WRECK SAFE WITH NITROGLYCERIN

CRACKSMEN FIRE ON POLICEMAN AND ESCAPE. Robbers Use Explosive to Blow Open Strongbox in Grocery Store of J. J. Cramer—They Get $300 and Run Faster Than Patrolman Niemeyer—Many Shots Exchanged.

After blowing the safe in J. J. Cramer's grocery store at 1337 Nicollet avenue early this morning and obtaining $300, the cracksmen escaped amid a shower of bullets from the revolver of Patrolman Niemeyer, who surprised them as they were working.

Entering the front door shortly before 2 o'clock by means of a skeleton key, the robbers drilled the safe and charged it heavily with nitroglycerin. While two of the men fixed the safe the third stood on guard at the front door to give warning in case officers approached.

Just as some belated pedestrians walked by on the other side of the street, the charge was exploded with a deafening noise. The front door of the store was blown out to the middle of the street and canned goods and bottles were hurled in all directions and smashed against the wall.

Patrolman Niemeyer who was walking past the store at the time was hurrying to the store, but as he approached the man on guard raised his revolver and fired at the officer without warning.

At the same time he called to his "pals" inside, telling them to run. Seeing the policeman approaching rapidly in spite of the bullet sent to intimidate him, they started on a full out Nicollet, turning occasionally to fire at the pursuing officer.

This rapid firing at long range was kept up until the robbers disappeared near Nicollet avenue and Second street. The explosion and the revolver shots brought several persons from their homes and others who were passing along the street to the store.

The loss was not known until this morning when Mr. Cramer opened the store and found that $300 had been taken. The safe is a total wreck and the damage to the store will amount to $100 more.

WHEAT PRICES BOB AMAZINGLY

PIT NEVER SO CONFUSED AS IT WAS TODAY. Confusion unparalleled and utter demoralization attended the trading in the local cash wheat market. The options declined only moderately, but the cash article was off 10 to 12 cents a bushel in the early part of the day.

Five hundred and eleven cars came in here, some of it representing wheat taken off steamer at Chicago on Friday and Saturday, and which was ready for delivery on May sales. As much of it as could be switched around and handled in time for delivery before the close of the day, the market on Wednesday was eliminated as a depressing force, but several hundred cars shipped in by country mills, country elevators and private buyers who waited for the last sale, still remained and could not be sold on the May option, which was the price basis on Saturday.

The millers stood off and would buy only No. 1 northern on the basis of the July option. Two cents over July was the best early bid, and July being then $1.08, this meant $1.10 for No. 1 northern wheat on Saturday. Later a miller bid a cents over July, or $1.12, but sellers were aghast at the slaughter of prices and would not let go, and with the tables covered with samples, scarcely any business was done to 11 o'clock.

After 11 the millers were more disposed to take hold and sales were reported at $1.15 for No. 1 northern. The bulk of it moved off somewhere around this figure.

MARKET BADLY MIXED

When the cash tables were about cleaned up of wheat a buyer, supposed to represent the big long interest in May wheat, came in and openly bid $1.10 all around for No. 1 northern. The option but was of little benefit to the early sellers of spot wheat.

It was the most mixed up cash market for years. The market for No. 1 northern showed sales of No. 1 northern at $1.10, $1.12, $1.13, $1.14, $1.15, $1.19 and $1.20.

SELF-DEFENSE IS ECKE'S RELIANCE

ATTORNEY HALL CAREFUL IN SELECTING JURORS. Temperance Workers Not Desired on Murder Jury by Counsel for the Defense—Osseo Murder Case Goes on Trial Today Before Judge Simpson Getting Jury.

ECKE JURORS SECURED TODAY. James H. Garvey, clerk, 325 Broadway N.E. James H. Kennedy, saw filer, 2653 Fremont avenue N. William T. Smith, life insurance agent, 702 Lake of the Isles boulevard. August Andel, printer, Beaufort hotel.

Unbiased veniremen were plentiful in Judge D. P. Simpson's court today, where Nicholas Eckes, the Osseo saloon-keeper, charged with the murder of Fred Roma on Oct. 3, is on trial. Men whom the defense was willing to accept as jurors were not so plentiful and three preliminary challenges were used by Mr. Hall during the morning.

Mr. Hall's line of questioning indicated that he appreciated the bias some persons have against saloonkeepers and was especially anxious that no temperance workers be on the panel that is to determine the fate of his client. He also inquired of each man whether he was opposed to the admission of self-defense. He stated, frankly, to one venireman that his contention would be that Eckes killed Roma solely to protect himself. It has been known from the beginning that this could be Eckes' only defense, as the shooting is admitted.

The witnesses, a large number of whom have been subpoenaed, were in court and few spectators were in attendance. The jury will probably not be completed before tomorrow. After that, the Osseo contingent will be present for a service which will be held for the comrades buried at sea.
