Transatlantic Yachting Contest Is Not Likely to Start Today.

Sandy Hook, N. J., May 16.—It is reported here that the start of the transatlantic yachting race for the Kaiser's cup has been postponed until tomorrow. At 2 o'clock, the hour set for the preparatory signal, the fog off the Jersey coast was so dense that it was impossible to see more than a few hundred feet. It was piling up on shore in a breeze of over ten knots an hour. But for the fog, the conditions for starting the race were better than at any previous hour. With the easterly wind the yachts had a prospect in case the weather cleared of a long reach to the Nantucket lightship.

"U" PROFESSOR IS CLOSE TO NATURE

In Bathing Suit on Barren Beach This Chicago Pedagog Is Abiding.

New York Sun Special Service. Chicago, May 16.—Existence in a bathing suit on a sandy, barren beach, far from the turmoil of civilization, without a friend or companion, and with only a deserted fisherman's shack as a shelter from storms, is the condition to which a University of Chicago professor has taken himself.

Here, where he can live close to nature, where he can avoid mankind, which, on the whole, he declares, is uncongenial, he has decided to take up his abode for the remaining days of his life. Oscar Ekstein is the name of the Midway professor who has broken the bonds of pedagogical conventionality. Since the first day of March he has been living in a small shanty near the lake shore, half a mile north of Windsor Park. He is a professor of chemistry, and spends but a small part of his time in the laboratories in the University of Chicago. Many years he has been contemplating such an existence. Now that he has realized his ideal of life, he declares he is happy. He cooks his own food, washes his own clothes, regulates his daily routine to circumstances. He believes in eating when he is hungry and in sleeping when he is sleepy, whether it is noon or midnight. Clothes are unbearable to him. In his daily life on the beach, he wears only bathing trunks. They are much more healthy than the heavy garments of civilization, he declares. Every day he spends from two to three hours in the water. The remainder of his time, when not at the university, is spent in lounging about the sand sunning himself, or reading. Ekstein is a graduate of the University of Munich and Geneva.

FINKELBURG NOT LOST. Missoula, Mont., Story of Mysterious Disappearance Is Denied. Special to The Journal. Winona, Minn., May 16.—Winona relatives of Oscar Finkelburg have received word from him that the report of his disappearance, sent from Missoula, Mont., was absolutely unfounded. The May term of the United States court adjourned after a session of a few hours. The suit of Russia to two against the township of Peplin was continued and the $10,000 damage suit of Elwood Glasen against the Winona Railway company was dismissed without prejudice.

SEARCHING FOR BODIES

Two Fishermen Supposed to Have Perished in Lake Superior. Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 16.—Arthur Vaughan and Ernest McClelland left a few days ago to fish on Lake Superior. They have not been seen since by friends and are believed to have been caught in a storm and drowned. They were in a small boat and stopped at a house on Batchawana bay, left a lunch and said they would call for it at noon, but never returned. Vaughan has a family. A searching party is out looking for the bodies.

OPEN CITIES TO JEWISH TRADERS

Russians Plan Removal of Time Limit for Residence in Large Centers.

St. Petersburg, May 16.—The Associated Press learns that the basis of the project for the extension of the rights of Jews, now under discussion by the committee of ministers, is the complete removal of the time limit of residence of Jewish merchants of the first and second class in the large cities of Russia (the period is now restricted to three months annually), and the unrestricted right of residence of Jewish artisans.

According to the Russ the complete project of the Boulin rescript commission provides as expected for a consultative assembly on the lines of the Shipoff program with four estates modeled on those of the Finnish diet—the nobles, the clergy, the burghers and the peasants.

M. Boulin will now, according to the same authority, call in the marshals of the nobility, presidents of the executive committees of the zemstvos and mayors of cities to secure their views.

LOCUSTS AND HOPPERS

STATE ENTOMOLOGIST DESCRIBES INSECTS THAT INJURE CROPS—SEVENTEEN-YEAR VARIETY UNKNOWN HERE.

P. L. Washburn, entomologist of the state experiment station, has issued a circular calling attention to the general mistake made by the state press in referring to all sorts of insects, seventeen-year cicadas, and similar insects as locusts. In order to correct the mistake, and to warn the public of the true nature of these insect pests and those varieties which may be expected in this locality, the circular has been issued. The seventeen-year cicada, erroneously called the seventeen-year locust, has never appeared in this state, and there is little reason to fear that it will. It is, moreover, not a locust but a bug. It does not eat green vegetation, but by means of a beak, sucks the saps and juices of the plants attacked. It is also a scientific fact that the young live in the ground, the greater part of seven years before coming to maturity. The Rocky Mountain locust, which is a true locust, and the native grasshopper are the insects which should be guarded against in this locality. The Rocky Mountain locust devours green foliage and in large numbers can lay waste to large tracts of land. It is also a scientific fact that the young live in the ground, the greater part of seven years before coming to maturity. The native grasshopper also devours plants and does damage proportionate to its numbers. Occasionally a native grasshopper may resemble the Rocky Mountain locust, but the latter is found on bushes and in tall grass, and is generally green. It is not so robust as the locust, and is generally slender and inclined to be small.

SEEDING IS STOPPED

Late Farm Work Badly Interfered With by Rains.

Weather and crop conditions in Minnesota for the week ending Monday are summarized in the bulletin issued by T. S. Outram, government forecaster, as follows: The temperatures were low much of the week, the minimums approaching the freezing point in northern portions daily until the 12th, when the temperatures rose rapidly, so that they were 70 degrees or higher later in the day. There were heavy rains on the 9th, 10th and 11th, and on many points on the 12th, 13th and 14th. On the 9th snow fell with the rain at many points, and on the 11th there were local hail storms. The wet weather prevented nearly all farm work, so that the finishing of barley and flax seedling in central and northern portions and the planting of corn and potatoes in central and southern portions were stopped. All the streams and lakes are full of water, and meadows and low-lying fields are flooded, with danger of injury from standing water, or from the deposit of soil washed from hills. In southern counties corn planting was going on well before the rains set in, but in all portions where corn is grown there is still much planting to be done. Spring wheat and oats are generally up well, but the growth of the small grains, grass and other vegetation is slow, the pastures seem to be doing well. All the fruits promise well, there being an abundance of blossom, which is already out or nearly so.

CALLS FRIENDS TO DRIVE OUT GANG

Governor Pennypacker's Cousin Would Lead Host Against Pennsylvania Statehouse.

New York Sun Special Service. Philadelphia, May 16.—The Burgess of Westchester, Charles H. Pennypacker, cousin of Governor Pennypacker, proposes to corral a mighty host on July 4, descend upon Harrisburg, drawing up a new declaration of independence, send his cousin scuttling out of his gubernatorial job and put to rout "that octopus which is sapping the life blood of the people," the republican machine.

Burgess Pennypacker rose at the evening session of the yearly meeting of Friends to shoot his bolt at the gang. He converted it into a war camp, red hot for a fight. "Talk and talk, and talk," said he; "talk of ideal politics in a cemetery. But there cannot fight one organization until they make another just as big to fight it. What this meeting must do is to call a meeting and issue an address to all people—Friends and others, too, regardless of religion, of politics, of previous condition of servitude. Form them into a strong organization. We must issue a call for a big convention. I myself will lead the banner to Harrisburg and there form a new gospel of independence, liberty, virtue, and drive out the hucksters and spoliars from their palaces. Over the capitol we should place this placard: 'Cash paid for country produce.' 'Hurray!' shouted the Friends.

KAISER RECEIVES NEW ORDER. Metz, May 16.—Emperor William today received Cardinal Knip in the military headquarters building here in the presence of a distinguished company, including Chancellor von Bismarck, and a number of bishops, for the ceremony of conferring the Order of the Holy Spirit on the cardinal. The cardinal, who is on his way to Palestine in 1908, the cardinal received a brief speech, to which the emperor responded. The emperor afterward gave a dinner to the company.

MAE WOOD, WITH A GUN, GUARDS PLATT PAPERS

Omaha Woman Says Jealous Woman, Friend of Senator, Tried to Make Trouble When Courtship Was in Progress.

Omaha Woman Who is Armed, Mae Wood, Says, Against Trouble in Platt-Wynne Case.

When I knew she was coming, Platt himself pleaded with me to keep out of her way and usually warned me she was coming to see me, and on that charge. Referring to Platt's denial of the authenticity of a letter published last week, Miss Wood asks: "Why does he not sue me for forgery or have me arrested on that charge? I dare any of the crowd to get me into court on any pretext whatever. They will not get a chance to take any more of my papers. I am ready for them. Within reach of my hand day and night is a derringer. The next person who attempts to get my papers will surely find trouble."

UNIVERSITY LOCATED THE NEW MAIN

WILL BE BUILT ON UNIVERSITY BETWEEN FIFTEENTH AND SIXTEENTH AVENUES SE.

The new main building will face University avenue between Fifteenth and Sixteenth avenues SE. The announcement was made after a joint meeting of the regents. Accompanied by C. H. Johnson, the architect of the board of control, the regents and members of the board inspected the campus and after considering every available site decided that the location on University avenue was the most desirable. The building will extend the entire length of the block and will be built as far as possible so as to leave the parade ground as large as possible. The new building will be three stories high. The site chosen has been opposed strenuously by many faculty members and by undergraduates and if a building could have been erected on the site of the old main building, it would have been done. Lack of space for such a large building is a contemplated made the use of the old site impossible.

A plan for erecting the new building on University avenue across Fifteenth and extending toward Fourteenth avenue, preserving the driveway almost as it is and shutting off the campus from the outside was considered impracticable as driveways would have to be built on Fifteenth.

QUIT THE GOPHER

Medics Will Issue a Publication of Their Own.

Dissatisfied with the representation given the medical school in the Gophers of the past, the sophomore medical class has decided to issue a medical annual and refuse to contribute for the support of next year's Gopher. At a meeting yesterday steps were taken toward the publication of a medical annual and a board of editors was chosen. Revolt among the other professional schools against the practice of limiting the professional school representation in the Gopher to a few pages for each department is expected as a result of the action of the medics. It is possible that the status of the Gopher may be seriously affected.

World War in Japan's Hands.

No alarm is felt in government circles here that Japan will permit her protests to go so far as to produce a rupture of peace, but it is fully recognized that Japan has the power to bring her ally into conflict by a hostile act. Therefore the British government, the Associated Press understands, is using every effort to keep the Japanese cool. Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister here, said today he was positive that if France sent a definite demand to St. Petersburg, Vice Admiral Rojestvensky would not remain in French waters twenty-four hours.

Minister Hayashi characterized as absurd the French charges that Japan intended ultimately to attempt to annihilate the French fleet in the Philippines islands.

PAUR AND GADSKI

Great Conductor and Great Singer at Auditorium Tomorrow.

As a conductor Emil Paur is distinctly a sensation, so a Minneapolis audience is destined to enjoy some enjoyable thrills tomorrow night at the Auditorium, as he will lead his baton over the Pittsburgh orchestra. His work this year in his new field has been under very favorable circumstances and has evoked much enthusiastic comment. His directing is full of life, verve and virility. He arouses each individual player to the utmost, because he is himself so fully imbued with the spirit of the music he is interpreting. His own strength of feeling impresses itself emphatically on both players and audience.

Mme. Galski, one of the greatest Wagnerian sopranos living, is another most sympathetic artist who feels everything she sings. The combination of these two great artists in the scene and ballad from "The Flying Dutchman" will be worth going far to hear. The emphatic opinion of the musical world, based upon an entire season of recital work, is that Mme. Galski is as great in concert as in opera, as she is able to hold her audiences completely spellbound thru a long program. This is the height of power for a singer, for in concert the attraction is wholly art plus personality.

FITZSIMMONS ON TAINTED MONEY

has more than he could ever spend or his family spend, and he wanted someone to get some good of it. To my mind that is not tainted money. I don't know how he got his money. He got it in business, maybe trust business, but when a man wants to do some good with money I don't think it is right to yell at him like some of these preachers have yelled at Rockefeller.

Change of Front.

"Mind you I am still talking about these funny preachers. I have had them knock me, try to stop my fight, make the bread and butter out of my mouth. Some of them have preached against me and I never murmured. I thought at the time that they were honest and I would not quarrel or find fault with a man who was honest in his beliefs. Then after I have won a purse these same so-called preachers come to me and want money for their churches. I have given lots of money to churches and never made any blow about it, and shall feel out the churches as long as I have any money, but these little things gave me a look in on the character of some of the preachers.

WOULD TAKE THE MONEY

Congregational Clergymen Reply to Outcry Against Acceptance.

New Haven, Conn., May 16.—In a letter acknowledging the receipt, from the committee of protesting ministers, of documents bearing upon the recent acceptance of the Rockefeller donation to the American Board of Commissioners of Foreign Missions, the pastors of Congregational churches in New Haven, with the exception of Rev. Artemus J. Haynes of the United church, have jointly given expression to their views in this manner.

The pastors say some extraordinary statements of the protestants call for an answer. They deplore any unnecessary and harsh criticism of missionary societies.

Further, they say they are among those who have agreed to the acceptance of the gift, but have not manifested any "tendency" to "palliate, excuse, exculpate," anything that may be shown to be wrong in the business methods of any corporation.

On the contrary, the pastors assert, they have not neglected suitable opportunities of testifying against any recognized double standards of private or public morals, or against any recognized form of industrial or social evil, regardless of what individuals might be present in their congregations, as a witness to the possibility of the possible offense to the contributors to the treasures of churches.

It is understood that the copies of papers found by Mr. Bowen at Caracas connected with the charges against there.

PRESIDENT POLK'S NIECE

Suffered Several Years—Was Cured By Pe-ru-na.

MRS. MINNIE LEE COLLINS, Residence of President Polk, Nashville, Tenn.

Best Physicians Prescribed for Her, but Without Avail. Mrs. Minnie Lee Collins, grandniece of the late President James K. Polk, writes from 912 High street, Nashville, Tenn.: "For several years I experienced a severe attack of female trouble. The best physicians prescribed for me, but without avail. Two years ago I began to take Pe-ru-na at the advice of a friend. 'I noticed a perceptible improvement at once; after taking several bottles I was cured. I hold Pe-ru-na in high esteem and am always ready to say a good word for it.'"

SOME of the most illustrious families in the United States, whose ancestors have been famous in our national history, not only use and believe in Pe-ru-na, but do not hesitate to give public endorsement of it.

No medicine in the world has received such unqualified praise from all classes. It is perfectly natural that all classes should praise the same remedy, for all people are subject to the same diseases.

ALL CLASSES PRAISE PE-RU-NA.

HORRORS! A PRINCE IS AT LARGE IN GOTHAM

New York Sun Special Service. New York, May 16.—Has New York a prince of the German empire within its confines, and is it in utter ignorance of the fact?

On board the Hamburg, the German yacht which is to race for the ocean championship, is a mysterious young man, who closely resembles Prince Adalbert, the third son of the Kaiser.

Whenever Captain Peters passes him he bows with great respect. All the men treated him with the greatest deference. He signs himself "Triton," a title which is assumed only by the ranking officers of the royal house when on sea. It is an honorary title specially bestowed.

When the mysterious unknown leaves the ship he wears the costume of a well-to-do young business man. He affects no insignia of nobility.

Prince Adalbert is 21 years old and is said to be a natural sailor, and can take his turn with any of them in the sharp test weather.

Mrs. E. S. Taborn, Wife of a Department Store Manager, Cured of a Chronic Cough by Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

Young Lady, Who Had Lost 40 Pounds in Six Months, Is Quickly Cured of Distressing Cough.

Manager Taborn, Cured of Chronic Constipation and Bowel Trouble, Tells of His Remarkable Recovery.

"During the fall and winter of 1903-4, my wife had a chronic cough which ran down her system, reduced her weight and sapped her strength to such an extent that we became alarmed and feared she had consumption. Her doctor gave her very little relief, and we tried different medicines in vain, but nothing benefited her until she began to take Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, which we heard of through a testimonial of a temperance advocate. Before the first bottle was taken, the cough had almost ceased, and by continued treatment in a very short time she was cured.

"Another wonderful cure was that of a young lady employed by me in a department store in Baltimore, who was troubled with a chronic cough, which brought on bowels, trouble and bleeding piles. For five years I doctored with pills and other medicine, but received no relief until I commenced to take 'Duffy's.' The first bottle had a magical effect, and in a short time I was restored to complete health. E. S. Taborn, Baltimore, Md., March 2, 1905.

"Personally my experience with 'Duffy's' has been little short of marvelous. For years I had chronic constipation, which brought on bowels trouble and bleeding piles. For five years I doctored with pills and other medicine, but received no relief until I commenced to take 'Duffy's.' The first bottle had a magical effect, and in a short time I was restored to complete health. E. S. Taborn, Baltimore, Md., March 2, 1905.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

Over 4,000 centenarians owe their long life and continued health, strength, activity and usefulness to this grand medicine, which has the matchless record of over 4,000,000 cures in fifty years. It is absolutely pure, contains no fused oil, and is the only whiskey recognized by the Government as a medicine.

CAUTION—When you ask for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. Unscrupulous dealers, mindful of the excellent quality of this preparation, will try to sell you cheap imitations and so-called Malt Whiskey substitutes which are put on the market for profit only, and which, far from relieving the sick, are positively harmful. Demand "Duffy's" and be sure you get it. Look for the trade-mark, "The Old Chemist," on the label.

The genuine Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is sold by all druggists and grocers, or direct, at $1.00 a bottle. Write for free medical booklet containing symptoms and treatment of each disease to the Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.
