"A woman dies twice; the day that she quits life and the day that she ceases to please."—Weiss.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Matheson gave the bridal dinner Saturday evening for their sister, Miss Margaret Burke, and for Thomas Kerr Young, whose wedding will take place this evening. The guests were the members of the bridal party and covers were placed for twenty. A mound of pink roses and maidenhair ferns was in the center of the table, and a cluster of the same blossoms marked the bride's affair. The affair was the last of a series of party entertainments given for Miss Burke.

College girls were guests at a pretty affair Saturday afternoon when the Women's League held a reception for them in the armory building at the university. The receiving hours were from 3 to 6 o'clock, and during that time about 300 girls were entertained. The women of the faculty assisted in receiving, and a delightful program was given by Misses Blythe and Geraldine Brown, who sang, and Miss Hermina Gregory, who recited readings. The new women's building and the work of the league for the year were the subject of a talk by Miss Comstock. After the program the University band furnished music for dancing, and frappe was served.

Dr. R. E. Moulton of 1779 Dupont avenue entertained at dinner Saturday for his family and guests at the Hotel Scotland, who is her guest for several weeks before she sails for Scotland. The decorations were in pink roses.

The wedding of Miss Etta Glazier of Monticello, Minn., and W. Gallagher will take place Thursday. Last week Mrs. John Burke of 1816 Clinton avenue entertained at a luncheon in honor of Miss Glazier's Autumn leaves and nasturtiums brightened the rooms.

Miss Edna Larsen gave a prettily appointed luncheon Friday afternoon for the girls of the mid-year class of 1905 of the South high school. The class colors, green and white, furnished the decorations. The guests included Misses Amanda Anderson, Winifred Turner, Edith Bezanon, Nellie Haverstock, Nellie Patch, Marjorie Blackwood, Mabel Watson and Alta Truedell.

Miss Bertha Krale of 2018 Twenty-first avenue S entertained last week in honor of Miss Randle Ellingbo, a bride of the month. Pink roses and carnations were arranged with ferns thru the rooms.

WHITE FLOUR IS MORE DIGESTIBLE

PROF. SNYDER CONFIRMS RESULTS OF EXPERIMENTS.

American Macaroni Made from Durum Wheat Equals in Digestibility and Food Value the European Product—White Flour More Digestible Than Graham or Entire Wheat Flour.

Many points that are quite at variance with the popular belief concerning the use of whole wheat, graham and straight grade flour are brought out in bulletin 159 of the office of experiment stations, Washington, D. C., written by Professor Harry Snyder of the division of chemistry of the Minnesota experiment station. The bulletin contains the results of experiments and studies on the comparative digestibility and nutritive value of bread made from graham, white and straight grade flour. It confirms the results of previous experiments by Professor Snyder along the same lines.

In eighteen digestion experiments with men it was found that white (straight-grade) flour was more completely digested than either graham or entire-wheat flour, and yielded a larger amount of digestible nutrients and available energy," said Professor Snyder. "While graham and entire-wheat flours contain more total protein and have a higher heat of combustion than the straight-grade flour, because of their lower digestibility, smaller percentages of digestible nutrients than the straight-grade flour. In the fifty-four digestion trials in which the digestibility of graham, white and straight-grade—uniform results were secured for the same money by buying white, i. e., straight-grade, flour than of any other flour. Moreover, at present market prices, straight-grade white flour is the cheapest kind of flour."

Professor Snyder says, however, that "it should be borne in mind that the use of whole wheat, graham and straight-grade flour is not to be recommended for the reason that the peristaltic action of the intestines is often of undoubted value, particularly in persons of sedentary habit, and that their use as a laxative is in many cases extremely beneficial. The results obtained in investigating macaroni are equally important. When macaroni is cooked in water 2 1/2 per cent of soluble matter is extracted, which suggests that as little water as possible should be used in cooking the macaroni when strict economy is desirable."

Macaroni has practically the same digestibility and supplies the same amount of nutrients as bread made from straight-grade flour. "Macaroni is a highly nutritious and digestible article of diet, corresponding in this respect quite closely to bread, but at ordinary prices it furnishes nutrients at a somewhat greater cost than bread. Nevertheless, it may be fairly considered an economical article of diet."

Professor Snyder further says, that "taken as a whole, the tests show that these American-made macaronis were directly comparable with standard-made goods of European manufacture."

RAILROADS

RUSHING OWEN & NORTHERN

It is Hoped to Get Rails into Lady-smith Before Winter.

Special to The Journal.

Ladysmith, Wis., Oct. 9.—It is now expected that Owen & Northern railway will reach this city before the winter sets in sufficiently to stop the work. The contracts called for the completion of the line to Ladysmith by the first of October, but the weather during several months was so bad that little headway was made for a long time, and a month ago it was not expected that the completion of the road would be possible. The western harvest called away many laborers and the railway crews were depleted.

The railway company, however, issued an edict that advanced wages and scoured the cities for additional help, with the result that the crews were swelled to a larger number than ever before.

The weather of the last three weeks has enabled great progress to be made. The laying of rails has been begun at Owen and will soon commence at Ladysmith. It is understood that rails will be laid also from some railway crossing on the line. It is probable now that the line will be in running order to Ladysmith this year.

Contracts have been awarded for the heavy work of the road next summer will not be delayed by the heavy work.

Baltimore & Ohio Improves Harbor.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad is making good use of the excellent harbor at Fairport, Ohio, and, as a result of the careful attention given dredging, a very satisfactory depth of water is maintained. The steamer J. C. Wallace, with 10,310 gross tons of ore, recently came into the harbor without and went out without the use of a tug.

Will Advise Farmers.

Stewart B. Shaw has been appointed assistant industrial agent of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, with headquarters at Parkersburg, W. Va. Mr. Shaw is a graduate of the Maryland Agricultural college, and his duties will consist of giving expert advice to fruit and truck growers and farmers along the line of the road, with the object of improving and increasing the crops and thus making more traffic for the railroad. Mr. Shaw was previously assistant professor in the Maryland Agricultural college.

Underwood Will Remain.

Frederick D. Underwood is to remain president of the Erie road notwithstanding rumors to the contrary. A director states: "He will remain as president of the Erie and will have charge of the lines recently purchased."

HE MAY PASS IT IN LESS TIME.

The Oklahoma railroad petition will be a mile long. At that length it will require at least an hour for it to pass Uncle Joe Cannon.

J. F. WEIDENHAMMER'S BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED

Louis Maurer was the happiest and most surprised man in North Minneapolis yesterday, when a few of his many friends and fellow members of the Liedertanz Singing society surprised him in honor of his fiftieth birthday. The celebration was held at the summer home of J. F. Weidenhammer at Medicine Lake.

As soon as the guests arrived at the lake they formed in a circle about Mr. Maurer and the members of the singing society, aided by a band, sang in German a beautiful birthday song composed for the occasion by a member of the party. Mr. Maurer was taken completely by surprise, but hastened to express his appreciation of the honor. He was presented with a beautiful gold-headed cane and a handsome imported German stein nearly two feet high.

The day was spent in the beautiful grove about the Weidenhammer home. Songs and music and other sports and charades were indulged in. Limitations of wedding processions, battle scenes, student gatherings and festival ceremonies were presented by the entire party of guests. Several scenes from Italian and German opera were also given ad fresco.

The guests were served with solid, substantial German viands in plenty. Mr. Maurer, who presided at the banquet by christening the birthday stein. This was passed about the board as a loving cup and all wished long life and happiness to the owner.

Those present were Louis Maurer, J. F. Weidenhammer, Fred Maurer, Carl Maurer, Max B. Baehrer, Otto F. W. Huebner, Math Theisen, Otto Huebner, J. C. Witte, Otto C. Witte, Gust Faust, Charles Faust, Hermann Adolph Weidmann, Henry Rauch, Carl Cort, Fred Durnam, Charles Praefcke, C. Witte, Nic Knoblauch, Adolph Miller, Albert Schawitz, G. Fredrick, and Harry Luckenbach.

The Needlework Guild.

The executive committee of the Needlework Guild spent a busy day in the parlors of the Church of the Redeemer receiving and counting the many garments which were brought to the annual collection by the section presidents. Wednesday the hundreds and hundreds of new and useful garments which have been received will be shown to the public and Thursday the collection will be distributed to the various homes and institutions. The annual meeting will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Church of the Redeemer parlors. The Needlework Guild of the Authors' Study club gave two receptions last week Friday and Saturday, when its work for the Minneapolis branch was shown. Last year the guild contributed 800 garments to the city branch and this year's collection will be even larger. The Clothing circle, an auxiliary to the Study club, which was organized in January, sent in 300 garments and the Coreopsis branch of the Sunshine society presented 30. The members of the guild made large contributions and the counting and assorting of the collection left the women occupied all day.
