to Dr. Hendell in St. Paul and said he performed a criminal operation upon her.

She did not weaken under the fire of cross-examination. The ordeal was a trying one, and the girl was naturally an unwilling witness, but she bore it bravely, and won the sympathy of all.

CONSPIRACY THEORY

Quist Suspect Based on Alleged Plank Movement by Kitchell.

Judge C. M. Pond was called today in re the suit of the plaintiff in the Quist-Kitchell $5,000 slander, suit on trial before Judge Dickinson.

The witness identified a transcript of his famous evidence to the Quist grand jury, and an effort to introduce the document as evidence precipitated a war of words.

Colonel W. E. Doolittle for the defendant, claimed the charge had no more to do with the case than the declaration of independence has to do with the commandments.

The discussion finally settled down to a debate between Judge Dickinson and the witness.

John Ryan was on the stand most of the morning. Quist had accused him of having promised to make a confession to the Quist grand jury, and the witness stated that he promised to go before the jury and tell the truth, but that he had nothing to confess.

THREE POLACKS GAIN FREEDOM

POLICE BELIEVED TO HAVE SOLVED MURDER MYSTERY.

Man Who Struck Deathblow in Melees of Sunday Night Is Known, Although He Is Said to Be at Liberty—Four of Nine Men Involved Still Locked Up.

The police now believe that they know who murdered John Pardinia in a free fight in Northeast Minneapolis Sunday night. One of the seven prisoners made a partial confession to Chief Doyle and Sergeant Schutta last night, in which he gave the name and description of the man who struck the fatal blow.

Three of the seven suspects held at central station since Sunday night, were released this morning on the request of Assistant County Attorney Bernhagen.

The confession secured last night and other facts in the possession of the police tended to show that the three were not sufficiently involved to warrant holding them longer.

John Stopa, John Dziedzina and Jacob Tomashak were the three released this morning. Stopa appeared in court with his head bandaged. As he left the courtroom he was affectionately greeted by his aged mother, who has been haunting the city hospital and the lockup since his arrest.

The police would give no further information concerning the confession, but appeared to attach great importance to it. It is believed the name of the man wanted is merely a blind, and that the real name of the man wanted is withheld until his arrest.

The prisoners were nevertheless wary of giving any information. When apparently about ready to say something they would suddenly stop and refuse to say anything.

However, that nine men were involved in the fight, all of whom are accounted for. One is dead. The man wanted is said to be still at large, and seven have been arrested and examined by the police.

The coroner will hold an inquest tomorrow on the death of Pardinia. It is possible that the four now held and the missing man will be charged with the crime.

The total entries for the year 1904 at the copyright office in the library of congress numbered 166,577, an increase of 741 over 1903. Of these musical compositions headed the list, 23,740 of them having been entered for copyright in 1904.

WHERE'S THE MAN WHO BEATS RUGS?

THE WOMAN HOUSECLEANING HELPER IS ALSO SCARCE.

Spring Housecleaning Is Now at Its Height, but the Supply of Helpers Is Smaller than Ever Before—Associated Charities Seeks to Prevent Breaking Up of Homes.

"Take care of my wife and children." This laconic note was brought to the Associated Charities today by a woman who said that her husband had deserted her and gone to parts unknown.

"Of course, there's plenty of work for her to do," said Manager E. D. Solenberger. "Spring housecleaning is demanding more workers than there are in the city."

We are getting about forty calls a day to send men and women to work, but we do not begin to have enough people to fill the places. As we have a free employment agency it is run for the benefit of the generally needy workers.

For that reason we do not send women out to work before an investigation is made. If she has a husband who is not working, we get a job for him, if he is able to work.

One of the great causes of children going astray is that their mothers are working out when their fathers should be supporting the family.

This policy lessens the number of women who send out, but I understand that the demand for workers, exceeds the supply everywhere.

The employment agency of the Y. W. C. A. makes the same report of more work than helpers. At the Salvation Army and Union Mission, it was stated that the employment agencies had done more business in the past two weeks than they had accomplished any time in their history.

A few weeks ago the women's waiting room at the Salvation building was crowded, and the men were fighting for a place on line. Today the rooms are empty. The women refuse permanent domestic service, as they can make $1.25 a day and care for housecleaning.

MUCH BUILDING PLANNED BY STATE

WORK ON SEVERAL BUILDINGS PROVIDED BY LEGISLATURE WILL GO FORWARD AS FAST AS DRAFTSMEN CAN COMPLETE PLANS—NEW MAIN AT UNIVERSITY TO BE STARTED AT ONCE.

The state board of control has an immense amount of building of state institutions to do as a result of the action of the late legislature. The largest single structure will be the new main building at the state university.

There is, there is immediately available the insurance collected on the old building, $58,000. Aug. 1, next, $200,000 will be available, and the same date a year following $150,000 more, making $408,000 in all.

"We will confer with the university regents in regard to plans for the new main building as soon as possible," said Chairman O. B. Gould of the board of control today.

The preparation of plans will take some time, but there will be no unnecessary delay. We have a great amount of building to look after now with money immediately available.

There is a $250,000 dormitory to be erected at St. Cloud, a $40,000 dormitory at Duluth, $35,000 in re-roofing the Wiltona normal, the administration building at Hastings to be enlarged, a $40,000 sanatorium building at Walker, $100,000 appropriated in 1903 for a bacteriological building at the university, an agricultural school building for the state, a $225,000 dormitory to be put in at the Owatonna school, to cost $5,200.

"It will take a large force of draftsmen months to complete plans for these new buildings."
