CAMP LAKEVIEW SPECIAL LEAVES WITH HAPPY CROWD.

Ideal Day and Ideal Accommodations Combine to Send Party to the First Regiment Camp in Fine Fettle—Everyone Looking Forward to Regimental Field Day and Review.

Old Sol secured a firm grip on Jupiter Plusius today, and presented to the Minneapolis Journal excursion to Camp Lakeview, one of the choicest morning excursions ever had by a happy party on voyage. All the damage due to come from readily weeping skies was duly delivered yesterday, but 8 o'clock this morning the lake status and storm were wiped from the clouds and by 9 o'clock The Journal's sixty-third excursion was merrily on its way down river.

As is customary and proper upon such occasions, The Journal Newsboys' band started the ball rolling by an impromptu concert in front of The Journal building, which was subsequently continued at the Milwaukee station, while the groups and parties of excursionists were finding comfortable seats on the Milwaukee special, which waits to bear them to Hastings.

The young man with his best girl was there, as well as the best girl whose young man is down in camp with the First regiment, but the family parties predominate. From the very beginning in evidence, and the family spirit ruled the affair, just as was intended. General satisfaction was expressed by the kindly elements, the excellent accommodations furnished by the Milwaukee special and the speed and precision with which the day's program was carried forward.

Most of the excursionists were naturally looking forward to the steamboat trip down the Mississippi and Lake Pepin, while many of those aboard the train were intent on seeing the First regiment in review before the government, or, later, in their field day sports. Also an unusually large number took advantage of the low rate made for the excursionists provided against each other had provided against each other, even after the forces which started from Minneapolis were materially increased at Merriam Park and St. Paul. The train arrived at Hastings with an out-mishap or delay, the embarkation upon the steamboat "Purchase" was made in good order and with the traditional handkerchiefs waving and the traditional cheers sounding, and the Journal Newsboys' band playing its mightiest. The Journal excursion No. 63, was really "off" down the river and happy one.

PAY ON FULL EARNINGS

STATE DEMANDS BACK TAXES ON SHIPMENTS GOING OUT OF THE STATE AND IN AGAIN.

Public Examiner Kerst has served on five Minnesota railroads a copy of an opinion by Attorney General Young, which is likely to mean the payment of $50,000 in taxes to the state. The railroads heretofore have paid taxes only on a mileage proportion of business in the state, even when the shipment began and ended within the state, as from Minneapolis to Duluth. The attorney general holds that on such business the state is entitled to such a share of the whole revenue. While the supreme court has held that such business is interstate for the purpose of rate regulation, it has held again that for taxation it belongs entirely to the state in which the shipment begins and ends.

On this decision the state will attempt to collect back taxes from the shipping companies, but the Northern Pacific on Duluth business, and the Milwaukee and the Great Western on certain shipments routed part of the way thru Iowa.

REACHING FARMERS

Big Machinery Concerns Value the State Fair as a Medium.

There will be an enormous exhibit of farm implements and machinery at this year's Minnesota state fair. The fair is noted for its great farm machinery exhibits, but this year is ahead of the record. This is assured by the early interest in the department and the decision of some of the largest manufacturers and dealers in the country to make finer exhibits than have ever been seen on the Minnesota grounds—which means, of course, finer than have ever been seen anywhere.

One of the big fellows this season will be the J. I. Case Threshing Machine company of Racine, Wis., which is already making extensive permanent improvements upon the space which has been assigned it on the grounds. Another great exhibit will be that of the Deere & Webber company of Moline, Ill., which has the Deere people held up their catalog. Superintendent Lee has had the farm implement division replatted and every exhibit is surveyed and will be ready to be the same now from year to year. He will furnish plats to intending exhibitors.

APPOINTMENT.

Mr. C. S. Colburn, who has for years been traveling sales agent for the St. Paul & Western Coal Co., has been appointed line sales agent for the same company with headquarters at Minneapolis.

MORE ATTEND NORMALS

Reports Submitted to Board—Eastman Elected Purchasing Agent.

Alvah Eastman, president of the state normal school board, and residing director at St. Cloud, was elected by the board yesterday afternoon as purchasing agent, under the terms of the Perley bill which goes into effect July 1. The board also re-elected all the presidents, at the same salary of $3,000 a year, and the lists of professors and instructors were approved, not many changes being made in the staff. The salary lists for the year will be as follows: Moorhead, $24,125; St. Cloud, $27,820; Mankato, $28,880; Winona, $27,600; Duluth, $20,680.

Large increases in attendance were shown, the enrollment for the year having been 744 at Mankato, 740 at Moorhead, 604 at Winona, 304 at Duluth, and 493 at St. Cloud.

WHO WALS SO MEAN TO THE GARDNERS?

HUBBY'S "DOGGONNIT" WAS DOUBLY EXPRESSIVE.

How the Old Joke of Advertising a Big Price for a Dog Worked at the Newly Established Home at 2706 Dupont Avenue—Jokers Fight Shy of the Place Now.

Eight ward practical jokers are fighting shy of the newly organized Gardner home at 2706 Dupont avenue. The joke was that the house-keepers had a whole arsenal in the house and has sworn a great oath to maim, murder and mutilate all jokers. The joke was that the house-keepers had a whole arsenal in the house and has sworn a great oath to maim, murder and mutilate all jokers. The joke was that the house-keepers had a whole arsenal in the house and has sworn a great oath to maim, murder and mutilate all jokers.

The happy young pair returned from a honeymoon trip that was incomparable, they thought, and settled down to housekeeping at the above address on Monday. Friends however had inserted a little want ad reading as follows:

WANTED—DOG OF ANY BREED THAT WILL BEYOND IN THE PAPER FROM $10 TO $25. Call 2706 Dupont av S.

Early Tuesday morning the parade began. An opportunity to get from $10 to $25 for any sort of a dog, with no exacting requirements, but the ability to catch rats, was alluring to dog-owners of the town. Moreover, the dog-catcher is now making his rounds and takes are due. Big dogs, little dogs, fat ones, thin ones, old ones, pups, bulls, terriers, curs, black, white, yellow, blue, in fact, every sort of dog ever seen, was offered to the bewildered and unhappy bride, for her husband was busy selling nails and barb wire downtown and did not know what was doing.

As the telephone at his office rang and he was called to talk to "your wife."

"Oh, Bert," came a plaintive wail over the wire, "some horrid person has placed an ad in the paper that we want a rat dog and there's a million of them out here. They're in the parlor and the kitchen and the yard is black with them and the owners are all mad 'cause I won't buy them."

Bert, perturbed, said "doggonnit," and endeavored to comfort his wife over the phone. What she wanted was some physical manifestation of sympathy and assistance. She wanted to get rid of the dogs. Mr. Gardner hurried home and, with a few violent remarks concerning fool jokers, and fool dog-owners, and fools in general, the yard was cleared. The police were notified to arrest any and all persons leading dogs toward the Gardner home.

WILL COVER HALF BLOCK

JANNEY, SEMPLE, HILL & CO'S BUILDING TO BE ENLARGED—PROPERTY PURCHASED.

Janney, Semple, Hill & Co., wholesale hardware men, will enlarge their building plant to cover an entire half block between First and Second streets, adjacent to First avenue S, except 23 feet First street frontage.

Thru the agency of the David C. Bell Investment company, the firm has acquired from David P. Jones & Co., agents of the National Life Insurance company, 30 feet frontage on First, with 86 feet front on a quarter block and Second street, adjacent to First avenue S. This is the corner of First avenue S and First street now covered by buildings of no appreciable value.

Years ago the big jobbing firm established itself at First avenue S and Second street. Later it secured additional frontage on Second street, giving the firm a quarter block and Second street, by a five-story brick building. In 1901 it put up a five-story brick warehouse extending thru to First street. This was built over the top of the upper stories and had a frontage on First street equal to the Second street frontage, save the 22 feet on the north side, and the corner chunk of 52 1/2 feet. For four years this ramshackle corner was a detriment to the appearance of the big warehouse. It will now be incorporated in the building site.

I. O. O. F. FEES UNCHANGED

The grand lodge of Odd Fellows, in session in St. Paul, yesterday afternoon refused the request of the country lodges to reduce the dues and fees. The country lodges said they could not increase their memberships unless the fees were lowered. A compromise was suggested to authorize the grand master to issue special dispensations below the minimum rate, but this was also defeated.

It was decided that applicants for membership must have six months' residence in the district where the lodge to which they apply is located. It was also decided to merge the widows and orphans' fund with the general fund. After fixing Minneapolis as the place of meeting next June, the grand lodge adjourned. Most of its members today went to Northfield to attend the dedication of the new hospital for the Odd Fellows' home.

PICKED SPOKANE MAN FOR 'COME ON'

HOW A "DOUBLE CROSS" WAS FRAMED IN MINNEAPOLIS.

Victim Was Willing to Squeeze a Bookmaker but Howled for Police When He Found that the Shoe Was on the Other Foot—Affair Ends in Chicago.

Minneapolis was the vantage ground from which two clever Chicago racetrack touts viewed the array of come on bets and selected a Spokane man as a victim.

P. H. Grear reached Minneapolis from Spokane Wednesday. While loafing around a hotel lobby he met two well-dressed strangers and the trio had several drinks. The talk soon veered to horseracing and how hard it was to beat the bookmakers at their own game.

"It can't be done on the square," said one of the strangers, who had told Grear his name was John Monroe, "but we've got a scheme to beat 'em which never fails. It takes money, but it's a sure thing."

"Grear bit. He asked how it was done. 'Got a friend,' said Monroe, 'who's a clerk for Jim O'Leary, down in Chicago. This clerk gets all the winners first. He's willing, for me and my friends, to hold out a winner after a race is run until I can get a bet down. See? Ain't it easy? All it takes is a little money."

Grear, Monroe and the third man took the first train for Chicago and reached there yesterday. Monroe promptly steered Grear to a room which he said was a poolroom. Outside the door Monroe gave the third man $1,200 to bet on Beldame, which was already reported as the winner of the Suburban at 3 1/2.

Sudden dispatches say, Monroe was taken ill. "Wait here a minute," he told Grear. "I'll be right back." The bookmaker and his clerk also left the room.

They did not return and Grear notified the Chicago police. Monroe's companions have not been found.

THINKS HORSE IS THE BETTER FOR PLEASURE

M. W. Savage, the owner of Dan Patch and other high steppers of ability and note, is a hale, hearty convert to the automobile. As a pleasure proposition he stands pat on the horse, but as a business proposition he admits that the auto is a good thing. During the past year he has sold his stock farm on the Minnesota river, and makes the fifteen-mile trip twice each day. Last spring he took to the road a new touring car, which was a good one, but the trip which was good for two solid hours with a horse could be negotiated in about forty minutes, with an auto and that without sweating up his speeder. Savage is a devotee of the horse, and the machine and working on the principle that a merciful man is merciful to his beast, Mr. Savage now uses the machine exclusively and will admit that his horse will never be who it cannot eat stock food at any price.
