FAMILY EXISTING ON BREADCRUSTS

LUKE OF NEW WORLD RUINED HOME IN LOBBRAINE

Husband Sold Home in His Mother Country to Come to America—Disappointments Followed, and the Head of the Family Deserted His Children and Wife.

Deserted by her husband and left with the care of four small children, Mrs. Luke of New World, 1317 Seventeenth avenue S., lived for nearly a week on a few dry crusts of bread that her neighbors, almost as poor as herself, had given her.

Both Rudick and his wife were born in the neighborhood tried to help her, but they scarcely have enough for themselves, and for the past week the deserted woman has lived entirely on dry bread crusts and water.

Driven almost to desperation she appealed to the poor department yesterday afternoon for relief. A generous grocery order was placed in her hands, and she almost ran from the courthouse to get the provisions and take them to the starving children.

The reason for the release here is said to have been the careful concealment of certain facts which were brought out by similar application at New Ulm—Judge Webber says defendant lost rights.

BUSINESS INTERESTS

MAY FIGHT LAWYERS

Business interests along that discarded portion of the former route of the Fourth street and Hennepin are trying to raise a rear. The bar association will oppose the building of more tracks on the grounds that the line then on Fourth avenue caused so much noise that it was at times almost impossible to do business in the courts.

Mr. Leary promised that in return for the privilege of laying tracks on Fifth street the company would abandon Fourth avenue which has been done. The tracks however remaining in place.

GITY'S KICK RESULTS IN GREAPER STONE

"It often pays to make a kick," remarked City Controller Dan C. Brown today, when the council on claims was auditing the bills of the crushed rock trust for the past month. It had been the custom of the trust to bill crushed rock to the city at a uniform price of $1.90 no matter whether the stone was delivered a few blocks from the plant or a few miles. The contractor and aldermen took the position that the city should have the benefit of a sliding scale and in fact should pay in addition to the cost of the stone the actual expense for delivery. The determined attitude of the council has led to the establishment of a municipal stone crusher had its effect and today's batch of bills priced the stone as low as $1.35 per yard.

HAS WON HER CHILD, NOW GIVES IT AWAY

After securing possession, thru the courts, of her five-year-old daughter Edith, from her husband's mother, Mrs. Abbie Bryant yesterday gave the child to comparative strangers, Mr. and Mrs. Loren B. Jones. Shortly after the death of the child's father, the grandmother took charge of little Edith. The mother brought habeas corpus proceedings and, after a long, hard fight before Judge H. D. Dickinson, was awarded the custody of her daughter. Yesterday, with the consent of the mother, Judge Holt issued an order of adoption, making the child the legal daughter and heir of Mr. and Mrs. Jones.

LARGE COLLECTIONS

St. Louis county today reported tax collections to the state auditor for the four months ending March 31, 1905, amounting to $1,238,844.40. Last year the state received $1,238,844.40. Last year $1,238,844.40 of which the state's share was $106,467.85. Hennepin, Ramsey, Hubbard, Otter Tail and Pine counties have not yet reported their tax collections, although the time for so doing has long since passed.

COULDN'T WORK IT BOTH WAYS

KAUFMAN IS HELD FOR TRIAL IN BROWN COUNTY.

Secured Release in Hennepin County by Concealment of Certain Facts Which Were Brought Out by Similar Application at New Ulm—Judge Webber Says Defendant Lost Rights.

Because W. V. Kaufman didn't object to his release from the Hennepin county jail on a writ of habeas corpus, Judge Webber at New Ulm has discharged a writ of habeas corpus secured there and ordered the defendant held for trial in Brown county.

Kaufman was arrested here and indicted on the charge of embezzling from the D. E. Ryan company. He secured a writ of habeas corpus, alleging that the crime, if there was any, was committed in Brown county. The prisoner was released but was immediately arrested and taken to New Ulm, where he was held to the grand jury.

No sooner was he well settled in the New Ulm jail than his lawyer secured a writ of habeas corpus and asked for Kaufman's release on the ground that the Hennepin county court did not have jurisdiction. A hearing was had before Judge Webber, who ordered the defendant held. He found, in his decision, that Hennepin county had jurisdiction and that the prisoner had been wrongfully discharged here, but concluded by stating that it was possible the rights by not opposing his release in Hennepin.

The reason for the release here is said to have been the careful concealment of certain facts which were brought out by similar application at New Ulm to show that he had sold a car of apples belonging to D. E. Ryan in Brown county, but that he had brought the money back to Minneapolis and made a tender of part of it to the company before appropriating any part of it to his own use. It is possible the conclusion here, but this fact was not brought out in the hearing before Judge D. F. Simpson.

HALF FARE TO FAIR GRANTED BY ROADS

One fare plus 50 cents is the round-trip rate granted by the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and the Soo roads on account of the state fair, the 50 cents to cover cost of admission to the grounds. The decision was reached yesterday at a conference of St. Paul business men with officials of the roads. Assurances were given that every effort would be made to protect against ticket scalping. Mr. Egan, secretary of the board, said that the rate would be given, but they have felt that it was desirable to have it made public as early as possible. In connection with the previously announced half-fare rate by the lines of the Western Passenger association, the territory covered is now practically that known as the twin city commercial district.

SIGNIFICANT NOTICE TO THE PROCURERS

"Any woman who conducts a disorderly house and permits young girls to become inmates need not expect leniency at the hands of this court," said Judge C. L. Smith in police court today when he sentenced Edna Spahr to ninety days in the workhouse for conducting a house of ill-fame. Matron Schaefer of Central police station, who is conducting the house, was living at the resort. The place was raided by Detectives Conroy and Lyons and Patrolman Stanley and the young girl was found. During the raid Rhelie received a severe beating. The girl will be taken to the House of the Good Shepherd today and she will stay there for one year.

WOULD TAX THEM

City Assessor Not for Exempting Privates Schools. Educational institutions not public, and which charge tuition, should not be exempt from taxation, it was held today by City Assessor C. J. Minor at a meeting of the city board of equalization today. An application came in from Stanley Hays, requesting the cancellation of the assessment on the tennis courts adjoining the schools, which Mr. Minor had assessed at about $4,000. Mr. Minor made the new state colleges, private seminaries and similar concerns which charged tuition were on a par with mercantile houses in that the primary purpose was to make money. The application for cancellation was not formally made.

WOMAN FOOTPAD IS AT WORK IN MISSOURI

New York Sun Special Service. Columbia, Mo., July 28.—A woman footpad made her initial appearance in Columbia last night and held up an able bodied man nearly twice her weight and much her superior in physical ability. As William A. Arnett, a well-known Columbia citizen, was passing along a lonely avenue last night, a woman sprang upon him from behind a fence and with one arm she held both his arms against his body with such a grip that he could not release himself. With the other hand she pressed a pistol against his breast and took $50 in cash and checks amounting to $50. Arnett called for help and the police responded. After a lively chase the woman was captured and is now in jail awaiting trial. She gave her name as Dora Merdorn.

YERMONT FEARS LEST CANADA GET TOWNS

St. Albans, Vt., July 28.—All northern Vermont is in a state of alarm because of the Canadian territory, the conviction of Giovanni Viscompi for murder must be annulled, since two of the jurors were residents of Richmond, and the man cannot have been legally convicted with a jury comprising two Canadian citizens. The present boundary was established by the Webster-Ashtabur treaty of 1842. At first these towns were part of the St. Lawrence river east to the intersection of the Vermont and New Hampshire lines.

ALL VISITORS GO TO NEW CAPITOL

Fifteen thousand people a month visit the new state capitol in St. Paul, practically all these visitors would take a party of about a dozen or more at a time. Then the number was a score. Now it is not unusual to see a party of over a hundred at once inspecting the building, headed by a guide. If any employees at the state-house earn their money, the guides do. Every visitor to the capitol is a future walking advertisement for the new building. "Be sure to go to the new capitol," is the word given by non-residents of the twin cities on returning home from a city visit, in advising acquaintances about to make the city trip. The visitor tells of the great reception room of the chief executive; how the writing and reading rooms are furnished with thousands of dollars' worth of real goldleaf; how there is at one end of the apartment a painting which alone cost $4,000, with others as valuable soon to be hung; how the rich, red plush curtains at doors and windows are worked with thread of real gold, and how beautiful is the great center table of mahogany, which cost $300. They tell of the grandeur of the legislative halls; of the two paintings in the senate chamber, for which the state paid $30,000. They tell of the magnificent stone corridors, and the grand staircases with imposing granite and marble pillars on each side. They tell of the magnificent ornamentation, and of the matchless richness of the building's furnishings. These, and many more wonderful tales of the new state-house, are reported to the four points of the compass by the visitors; and hence it is that callers are daily flocking to the building in great numbers.

O. C. BERG DYING

Berg, secretary of state of South Dakota, during Governor Herreid's administration, is dying. Berg has suffered for years from Bright's disease, which, in spite of his vitality, is conquering him. His friends will be shocked at news of his condition, because it has not been generally known that his condition was so serious.

COUNCIL FACING MIGHTY LITIGATION

RESIDENTS ABOUT CALHOUN THREATEN INJUNCTION.

Won't Allow City to Reduce Present Level and Claim It Is Established—Damage Suits Threatened Because of High Water—Schoonmaker Would Restore Park Board's Authority.

Alderman Frank L. Schoonmaker completes introducing an ordinance repealing all measures establishing the minimum stage of water in the lakes comprised in the park system. Such a course would put the park board supreme in the matter of controlling the levels of the three lakes. Personally he regrets that the council ever interfered, but he cheerfully takes his share of blame for overruling the authority of the park commissioners.

He was strongly in favor of Alderman Walker's proposition to amend the Lake Calhoun ordinance so that the level can be lowered one foot, but when he heard that a desperate effort was to be made to defeat the proposed compromise he was ready to quit. Many of the lake farmers have secured the lake fight and want to escape any more trouble.

Captain Ewing and other residents about Lake Calhoun now contend that the council cannot lower the present stage, having once established it. Furthermore, they announce their intention of applying to the courts for an injunction to restrain the lowering of the lake, and if that fails, they will begin actions against the city for damages. With numerous threats of suits for damages thru the present high water, the council seems to be facing some annoying litigation.

"I notice that one of the advocates of high water wants the boulevard in front of the building of the city to be kept on the grade of five miles or more of boulevard two feet, or even one foot. But that is only a very small part of the expense. Each of the ground between Lake Calhoun and Lake of the Isles is only a swamp covered with water most of the time. Many trees have been killed by the high water. It is necessary to construct a dam again to establish a new park to correspond with the present stage of water if it is to be maintained."

RAILROADS PAY FINES FOR NEGLECTING STOCK

New York Sun Special Service. Washington, July 28.—More than $20,000 has been paid into the federal treasury in the last two weeks by railroads for neglecting to comply with the eight-hour transit law, the statute which imposes a fine of not more than $500 if livestock is kept on the cars for more than eight hours without rest, feed and water. For each violation the offending railroad paid $100 and made a written promise to stop the practice. The penalty was kept on file at the department of agriculture, where the prosecutions originated. If the promising corporations break their promise, the federal districts in which the violations occur and ask that the maximum penalty be imposed.
