Why We Emphasize the Correctness of Our Society Engraving

Because it is by comparison that you will learn the vast gulf that separates our wedding invitations, announcements, cards and engraved writing paper from the mediocre. So little is the difference in cost that it is absolute proof that our prices are the lowest at which this superior quality has ever been produced. Do you think you can afford to use the other when ours can be had at so small a cost? Samples and estimates mailed free.

MINISTERS PLAN WORK

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE CHAPMAN MEETINGS ARE ALREADY ALL UNDER WAY.

The evangelistic committee of the Ministers' alliance reports good progress in the organization of the several districts of the city, in preparation for the religious campaign to be conducted next fall by Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman and his collaborators. Central committees on advertising, canvassing, finance, music and ushers have been selected, and are looking after various departments of the work. Each of these committees will have the assistance of a similar committee in each of the eleven or twelve districts into which the city has been divided.

Evangelists of reputation, assisted by specially trained singers will conduct services at convenient places in the several districts simultaneously. These workers, selected by Dr. Chapman, because of eminent service rendered, will be assigned by him to the districts within which they are to labor. It is not yet known whom the doctor will be able to bring with him, but such men as Drs. Ostrum, Walton, Stough, Ford and Gray are expected.

Union prayer services will be held in most of the districts Thursday evening, at which time the movement will be more fully discussed before the people than at any time since its inception. Some of the churches in which these meetings will be held are as follows: Plymouth Congregational, Fowler Methodist Episcopal, Calvary Baptist, Fifth Avenue Congregational, Park Avenue Congregational, Oliver Presbyterian, Swedish Tabernacle, Olivet Baptist and Fourth Baptist. These union services will largely take place this week and the following meetings ordinarily held by the churches.

TOMORROW'S CALENDAR

Journal "Seeing Minneapolis" automobile tours.

For sale, at a bargain, a $3,000 automobile; first-class make and almost as good as new. Call and see it at Strong's Automobile Co., 243 Third avenue S.

The Century News Store, Third, near Hennepin, has the largest line of souvenir postals, magazines and the books. See us about your reading and subscriptions.

Free for the asking—Journal vest-pocket "Nugget Books," containing nearly 300 bits of philosophy, humor and good sense worth reading. Call for one when you are at the Journal counter, write to the advertising manager and a copy will be mailed.

Within three days two street cars have been derailed at Nicollet avenue and Fifteenth street through the spreading of the rails, the first on the counter, Saturday and the second yesterday afternoon. The car plunged off the track for ten feet, and it was only after a working car was called out that it could be gotten back on the track.

Coroner J. M. Kistler will investigate the death of a baby born to Sophia Bachman, 248 Plymouth avenue. The child was born ten days ago and buried at the poor farm a few days later. It is believed the child died from neglect and abuse, although Dr. Calixte H. Dumas, the physician in charge, says the case was one of premature birth and that the child would have surely died.

Albert Gustafson of 3723 Dupont avenue N, was the victim last night of a lonely highwayman, masked and displaying a big revolver. Gustafson is employed in the North Side pumping station, and was returning home when the highwayman accosted him at Thirtieth and Marshall avenues. He submitted to being searched, but lost only a little small change. The robber, who Gustafson believes was an amateur, overlooked a roll of bills Gustafson had in an inside pocket.

Louis Miller, night foreman of the Tribune, was run down by a reckless auto driver at 4:30 last evening at Main street and Central avenue. Miller was riding a bicycle when the auto dashed around the rear of a street car and struck the wheel. The auto was thrown into the gutter and its rider had one knee badly skinned and his clothes torn. The occupants of the auto crowded on more power and hurried away, leaving Miller to ascertain the extent of injury of their victim.

Some of the automobile stragglers who arrived in Minneapolis today report a strange phenomenon at Austin last night. A party of village patriots were starting a premature celebration about midnight. The party consisted of about a dozen men, who were dressed with dense clouds which seemed to be just above the tops of the buildings. Rockets fired by the boys on the street were scattered by the wind, and within a cloud, to flash thru a broken space later and explode high above the cloud. Some of the explosions were firecrackers, and others were broken in the openings, illuminating the clouds and making a beautiful display.

No one could explain the reason for the low-lying clouds, and it did not begin to rain again for several hours. The youths of the party, who were dressed with dense clouds which seemed to be just above the tops of the buildings. Rockets fired by the boys on the street were scattered by the wind, and within a cloud, to flash thru a broken space later and explode high above the cloud. ## MUST BE FOR ALL

No Discrimination Possible in Free Textbook System.

No discrimination can be made by boards of education in the granting of free textbooks, according to an opinion given by W. O. Olson, state superintendent of public instruction, by Charles S. Jelley, special counsel of the attorney general's department. The opinion reads, in part, as follows: "The board of education of each and every school district is authorized to purchase textbooks needed for the use of the schools under the provisions of the law which give power to provide for the loan free of charge or sale at cost of such textbooks to pupils in attendance at such schools."

ADMIRAL ON SHORE

Retired Seaman Tells How Navy Observes the Fourth.

Admiral F. M. Symonds, U. S. N., retired, is spending his first Fourth of July on shore at the Ryan hotel, St. Paul. He is accompanied by his wife and son, and is on vacation at the Yellowstone park.

The Fourth on shipboard is always recognized with appropriate honors, said Admiral Symonds today. "At daybreak the vessel is decorated with flags strung fore and aft. At each mast head the stars and stripes are flung, and between these the flags of the signers are displayed. As the national flag rises to its position all of the officers and men bare their heads in salute. If the vessel is at anchor, the salute of twenty-one guns is fired at noon at intervals of five seconds. As far as possible the day is made a holiday, and the men are excused from drill and other routine duties."

LOSS IS NOT HEAVY

Training School Building Damaged to the Extent of Only $3,000.

Members of the board of control have received word that the damage by fire to the sloyd shop at the Red Wing training school amounts to only about $3,000, which is covered by insurance. The building is valued at $40,000 and it is insured for $35,000.

Money deposited in The Farmers & Mechanics Savings Bank on July 1, 3 and 5 will draw interest from July 1.

NAILED SHINGLES IN THE DRIZZLE

TRINITY M. E. CHURCH MEMBERS HAVE NOVEL "BEE."

Men of the Church Put on a New Roof While the Ladies Prepare and Serve Luncheon for the Workers—Weather Could Not Dampen the Prevailing Enthusiasm.

Rain could not dampen the ardor of the congregation of Trinity M. E. church today in carrying out their plan of shingling the edifice.

Merchants, tradesmen, clerks and professional men were all represented in the crew of busy laborers perched all day on various portions of the steep roof, each man armed with hammer, nails and shingles. Fifteen thousand shingles were laid, and a good job was made of it, too.

Some wore overalls, others did not, while all wore in their shirt sleeves and laughed at the fine rain that persisted in sifting down from a cloudy sky. J. F. Ferguson and P. C. Carlson, both practical carpenters of the congregation, were "bosses" of the "roofing gang," and saw to it that every man did his duty.

The pastor, Rev. R. H. Willsey, was as busy as any member of his parish, and discarded his coat from early in the morning till the job was completed. Occasionally a hammer wielded by an inexperienced arm slipped and landed on a thumb, but no audible remarks inappropriate to the surroundings were heard.

When the whistles blew at noon, true to "union rules," the masculine portions of the congregation came off their perch and proceeded to the inside where the Ladies' Aid society had spread a tempting lunch. That the work of the morning wasAVORING, the "men folks" testified by disposing of sandwich after sandwich, as well as eatables of a less substantial character.

The Epworth league members were also much in evidence, and also they were unqualified for positions of honor on the roof, showed they knew how to do their part. The church just the same, by disposing of several buckets of lemonade and a large amount of roasted peanuts—at "five per."

NO STATE FIGURES BEFORE AUGUST 1

State Census Superintendent Wright, after consultation with Peter E. Hanson, secretary of state, announces that no official statement of the total population of the state will be given out until Aug. 1, although official bulletins will be given to newspapers from time to time.

The enumerators have until the 10th of this month in which to file their reports. As a result, a large number of reports are not yet returned to the census bureau and the work of tabulating the returns according to civil divisions of the state, has not yet begun.

KNOCKED FROM LIPS

Carbolic Acid Bottle Taken from Would-Be Suicide.

Deserted by her husband and worried by the gossip of neighbors, Mrs. Mary Ingalls, 67 Tenth street N, attempted suicide yesterday afternoon by taking carbolic acid.

She had received a letter from her husband in the forenoon, and feeling sure that he would never return to her, she raised the bottle to her lips in the belief that she would die. Her cousin knocked the bottle from her hand and called the police. Mr. Ingalls was taken to the city hospital, where it was found that none of the acid had been swallowed.

Her face and hands were burned by the liquid.

PRELATE ADVISES ANNUAL PICNIC

ARCHBISHOP IRELAND PLEASSED WITH SUCCESS OF FUNCTION.

Union of All Catholic Parishes in Festivities on the Orphan Asylum Grounds Results in Large Attendance and Enjoyable Day—Lively Contest for Trip to Portland.

Archbishop John Ireland, in an address delivered this afternoon at the picnic given by the united parishes of Minneapolis for the benefit of the Catholic orphan asylum for boys, complimented a greater picnic and advised that the plan be continued and the same sort of a picnic be made an annual Fourth of July feature of the local Catholic church.

Heretofore each parish has held a separate sylvan carnival on the Fourth. This year the seven parishes united in giving a greater picnic and celebration on the orphan asylum grounds, Chicago avenue and Forty-eighth street.

"I am delighted to see the broadminded Christianity that is evidenced by this union of the parishes in one good work," declared the archbishop. "It shows progress and a spirit that should be fostered. The success of the present function should result in making a like event an annual feature. The object of the charity will vary, but the good derived from it will be the same."

The archbishop detailed in glowing terms the great work accomplished by the orphan asylum, and concluded with a eloquent tribute to the stars and stripes. Other distinguished visitors and speakers were: Bishop J. J. Keane of Cheyenne, Wyo.; Bishop McGlockrick of Duluth, and Bishop Cotter of Winona.

Several thousand men, women and children traveled to the picnic grounds and, in defiance of the weather, enjoyed all of the festivities provided by the officers and workers of the picnic association. Every conceivable device for passing the time pleasantly was to be found on the spacious grounds, and they were well patronized. In the morning there were games and sports of various sorts. Then came the luncheon, for which great tables had been prepared by the ladies of the various parishes. In the afternoon there were more games and the speeches. This evening, with a prospect of fair weather and a magnificent display of fireworks, the number of the attendants will be largely increased.

The contest between the ladies representing the various parishes for the popularity prize of a trip to Portland is the principal object of interest and each parish is bending every energy to bring victory to its contestant. Prizes will not be awarded until late this evening.

The officers of the picnic association are: P. J. Kennedy, president; Herbert Kelley, secretary; William Reau, treasurer.

"SCRUB RACE" AT CALHOUN

Sailors Contested After Official Race Was Off.

Despite the Scotch mist and the stiff gale, six yachts started at Calhoun this morning over the seven-mile course after the official race had been called off. Just before the "scrub race" started the Grand Sloop, by George Haggerty, was caught by a sudden squall and capsized on the west shore of the lake. Fortunately all on board were good sailors and the boat was fought and in sailing trim in about an hour.

The boats all entered scratch as follows: First-class sloops, Venture, L. Latham; Adel, Chamberlain Brothers; special swallow design, Hoodoo, A. D. Nelson; open class (in the regular races), Thistle, Fillmore and Atherton; Hiawatha, P. Cross; Manawa, L. Paul. The official starting time was 10:50. The constantly increasing gale gave the sailors all they wished, and the boats made the following fast finishes: Adel, 11:50; Thistle, 12:01; Manawa, 12:08; Hoodoo, 12:10; Hiawatha, 12:10; The Hoodoo beat the Hiawatha out by a few feet.
