

LABOR PRINTERS ELECT SCALE COMMITTEE

IMPORTANT ACTION BY THE UNION THIS EVENING.

In View of Impending National Trouble with Job Printers, There Is Great Inter- est in Event—Report from Inter- national—Labor Day Plans Are Now Well Perfected.

Last Sunday's meeting of Minneapolis Typographical union, No. 42, was one of absorbing interest and brought out a large attendance. The report from the delegates to the recent convention, and Delegate John P. Kennedy, Sr., submitted a special report as a member of the convention eight-hour committee, in which he presented the doings of the committee in relation to matters pertaining to the shorter workday. Both documents were listened to attentively, and were intensely interesting. All the conclusions reported by the eight-hour committee to the convention and adopted were read, so the membership locally is well informed of conditions and intentions.

The report of the committee, after reviewing the actions of the typographical union from the inception of the eight-hour movement, says in part: "As far as your committee is aware, the Typothetae has never modified the position taken at its St. Louis convention, and while its officers have seemingly been willing to confer, they have avoided acceptance of opportunities for conference, and at the employers' mass meetings they have uniformly advised aggressive resistance, and warfare if necessary in order to prevent the general introduction of shorter workday. If, therefore, trouble does occur, the Typothetae will be alone responsible for the rupture of present relations."

After referring to the recent conflict between the union and the Typothetae at San Francisco, Cal., and reprinting the resolution passed by the St. Louis convention providing for the inauguration of the shorter day, Jan. 1, 1906, the report has the following, which is intended to clothe the international committee with power to negotiate with representatives of the United Typothetae of America, if opportunity for negotiation occurs prior to Jan. 1, 1906, which was recommended:

"That we again declare our entire willingness to negotiate with the United Typothetae of America for an agreement under which the eight-hour day will become operative."

In conclusion the report advocates "the continuance of the campaign and the further steps that are to be taken in order to secure the shorter workday be again committed to the international committee with the voice of full confidence of the delegates to the fifty-first session of the International Typographical union."

A matter of local interest is the admission of William P. Mirick to the Home for Union Printers at Colorado Springs. Mr. Mirick has been in poor health for a number of years, but owing to peculiar circumstances he has up to this time been unable to gain admission.

LABOR-DAY PICNIC

Speeches and Athletic Program Will Be Big Features.

With favorable weather the Labor Day exercises at Spring Park, Lake Minnetonka, will be expected to draw the largest crowds that ever attended a similar celebration. Never has there been such unanimity of purpose on the part of the various branches of the labor-union movement, and unless all signs fail, the aims and ambitions of the promoters will be realized.

Twenty-eight trains have already been provided for to carry the expected crowds, and these will be augmented by many more, should occasion demand it. The general Labor Day committee is as follows: A. E. Kellington, chairman; O. A. Kohlsaat, secretary; Max Conrad, treasurer; George B. Howley, L. H. Ford, P. N. Wingreen, C. T. Frye, Phil Carlin, P. Hurley, Thomas McCourt, Thomas Ryan, M. W. Morgan, F. D. Barnes and E. W. Moore. William Templin, president of the State Federation of Labor; Albert H. Hall of Minneapolis, and Mrs. F. W. Hines, member of the Ladies' auxiliary of Minneapolis Typographical union.

Athletic sports will take place on the ball grounds, starting at 10:30 a. m., and the water sports will be held at the boat landing at 12:30 o'clock. The program of sports is as follows: The 100-Yard Dash for men (free to all)—First prize, one hat, donated by Dunlap; second prize, one box cigars, donated by J. W. Pauly.

50-Yard Dash for Ladies (wired by union men)—First prize, umbrella, donated by Minneapolis Typographical union; second prize, special clearance price, donated by Powers' Mercantile company.

50-Yard Dash for Young Ladies—First prize, lady's umbrella, donated by Powers' Mercantile company; second prize, case perfume, donated by Dillon Drug company.

100-Yard Race for union men only—First prize, hat, donated by Newman the Hatter; second prize, box cigars, donated by J. W. Pauly.

Long Jump for men over 50 years—First prize, hiker pipe, donated by Sherman Smith; second prize, box cigars, donated by J. W. Pauly.

Flat Men's Race (200 pounds or over, for union men only)—First prize, fancy vest, donated by North Star Clothing company; second prize, gaiter's umbrella, donated by the Model Clothing company.

50-Yard Flat Ladies' Race (150 pounds or over)—First prize, rocker, donated by F. H. Peterson & Co.; second prize, lamp, donated by Window & Roof Furniture and Carpet company.

Windows' Ball Throwing Contest (free for all)—First prize, box of donated by Olympia Candy company; second prize, box of candy, donated by Paulus Candy company.

Catching Live Blobs (for ladies only)—First prize, live rooster.

Boat Race (Boys and Palace)—First prize, one $3 hat, donated by Falcon Clothing company; second prize, box cigars, donated by J. W. Pauly. The Phoenix Flour Mill company will give a 100-pound sack of flour to the lady on the grounds with the largest family. Register at the secretary's desk on the grounds.

The lineup for the ball game between the teams representing the Trades Assembly and the Building Trades Council is as follows:

Trades and Labor Assembly—Hoppenrath, catcher; Bowman, pitcher; Rose, first base; Fust, second base; Berge, third base; Zeno, shortstop; Kemp, right field; Wilderman, left field; Swanson, center field.

Perry Warden and Frank Figgemeit will act as umpires.

MINISTERS ACCEPT

Many Will Preach Sunday on Labor Topics.

Acting under instructions from the Trades Assembly, Secretary J. L. Chapman sent out circulars to the ministers of the city asking that they preach a sermon on Sunday, Sept. 3, on some phase of the labor question. The matter has been taken up by the State Federation of Labor and every pastor, regardless of creed, has been requested to deliver a discourse on the date named, bearing either directly or indirectly on the labor question.

Replies are coming in in a way to indicate that there will be general compliance with the request of the assembly. Nearly all of the ministers who have been heard from have signified their intention of speaking upon a topic suited to the occasion, and others announce they will do so later on. Rev. Otis G. Dale of Shiloh Presbyterian church has issued posters announcing that he "most gladly accepts this opportunity to show his real heart interest in this great question of the day, and, if possible, to contribute something toward a more earnest and careful study of it by thinking men." He concludes by saying that "he believes that the church should be mightily concerned in all these problems that effect the present condition and welfare of the people," and extends a cordial invitation to everybody to attend the services, which are to be held at 8 p. m., Sunday, Sept. 3.

A dozen other churches of all denominations will hold appropriate exercises next Sunday in honor of labor's holiday, all including an appropriate sermon.

STILLWATER MEETING

Twin City Unions All to Assist in Coming Event.

Monday, Sept. 11, will be a great day for organized labor in Stillwater. The day has been selected for the first of the mass meetings in the interest of labor unions, to be held there under the auspices of the Federation Council, and every union in the twin cities is expected to send to the prison city at least one representative, who will spend the day in an effort to induce the workmen in his line to attend the proposed meeting in the evening.

Messrs. Bainbridge, Moore and Spencer of the local painters' union, have been selected to look after the workmen in their line in Stillwater, and between now and the date set for the mass meeting it is expected all the organizations will select representatives, for such is the wish of the Federation Council.

MACHINISTS' UNION

Twin City Unions Have Joint Headquarters at Midway.

Headquarters of the twin city machinists' unions have been established at Midway, which will hereafter be headquarters for the metal trades organizations of both cities. The furnishings of the office of the business agent in the Sykes block were moved yesterday and the change is made in the hope of facilitating the work of the "joint agency."

A meeting of the Metal Trades Council of Minneapolis and St. Paul was held at Midway Thursday night, at which a resolution was passed unanimously favoring the consolidation of the two bodies. Another joint meeting will be held Thursday evening, Sept. 14, to complete arrangements for the merging of the two organizations.

FAVOR SANATORIUM

Cigarmakers Vote for Amendment to Constitution.

Tampa, Fla., cigarmakers have secured the requisite number of indorsements by local unions of a proposed constitutional amendment having for its object the establishment of a sanatorium or health farm, and the local union voted unanimously in favor of the proposition at its last meeting.

A similar proposition was submitted to a referendum vote and defeated by a small majority last fall, but local officers are of the opinion that the present plan will prove acceptable to a large percentage of the membership. If carried, it provides for assessments upon the members, the money to be used for the establishment of a sanatorium of health farm for the treatment of members of the international union suffering from tuberculosis.

There is but a slight change from the amendment submitted to the referendum by the Denver union in October, 1904.

LABOR NOTES

Manager W. H. Watkins of the Minneapolis baseball club has presented the Labor Day committee with three nice new baseballs for use in the game to be played at Sports between the Trades Assembly and the Building Trades Council.

A. G. Bainbridge will leave Saturday night for Sioux Falls, S. D., where he will deliver the Labor Day oration. Upon his return he will pay a visit to Eau Claire, Wis., and Chippewa Falls, Wis., where he will try to settle some matters involving the unions in those cities.

Adolph Lemke, once a member of the local bricklayers' union, died Sunday at West Bend, Ind., of heart disease. William Lemke of the Billposters' union is his son.

At the meeting of the Carpenters' union last Friday night, ten were initiated and four admitted by clearance card. For the month of August fifty members were added to the rolls. The employment bureau opened in St. Paul by the Typothetae has been closed.
