UNIVERSITY
STOCKJOBBER STILL ON FIGHT IS RENEWED FOR THE CONTROL OF THE UNIVERSITY DAILY.

Minnesota Daily stock, on which there was such a run last week, is again in demand at the university, and the two factions fighting for control of the paper are competing with each other in buying up the floating shares. A new stock can be issued, according to the rule of the directors, several students have held old shares and are now offering them to the highest bidder. Stock with a face value of $3 sold in the library corridor this morning for $5, and the fraternity faction has a standing offer of this amount for shares.

The renewal of interest in the fight is due to the fact that the meeting of the stockholders at which editors will be chosen for the coming year will be held next Monday, and the shares are so evenly divided that it is impossible to tell whether the "barb" or fraternity faction is in control.

Graduates Stick to Farm.
 Statistics telling whether the graduate is married or unmarried are an unusual feature of an agricultural school alumni directory just issued by the alumni association. The directory contains an alphabetical list of the graduates, their classes, residence and business, together with the matrimonial feature.

Over 600 students have been graduated from the agricultural school and the directory shows that practically all have engaged in farming.

Will Play at Auditorium.
 The presentation by the University Dramatic club of "Pillars of Society" has been set for May 10. The play will be put on at the Auditorium.

MILWAUKEE MAN IS IN BANKRUPTCY
 ues, and had nothing at hand to refresh his memory, so the attorney was obliged to use his best judgment in figuring out what conduct was meant.
 The revelations as to the system of Mr. Bigelow in conducting large affairs are such as to stagger the belief of bankers, to whom method in such transactions is as a second nature.
 Filing the petition in bankruptcy will necessitate the withdrawal of the securities turned over by Mr. Bigelow to the First National bank, as being made within four months of the filing of the petition in bankruptcy, it constitutes an act of preference of creditors, and the amount estimated at $300,000, will be equally divided among all the creditors. This will in no way affect the bank, however, as the guarantee of the directors and stockholders more than covers the defalcation.
 The schedule of Bigelow's assets and liabilities, as filed, is as follows:

Secured Creditors.
 First National bank, Milwaukee, indebtedness $1,500,000; secured by National Electric company and other stocks, $710,- 000.
 Wisconsin National bank, Milwaukee, indebtedness $50,000; name of security, blank; amount, $50,000.
 Second Ward Savings bank, Milwaukee, indebtedness $75,000; name of security,
 blank; amount, $75,000.
 German-American bank, Milwaukee, indebtedness $40,000; name of security, blank; amount, $40,000.
 Marine National bank, Milwaukee, indebtedness $20,000; name of security,
 blank; amount, $20,000.
 National City bank, New York, indebtedness $50,000; secured by 300 shares of stock, First National bank; value, $50,000.
 National Bank of Commerce, New York, indebtedness $50,000; secured by 300 shares of stock, First National bank; value, $50,- 000.
 First National bank of Chicago, indebtedness $50,000; secured by 300 shares of stock, First National bank; value, $50,000.
 National Park bank, New York, indebtedness $50,000; secured by City investment association investment bonds; value, $50,000.
 National Bank of Commerce, St. Louis, indebtedness $50,000; secured by 300 shares of stock, Del Norte company; value, $50,000.
 The total indebtedness to secured creditors is $1,775,000, with a total value of securities of $1,775,000.

Unsecured Creditors.
 John H. Broadhead, $100,000; Caroline B.
 Watkins, $24,000; E. E. Williams, $9,000; Mrs. Can (name doubtful), $9,000; Caroline E. James, $5,000; total indebtedness to unsecured creditors, $192,000.
 Liabilities on notes or bills discounted, which ought to be paid by drawees, makers, acceptors or indorsers: On notes of First National Electric company, indorsed by Bigelow, $1,000,000; on notes of Grand Rapids Edison company, indorsed by Bigelow, $50,000; on notes of S. W. Watkins, indorsed by Bigelow, $30,- 000. Total liabilities on notes or bills discounted, $1,110,000.

Bigelow Table of Assets.
 The table of assets, with the valuations placed upon them by Mr. Bigelow himself, to the best of his recollection, is as follows: Sundry life insurance policies with face value of $800,000
 1,800 shares of National Electric 370,000 $200 a share 490,000
 17,200 shares of National Electric 344,000 1,000 acres of coal land, Huerfano county, Colorado 50,000 6,000 shares in Idaho company 150,000
 Shares in Idaho company 35,000 Shares preferred stock, American cess company, Pittsburgh 25,000 Shares common stock, McKenna Process company, Pittsburgh 6,000
 Shares common stock, McKenna Process company, Pittsburgh 85,000 Shares in Chicago Highland association Lowrey National bank, at Atlanta 7,000 Shares in Fond du Lac bank 3,000 Stock in Northwestern Iron company 1,500 Shares in Zinc Furnace company, At-land 8,000
 Notes of sundry individuals 20,000 Shares Grand Rapids Edison company 20,000 Camp Real Estate company 80,000 Shares in Milwaukee 15,000 company (?) 15,000 2,500 shares J. L. Gates Land company 100,000

His Home and Furnishings.
 Included in the schedule is Mr. Bigelow's home, on which he places a valuation of $40,000, which, less the exemption allowed by law, is a homestead, is valued at $35,000. This schedule of assets is as follows: Furniture, $38,000; horses, $2,000; carriages, $2,000; books, $10,000; house, $40,000. Total, $90,000.
 Excluding the face value of the life insurance policies, the estimated value of the assets, according to Mr. Bigelow's figures, is about $1,844,000, but Mr. Spooner says these figures will be subject to considerable change, as soon as the exact value of these assets is determined. He said it was probable there would be a considerable change in these totals, both of the liabilities and of the assets.

Bank Officials Astounded.
 The news of Mr. Bigelow's obligations to other banks in the United States and of the use of trust funds of estates astounded some of the officials of the First National bank, who had been both to believe rumors that Bigelow had been obtaining money from outside sources.

The verification of the report that the Broadhead estate is lower to the extent of $100,000 is contained in the petition in bankruptcy, as Bigelow confesses to have used this amount of the estate's funds. An investigation of the affairs of the estate will be conducted to ascertain if any more of the funds have been used by Mr. Bigelow.

Payee Estate Intact.
 The Henry C. Payne estate is absolutely intact, according to George P.
 Miller. It amounted to $700,000, but neither executor of the estate could transact business without the sanction of the other.

The filing of the voluntary petition in bankruptcy was desired by Mr. Bigelow himself, as he had objections to being forced into involuntary bankruptcy, thru the act of some unfriendly creditor, altho the result in either case would have been the same.
Margin Check Was Seen.

Altho it has been generally understood that Bigelow's downfall was caused thru speculation in the wheat market, no evidence has been brought to the surface that established a connection until today, when a man who will not permit his name to be mentioned, said that he had seen a cashier's check for $115,000 made payable to Tracy & Co. of Chicago and signed by Henry G. Goll.
 The cashier's check when this check was made out, and it is accepted as a matter of course that the sum was to cover margins in which Frank G.
 Bigelow and Henry Goll were interested thru Gordon Bigelow, who was then connected with the Chicago firm of brokers.

Bigelow has never acknowledged that the stolen money was used in wheat speculation; in fact, it appears as tho he had endeavored to dis-prove this suspicion, but without success, and it is generally accepted that the money went into the wheat pit.

Among Board of Trade men here it is known that Gordon Bigelow was a dealer in grain and was a speculator that a fortune was at stake in margins, and it is accepted that this check represented losses in perhaps a single deal.

PAMPERED SON BLAMED
 Gordon Bigelow a Plunger in Speculation and High Living.

Chicago, April 27.—A graduate of Yale, Gordon Bigelow, a business of a spectacular plunger, in private life a Jekyll and Hyde who appeared one day in the drawing rooms and clubs of high society, the next sought out the gilded places where money was run away on wine and cards and horses; at 30 years of age the master of a bubble of a fortune of his own making—this is Gordon Bigelow, the young man on whose shoulders today the world is laying the blame for his father's dishonor and disgrace.

In the hour of his parent's downfall he took to the gutter, following the broken father to speak, but having nothing to say.
No Scheme Too Wild for Him.

"Gordon Bigelow was a plunger, and would take a gambler's chance on anything," said a well-known operator yesterday. "No scheme was too wild for him to take a chance at bringing it to a successful conclusion. In many of his ventures his father was associated with him, and they backed one of the wildest and most desperate schemes I ever heard of, and I suppose lost a lot of money. It was the grain pit where he was known as a plunger. He would suddenly appear and an order for a million or so would show up in the course of the day, and then he would disappear, and perhaps nothing would be heard of him for weeks. The house of Tracy & Co., with which Gordon Bigelow was connected, traded in wheat. The large scheme was to finance anything. His father would contract, built waterworks and electric roads, and I do not believe that any one will ever know all the schemes they have backed in the past few years."

Altho not a permanent resident of Chicago, Gordon Bigelow managed to make his presence known whenever he came to the city. One of his intimates was a well-known agent for a champagne house.

Man's Prodigality Shown.
 "When Gordon and his friend met there was something doing," said a man who met them occasionally. "Wine flowed like water and everybody in sight was at liberty to join in the merry-making. There were a lot of stories about wine-drinking bouts, some of which show the prodigality of the man. This was in his younger days, before he was married."

"It is generally believed that young Bigelow furnished the roll for a book-maker last summer and instructed him to wait the limit," said a follower of the races last night, but he called a halt when the 'bookie' dropped about $25,000 for him. Bigelow was given to taking a flyer on the ponies or would two fortunes on the green cloth, but his winnings or losses were rarely heavy enough to excite comment."

Spain's King is Sane, DIDN'T SLAP ADMIRAL
 Washington, April 27.—Senor Merino, temporary charge d'affaires of the Spanish legation, called on Secretary Taft yesterday to enter formal denial of a story recently published to the effect that the king of Spain is showing signs of an unbalanced mind, as evinced by his publicly slapping the face of one of the most distinguished of Spain's naval officers, Admiral Chacon. The secretary was convinced by Senor Merino's statement, for it was shown that not only was the king 300 miles away from Madrid at the time of the reported occurrence, but that Admiral Chacon had been dead for four years.

 births, marriages, hotel arrivals, railroad time tables, real estate transfers,
