SEATTLE BOOMING

Visitors from the East and from Alaska Help It Along.

"Seattle is prospering this year as never before, being bettered by a great income of people from the east, and by receipt of additional wealth from the gold fields of Alaska," says Judge J. M. Miller of Seattle, who is in Minneapolis.

"Large buildings are being erected in numbers this season. A tract of ten acres, on which the state university formerly was located, has been leased by a syndicate and millions are to be invested in building large structures on it. All industries in Seattle are prospering, and business was never on a better footing. Thousands of well-to-do people are in the habit of spending their winters in Seattle, bringing with them gold they have accumulated during the summer mining season."

"The J. J. Hill steamer Dakota is now rounding the Horn, and is expected at Seattle next month. The city is making great preparations to receive it. The governors of the two Dakotas will be present and the occasion will be made a memorable one."

HEARD GHOSTLY VOICES IN JAIL

"DR." PIERCE STARTLED OUT OF YEAR'S GROWTH.

Investigation Reveals a Length of Garden Hose Leading Into His Quarters From the Kitchen, but the Scared Prisoner Is Firmly Convinced that the Place Is Haunted.

"I won't work another minute in that hospital," declared Dr. T. J. Pierce, a United States prisoner here, as he rushed, very much excited and out of breath, into Jailor Nels Clausen's room this morning.

"You won't let me go," he said, "but why not?" exclaimed the astonished custodian of criminals.

"Because it's haunted," said the doctor, "what's the matter with you? Haunted? Are you out of your head?"

"No, I'm all right, but the place is haunted. Several times I've heard strange noises in there and this morning a voice said:

"Beware! Beware! I am thy father's ghost! There wasn't a soul in the room and nobody in sight anywhere. After a few minutes the voice continued: 'I am doomed to walk a while, and I couldn't stand it any longer, but ran in here, and I'll not go back.'"

The jailor was too much amused to notice the insubordination. He went on a tour of investigation. There was no sound in the hospital. After a thorough search he discovered sticking thru the inside hospital window a piece of hose. Following this clue, he found that the hose led around into the jail kitchen.

The parents moved that day to a house two blocks away, and the jail was left in the old home until a better place could be provided for her. Neighbors, who were present, said that the mother had only been absent from the sick girl's side a few minutes. She had gone to the new home to arrange for the coming of the invalid, and in the meantime gossip did the rest.

Katie was injured while skating three years ago and several operations have been performed on her leg. A few weeks ago the leg was amputated and since then she has failed rapidly. The remains were taken to the little home on the East Side.

AN EQUESTRIAN FROLIC

Thrilling Parisian Novelty Introduced in Forepaugh-Sells Circus.

At last a novelty has arrived in the way of bareback riding. It even goes so far as to interpret a dramatic scene. To the great Adair Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' circus, which will be in Minneapolis June 5, is due this refreshing innovation. A gaily dressed and mounted party of young people on their way to the "French Derby," in a radiantly fashionable park drag, drawn by four spirited horses, are the participants in this unique and thrilling act.

These smartly gowned young people perform wonderful feats in an apparent spirit of youthful abandonment. They toss each other from the arched seat of the splendid trap to the foremost horses' back, with the graceful ease of a twirling ball, and revolve from each others' hands and shoulders to an upright position upon the swiftly moving vehicle of horse. They pass each other high in the air in twisting evolutions from wagon to horse and horse to wagon. Gymnastic turns of the most difficulty and rarity are enacted by them in these hazardous positions with the same graceful ease and nifty of precision that characterizes the most thrilling work of world-renowned performers upon the secure foundation of the ground.

This act is distinctly new, and sensationally startling, and is called "On the Way to the Grand Prix Race, Paris."

The Big Log Jam

Owing to many requests for automobile tours to the big log jam, The Journal Tour department has made arrangements for a special trip up the river every morning at 10 o'clock. This is one of the biggest log jams in the history of the lumber business, and is well worth going miles to see. The tour will cover about fifteen miles, and will interfere in no way with the regular Journal tours.

FIGHT ON WILL HAS JUST BEGUN

ALBERT JOHNSON CASE CARRIED TO DISTRICT COURT.

The Objectors to the Probate Court Order Awarding the Estate to Miss Dickinson Have Not Yet Shown Their Hands—Interesting Developments Are Promised at the Trial.

Dr. Asa Johnson's fight to break the will of his late millionaire brother, Albert Johnson, is now in the district court. A formal notice of appeal from Judge Harvey's decision admitting the will to probate, and an appeal bond of $3,000 were filed in the probate court today. The case will be placed on the regular September term calendar, and the trial will probably last several weeks.

The objector, represented by Cohen, Atwater & Shaw, has a large amount of evidence, said to include some surprises for Miss Dickinson and the defenders of the will. Little of the objector's evidence was introduced in the probate court, but at the coming trial, everything that tends to show that the testator was incompetent or unduly influenced will be brought out. All the little pieces of the puzzle will be placed in the strongest possible light. His alleged parsimony, his peculiarities about women and his humorous conceptions will all be aired.

LOOKING AT BUGGY

Attorneys, Jurors and Visitors Judge of Its Value.

A full-grown buggy occupied the attention of court attorneys, jurors and visitors in Judge D. F. Simpson's court today where the trial of William H. Roberts, charged with grand larceny from the T. M. Roberts Supply house, is in progress. The buggy is one of the state claims Roberts stole and the defense claims he bought for $15.

Frank Nye, with his well-known eloquence, will try to convince the jury that this client stole all the vehicle worth. W. R. Morris, one of the defendant's lawyers, was on the stand this morning in an effort to impeach W. H. Austin, state's witness. The lawyer swore that there was a difference story when on the stand in the municipal court. The case will probably go to the jury tonight.

PIONEERS ARE BUSY

Will Raise Money for Their Semecentennial Celebration.

At least $5,000 will be needed to cover the expense of the semecentennial celebration which the Territorial Pioneers of Hennepin county, the relative Sons, Commercial club and other local bodies are planning for July 1, but $10,000 could easily be spent. The finance committee has several plans in view. A soliciting committee has been appointed.

At yesterday's meeting W. M. Regan was selected to work among the members of the Retailers' association, and W. W. Heffelfinger in the Jobbers' association. An elaborate plan will be a part of the celebration. In this will be the old stage coach, Red river carts and, if the school board approves, the school children of the city led by a "human flag" of 1,000 children, dressed in red, white and blue.

The committee is endeavoring to get together as many of the interesting Red river carts as possible, and desire persons throughout the northwest owning such carts to communicate with Mayor Jones.

GUARD IS O. K.

War Department Inspector Puta Approval on All Companies.

Lieutenant Colonel William Gerlach, U.S.A., retired, who has made the annual inspection of the Minnesota national guard for the war department, has reported that every company in Minnesota is up to standard. The general result shows that the guard of the state is in excellent shape, and if anything better organized and equipped than in former years. The discipline especially is declared to have improved. The result of the inspection means that every guardsman in the state will receive the per capita distribution of federal aid under the Dick bill, which gives $1,000,000 each year for equipment of state troops.

CHINAMEN WANTED TO TOUCH DEAD BODIES

Believing that the blessings of the gods would be showered upon them if they touched the dead bodies of the men killed in the burning hotel at 204 Hennepin avenue yesterday, three Chinamen attempted to crowd their way thru the door. They were warned several times by the police and firemen and were finally summarily ejected.

They said they wished to touch burnt human flesh as it would drive away the evil spirits and bring happiness to their ancestors in the other world.

OLD YACHT CLUB TO BE REVIVED

NAME RETAINED AS A MATTER OF SENTIMENT.

Minnetonka Yacht Club Plant Purchased by the Deephaven Holding Company and Will Be Transformed into a Beauty-Spot—Club Will Foster Sailing and Outdoor Sports.

Club life at Minnetonka is to have an addition in a revived Minnetonka Yacht club. Work is now under way and in a comparatively short time the Minnetonka Yacht clubhouse at Deephaven will be the center of social life for the members of the organization, most of whom reside in the vicinity.

The Deephaven Holding company has purchased the old clubhouse and property and rented it, for a term, to the revived club. Landscape gardeners, carpenters and artisans will transform the house and surroundings into a beauty-spot. The club members plan to lend a hand in the promotion of sailing and in addition will foster tennis, golf and such outdoor sports as can be carried on at the lake.

The movement for the revival of the old club came about thru the activity of residents of the south shore and the vicinity, and has been under way for some time. While going ahead with the work on the clubhouse and grounds the club has not elected a full corps of officers, but this will be done in a time.

"We retained the old name thru sentiment," said one of the leading spirits in the enterprise today. "We will try to foster the beautiful outdoor sports and will pay much attention to the social side. It will be a country club, with the water sports available. The movement has been a popular one and we are looking forward with much pleasure to getting back to the old playground. Expense will not be spared and in a short time the Minnetonka Yacht club plant will be a beauty-spot."

SEEKS BEST EQUALIZERS

GOVERNOR JOHNSON NOT PARTIZAN IN MAKING UP LIST FOR TAX BOARD.

Governor Johnson's appointments to place on the state board of equalization will be announced in a few days. The list is practically made up, but some time is required to get favorable responses from all the men appointed. It is hinted that there will be some surprises in the list. The governor is anxious to have the board make a record this year and next, and to that end is trying to get the best high-class men who will serve. Several men have been invited to serve who already have state-wide reputations, either as authorities on taxation or on public questions generally.

It is taken for granted that a majority of the appointments to be made will be democrats, but the board will not be entirely partizan. In at least one case it is said that a place has been tendered to a man who opposed Johnson strenuously last fall.

The terms of one-half the board members expire this year, and those from the even-numbered judicial districts. Both the Minneapolis and St. Paul members will retire, and there is considerable interest in the appointment of those two districts. Minneapolis business men are anxious that some one be named on the board who will stand up for the rights of the city and oppose unreasonable increases. The name of the probable appointee has not been divulged, however.

The members of the board whose terms have expired are: H. W. Farley, St. Paul; Emerson Cole, Minneapolis; Nels J. Nelson, West Swedehall, Watonwan county; Fred Greiner, Chaska; Truels Paulson, Spring Grove, Houston county; J. L. Phillips, Louisville, La; Qui Parle county; John Peterson, McIntosh, Polk county; G. C. Thorp, Hancock, Stevens county; and Daniel Anderson, Cambridge, Isanti county.
