

NEARER TO NEW UNION STATION

Great Northern Interests Have About Decided to Proceed with It. NEW STRUCTURE WOULD FACE ON BRIDGE SQUARE The Plans Provide for Access to Trains Without Crossing Tracks.

Minneapolis seems in a fair way to have a magnificent new union passenger station. The need of a new station has been greatly felt for some time.

The plans for the new station are modern in every detail. The waiting rooms and ticket offices are located on the ground floor as at present, but the present danger to passengers in crossing numerous trains without crossing a single track.

A Bureau of Information. The Union Station company also intends to establish a bureau of information in the main waiting room.

The construction of the new union station is made entirely in the hands of James J. Hill, president of the Great Northern.

Freight Terminal Plans. The new union station is not the only development of Great Northern interests in view for Minneapolis.

King's Plans Not Spoiled by Bomb. Alfonso Continues His Round of Pleasure in the French Capital.

Paris, June 2.—King Alfonso and President Loubet today visited the military school at St. Cyr, where they witnessed some cavalry evolutions.

The king tonight will attend the performance at the Theater Francais, fronting the scene of the recent attempt on his life.

Young King Alfonso has quite taken the fancy of the Parisian populace, especially the women, who pronounce him a fine boy, with a sunny smile and graceful presence.

King Alfonso has declared his intention of awarding the Spanish medal for military merit to the officers and soldiers who were wounded or thrown from their horses owing to the explosion.

"ONE SEMESTER" RULE ADOPTED

Minnesota Makes Valiant Fight Against Athletic Law Change.

Chicago, June 2.—The conference has affirmed the "one semester" rule, Minnesota voting for a full year or nothing.

Chicago, June 2.—Despite Minnesota's valiant fight, aided in a half-hearted way by Iowa, morning indications point to the certain adoption of the "one year rule."

Dispute Settled. One feature to be brought up is the appointment of a conference committee to settle all disputes between the various schools.

Field Meet Preliminaries. Cold, cloudy weather today was the predominant feature of the opening of the big nine conference meet at Marshall field.

EYES ON GOPHER ATHLETES. Minnesota "U" Students and Alumni Watch from Afar.

There will be no telegraphic reports on the university campus tomorrow from the Chicago intercollegiate meet, for with the close of college the gopher rooters who believe that the 1905 track team will make a respectable showing at Chicago have left for their homes.

SERVIA THREATENS WAR WITH TURKEY

Demands Apology for Seizing of Papers in Consulate at Monastir.

Constantinople, June 2.—Serbia has notified Turkey that she will recall her minister from Constantinople unless satisfaction is given by June 12.

Serbia demands the dismissal and further punishment of the chief of police and that an official visit be paid to the consulate by the governor of Monastir with an expression of regret from the government for the occurrence.

NEW LINEUP IN EQUITABLE WAR

"Hot Old Time" Expected in Directors' Meeting to Decide on Future of Concern.

New York, June 2.—A new alignment of the parties concerned in the controversy in the Equitable Life Assurance society appeared to have been established today when the directors' meeting began.

It was generally expected that the directors either would decline to make public the report of the Frick investigating committee with a resolution that its recommendations be carried into effect, or that several directors would resign.

A friend of Vice President James H. Hyde today gave out a statement to the effect that the report of the Frick committee probably would be voted down.

DEMANDS AN ASSEMBLY

Press of St. Petersburg Continues to Urge Big Peace Council.

St. Petersburg, June 2.—The Russian press this morning still is advocating more vigorously than ever the summoning of a national assembly, even the reactionary Sviet joining in the general chorus.

The ministers who went to the council at Tsarskoe-Selo Thursday were so expectant of immediate action that the editor of the Official Messenger was instructed to hold his forms open for an important announcement, but at the last moment the editor was informed that this announcement was not yet ready.

Again at night the manifesto was expected, but at 2 o'clock this morning the editor of the Official Messenger learned that no announcement had been made.

Czar Shifts Lead. This manifesto, it is credibly believed, will proceed to the assembling of a national assembly, to which the question of peace or war will be submitted, thereby shifting the burden of a decision from the emperor to the whole nation, robbing agitators of an opportunity to make revolutionary capital out of a decision, whichever way it might be decided.

It is believed the calling of an assembly for this purpose would make it necessary to postpone the assembling of a zemsky zabor, which was contemplated in the emperor's ukaz of March 3, but it is probable that the first assembly will be able to take part in a constitutional convention and give advice as to the ultimate form of a new legislative organism.

Land Battle Expected. The emperor's advisers realize that whatever waste may be made by calling together the representatives of the people, it will be impossible for them to meet in time to forestall another battle in Manchuria; but, altho a request for an armistice is being made, the present disposition is to leave the matter entirely in the hands of the assembly.

Another decisive defeat on land could not change the situation or make it much worse, while a victory by Lieutenant General Linevitch would change conditions materially.

Conservative Russians are alarmed at the possibility of disorders in various parts of Russia as a result of the naval disaster, and a feeling of disquietude for the future is manifested everywhere.

DEFINITE STEP TOWARD PEACE. President Offers Czar Good Offices to End War.

New York Sun Special Service. Washington, June 2.—The first definite step toward peace was taken at a conference between the president and Mr. Takahira, the Japanese minister, yesterday.

Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Takahira are hopeful that negotiations will soon lead to the speedy conclusion of the war.

The president will return to the office he made last winter to bring the belligerents together. He has reason to believe that the proffer of his good offices as the disinterested friend of both nations will be more effective than it was before, and more seriously considered.

Mr. Takahira was in buoyant spirits when he left the White House, and his manner suggested the belief on his part, that the war would soon be over.

Further instructions will be called to Ambassador Meyer at St. Petersburg, who already is under orders to suggest to Count Lamsdorf, the Russian minister of foreign affairs, that the United States will gladly assist in the opening of peace negotiations, if Russia desires.

There is good reason to believe that in addition to this suggestion Mr. Meyer will be able to submit to the Russian government an outline of the general terms on which Japan is ready to conclude peace.

The president has talked of the steps necessary to secure peace with members of the cabinet and with the highest of the foreign diplomats. Thru these conferences he had his plans pretty well matured before Mr. Takahira saw him yesterday. He also learned, thru the diplomats with whom he exchanged ideas, that several of the European governments were exerting their friendly influence toward peace.
