ORGANIZING THE SMALLER TOWNS

FEDERATION COUNCIL SENDS OUT A SPECIAL AGENT.

Organizer Bly Designated to Assist Work at Mankato and Other Places—Effort Will Be Made to Strengthen Unions in Stillwater, Where Convention Will Be Held in 1906.

Sunday's meeting of the Federation Council was an interesting one and much business was transacted.

Chairman G. W. Deacon called the council to order and S. J. Spencer was chosen temporary secretary.

Representatives of the Bakers' union asked that organizers of the State Federation be instructed to attend to the work of organizing the bakers in the smaller towns.

Stillwater will receive special attention at the hands of organized labor this year. All unions in the twin cities having business agents are to be requested to send these officials to Stillwater in an effort to organize the different crafts not already in unions.

"When we go into convention at Stillwater in June, 1906, we hope to make a report that will fill the expectations of every delegate to that convention. Let every union in the state do its best to increase its membership, and bring every unorganized workingman in their jurisdiction under the banner of the American Federation of Labor, and thus aid the good work the Federation Council is trying to accomplish."

MACHINISTS MEET OFFICIALS

Delegates to Confer with N. P. and G. N. Tomorrow.

About twenty delegates from districts 32 and 37, comprising the machinists' lodges of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern railways, will meet in St. Paul tomorrow to participate in a joint meeting of the officials of the systems named and the representatives of the lodges.

Better conditions in general are being sought by the machinists—more pay and shorter hours. Ten hours is the length of the working day in many places at a parade, and it is the desire of the workmen that the day be shortened to eight hours by easy stages if such a thing is possible.

SETTLEMENT IS EXPECTED

Parley of Telegraphers and Railroad Officials Progresses.

Prospects seem to be brighter today for a settlement of the points at issue between the Order of Railway Telegraphers and the officials of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern railways in St. Paul.

REPRESENTING THE STATE FAIR

Workmen Planning to Spend Labor Day There.

Plans for the celebration of Labor day are maturing, and at present everything points to the holiday being spent at the fair.

Celebration of the day in this way appeals to many as being more satisfactory than a parade, which some of the larger organizations seem to be getting tired of.

The joint committee which has charge of the plans for Labor day is made up of representatives from the Trades Assembly, Building Trades Council, Allied Printing Trades Council, and the Metal Trades Council.

state fair celebration is called off it is likely a big picnic will be arranged for at some near-by point.

Local carpenters are determined to have an organizer in the field, to be supported in part at least by the Brotherhood. At last Friday night's meeting the union elected Philip Carlin, secretary-treasurer and business agent of the Building Trades Council, was indorsed for the position of district organizer of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America.

SUIT BARES SECRET WISCONSIN ROMANCE. Chicago, July 14.—A suit for an accounting, filed in the superior court, has uncovered the romance of an elopement, involving a nephew of the late United States Senator Philinus Sawyer of Wisconsin. The suit is brought by Mrs. Nathaniel Sawyer, against her foster father, Horace W. Beck, asking that rents collected by him be accounted for, and in her complaint Mrs. Sawyer recites the objection of her foster parents to her marriage to Nathaniel Sawyer, and the lovers' plans that finally culminated in an elopement to Madison, Wis., three years ago.
