

FEW STRIKERS GET OLD JOBS

Chicago Teamsters Stamped for Work—Of 4,000, Only 1,500 Succeeded.

Chicago, July 21.—Teamster strikers who last night gave up their long struggle against the employers broke ranks today in a stamped for work. The banner of the strike-affected firms were besieged by men who have been idle for months and whose places have been filled by non-union men.

The employers in many cases announced that there were vacancies for only a few. Of more than 4,000 men who quit, not more than 1,400 or 1,500 will be reinstated during the next few days.

The coal teamsters and truck drivers did not join in the rush for re-employment today. The order of the teamsters' joint council which authorized the surrender was for all men on strike to ask for reinstatement this morning. Both the truck drivers and the coal teamsters balked at this and planned to hold meetings tonight and "fight it out" till they "go back to work like union men."

However, the boycott against business houses has been lifted officially by the action of the union.

TRADE CONDITIONS UNUSUALLY GOOD

Dun's Reports Say Things Are Satisfactory Despite the Great Heat.

New York, July 21.—Dispatches to Dun's Review indicate that trade conditions are unusually satisfactory for this season of the year, particularly in view of the abnormally high temperature that has prevailed in many cities. Textile manufacturing at Philadelphia is active except carpet factories and building operations maintain activity in materials. At Pittsburg general merchandise is seasonably quiet. Wholesale trade at Baltimore shows normal activity.

Rain has retarded retail trade in hardware in Louisville, but clothing sales are large and cancellations few. Dry goods trade at Nashville equals last year's, and is more prompt. Atlanta reports unusual activity in hats and caps, but collections are less prompt. Current business at St. Joseph is fair and collections good. Advance orders at Kansas City are large. Extremely hot weather has not interfered with wholesale trade at St. Louis. Business in all lines at New Orleans is seasonable. Trade at Dallas improves.

Retail trade in summer merchandise is brisk at Cincinnati, building materials are in demand and forward business in wearing apparel is extensive. Seasonable merchandise moves freely at Cleveland. Light weight wearing apparel is stimulated at Chicago by the hot weather, but production is curtailed. Visiting buyers are placing large orders for fall and winter goods.

NEW CROP REPORT BOARD IS NAMED

New System, with Hays at Head, Adopted by Secretary Wilson.

Washington, July 21.—Secretary Wilson today named the four men who will comprise the statistical board which, under the direction of Assistant Secretary Willet M. Hays, will prepare the government estimates of crops.

The board will be composed of Victor Olmstead, present associate statistician of the bureau of statistics; G. D. Fessenden, an assistant statistician; George K. Holmes, chief of the division of foreign markets; and W. W. Long, recently an assistant statistician.

As the reports from field agents come in, they will be taken by Assistant Secretary Hays and located in a vault. When all of the reports have been received, the board will be summoned to make estimates. This work has been likened by Mr. Hays to a school. He will serve as the teacher and the field reports will be the problems to be solved. The men will work independent of each other and their results will be submitted to Mr. Hays, who will go to them after the manner of passing upon examination papers. The monthly reports will then be made up from the independently determined results, the final report to be the harmonizing of all.

The board members will not have access to any of the field reports until after the doors have been locked. There will be no telephone communications with the outside nor any chance of any signaling from the room.

GRAFT AT MILWAUKEE

The Grand Jury Ready With a Bunch of Indictments.

Milwaukee, July 21.—The grand jury has completed its investigation of the affairs of the fire department. From twenty-five to thirty indictments will be reported. No indictments will be returned as a result of the investigation of the firemen, but most of the bills will be based on county board affairs and will be along lines similar to the 105 indictments already reported. It is believed that the grand jury has obtained two more confessions. August Pius, supervisor and now under several indictments, and L. E. Stoltenberg, county plumbing contractor, have been before the jury a great deal during the past week, and it is thought they have told something about grafting at the courthouse.

SMITH BEATS LARNED. London, July 21.—In the challenge round for the Davis tennis trophy at Wimbledon today R. H. Smith, English, beat William A. Larned, United States, 6-4, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4.

SHONTS WILL CUT CANAL RED TAPE

Head of Commission Says There Can Be No Repetition of Wallace Affair.

New York, July 21.—"There will never be a repetition of the Wallace affair so long as Panama work goes on," his resignation taught us a lesson. We have a substitute for every official who may drop out in future. In other words, we will have two engineers and two heads of every department, so if one dies or resigns the other will be able to go on with the work."

This statement was made by C. P. Shonts, president of the Panama canal commission, just before he started for the isthmus on the steamer Mexico with John F. Stevens, the newly appointed chief engineer of the Panama canal construction, who succeeded John F. Wallace. Mr. Shonts said that they were going down to get the place ready preparatory to building the canal. He also said:

"Mr. Wallace took us off our guard. He taught us a valuable lesson, but he did not know it. His resignation was a blessing, because we have now prepared for any eventually on the construction of the canal won't suffer a particle. No matter who drops out, there will always be another to fill in the breach."

"I have heard a great deal about the alleged red tape that is interfering with the construction of the canal, but I haven't been bothered by it. I am not looking for trouble, but if there be any red tape, I am going to cut it, no matter who suffers. This will be my first trip to the isthmus, and I suppose I have a lot to learn about it, but I hope that the statements of some first-class engineers that it will take 100 years to build the canal are not true."

The first attempt to secure laborers in large numbers for work in connection with the construction of the Panama canal will be made tomorrow in Washington, when bills will be asked by W. Leon Peppercorn, acting chief of office of the Panama canal commission, for 2,000 each of Chinese, Japanese and Italian laborers.

LANGTRY SIGNS FOR VAUDEVILLE

New York, July 21.—Lily Langtry has signed a contract to appear in vaudeville here during the season of ten weeks at the Metropolitan, beginning at the Colonial theater on Oct. 2. She is to receive $25,000 gross for the engagement, and it may be that at the close of the season she may decide to go farther west.

very sources of our intellectual and moral life blinded or silenced to the ethical quality of the teaching of our daily life? Will it pay our colleges to put over their doors the teaching of one of our present-day moralists, 'Never discuss politics or religion if you would succeed.'"

"He has led a life devoted to charity and the church. True, and the principles of the religion he professes are so antagonistic to the principles of the business he practices that the very world which emulates him has been turned into hypocrites and cynics under his tutelage. Not only has his charity been tainted by the hypocrisy of his life, the church itself has been polluted and many a man has turned away from its doors because of the servile support it gives to the men of whom Mr. Rockefeller is the most eminent type. Does all this pay?"

The Cost Counted.

"There is no shirking the answer. It does not pay. Our national life is on every side distinctly poorer, uglier, meaner for the kind of influence he exercises. From him we have received no impulse to public duty, only lessons in evading it for private greed; no stimulus to nobler ideals, only a lesson in the further defilement of gold; no example of enlarged and noble living, only one of concealment and evasion; no impulse to free thinking, only a lesson in obscuring vital ethical issues by dressing them in the garb of piety and generosity. None of those higher things which the public has a right to demand from the man to whom it permits great power is returned to it by Mr. Rockefeller. For Mr. Rockefeller has none of these things to give. He has nothing but money, and never was there a more striking example of the impotency of money! He has neither taste nor cultivation, ideals nor potent personality. He is not a great man, not a human man. He is a machine—a money machine—stripped by his overwhelming possession of greed of every quality which makes a man worthy of citizenship. He has not made good. He cannot make good. It is not in him. He has nothing the aspiring world needs. On the contrary, that for which he does stand is a menace to our free development not only or chiefly our free development in deal by saying that they must look out for themselves.

Rogers Cried "Enough." Mr. Rogers got his $12,000,000, and then Lawson "yelled," as he says. He carried on such a vigorous fight that Rogers was again obliged, he says, to appeal to him to prevent the financial ruin of innocent persons. Lawson, appalled at the effectiveness of his campaign up to that time and the threatened consequences to others, consented to call the battle off, and it was done, the he was charged afterward with accepting a bribe of $1,000,000 for quitting. He says it was on the strength of this charge that he was barred from the New York Yacht club, a fact which attracted much attention at the time.

Rogers Painted as Traitor. But according to Mr. Lawson, Mr. Rogers turned on him and tried to involve him such a way that the charge that he had sold out for $1,000,000 would appear well grounded. Here is the story in part as Mr. Lawson tells it:

When I told Rogers on the eve of the legislative explosion that I would let up for the sake of the innocents people who must suffer if I persisted in my exposure, he and Whitney called together the directors of the New England Gas and Coke company and told them I had agreed to quit for a million of the stock. Several of them were indignant, and proposed exposing me at any cost, but they were finally wheeled into voting the stock and it was given to a committee composed of Whitney, Fryn and Atkins.

Not only, says Mr. Lawson, did Rogers go that far, but he actually appears to have got the $1,000,000 securities into Lawson's hands to sell on "change for Rogers for a commission, thus making it appear that Lawson had actually received the stock.

Mr. Lawson hints that he has the records to prove his story and actually gave Mr. Rogers a sharp promissory check by convincing him of that fact.

KIPLEY GOES TO PRISON CELL. Chicago, July 21.—Daniel Kipley, former city detective, nephew of former Chief of Police Joseph Kipley, was taken to Joliet penitentiary today to begin his sentence of fourteen years for the murder of Joseph Hopkins in 1902. Kipley shot Hopkins in a quarrel founded on jealousy over a woman.

ROCKEFELLER IN CHURCH

An interesting part of Miss Tarbell's article treats of Mr. Rockefeller as she saw him at his favorite place of worship in Cleveland. She says: "No child in the assembly was so uneasy. Through the church service which followed, this same terrible restlessness agitated him. He sat bent forward in his pew, for a moment, his eyes intent on the speaker, then with a start he looked to his right searching the faces he could see, craning his neck to look backward. Then his eyes would turn again to the speaker. But not to stay there. A few moments later he was searching the aisles to his left, craning again to see behind him. Those who have observed Mr. Rockefeller in church over a long period of years say that he has shown this uneasiness for years. Unconscious habit, perhaps. Fear, fear of the oft-repeated threats of the multitude of sufferers from the wheels of the cars of progress he has rolled across the country, so many a man who knows him will say. It does not matter what it is, it is pitiful, so pitiful, that one cannot watch John Rockefeller sit thru a church service and ever cease to feel that he is one of the saddest objects in the world. For what good this undoubted power of achievement, for what good this towering wealth, if one must be forever peering to see what is behind!"

Devotee of the Simple Life.

On the other side, Miss Tarbell paints a picture of a man devoted to the simple life. His homes are unpretentious, almost or quite ugly, and the regulations in all three impose great frugality. The Rockefeller as the world sees him, says Miss Tarbell, is a "quiet, modest, church-going gentleman devoted to Sunday school, picnics, golf, and wheeling, whose evenings are never spent in anything more exciting than a game of numerals, washed down by a glass of cider, whose chief occupation outside of business, is giving away as much money as he can without its doing more harm than good, whose chief pleasure is in fine fields and trees, in flowers and gardening, whose smile is friendly to young and old, who welcomes old friends, who adores his grandchildren, and who meets criticism and misrepresentation by quoting the meek doggerel:

There is so much bad in the best of us, There is so much good in the worst of us, That it scarcely behooves any of us To talk about the rest of us."

IOWA'S NEW BUILDING

The Cornerstone of a $600,000 structure Laid Today.

Special to The Journal.

Iowa City, Iowa, July 21.—The cornerstone of the new engineering building of the State University of Iowa was laid here today. The handsome stone structure, when completed, will cost about $600,000.

In the copper box inserted in the stone, was placed, among other things, a copy of the Minneapolis Journal, President MacLean declaring that The Journal was a good friend of education and of the University of Iowa. The addresses were delivered by President MacLean, Governor A. B. Cummins, Judge W. I. Babb of the board of regents, Senator John Hughes of Iowa county, Professor W. G. Raymond, Professor L. G. Weld and others.

NORDAU OUT WITH ZIONISTS. London, July 21.—Dr. Max Nordau, according to the Jewish World, has definitely declined to be one of the three leaders of the Zionist movement, who, it was proposed, should succeed the late Dr. Theodor Herzl, the founder of the movement, who died about a year ago. Dr. Nordau gives ill health as the reason for his declination.

H. CLAY EVANS, JR., DEAD. Chattanooga, Tenn., July 21.—Captain C. Clay Evans, Jr., retired, died today at his summer home on Walden Ridge, aged 52 years. Captain Evans served in the Philippines and was retired some time ago on account of poor health. He was the only son of H. Clay Evans, ex-pension commissioner and ex-consul general at London.
