Minneapolis cyclists will vigorously oppose the movement to remove the bicycle paths in the city. A $15,000 PROFIT IN THREE YEARS USED TO GET BUSINESS FOR THE BURLINGTON

INVESTMENT SALE ON HENNEPIN AVENUE IS SIGNIFICANT. Walter L. Badger Buys for an Eastern Client the Keith Property at No. 917, Paying an Advanced Price, but One on Which the Piece Has Been Paying Most Gratifying Returns.

Walter L. Badger has bought the Keith company property at 917 Hennepin avenue, for an eastern client as an investment. The price was $23,000 cash. The lot has a frontage of 45 1/2 feet and a depth of 100 feet.

The property was bought three years ago for $8,000, and the advance is due to the natural increase of values on Hennepin avenue, as well as to the improvements made one year ago. The property has been paying interest on a higher valuation than that involved in the transfer.

Hennepin avenue continues its advance. Mr. Badger is putting the Higgs building at Eighth and Hennepin in fine shape for re-rental, while across the avenue St. McKnight expects to build a fine $30,000 structure.

The latest improvement is planned in a $10,000 store building at 1118-1120 Hennepin by Josephine Rust. Plans for remodeling the Higgs building at Fifth street have already been announced. The changes will cost $50,000.

NOT "RAIDING" Columbia Heights Making No Overtures to St. Paul Concerns.

The growing success of Columbia Heights, owned and exploited by the Arcade Investment company, has stirred up the St. Paul Globe to a personal attack on Thomas Lowry, head of the company.

It is stated at the Arcade offices that as a matter of fact only one St. Paul firm has removed to Columbia Heights—the Thiem company—and that no negotiations are on for other St. Paul firms.

The Armac Motor company referred to by the Globe as the latest industry which the Arcade Investment company has snatched from St. Paul, is in reality a Saak Center concern, which Senator E. W. Keller is the head.

Mr. Lowry issued instructions, on his return from abroad, not to approach St. Paul managers, and not to make any effort to get them here.

REGULATE PHONE RATES ST. PAUL LEGAL ADVISER HOLDS THAT CITY COUNCIL CAN REDUCE CHARGES.

Corporation Counsel J. C. Michael of St. Paul has reported to the assembly that the council has the right to regulate telephone rates under the home-rule charter and that a saving of from $1,000 to $10,000 to the telephone patrons can be effected annually.

While the Northwestern Telephone people have made no statement, it is assumed that it will not concede this right, and if an ordinance reducing rates is passed, a determined fight will be made.

If St. Paul can regulate rates, so can Duluth and other cities with home-rule charters. Possibly cities operating under charters granted by the legislature, like Minneapolis, also have the same power. The situation would be serious for the telephone companies.

SERVICES AT LAKE Diocesan Missionaries Will Conduct Weekly Services at Excelsior.

During the coming summer Catholic visitors to Minnetonka will have ample opportunities for attending religious services at the chapel in Excelsior. The diocesan missionaries of the archdiocese of St. Paul will establish their permanent headquarters at Excelsior and incidentally take charge of the chapel acquired last year from the Universalist society.

The chapel has been tastefully furnished and during the summer there will be an early service at 8 a.m. and a later service, with sermon and music at 10:45 a.m. There will also be an evening service, with sermon and music at 7:30 p.m. Special preparations have been made to render the Easter services in keeping with the occasion, and a steamboat is to make a special trip from Minnetonka Beach to Excelsior, arriving in time for the 10:30 service.

JORDAN MAKES PROTEST SYSTEM OF SPECIAL AID FOR HIGH SCHOOLS GIVING NORMAL INSTRUCTION IS CRITICISED.

Superintendent C. M. Jordan, of the Minneapolis schools, created a sensation at the meeting of the state high school board yesterday by declaring that the plan of granting special aid to high schools that had a preponderant normal course was a great fable. In apportioning the state aid among high schools an additional $750 is given to schools that maintain special normal courses. Some of the schools that do the same work, but do not advertise it, do not get the additional gift. Dr. Cyrus Northrop expressed the opinion that some of the schools were more anxious for the revenue than for the work.

Inspector George B. Aiton admitted that the system had not proved satisfactory, but on his recommendation high schools at the following places were placed on the inspection list for special aid: Aitkin, Albert Lea, Hastings, Crookston, Owatonna, Red Wing and Sauk Centre. The following schools received the special aid last year: Browns Valley, Dodge Center, Tracy, Faribault, Montevideo, Wadena and Winona. All except the last three have applied again.

GAVE THE DOMINIE SCARE OF HIS LIFE While Well Filled with the waters of carelessness last night Ed Howard tried to pass himself off as a "copper of the line," all of which resulted in his appearance in police court today on a charge of impersonating an officer.

Howard stopped a minister who was escorting a young lady home from a mission meeting on Washington avenue S., and announced that he was a police officer and that they must submit to arrest. The person was reluctant to fight, but as soon as the burly form of Patrolman Tony Conroy was sighted he hoisted signals of distress. Tony's practiced eye discerned that the authority of the bogus officer was principally inside and locked him up.

Howard pleaded guilty, and the sentence of forty-five days at the workhouse was suspended during good behavior.

BURNED TO GROUND Unoccupied Lake Harriet Residence Destroyed Last Night.

Fire completely destroyed the residence of A. S. Keyes, 4652 Lake Harriet boulevard, last night, occasioning a loss of $2,500. It is not known how the fire started, but the house was not occupied, and all the furnishings had been packed as the property had been let for the summer. Owing to the distance from fire protection, the blaze was well under way by the time Chemical No. 2 was able to reach it. More apparatus was called, but arrived too late. The loss is covered by insurance.

GERBER ASKS JUSTICE He Says First Ward Saloonkeepers Have Been Maligned.

Alderman Michael A. Gerber of the first ward, made a protest to Mayor D. P. Jones today against the summary justice meted out to certain saloonkeepers in his province. He maintains that the men involved in the fight in which John Pardula lost his life, did not obtain their liquor in the first ward at all, but came from over the river just before the fatal affray. Alderman Gerber asserts that the saloonmen in the first ward keep the most orderly places in the city and have been unjustly treated.

PIONEER FIREMAN DEAD Edward Kennedy, a Firefighter of Early Days, Passes Away in Montana.

Edward Kennedy, a member of the volunteer fire department of Minneapolis of the early days, died suddenly yesterday in Havre, Mont., aged 70. Kennedy came to Minneapolis in the early '50s, and was one of the first who are still in the city. One brother, Michael, is one of the oldest members of the police force, and the other brother, John, is janitor of the Knights of Columbus hall.

The Unique theater orchestra will play the "Angels' Serenade," "Ave Maria" and "March Royal" for a postlude. Those of the theatrical profession present in the city are invited to attend, as well as the general public.

MAN HUNT ENDED Health Officers Finally Locate and Quarantine Hiram Knox.

After chasing Hiram Knox for seven days, the health department today plucked him at the quarantine station. Knox has smallpox, and, as the eruption appeared a week ago, the health department is somewhat concerned. He was supposed to live at 20 Sixth street N., but was rarely there. He traveled between the city and the Minnesota river, where he gathered water for hotels, restaurants and saloons. He never patronized the same restaurant twice in one week, and was a decidedly uncertain quantity. The health department has had several telephone messages from restaurants and other places, where the eruption on his face caused suspicion.

DICTIONARY INTERRUPTED. C. L. Ege and Miss Blane, his stenographer, were arrested in St. Paul yesterday upon the complaint of Mrs. Ege, who is the plaintiff in a divorce action. The husband asserts that he went to Miss Blane's lodging-house on Jackson street at an early morning hour to dictate some letters. He was followed by his wife.
