Whether these and other officers of the company choose to become voluntary witnesses or not, it seems certain that they will be called and will be questioned closely by the prosecution concerning any possible knowledge of the violation of the Sherman anti-trust law by the packers under indictment. law by the packers under indictment.

Victory for Government.

A victory was scored yesterday by District Attorney Morrison in his struggle to bring to a successful finish the prosecution of the packers.

During the argument against a de-murrer filed by Morrison against the plea in abatement filed some time ago by the defending attorneys, contesting the indictment which charges the various packers and their associates with conspiracy in restraint of trade, the question of the right of the packers to appear in court at the time of the impaneling of the federal grand jury to challenge jurors as they were impaneled was raised, and Judge J. Otis Humphrey decided in favor of the government.

Victory Is Complete.

In passing on this question, which was one of the main points in the plea in abatement filed by the packers' attorneys, Judge Humphrey said: I considered this question fully at the time the jury was impaneled and I came to the conclusion that there was no duty resting upon the court or any of its officers to ask the proposed defendants to come in and save any rights they may have had by objecting to the array of the grand jurors. We will not spend any on this question, as it has been settled as far as this court is concerned.

The commission has conducted several investiga-tions, and has found evidence which has convinced its members that the private-car line owners are guilty.

GET POWER.

The Supply Comes From Food. If we get power from food, why not strive to get all the power we can. That is only possible by use of skilfully selected food that exactly fits the requirements of the body.

Poor fuel makes a poor fire and a poor fire is not a good steam producer.
"From not knowing how to select the right food to fit my needs, I suffered grievously for a long time from stomach troubles," writes a lady from a little town in Missouri.

"It seemed as if I would never be able to find out the sort of food that was best for me. Hardly anything that I could eat would stay on my stomach." Every attempt gave me heart-burn and filled my stomach with gas. I got thin-ner and thinner until I literally became a living skeleton and in time was compelled to keep to my bed.

'A few months ago I was persuaded to try Grape-Nuts food; and it had such good effect from the very beginning that I have kept up its use ever since. I was surprised at the ease with which I digested it. It proved to be just what I gested it. It proved to be just what I needed. All my unpleasant symptoms, the heart-burn, the inflated feeling which gave me so much pain disappeared. My weight gradually increased from 98 to 116 lbs, my figure rounded out, my strength came back, and I am now able to do my housework and I am now able to do my housework and enjoy it. The Grape Nuts food did it."

FLOUR TRADE IN BRAZIL DECLINES

American Trade Agent Says There Is Yet Hope in South America.

By W. W. Jermane. Washington, Sept. 28.-Special Agent Hutchinson of the department of commerce and labor, who for several months has been investigating commercial questions in South America, has an interesting letter in today's Daily Consular and Trade Reports regarding the flour trade of Brazil. He notes that the flour exports to Brazil from the United States
