STANDARD OIL IS AFTER GROCERS

OCTOPUS WILL ENTER RETAIL TRADE IN TWIN CITIES.

Will Try to Force All Competition Off the Boards by Selling Oil at Lower Figure Than Grocers Can Offer, and Is Said to Be Advertising for Canvasers.

Twin city grocers are facing a fight with the Standard Oil company. The oil octopus is evidently planning to enter the retail trade in the two cities and by selling oil at a lower price than can be sold by the grocers, will try to force a competition of canvassers to cover the city. The device depended upon in this case is a patent oil can that can be filled only by the Standard Oil machinery.

INTRODUCE DURUM WHEAT

M. A. CARLETON, CEREALIST OF THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, PASSES THROUGH MINNEAPOLIS.

M. A. Carleton, cerealist of the department of agriculture, was in Minneapolis yesterday on his way to Kansas City to examine the results obtained by Captain Charles B. Stevens of the United States army, who is experimenting as to the value of durum wheat as a food for the army.

Mr. Carleton is the man who introduced durum wheat into this country. He brought it from southern Russia, where it is extensively grown. It is also a product of the United States, and in Europe and Africa in lower latitudes than this, but it has proven a very thrifty crop wherever grown in the United States. A good deal of it has been produced in Kansas during the past year. One mill at Kansas City is devoted almost entirely to the manufacture of durum flour, and the government has been experimenting with that flour with a view to determining whether to adopt it to any extent as a food supply in the army.

Mr. Carleton says that the large shipments of durum wheat to the United States for the purpose of making macaroni, that the superior quality of the grain produced in this country this year explains the demand in that market, and so long as the quality is good the demand is likely to increase.

"DOPE FIEND" MUST GO

Lodger at Salvation Army Home Is Ordered Out.

Staff Captain W. J. Gooding, superintendent of the Salvation Army's industrial department, was forced to part with one of his boarders today. The man, who gave his name as Simon P. Baer, was a "dope fiend" of long standing. He had been in the army's lodging house for several weeks, and while very faithful about taking his morphine, never caused any trouble until last night. In a fit of artificial elation he started out to teach the other inmates of the dormitory to use "the needle." Finding his persuasions failed to secure converts, he waited until his companions were asleep, and picking out the man on the next cot as the most promising material, jabbed the hypodermic needle into him. The pain awakened the victim, and his struggles and cries brought him assistance. This was too much for even the "long suffering" hospitality of Captain Gooding, and he turned out Baer, "bottle, hypodermic needle and all."

AWARDS ARE LOW

Tract Desired for Widening Riverside Avenue Is Condemned.

The park board committee on designation of grounds met this afternoon to consider the report of the condemnation commission on a tract of land desired for widening Riverside avenue at the government dam, together with the objections to the award of the commission. The award on a strip of land 2,000 feet long and 150 feet wide, in which were some improvements, aggregated $5,200, the average being about $75 a lot. While lots in that part of the city are not valued highly, it is the opinion of several real-estate men that $75 is too low in view of the fact that the lots front on the parkway and some day will be desirable for residences.

The committee on improvements, at a meeting held yesterday, decided in favor of the removal of the trolley poles on Hennepin avenue from the center of the street to the curb line.

CUMMINGS SPEAKS IN ST. PAUL. Governor A. B. Cummings of Iowa will speak at the banquet of the St. Paul Roosevelt club Oct. 27, which is President Roosevelt's birthday. The Iowa governor is expected to devote his chief attention to the tariff revision and reciprocity questions.

DON'T BELIEVE IN GHOSTS AT ALL

SPIRITUALISTS DO NOT SHARE IN POPULAR SUPERSTITIONS.

H. D. Barrett, President of National Association, Says General Belief That Ghost Hunting and Wierd and Uncanny Experiences Constitute Spiritualism Far From the Truth Regarding Creed.

Spiritualism doesn't believe in ghosts. This is the statement of Harrison D. Barrett, president of the National Association of Spiritualists, who called the Nicollet hotel today and who came all the way from Canaan, Maine, to preside at the sittings of the convention which will meet in Minneapolis beginning tomorrow.

"A number of people," he said, "have the idea that ghost-hunting, wierd and uncanny experiences, and like conditions constitute spiritualism; whereas, they are really nothing to do with it. Such things are simply the growth to the present day of the superstition of past ages and have no connection with spiritualism."

"The commercial side of so-called spiritualism has also given rise to extensive misunderstanding of the real spiritualism. I have not the least hesitancy in saying that clairvoyants, mediums and others, who advertise to give advice on business affairs, when to buy stocks, on love and marriage, and for other purposes, are simply in business for the benefit of their purses, practicing nothing more or less than commercialism, and have nothing to do with spiritualism."

Spiritualists are divided into two great classes, the theistic party, of those who believe in the doctrines of Christianity; and the scientific party, really those who are atheists. Those who are theistic believe in the doctrine of spiritualism—namely, first, a belief in infinite intelligence; second, that spiritual phenomena are not expressions of the human mind; third, that correct understanding of this and living in harmony therewith constitutes true religion; fourth, that the process of life on this earth is not interrupted by the death of the body, and man enjoys spiritual spheres the same being as when he took leave of his body; fifth, that communication between the mortal and the spiritual spheres is not impossible, and has been demonstrated by spiritualism, and, sixth, that the highest morality is in the practice of the golden rule."

SPIRITUALISTS COMING

Delegates from All Sections of Country to Assemble Here.

Spiritualists from all parts of the United States will assemble in Minneapolis next week for the thirteenth annual convention of the National Spiritualists' association. Sessions will last four days and will be held in the First Unitarian church, Eighth street and Mary place, beginning Tuesday, at 10 a.m. The program of the convention has been arranged for the various sessions. The day sessions will be largely devoted to business and routine work, but the evening meetings will be of interest to the public. Lectures and explanations of the work and aims of Spiritualism will be given. Over 500 delegates and friends are expected to attend.

THREE LOSE BY FORGERY

"A. Bain" Cashes Spurious Check, Using Hallet & Co.'s Paper.

Using the paper of Hallet & Co., a prominent firm of Minneapolis, a forger, who first represented himself as "Bain" but has adopted several aliases, has passed three forged checks. He first appeared at the Rogers hotel, where he secured $28.35 on a check drawn on the First National bank, which means a loss of $200 to Hallet & Co. who have no account in this bank made the forgery apparent. Bain was identified by a man well known about town, who, the Rogers people believe, is a confederate.

MINERAL LEASE RESOLD

TOO MANY FRIENDS

Milk Shipper Will Not Be Tried in Wallace.

John J. Eamon, a milk shipper of Wallace, Minn., who is accused of having shot the late Governor Frank M. Smith in the case of Smith vs. Madden, Frank M. Smith used the officer for $2,000 damages, claiming that he was beaten over the head and very roughly handled by the defendant in Minneapolis. The defense, conducted by Judge J. A. Harrison, introduced evidence to show that Smith was drunk and troublesome and that the officer used only what force was necessary in the performance of his duty. The jury was out but a half an hour and returned a verdict for the defendant.

POLICEMAN VINDICATED

Jury Turns Down Frank M. Smith's $2,000 Damage Suit.

Park policeman P. F. Madden was vindicated by the verdict of the jury last night before Judge John Day Smith in the case of Smith vs. Madden. Frank M. Smith used the officer for $2,000 damages, claiming that he was beaten over the head and very roughly handled by the defendant in Minneapolis. The defense, conducted by Judge J. A. Harrison, introduced evidence to show that Smith was drunk and troublesome and that the officer used only what force was necessary in the performance of his duty. The jury was out but a half an hour and returned a verdict for the defendant.

FLOUR SUFFERS BY CAR SHORTAGE

GREAT NORTHERN CUTS OFF LAKE SHIPMENTS.

Will Accept No More Flour Destined for Lake Points on Account of Clamorous Cry for Cars—Other Roads May Follow Step of the Great Northern.

No more flour destined for the head of the lakes via the Great Northern can be loaded by Minneapolis millers. This, the most drastic order yet issued covering the car situation, became effective today. The Great Northern has notified each milling company not to load cars, as they will not be taken out. This, it is understood, does not affect the Northern Pacific, but it is feared that road will issue a similar order. The Omaha is still taking flour for Duluth without restriction.

The Great Northern order was a surprise to the milling and grain trade, and indicates that the situation with reference to the car supply is getting more serious. There is a cry for at least 5,000 cars per country west and north, jointly tributary to Minneapolis and Duluth. There is a congestion of freight in and about Duluth, and it is to check it at once and clear the yards, that the order was issued.

Another order governing all Great Northern cars in and about Minneapolis is being issued. It specifically forbids the loading of Great Northern cars for transfers from elevator to mill or from one elevator or to another, without permission, under penalty of a charge of $9 a car additional to regular charges.

$50,000 LOST IN EGGS

FARMERS DUMP LATE EGGS IN MARKET FORCING DOWN WHOLESALERS.

Because the farmers of the state are slow about gathering their egg crop, the annual egg bill of Minneapolis is raised $25,000. This is established by figures prepared for the Commercial Bulletin, by Robert W. Jermame. When fresh eggs command 20 cents a dozen, the wholesale dealer must figure on a loss of $1 a case, caused by overage. Minneapolis uses 500 cases of eggs, which means a loss of $500. St. Paul has to stand a similar loss. The total loss for the twin cities for the entire year is $60,000, and for the state $1,000,000. All this loss is traceable to the farmers. They are slow in gathering their eggs and slow in bringing them to market. The local dealers are lax in their figure on a large volume of loss through overage eggs.

FUNDS COMING IN FAST

LOANS FROM SCHOOL FUNDS THAT ARE APPROVED WILL SOON BE MADE.

Applications for loans from the permanent school fund amounting to $55,000 were approved today by the state board of investment. Of this amount, $25,000 was allowed school districts, and the remainder in county ditch bonds, Kittson county getting $13,816.62 and Wadena county $7,980. A loan of $5,000 from the permanent university fund was made to the village of Starbuck.

The cash in the fund is still low, but State Auditor Iverson anticipates that all loans approved will be made by next January. School district applications approved now amount to $135,000, and the cash to supply them is only $45,000. In addition there are $100,000 in applications for county ditch bonds and $35,000 in township applications, approved but not satisfied. The shortage amounts in all to $225,000. The permanent school fund, however, will be replenished considerably in the next few weeks. There are $70,000 in city royalties reported, and to be paid next week. The state timber sale next Tuesday will bring in $75,000. Mr. Iverson estimates, in advance payments. If all the timber were sold it would mean receipts of $110,000.

The state land sales should bring in $125,000 cash, and $75,000 is a conservative estimate. November collections on land contracts will bring in $40,000, and county timber sales in November will receive $35,000. The total estimated receipts, according to the state auditor are $295,000, not including $15,000 in stumpage from the state lands. This will be enough to care for all pending loans, and others that may be approved this fall.

State Treasurer Block raised the question at the meeting of the board today, whether funds realized from sales of swamp lands could legally be loaned to school districts. It has been the practice, but a fine constitutional point is involved. Chief Justice Start and Attorney General Young, after consultation, advised the board that the present practice is legal, under a liberal construction of the 1873 law.

Washington, Oct. 14.—Secretary Shaw is confined to his bed by a slight indisposition, and consequently will be unable to refer to the story, originating in Iowa, that it is his intention, after leaving the cabinet in February, to accept a position at the head of a great financial corporation in New York, and that this would take him out of the race for the presidential nomination.

ESCAPE FROM JAIL

Two Prisoners Break Away at Jamestown—Jailer Badly Injured.

JAMESTOWN, N. D.—Two prisoners in the new county jail made their escape. As near as can be learned, they broke a water pipe and flooded the floor of the jail. They called loudly for someone to stop the water and janitor James Lett in a number of ways in the building. One of the prisoners grabbed the plumber's hammer, knocked the janitor down and took his place. The janitor was badly hurt on the head with the hammer, but the boys were not riding after cover. They made their way out the door and mounting rode away. A posse is being organized to hunt for them. They were seen in the meetings of the trustees in Fargo during the year at which the removal was decided.
