TOMORROW'S CALENDAR

Journal's "Seeing Minneapolis" automobile tours; Main 9, either line.

Williams' bookstore is ready for business at 210 Fourth street S.

Minneapolis Gas Light company 5 per cent bonds, netting 4 1/2 per cent, for sale by Minnesota Loan & Trust company, 513 Nicollet avenue.

Leu Claes Gas Light company 5 per cent bonds, earning twice interest charge. Wells & Dickey company, bank floor Guaranty building.

Leonard Cassidy, an old offender, found himself in the toils again this morning for stealing a check for $100 from a tobacco store on the Great Northern railroad. He was sentenced to the workhouse for thirty days.

Free for the asking—Journal vest-pocket "Nugget Books," containing nearly 300 bits of prose, poetry, humor and sense worth reading. Call for one when you are at The Journal counter, or write to the advertising manager and a copy will be mailed.

Chief J. R. Canterbury of the fire department has received a check for $100 from the Itasca Lumber company for the firemen's relief fund. The donation is a testimonial for efficient work at a recent fire which threatened the complete destruction of the company's sawmill.

Get Karl Strahle (formerly with Mendonah) to plant your hedges, vases, snowballs, syringas, spruce, lilac, honeysuckle, hardy perennials, tiger lilies and make you an old-fashioned garden. Trees and shrubs of all kinds, flower bulbs and all kinds of bedding plants. N. W. telephone, S 436.

John McLeod, 63 years old, a carpenter in the Milwaukee shops, was found unconscious at Twenty-sixth avenue S and Twenty-sixth street early Sunday morning, and was hurried to the city hospital, where he died an hour later. Chronic alcoholism was the cause. He had been employed by the road for nine years, but a few weeks ago he quit work and went on a picnic to Agate.

"Minnehaha Desecrated" was the subject to which G. L. Morrill addressed himself yesterday at the People's church, Unique theater. He dwelt upon the natural beauties of the historic spot and deplored the conditions that have been allowed to exist at and near the falls. He complimented Mayor Jones upon his expressed determination to clean up Minnehaha and expressed the hope that this determination would bear successful fruit.

LONG CAREER ENDED
Dentist Who Practiced Forty Years in City Dies in Vermont.

Dr. Joseph A. Bowman, formerly a prominent dentist in Minneapolis, died yesterday at Bethel, Vt., where he had moved last fall with his family.

Dr. Bowman was born in Barnard, Vt., and commenced the study of his profession in 1855. He enlisted during the civil war, and at its close came to Minneapolis, where he commenced the practice of dentistry. His first office was on Bridge square, but in 1870 he moved to Washington and First avenue S, where he entered into partnership with Dr. E. M. Griswold. This partnership continued until 1882. In 1884 he entered into partnership with Dr. E. T. Weeks and Dr. M. G. Jennison. This partnership was dissolved and Dr. Bowman was in partnership with Dr. A. E. Peck.

He retired last autumn and moved back to his native state. He is survived by a widow and two brothers.

"MISS NEW YORK, JR."
Popular Burlesque Company Returns to the Dewey.

The "Miss New York, Jr." burlesque company is at the Dewey theater again this week, with an excellent olio and chorus.

The burlesquers are slight in themselves but carry well enough some pretty dancing specialties and ensembles. The chorus is composed of unusually pretty girls and the costumes are rich and artistic. The musical numbers introduced are not all new, but they are well sung and seem popular. Several new stars have been added to the company since its last appearance here, but all of the old favorites are still with the company.

Louis Dacre is the bright light of the show. Her monolog is new and up-to-date and the little essay on man makes an instantaneous hit. The Royal Zouaves, in their difficult military movements and wall-climbing have lost none of their spirit and their turn still pleases.

Miss Bingham is a soloist of ability and Cunningham and Smith have a clever skit in which are introduced some good acrobatic turns. Hogan and Kearney have a fair sidewalk turn. The Faust trio have an excellent act in their "Enchanted Castle."

A lively burlesque with good music and dancing closes the show.

BURGLARS ARE BUSY
Home Robbed While Family Attends Church—Another Attempt.

J. H. Peterson's residence at 1993 Sheridan avenue was broken into by thieves yesterday forenoon and $13 is missing. The robbery was committed while the family attended church.

J. W. Schuman, who lives in the Normandie flats at Nicollet avenue and Fourteenth street, reported to the police that a burglar tried to enter his apartment Saturday evening while he was down town, but was frightened away. One of the windows had been loosened with a jimmy.

GAMBLERS' PAY IN POLICE COURT

FIVE MEN ARRAIGNED FOLLOWING RAIDS MADE SATURDAY.

Gum-Shoe Squads of Police Swoop Down on Various Quiet Little Spots, Seize Apparatus and Arrest Managers and Attaches—All Plead Not Guilty—Trials May 12.

Nate Rose, James Garrity, Dan Lee, Louis Friedman and John Freeman were arraigned in police court charged with conducting gambling houses. All entered pleas of not guilty, and their cases were continued until May 12.

The Saturday evening raids were so well planned that the gamblers knew that only the leaders of the five squads knew what was going on. The other officers who assisted in the raid were kept in ignorance of their mission until they reached the doors of the gambling houses.

Captain George Sinclair headed one squad composed of License Inspector Longfellow and Detective Derrick, and the little band took Nate Rose by surprise in his place, 252 First avenue S. He was arrested and one roulette wheel, a poker table and 500 chips were taken along with him.

Sergeant Tom Garvin, with Detectives Fox and Albert Johnson and Patrolman Neil Nelson, closed in on "Fatty" Garrity, 308 Hennepin avenue. Garrity also came along with the officers, who took the stand of a roulette wheel and two poker tables.

Sergeant Brown, McGraw and Patrolmen Conroy, McGraw and Rone, gave their attention to Louis Friedman at 28 Sixth street S. He protested, but he was overpowered and taken away with a roulette wheel and two poker tables.

Lieutenant George Riviere, with Detective Brown and Patrolman Johnson, arrested John Freeman as proprietor of the place at 325 First avenue S, and Louis Martin, Charles Wright and John Johnson, who were gambling with cards. Sergeant McGilligott led the forces against Dan Lee at 251 Hennepin avenue.

All the prisoners were locked up, but were all released after a few members of the gambling fraternity. Superintendent Doyle had little to say in regard to the matter other than that the gamblers had been held and it was time to call a halt.

VAN SANT SELLS HOME, WILL LIVE IN ST. PAUL

Former Governor S. R. Van Sant will become a permanent resident of St. Paul. According to reports from Wisconsin, he has sold his home in that city for $6,000, less than it originally cost him, and has announced his intention to move to St. Paul, where he will reside in a new home.

During his four years as governor he maintained his legal residence in St. Paul, and every election day to cast his ballot. The sale of the old home removes the ties which bind him to the city down the river, and the factor in the commercial life of St. Paul, possibly also in its politics.

SCHILLER MONUMENT

Cornerstone Laid at Como with Appropriate Exercises.

In honor of the one-hundredth anniversary of the death of Frederick von Schiller, the German dramatist and poet, the cornerstone of the monument to be erected in his memory at Como park was laid yesterday by the German-American citizens of St. Paul. The principal address was delivered by Dr. Justus Oberdorfer, who presided at the ceremony.

The three German singing societies and the Deutscher Kriegerverein were at the park before the arrival of the parade. About two hundred marched in the parade, which was led by the Metropolitan band and the national colors of Germany and the United States.

On the platform erected near the monument site were Ferdinand Willis, Consul Hans E. Grunow, F. Nussbaum, William Hamm, Otto Bremer, George Benz, Dr. Ohage, Mr. Wheeler, Dr. E. Robinson, Dr. Robinson, principal of the Central high school, gave a brief account of the life and work of Schiller. The program closed with the singing of "My Country, 'Tis of Thee."

GREAT AUTOMOBILE RIDES

Journal Tours Continue to Grow in Popularity with Everybody.

The Journal tours "Seeing Minneapolis" and "Seeing the Twin Cities" are being well patronized in spite of the cold weather. For strangers this is the most attractive way to see Minneapolis and St. Paul, as the tour includes everything of interest in the twin cities. A prominent real-estate man in Minneapolis who has taken the tour says "The Journal is to be congratulated on running the weekly date touring cars, as it gives visitors to the city a chance to see points of interest in the city at a very low price and very comfortably."

The cars leave the Journal building for the Minneapolis tour every day, except Sunday at 9 a.m., 11 a.m., 2 p.m. and 4 p.m., and for the twin city tour every day, except Sunday, at 10 p.m. Reserve your tickets in advance at the Journal counter. Telephone Main 9.

VACATION SCHOOLS

Funds being Collected in Hope of Extending System.

Funds are being collected by the Retail Dealers' association and the Commercial club to maintain vacation schools and public playgrounds during the summer. One thousand dollars was spent last year, largely on teachers' salaries for six weeks. Contributions are being received by W. Harris and membership applications by Professor D. H. Painter.

The nature work consists in excursions to parks to study bird and insect life and in trips to manufacturing plants to study these. A committee of the board of education has charge and Professor Painter superintends.

The playgrounds were begun in 1899 and the training school work three years ago in the Blaine, Madison, Monroe and Sheridan buildings, where there are many of the buildings cooking is a feature. The athletic grounds at the Monroe and Blaine schools will have better equipment this year. The nine teachers in the service last year were an insufficient number to take care of the children making applications for membership. The limit was 1,000 children.

$57.90 Round Trip to California.

CHUFFERS DISCUSS THE FRENCH MOTOR CAR LAWS.

Without an Over the Limit License or the Drivers?

Recent Accidents Set Motoring Enthusiasts to Talking of Methods of Preventing Such Occurrences—Difference of Opinion as to Using the Streets and Thoroughfares—Law in France.

To license automobiles or to license the chauffeurs, is a question under consideration by automobilists who have the best interest of the sport at heart. In Paris the drivers are put thru a stiff examination before they are allowed on the streets and drivers without licenses come under the heavy hand of the law.

The commissioners have a system of barb wire fences, hazardous trap poles, lay figures, and embankments, through which the aspirant is compelled to wind his way. It is a test of nerve as well as ability.

On the light of the Bradstreet accident, "said A. E. Holbrook today, "it seems to me that what we need is not so much a law licensing automobiles as one licensing the men who run them. You never heard of licensing a locomotive, did you? But the engineer has to have a license, and why should not the man who is permitted to steer a four-wheeled or fifty-horsepower automobile be licensed in the same manner?"

"I understand that in Paris a chauffeur has to demonstrate his skill in driving before a commission of experts before he is turned loose on the streets. We do things differently in Minneapolis."

"I do not think that the idea is practical," said A. W. Strong, president of the Retail Automobile Dealers' association, today. "Accidents, almost without exception, occur thru carelessness and not thru ignorance. A man taking a test before a board of commissioners would be very much alive to the situation. There are many good drivers who are careless and many inexperienced drivers who are naturally careful. An examination before a board of commissioners won't make a difference. The examination is all right in theory, but I do not think it would work any better than to license the cars and make them carry numbers."

"There is one thing about the Paris laws of right of way which we Americans do not understand," said a member of the Minneapolis Automobile club today. "We attribute the lack of accidents there to the system of licensing the drivers. The other side of the question is that a pedestrian has no right of way on the street. If he runs over by carriage or an automobile, the pedestrian is arrested and not the driver of the vehicle. This is a remnant of the monarchical system when the court approached with its pageantry on the street and did not wish to slow up for those who had to walk. The law has always worked to excellent advantage and the restrictions on the street more lively than they do here and never get run over."

HE TOOK NO CHANCES ON RUNNING TOO FAST

Although certain chuffers were not wildly enthusiastic about being fined by the police for fast driving, they have not lost out entirely on account of their predicament. At noon last Friday, when Harry Wilcox was speeding along a cigar and thinking about the fine he had paid, he saw Jake Kunz speed up the avenue in his hiss wagon.

"Hello, is this Jake Kunz?" "This is Officer Mike Mealey. I want to tip it off to you that you're speeding up a little too fast. The Wilcox boys are sore about being run in and they're ready to get on you about everything. They say that they are going to see that you are run in sure."

"Honest, my wagon can't go fast enough to beat a distance runner. I didn't think that those Wilcox boys were that mean."

Harry shut off and called everybody out to see Jake come down the street. Pretty soon there was a slow "chuck-chunk-chunk" and the auto crept into sight in the rear. Without a word or a look, the enraged chuffer rolled by at about one mile an hour. He couldn't see the informers at all.

VALUED IN CHICAGO

Chicago Banker Says Good Things About George F. Orde.

The election of George F. Orde, of Chicago, as cashier of the First National bank of Minneapolis creates a great interest in the banking world. The Chicago banker says of the change:

"Consternation reigned when it was announced that George F. Orde had accepted responsibility of the First National, Minneapolis, and had resigned as cashier of the Northern Trust and as treasurer (for the third time) of the Union League club of Chicago. The club sent a letter of commendation to the Minneapolis club, a thoughtful and rare example of good will."

Mr. Orde is the second Chicago banker to be drawn by the northwest, his exodus following closely upon that of Julius S. Pomeroy, now with the Security, Minneapolis. One could easily trace Mr. Orde's rise in the banking world, as it is usually done by routine biographers, but it will suffice to say that it has been rapid, on merit, and what is more essential, he has always "delivered the goods." He has not yet been tested to his full capacity.

As treasurer for two terms of the American Franchise convention, following a term as member of the council, that he will take a position in the northwest metropolis which will add to the credit and safety of banking is the expectation of his friends."

POLISH CELEBRATION

Anniversary of Constitution Commemorated Locally.

The promulgation of the Polish constitution was celebrated by Minneapolis Polish-Americans Sunday afternoon at C. O. F. hall, Thirteenth avenue and Fourth street. The company for use, presided, and addresses were made by George Kozlowski, J. Szojnert, Joseph Sezech and J. Krausiewicz. The choir of the church furnished music and recitations were given by school children. After closing remarks by Rev. H. Jajewski, the celebration ended with the singing of "God Save Poland" by the entire audience.

BUILDING UP A CASE.

The St. Paul police are gradually gathering damaging evidence against Harry Laramie and James Egan, charged with murdering the Rev. H. Frank Bennett, for the Johnson Lumber company. They have proof that the men have been in St. Paul some time, and say they can convict them on several charges.

BABY FARM M. D.'S GET THE LIMIT

VAN DAMME AND HADSELL GIVEN FOUR YEARS EACH.

They Were the First Men Convicted as a Result of the Baby-Farm Indictments—A Ten Days' Stay Granted Pending Motion for a New Trial and Appeal.

Four years in prison—the limit for promoting a criminal operation—was the penalty imposed this morning upon Dr. William C. Van Damme of Minneapolis and Dr. M. L. Hadsell of St. Paul.

The two doctors were the first to be convicted as a result of the baby farm indictments. They both had to do with the same case, which was that of a St. Paul girl, a stay of ten days was granted them after sentence. A motion for a new trial will be made within that time. If this is denied, there will probably be an appeal.

The defendants have been waiting sentence for the past two weeks. They were notified Saturday that their fate would be announced by Judge D. P. Simpson this morning. Both when they were brought into court each appeared quiet and self-possessed. In response to the regular questions, Dr. Van Damme stated that he was addicted to the use of liquor periodically but did not gamble. Dr. Hadsell said he used liquor in moderation but never wooed the fickle goddess.

Neither had anything to say as to why they should not be sentenced, but A. B. Bunting asked the court for leniency in Dr. Van Damme's case and a somewhat extended plea for Dr. Hadsell.

Judge Simpson said that he could see no reason for the exercise of clemency in either case, but when they had been convicted fairly upon the evidence and he was confident that they deserved their punishment, which would be the limit allowed by the statute.

LAKE STREET WANTS

Property Owners Ask to Have Width of Roadway Reduced.

Eighty ward residents want the roadway on Lake street reduced to forty feet, and all the electric wires buried in conduits and want the two aldermen to carry out their wishes in the council. These wants were expressed in three resolutions which were unanimously adopted by a mass meeting held at the Lyndale Congregational church on Saturday evening.

There was quite a division of sentiment as to what was proper width. The most optimistic thought that Lake street would one day become a great business thoroughfare, and in such an event a roadway of fifty feet would be a great business street. Fred M. Powers, L. T. Lincoln, Dr. L. F. Foote, J. R. McClatchie, A. W. Latham and others spoke for the forty-five-foot street, and J. W. Chamberlain, E. B. Larson and J. W. Fitzgerald wanted the fifty-foot street.

PHI GAMMA BANQUET

District Convention Closes With Feast at Minneapolis Club.

The Phi Gamma Delta fraternity entertained the men who were in the city to attend the district convention at a banquet at the Minneapolis club Saturday evening. Covers were placed for eighty and the table decorations were in white and purple. The guests of honor were Ex-Governor Van Sant, Professor E. L. McVey, Professor C. F. McClumpha and H. C. Coffeen of Chicago.

Dr. Coffeen served as toastmaster and the following responses were given: "Trials of the Section Boss," Harry C. Coffeen; "The Right of Way," Fred A. Hitch, Illinois Wesleyan; "The Survey," Ralph E. Chaso, Knox; "Material," Donald T. Hastings, Michigan; "New Ties," J. W. Thompson, Chicago; "Driving the Nail," H. Frank Bennett, Wisconsin; "Repairs," Harry F. ANOTHER TROLLEY LINE

Street Railway Again Negotiating for Milwaukee Road.

Negotiations between the Milwaukee Railroad company and the Twin City Trolley company for use of the Minnetonka branch of the road from West Minneapolis to the Hotel St. Louis are on again this spring, and it is likely that a lease will be closed in all probability, if the deal goes thru, the Milwaukee road will operate the suburban trains with steam this season, as in the past. It will be almost impossible for the street railway company to electrify the line and get power plants established in time to do anything in the way of operating it this year.

It is likely that Hotel St. Louis will not open this season. The Gibson estate, the owner, would not consider opening the hotel, and although negotiations have been on with William H. Rohrer of Chicago of the United States Broom company for a sale, it would be impossible to get the property in shape for permanent use in time for this season.

YOUR CREDIT IS GOOD AT THE NEW ENGLAND

The "Get-Together" Policy In Commercial Life. The "Get-Together" Policy In the Home.

THE MAN WHO FIRST COINED the phrase "Get-Together" deserves to be knighted, for you and I know that it's the only commercial policy which will eventually win out. Extremists take the view that, where people differ in opinion or interest, the only way to "Get-Together" is to have a knock-down fight. That's all right for brutes, but it is hardly a creditable gospel for a civilized Christian community.

We are optimists and believe that, ultimately, correct principles will triumph; but to make some possible during your life and mine, there are some fundamentals to be observed, mutual obligations to be fulfilled; there are better meeting places than the public street, better weapons than the paving stone and rifle; intelligent appreciation of conditions, of the rights—also the proper ambitions—of the other fellow. This is the thing to work for. Whose task is it but yours and mine to help?

Fathers and Mothers, it's up to us to renew the old-fashioned identical home life. It's up to us to give our children more of ourselves and our companionship. We may make fewer dollars; we may have to make some apparent sacrifices, but we'll have helped to save that most precious of institutions, the Home.

Aside from your companionship, is there any better way to manifest your interest in your Home than to see that it is comfortably and artistically furnished?
