ACTORS GO VISITING

Carry Stock Productions of a City to St. Paul Playhouse.

Next week the Ferris stock company will invade St. Paul for a three weeks' engagement at the Metropolitan theater. The three weeks will be utilized for a thorough housecleaning at the Lyceum, which has been in continuous operation for 140 weeks. Manager Towens said today that the company's production is completely overhauled. The foyer and lobby will be redecorated and every nook and corner of the building will be cleaned. The three weeks' engagement is improved, and new exits added. After the St. Paul engagement the house will open with the most spectacular and most magnificent production ever attempted by the Ferris company. The name of the play is yet a secret. Four plays will be presented in St. Paul, as follows: "When Knighthood Was in Flower," "The Holy City," "In the Palace of the King," and "Little Lord Fauntleroy."

BEREAVED BY STORM

Sister of an Excelsior Woman Killed in Recent Tornado.

Mrs. G. Butcher of Excelsior, suffered the loss of a sister in the tornado which destroyed the town of Snyder, Okla., last week. Mrs. Butcher is a sister of Mrs. Hibbard of Snyder, whose husband was school superintendent at that point. Four of the five members of the Hibbard family lost their lives in the tornado, the only survivor being the youngest son of the family. Mr. Butcher happened to be at Tulsa, Okla., another of the tornado swept towns, at the time of the catastrophe. He at once hastened to Snyder, only to find that the Hibbard family were among the missing. Very little information has reached Mrs. Butcher as yet. The boy who was so suddenly left without father and mother will be cared for by relatives.

PLUNGED INTO WATERY GRAVE

ROGER FOLEY, SECTION FOREMAN, VICTIM OF MISSISSIPPI.

Fell from a Trestle and Was Swept Thru the Rapids—Police Dragging River for the Body This Afternoon—May Not Be Found for Several Days.

Roger Foley, a section foreman for the Minneapolis Western railway, was drowned in the Mississippi at Eighteenth avenue S this forenoon, falling fifty feet from a trestle to the water below. The company is building a spur track along the bluff and the workmen are directly over the water. Foley had charge of a gang on the construction. As he was helping the men he slipped, and with a wild cry, fell into the water fifty feet below. A fellow workman, who attempted to save him as he reeled back, nearly lost his own balance, but was unable to touch the falling man. The bluff is almost perpendicular at that particular point, and before the men could get to the water's edge Foley's body was swept away by the current and was not seen again. The police were notified by the company, and officers will drag the river this afternoon, although it is feared the body will be carried several miles below.

SHORTS RESTING EASY

MARKET QUIET AND LOWER—HENRY L. LITTLE DENIES THAT HE HAS BOUGHT EXCEPT FOR MILLING.

The wheat pit quieted down today and prices fell back about 2c all around. The market was quiet yesterday, and the great advance in May wheat, there are still some shorts at the Chamber of Commerce who have not covered. Whether the outstanding short interest is still heavy, and whether the wheat will be bought in or the shorts will stand, it will be seen in the course of a few days. The rumor that Henry L. Little, manager of the Pillsbury-Washburn company, has bought wheat for the purpose of making flour, is still being talked about. The appearance in the times of an article attributing the "squeeze" to Henry L. Little of the Pillsbury-Washburn company, gives rise to the theory that the shorts propose to make a legal fight, and as it would be necessary to prove the existence of a corner to afford basis for a protest, it is possible that the company with the deal is the preliminary step.

Henry L. Little, manager of the Pillsbury-Washburn company, whose name has been mentioned as the man running a corner in May wheat, denies the story absolutely. "The statement that I am now or ever have been trying to corner wheat is wholly false; it lacks even a vestige of truth," said Mr. Little. "It is unjust and untrue. We own a considerable part of the wheat in store here, having bought and paid for it because we need it in our mills. We do not own it all. Other millers do the same as we do, and are in the same position as ourselves, to greater or less extent. We buy wheat because we need it, and when the time comes to use it we take it from the seller and pay cash for it. From the recent action of the market it would appear that some men in the grain trade must have sold wheat for May delivery, which they did not have. The men who have bought it will want it. Ordinarily it would not be difficult to buy it, but presumably those who own it are holding it tight. It is not offered freely for sale. It is a perfectly natural and legitimate situation. The insinuation that our company is cornering wheat would be too absurd and silly to warrant detailed denial were it not for the fact that the publication of such statements puts us in a wrong light. We are millers, not speculators."

THROWN UNDER WHEELS
Commission Man Has Fall in Trying to Stop Runaway.
Andy Corron of the firm of A. Corron & Co., located at Central market, and the star practical joker of that district, had an experience late yesterday afternoon that looked for a moment to promise serious results. A light grocery rig started on a lively runaway, in which several teams were taking a prominent part. As the team came running up Sixth street, Mr. Corron made a dash for the rig. Catching the dragging lines, he braced himself to throw the horses. When the lines tightened they broke, throwing him under the rig, two wheels going over him. The spectators, who rushed forward to pick him up, expected to find him badly injured, but outside of a ruined suit of clothes he was none the worse for his experience.

SURVEY TO START

Work on the geodetic survey of the western half of Hennepin county, ordered by congress, will probably be begun next month. There is $7,000 available for this survey and the results will be especially valuable because the territory covered will include Lake Minnetonka.

1,447--COUNT 'EM-- NEW BUILDINGS

LETTER CARRIERS' STARTLING CENSUS OF CITY'S GROWTH.

Business blocks, flat buildings and residences which will require mail delivery are found in unprecedented number—Postoffice Force Will Have to Be Increased to Give Good Service.

Business blocks, flats, residences and other buildings numbered 1,447, are in process of erection in Minneapolis. These significant statistics have been gathered by letter carriers for each division of the city. They represent the number of new stops that will be necessary for the carriers when the buildings are completed. As only one stop is made at a business house or at a flat building by a carrier, the statistics represent the actual number of buildings.

The census was taken by order of Postmaster W. D. Hale in order that the statistics may be sent to Washington. The carriers in the city are now overworked, and they will not be able to handle the increased mail. The distance walked now is over sixteen miles a day for each carrier, street by street, with an average of considerably over twenty miles a day, counting the walking in and out to deliver the mail. It is expected that an order will be furnished from Washington to employ several more carriers in the near future.

"The statistics are taken every year," said Postmaster W. D. Hale today, but I must say that I was surprised this year. The advance in mail has taken. It shows a wonderful march toward prosperity. The amount of business carried on by the postoffice in this city is way ahead of the population."

GOULSTONE AWARDED $1 FOR WIFE'S AFFECTION

One dollar was the value placed upon the love and affection of Mrs. Samuel Goulstone by the jury whose sealed verdict was opened today.

Goulstone sued W. C. J. Hermann for $5,000, alleging that the latter had seduced his wife, Goulstone's affections. The defense put in evidence tending to show that the woman's affection was a worthless asset even if it had been alienated, which was not admitted.

LAST LOAD OF STRIKE BREAKERS FOR CHICAGO

Evidence of the approaching end of the teamsters' strike in Chicago are to be found in the twin cities. Last night a final load of strikebreakers went down over the Great Western road. They were accompanied by a representative of the Employers' teaming association who was sent to secure men. The Minneapolis offices in the Phoenix building and the St. Paul offices in the Chamber of Commerce building have been closed. Two hundred and fifty men have gone from the twin cities. The crowd last night was a representative one, and was made up of a fine class of men. Very few of the "bum" class were in evidence. Many were young men, including several university students. It is expected that the majority of the 250 men will return to their homes in the twin cities, and have gone down in search of adventure. They are to be used as drivers, guards, etc.

AN UNTIMELY CALL

Frederick A. Hubbard Succumbs to Chronic Heart Trouble.

Frederick A. Hubbard, only son of L. P. Hubbard, treasurer of the Pillsbury-Washburn Flour Mills company, died yesterday afternoon at the family residence, 1904 Park avenue, after a long illness from heart trouble. He was 29 years old and was married two years ago to Miss Kathleen Fogarty of New York, who survives him. His parents and sister, Miss Margaret Hubbard, also mourn his untimely death. He was born in Minneapolis and lived here all his life except the past two winters, which he had spent for health at San Antonio, Texas. He was educated in the public schools of this city, at the Lehigh preparatory school at South Bethlehem, Pa., at Hobart college and at the University of Minnesota. He was a member of the Psi Upsilon fraternity, and a charter member of the Minnetonka Ice Yacht club. The funeral will be held Thursday at 2:30 p.m. from the family residence, 1904 Park avenue.

PROF. RISBERG HERE

Famous Educator Speaks at Swedish Temple Tomorrow.

Professor R. Risberg of the Chicago Theological seminary has planned a tour through Minnesota and Wisconsin, and has arranged to hold a thirty-four meeting, beginning Thursday evening at the Swedish Temple, Seventh street and Tenth avenue S. Professor Risberg is the leading educator among the Swedish Mission Friends. The Swedish department of the Chicago Theological seminary, which is one of the seven Congregational seminaries in the country, was established in 1885. Professor Risberg then received a call to this chair at the recommendation of P. Waldenstrom and Rev. C. A. Bjork. Under his direct charge and tutelage 180 Swedish missionaries and ministers have been trained, graduated and sent out through this and foreign lands. Of these three are stationed in Minneapolis, Rev. A. P. Engstrom, Rev. J. B. Thoren and Rev. A. E. Palmquist, and Rev. Hjalmar Sundquist in St. Paul.

HE WAS SPOILING TO FIGHT FITZ

WILLIAM WEDDGE DETERMINED TO WHIP FORMER CHAMP.

"Inspiring Bold John Barleycorn" Stir Pugilistic Feelings of Man in Bijou Audience, Who Feels His Coat and Announces His Desire for a Mill—He Pays a Fine Today.

W! tapeney we fear ne evil. W! usquebaugh will face de'll. —Bobby Burns.

Robert Fitzsimmons, pugilist and actor, didn't know how near he came to being hit by a human hurricane in the person of William Weddage last night, and only for police interference the great fighter would be using the liniment bottle today.

Altho Weddage has met the police before as a way and an opportunity to meet "Lanky Bob." Last night he bought a seat in the rear of the house, but before entering he patronized the Washington avenue beer stores liberally. The first part of the play was satisfactory to Mr. Weddage but during the second he became irritated and said mean things about about the star. The climax came when one of the players announced that Fitz was still in the game. This challenge enraged Weddage and, stepping out into the foyer, he announced his intention of wiping the former champion right off the map. He accompanied his threat by a disrobing act in order that those about couldn't call him a quiver. Theater attendants and others were held at bay by the new pugilist while he continued to remove such articles of clothing as would hinder quick action in the ring.

He was just starting for the ring-side when Detective Otto Wirtensohn, who had been called, came in and acted as substitute for Fitz. With some difficulty the officer managed to drag Weddage down the stairs and accompany him to central station.

In police court today the story of the attack on the real mill was told to Judge Waite, who said: "Fifteen dollars or fifteen days."

GADSKI SINGS TONIGHT

FAMOUS DIVA APPEARS WITH PAUL AND PITTSBURGH ORCHESTRA AT AUDITORIUM.

Tonight Mme. Gadski will make her second concert appearance of the season in Minneapolis under exceptionally favorable circumstances. She is the soloist of the Pittsburgh orchestra, whose concert tonight in the Auditorium will close the musical season in impressive fashion. With the great Wagnerian conductor, Emil Paur, directing the orchestra, the dramatic number of Mme. Gadski, the soprano, will be a surprise. The "Flying Dutchman" will be a rich feast for all of the Wagnerites, for neither of these artists are surpassed at the present time in America in their Wagnerian interpretations. Emil Paur is famed chiefly, perhaps, as the prophet of the modern masters, Tchaikovsky, Strauss and others, but his readings of Beethoven and Brahms are accepted as authoritative and superb. He will be heard adequately in the concert program.

He will be heard adequately in the concert program. The orchestra will play a great symphony of Beethoven and Tchaikovsky, respectively.

Fraulent Schoen-Rene, who was instrumental in arranging the Minneapolis concert of the orchestra, did this on account of her enthusiastic admiration for Mr. Paur's work as a conductor. She is a woman of great achievement with the orchestra, which she earnestly desired to have Minneapolis music lovers hear, believing the opportunity when the time comes. The concert will be a most interesting one, and the orchestra is the best paid of the city. Mr. Paur receives an immense salary.

STORY SAYS BIG STAKES WERE UP IN CRAP GAME

Stories of one of the "hottest" crap games ever played in Minneapolis are in circulation about the city. The principal referee in the game is said to be as alone know of the transaction the facts of the game are hard to obtain.

The story goes that last Saturday night, after closing time, the proprietor and his right-hand man retired to the back end of the establishment and started to play. The story is said to be well-known one, it does a big business in its line and the nature of the trade demands a running value of about $5,000 a game.

Luck, in the crap shooting, is said to have favored the chief clerk. In a comparatively short time his employer lost his real cash and began to make notes. These notes were taken. The proprietor put up his watch and everything of value he could lay hands on, and the clerk started to play. Finally in a fit of desperation he put up the store against the winner of his clerk and the notes. The clerk won. The loser is said to have given the keys of the establishment to the clerk and the latter came down Sunday morning and opened up. He ran the store all day, and when business started off in the afternoon, the old proprietor showed up with $8,000, which he had borrowed from a friend, and asked for revenge.

The men are averted to have gone into the basement and started playing by lamplight. At 9 o'clock Sunday night the original owner of the store came out, and the clerk took the owner of a day was gloomy and downcast, and that the old boss wore a smile and two watches. Rumor, in concluding the story, says the present owner not only won back the store from his clerk, but over $250, the savings of the subordinate, and his watch as well.

HATS FOR BALL FANS

Forty Lucky Ones in the Patrons of Local Games.

When Managers Watkins of Minneapolis and Kelley of St. Paul announced that they were to give away 200 McKibbin hats, 100 in each city, during the baseball season, some people were suspicious and wondered if it really was "on the square."

The fact that nearly forty hats have already been given away has absolutely dispelled any doubts, and the plan is making a big hit with the patrons of the games in both towns. Every score card and hat is sealed in an envelope, in one of the minds of many fans the question, "Do I get a hat?" is the one to be decided before "Who's pitching?" and "What's the umpire's name?" etc.

SALESMAN USES AUTO

Will Make His Start from Minneapolis Tomorrow.

H. F. Moore, better known through Minnesota and the Dakotas as the "chauffeur" salesman, depending as he does entirely upon the power of his automobile for locomotion, will leave Minneapolis tomorrow, weather permitting, on an extended business trip. He is representing one of the large local wholesale grocers and has contracted to cover three counties in Minnesota. He will go to Hanley Falls, where his machine is being overhauled. Thence he will proceed to Granite Falls, Clarkfield, and the town of Chippewa, Lac qui Parle and Yellow Medicine counties.

Last year Mr. Moore made all points between Minneapolis and Winton, N. D., and Minneapolis and Hanksville, N. D., covering over 3,000 miles during the automobile season.

MUCH IN SIGHT FOR MOTORISTS

ANNUAL MEETING DEVELOPS ENTHUSIASM AMONG CAR OWNERS.

Colonel Frank M. Joyce Chosen for Presidency—Plans for the Endurance Run, Social Features and Hill Climbing Contest Passed Upon—Monogram Adopted—Protection and Precaution.

COLONEL FRANK M. JOYCE, Newly Elected President of Minneapolis Automobile Club.

Colonel F. M. Joyce was unanimously elected president of the Minneapolis Automobile club last night at the annual meeting in the Commercial club rooms. E. J. Phelps, the retiring president, refused to be a candidate for any office, but consented to act as one of the trustees. Asa Paine was elected vice president; R. G. Smith secretary; A. E. Paegel, treasurer. The club members were named by the committee on election for trusteeship and the following five were elected: E. J. Phelps, Dr. C. E. Dutton, Harry Pence, Horace Lowry and C. F. Haglin. Committees were also appointed to consider insurance and to make an immediate report on by-laws.

Previous to the meeting of the club, the entertainment committee for "car-val" week had a business dinner in one of the private dining rooms of the club. Those present were Harry Pence, Asa Paine, R. G. Smith, M. A. Delaney, E. Paegel, Carlisle Pillsbury, Swan Turnblad, E. H. Moulton, J. E. Phelps and F. M. Joyce. Several subcommittees were appointed to take charge of Minneapolis day, Monday, June 10. The committee for the day of the run, all details, roads, city parade, etc., will be Asa Paine, chairman. The committee on the dinner and smoker, which will be given in the evening at Lake Harriet will be R. G. Smith, chairman. The committee on the return run at the Lake Harriet pavilion, Dr. C. E. Dutton, chairman. The finance committee will be H. E. Pence, Swan Turnblad, C. E. Lewis, George Christian and F. M. Joyce, chairman. Carlisle Pillsbury was elected chairman of the entertainment and souvenir committee.

To Raise Cash.
It was voted to raise $5,000 for the entertainment of the St. Paul and Chicago clubs. This sum will be raised as far as possible among club members. The plan is made to the business men of the city. The plan for the day are practically complete. The parade will take in the principal streets of the city and will be followed by a car race. The car race will be run to the lake, where the larger crowd will entertain at the Tonka Bay hotel, from 1 p.m. till 3 p.m. Every one will be on the return run at the Lake Harriet pavilion. Dinner will be served there and in the evening a vaudeville performance is planned.

Fostering the Sport.

Runs, hill climbing contests, trial speed tests and everything which is to make the sport popular, will be fostered during the summer. Hearty co-operation will exist between the club and the Retail Dealers' association. The monogram for the club was presented by Mr. Paegel. There are two sizes. The smaller size will be given to each club member and the larger size may be secured on the payment of $1. Excellent road maps are also being prepared and will be given to members. The monogram will be attached either on the front or rear of the car. Mr. Paegel also presented a card which was adopted by the club. It will state that the driver is a member of the club and in case of accident the card will be presented to the policeman, who will keep it as bail. The cards will be signed by the mayor and the chief of police.

The dues of the club will be raised to $10 after July 1. All owners joining before that date will be allowed to enter the club upon the payment of the present dues.

George W. Cooley, county surveyor, gave an address on "Good Roads." The Lake street road is to be changed from one of the worst roads in the city to one of the best. It will be macadamized, and in Mr. Cooley's words, will be "the finest in the northwest for automobiles." He told of other road improvements in prospect.

To Entertain Norwegians.

Adolph Edsten appeared on behalf of the Norwegian singers whom certain members of the club will entertain Monday, May 29. Members of the club volunteering their cars were: Winston & Walker, two cars; Harry Pence, two cars; Moulton-Jordan company, Swan Turnblad, E. J. Phelps, Colonel Joyce, Dr. Dutton, Mr. Paegel, Mr. Paine, F. E. Fawkes, Frank Schoonmaker and Adolph W. Bensen.

On May 27 the club will entertain the St. Paul Automobile club. The Minneapolis club has twice been the guest of the St. Paul club without reciprocating. In the evening, a dinner and entertainment are planned. While the club will not take charge of the parade planned by the Retail Dealers' association for June 1, it will lend its heavy indorsement to the hill-climbing contest which will probably be under the direction of the club, as in former years.

FOUNDER OF FOREST AND STREAM AND OF HALLOCK, MINN., CALLS ON OLD YALE FRIEND, JUDGE ATWATER.

Charles Hallock is in town at the Hampshire Arms. He has just come from Southern California after spending the winter there, called on Judge Isaac Atwater, who used to be his private tutor in New Haven, Conn., in 1842, when the judge was a senior in Yale college. The two old friends were glad to meet.

Mr. Hallock is getting along in years himself, being in his 73d year. He is best known as the founder of Forest and Stream in 1873. He also founded the town of Hallock, in Kittson county, Minnesota, in 1879, with John Swan-son. He came to Minnesota as a long ago as 1858, not very many years after Judge Atwater located here, and bought a block of lots in Belden and Young's addition to the city of Hastings.

That same year Mr. Hallock made the trip to the Red river in company with General C. C. Andrews, Alcott Kinkaid and George Brott, and wrote the "Red River Trail" for Harper's Magazine, in two chapters, illustrated. He helped much to draw immigration to Minnesota.

Mr. Hallock is now here looking after some property which he has carried over twenty-three years. The real estate men are helping him to unload, tho they would advise him to hold for a rise if he was a younger man, as there is a general seismic movement palpable. Perhaps he will keep a part of his real estate.

Mr. Hallock is being entertained by numerous friends, who congratulate him on carrying his added years so lightly.

FOUND THE CHILD

Baby Farm Proprietor Compiles With Court's Order.

Mrs. Hattie Levere, who was arraigned in police court last week charged with disposing of a child born in her hospital without reporting the case to the health department, has found the missing babe and the case against her probably will be dismissed.

The child belonged to Mrs. Margaret Johnson of Brainerd, and when the mother came for it, Mrs. Levere said that it had been adopted and could not be found. Judge Waite gave Mrs. Levere until tomorrow to find the child, and she told the Humane society today that she had succeeded.
