WARNING IS ISSUED

Manufacturers and Jobbers Made Familiar With New Food Laws.

The state dairy and food commission today sent a circular letter to manufacturers and jobbers, calling attention to the new Minnesota laws which take effect March 1, 1906. It is the desire of the department, that manufacturers and jobbers shall begin labeling their goods to conform to the new requirements. If this is not done the state will be flooded with illegal goods on March 1 and the manufacturers and jobbers will be put to great expense in cleaning up old stocks.

Special attention is called to the maple syrup, maple sugar and baking powder section. A substitute for pure maple syrup and sugar must be so labeled, and the word "substitute" must appear as part of the trade term of the article and in the same size type.

The label stating the ingredients used in baking powder must be printed on a light-colored label, and must be immediately followed by the manufacturer's name and address. Technical terms for ingredients will not be allowed and many of the formulas now used must be changed. In all cases where changes of labels are called for manufacturers are urged to submit labels for inspection by the commission.

GAY AUTO PARTY COMES TO GRIEF

THEY ENCOUNTER A PICKET FENCE AT 3 A. M.

Mystery Surrounds the Nocturnal Spin Because the Chauffeurs Remove Marks of Identification and Abandon the Wrecked Car—Police on Guard, but Nobody Comes to Claim It.

There is much speculation in automobile circles as to the identity of the party of revelers that abandoned a regular touring car at 3 o'clock this morning after removing the number to stop police activity. The car is still tangled up with a fence, where it was left, and although the Hennepin station has guarded it for the owner, no one has yet appeared to claim it.

Several persons were awakened early this morning when the auto carrying two men and two women dashed down Third street at a terrific rate. The occupants of the machine, these persons say, were unusually hilarious and it was their screams and laughter more than the noise of the machine that disturbed the sleepers.

When the machine reached Fourteenth street it was crashed into the sound of rending lumber and exploding tires. The machine rolled over on its side but the gay party alighted on their feet without injury. The car had crashed into a picket fence and it had crashed into a picket fence.

Seeing that the auto was minus a wheel and several other parts necessary to insure its running, the men hastily removed the number and all marks of identification from the machine and escaped before an officer came that way. The accident was seen by several near-by residents who were, however, unable to give a good description of the chugging party.

The machine was a two-seater and auto of a common make and local chauffeurs think that with a little good detective work they can identify two well-known young men who are at present fixing up an alibi.

AFTER LOCAL DRUGGIST BIG DRUG CONCERN WOULD STOP SALE OF ITS PRODUCT AT OUT RATES.

In the determined campaign, by the big patent medicine companies, to abolish rates cutting in stores, the first battle was begun in Minneapolis today by the Peruna drug company against V. J. Hughes before Judge Johnson in the circuit court of the city.

Frank Reed of Chicago, the most famous lawyer in the country on copyright law, is retained by the Peruna company and has filed a motion for summary judgment in the case. The Peruna company has made special contracts with wholesalers and drug stores to begin cutting rates, the patent medicine company has made special contracts with wholesalers and drug stores to begin cutting rates, the patent medicine company has made special contracts with wholesalers and drug stores to begin cutting rates.

SEVEN-STORY STEAMER

New Hamburg-American Liner Has Passenger Elevator Service.

Diagrams were received today by W. B. Chandler of the new Hamburg-American steamer, which will make its first sailing from New York, Oct. 26. The America will make Plymouth and Cherbourg in eight days and Hamburg in ten. The big new boat just turned out by the shipbuilders is seven stories high, 700 feet long and 22,000 tons of burthen. It will carry 3,250 passengers. The seven-deck arrangement will prove a drawback as the steamer has an elevator.

Another novelty is the offer of passage to America and Europe in the European plan. The la carte restaurant is to be under the management of the Ritz hotel in Paris and the Carlton in London.

JUMPED INTO RIVER

Little Girl Waded Ashore From a Drifting Boat.

Louise Christianson, 13 years old, daughter of Peter Christianson, janitor at the Central police station, narrowly escaped death by drowning yesterday afternoon near the Franklin avenue bridge.

The girl had attended a picnic on the river bank with her friends, and they were playing in the boats anchored along the shore. While Louise was in one of them, it was suddenly swept out would be carried down the swift current she jumped overboard and waded in water up to her neck until she reached another boat which was nearby. Friends then took care of her, and after making sure that her clothes were dry she ventured home.

WILL GO TO DULUTH

Business sessions will be held in the forenoon and afternoon and evenings will be devoted to the social program. Tuesday evening the Commercial club will give a reception and dance. Wednesday afternoon a drive to the park will be the form of entertainment, with supper and dancing in the pavilion. Thursday afternoon the commercial travelers will give a steamer excursion on the lake.

STOLE KEYS, THEN THIS TRUST MAY BE ROBBED A FLAT

CENTRAL'S "THEY DON'T ANSWER" WAS BURGLAR'S CUE.

Home of F. V. Clayton, 1712 First Avenue S, Ransacked Last Night After Robber Learned that Family Was Not at Home—$500 Worth of Furs and Jewelry Taken.

After calling up on the telephone to make sure that the family was absent, burglars, equipped with keys stolen a week ago, entered the home of F. V. Clayton, 1712 First avenue S, last evening, worked the combination of the safe and stole jewelry and furs valued at $500. The burglar also took their time at their work and everything in the flat was thoroughly ransacked.

Nearly a week ago a smooth young man went thru the city making inquiry for a flat for rent. In many of the flats he was left alone at the door while the maid would go to ask questions of the lady of the house. That night keys for the front doors were scarce. Nothing was thought of the matter, however, until this morning when the loss of the Clayton flat was discovered.

The family that lives across the hall from Mr. Clayton said that the telephone rang furiously at about 11 o'clock last night. Both Mr. and Mrs. Clayton were away for the evening and of course the phone was not answered. There is no doubt in the minds of the detectives that the thieves rang the bell to make sure that the house was empty.

They entered the flat thru the front door and before going to work opened the rear door with their keys to make escape easy in case of surprise. They went into a room containing a large house safe and worked the combination. It contained about $250 worth of silverware and jewelry and a suitcase belonging to Mrs. Clayton. They evidently had their hands full, for they left several pieces of valuable silverware on the sideboard.

The police have a good description of the young man who was so anxious to rent a flat last week. A man answering the same description called at the Gould apartments on the corner of Hennepin and Washington when he left several keys were missing. As a result of his call the building is being carefully guarded.

BODY OF A NEGRO FOUND IN OLD QUARRY

The badly decomposed body of a negro was found this forenoon in an abandoned stone quarry below River-side park. Beside the body was a rusted revolver containing two empty and four loaded shells.

The body was found by two boys, who immediately notified the park policeman, and Coroner Kistler ordered the body taken to the county morgue, where a post-mortem will be held this afternoon.

The body has evidently lain in the quarry for weeks. It was lying in a nest of water and the features were nearly unrecognizable. In the event of an appeal, "I don't see why it won't. There never has been but one refused in this state. We are going to make an appeal in good faith and believe that we should be granted a new trial. Of course the appeal cannot be heard by the supreme court until next fall. I am confident that Crawford will not be hung on Aug. 13."

CRAWFORD EXPECTS DELAY IN HANGING

"If they hang me on Aug. 15 it will be contrary to all precedent and all justice," declares C. D. Crawford, condemned to die for the murder of Haine in Sherburne county $20,000. The prisoner appears to believe this assertion and seems entirely unmoved by the near approach of the date set for his execution.

TREASURY FILLS UP

Possible that the Income Will Be Equal to the Outgo.

It looks as though it will not be necessary for the state treasurer to borrow money to make good the increasing overdraft in the general revenue fund. During the past year the fund received $20,000,000 as the result of the purchase of state capital certificates with state school moneys. Today the shortage in the general revenue account is accordingly decreasing and it is estimated that there is something over $600,000 in county taxes, due June 20, still unpaid. This amount, together with $200,000 will enter the general revenue fund, and the balance may be used on overdrafts.

POCKETED THE NOTE

Now N. R. Putnam Must Answer Charge of Larceny.

N. R. Putnam, a saloon-keeper better known as "Put," must face a charge of grand larceny because of his larceny dealing in a business matter yesterday. When James Robertson, an attorney, appeared in Putnam's saloon with a promissory note for $300 payable to George Starr and signed by Putnam, the latter asked to see the note. When the attorney handed it to him, Putnam carefully examined it in his pocket saying that it had been settled. He refused to return it to an attorney, and Robertson swore out a complaint for grand larceny.

ROCKEFELLER EXPECTED TO KEEP FLAX PRICES UP.

He Has Cornered the Linned Oil Industry in the Northwest and Unless He Keeps Price of Grain Up the Independents Will Buy It—An Interesting Situation.

Rockefeller—John D.—has got the great linned oil industry of the northwest under his thumb. According to the Wall Street Journal, and just how the thing will work out is a problem. Everyone in the local trade has known for a long time that the Standard Linned Oil company, a subsidiary company of Standard Oil, controls practically all the oil flaxseed in the country, having bought up the entire crop of the flaxseed of the quantity of seed still owned by the trust run from 7,000,000 to 9,000,000 bushels.

Independent crushers, of which some of the largest in the country are in Minneapolis, are doing little at present and several mills are not operating at all. The east, leaving Rockefeller as invincible, is inclined to see bad things in sight for the independents, but the local independents themselves do not share the view, but are decidedly confident and hopeful.

It is true, they say, that Rockefeller has got the flaxseed bought up and they cannot get any to do business on, but nature meanwhile is working overtime to help them out, for there is a big northwest flax acreage this year, and the crop is looking fine. Some day seed will again be coming in plenty and the Minneapolis mills will not have to depend upon Rockefeller.

Men representing the trust are constantly in the fields of the northwest watching the crop and reporting to headquarters. Should there be a big crop and an early movement to market the trust, it is figured, will have to come in and support prices, for if new seed should go to a price-level lower than the average output of the trust will carry over in old seed, the independents would pick up the new stuff and do all the business. This will strike the farmer all right.

It is the most interesting situation in flax for many a year, and developments from now on will be closely watched both at home and in the European markets.

GAS METER LAWYER THE LATEST FAKIR

Have the gasmeter lawyers read your meter? In times past clever men have represented themselves to be employees of the gas company and have worked their way into houses. The latest scheme is to get the victim to pay for the privilege. A representative of a supposed firm of Pittsburgh and Washington, calls and states that he will read your meter for $2.50. If the reading shows that the meter has been registering more than the real amount of gas being used, the alleged company will carry the case into court to secure a rebate if necessary. However, the statement is made that the gas companies have always been beaten and that they will immediately pay up.

A careful inspection of the directories of Pittsburgh and Washington, D. C., fails to show any such firm. As promises of large rebates from the gas company, pro rata, are made, it is thought that there have been many people bitten.
