

CRASH FROM EASTERN AND WESTERN FIELDS

CHICAGO EVENING CLASH FOR TITLE

GOPTERS GET LAST GLIMPSE OF THE TEAM BEFORE THE WISCONSIN GAME

North High Touchdown Against South High "Dummy"

BADGERS LINE UP AGAINST ALUMNI

LANDS KNOCK-OUT IN SEVENTEENTH

Future of Chicago and Northwest Rests with Result of Today's Battle.

Rooters Get Last Glimpse of the Team Before the Wisconsin Game.

North High Touchdown Against South High "Dummy"

King's Tribe in Engagement with Wisconsin's Stars of Former Days.

With Right to Jaw O'Brien Seriously Curtails Kaufman's Aspirations.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—Today at least Evanston will be on the map with heavy black types. The sedate little town on the north shore is the football center of the west. The gridiron heroes of Chicago are now in the throes of the new and old of the Methodist college to settle for another year the bitter rivalry for the local championship and incidentally determine which side shall practice on another week with its western championship standing still unimpeded.

Minnesota lined up this afternoon against Lawrence, and while it was expected that the boys will have little trouble in winning, the Appleton team is here with the hope of holding the score lower than that of last season. When the gophers made 90 points against them, the great interest in the game with the football rooters. In the afternoon the gophers will show in the game with Wisconsin a week from today. The freshmen team met the challenge from the deaf and dumb at Fairbault, and a snappy game resulted. This game started at 1:30 sharp.

Carleton college put Macalester away yesterday afternoon by a score of 38 to 2. The game was played on the Macalester grounds. The visitors had no trouble with the home team at any stage of the game and the two points credited to Macalester were the result of a fumble. Carleton started the possession with a safety at the opening of the first half and finished the period with fourteen points to a zero for the home team.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 28.—The Wisconsin football team had a light practice last night, consisting principally of signal work and getting down the field under punts. The varsity was quick and fast in most places, but team effort was not good. The coaches spent much time in practicing this day, but they were not very well satisfied with the results. All the regulars will be ready for business today, when the varsity meets the alumni team.

San Francisco, Oct. 28.—Philadelphia Jack O'Brien gave a serious setback to the championship aspirations of Al Kaufman last night when he knocked out Kaufman in the seventeenth round after a grueling and uneventful jabbing. O'Brien was too clever for the big California and science told against weight and strength. A right to the jaw was the blow that ended the fight.

Maroons Favorites.
Stagg's maroons are the logical favorites. Their showing so far this year, particularly against the powerful badger eleven last Saturday when the line showed class, more than hold the driving attack of the Wisconsin back field at critical times compared with the showing of Northwestern so far. This far puts the maroons in sufficient justification for the conclusion that the maroons are superior to McCormack's men.

Purple Strong.
McCormack says: "There is no excuse for any team in the field that is not the strongest team in the state that can be mustered and the men are all in fair condition. I can't say we will win but I am not predicting a defeat either."

Tipman Throws Up Gloves to Corbett
Baltimore, Oct. 28.—Before a crowded house last night young Corbett was given the decision over Joe Tipman of this city before the Eureka Athletic club, after the eighth round of what was scheduled to be a fifteen-round contest. After Tipman went to his corner after the eighth round he declared that he could fight no longer, claiming that he had broken his right hand in the previous round. Many of those present, however, were of a different opinion and thought that Corbett's right-hand smashes to the local boy's stomach broke Tipman's heart and that he simply quit.

Tipman Throws Up Gloves to Corbett
The contest, while not quite up to championship standard, was fast as it lasted. Tipman held his own, in fact, had a shade the better of the bout for five rounds, but Corbett gradually wore him down. In the eighth round Tipman was woefully on his feet and the sound of the bell was welcome.

John W. Gates an Owner
The fourteen years track follower, Has Bought First Horse.

Yale Eleven Work in Perfect Form
New Haven, Oct. 28.—In detail the coaches on Yale field went over the eleven that is to take the field in the Princeton game. The fine points of the center, the center line, ends and backs were taken in groups and put through a series of drills. The eleven was taken over for a long session at signal work and the men busy, mixing his play with the right and left hands. The eleven, which did not get a second get rattled or hesitate.

Yale Eleven Work in Perfect Form
The men took readily to the instructions of the coaches and adopted the tactics laid down in great haste. One turn the coaching took in the direction of working blocks, and the eleven got after the backs so fast that at times they were blocked and others went because of interference when the varsity linemen tore thru the scrum defense to keep the men low in the line. Foster Sanford gave the center trio much attention and Frank Hinkley demonstrated how to box tackle to the ends. Ed. Byrne and Vance McCormack looked after the backfield.

Both Teams Say They are Right
High-School Situation is Confused Thru Disbarring of Players.
By Gil.
North and South high both claim the game scheduled for yesterday, by default. About 7 o'clock yesterday morning the North High Athletic board of control held a meeting and decided to cancel the game scheduled for the afternoon. The reason given was that the game was unfair treatment by the board of appeals. They notified Manager Sorenson of South Side, who was notified by the board of appeals. In the afternoon, in part, and offered to play the second game against South Side. This proposal was indignantly rejected by the orange and black management. At a still later time Manager Gaylord, of North, called up Manager Sorenson and offered to play the first game, that is as much of it as had been declared eligible. Sorenson rejected this offer on the ground that it was made too late. North then announced that it would play the game against South Side, but that if the South Side team failed to appear, the game would be forfeited.

Tipman Throws Up Gloves to Corbett
When Corbett found that he could not land in the face effectively, he began pounding Tipman with terrific right-hand smashes round of what was the sixth, seventh and eighth rounds and were the ones that did the damage. Corbett looked fat and if he meets McGovern he will have to put up a much better contest than he did last night.

John W. Gates an Owner
The fourteen years track follower, Has Bought First Horse.

Tigers Meet Columbia
Expecting Big Score
Princeton, N. J., Oct. 28.—Secret practice consisting of light signal work and formation drills, the work of the Princeton team yesterday in preparation for meeting Columbia today. The squad, consisting of twenty-eight men, was coached by assistant manager, Coaches Hillbrand, Edwards, Roper, Kelley, Burke and Dr. Carmichael, left Princeton last night for New York. Five hundred spectators are expected to see the team and many followed the eleven this morning. The entire scrub team was taken up to the game at the expense of the athletic committee.

Yale Eleven Work in Perfect Form
The men took readily to the instructions of the coaches and adopted the tactics laid down in great haste. One turn the coaching took in the direction of working blocks, and the eleven got after the backs so fast that at times they were blocked and others went because of interference when the varsity linemen tore thru the scrum defense to keep the men low in the line. Foster Sanford gave the center trio much attention and Frank Hinkley demonstrated how to box tackle to the ends. Ed. Byrne and Vance McCormack looked after the backfield.

Yost Continues in Kindergarten Play
Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 28.—Yost's team meets Drake college today and will again show the leadership which carries with it the award. Drake star can make against the old-time Wolverine aggregation. Heston was the greatest halfback in the country, but his Drake team is not expected to do much against Michigan. Most of the regular Michigan men will be on the sidelines because of injuries, but the scrubs who will go in for the present sequence. The condition and there is not much fear that the Iowans will score.

Tipman Throws Up Gloves to Corbett
When Corbett found that he could not land in the face effectively, he began pounding Tipman with terrific right-hand smashes round of what was the sixth, seventh and eighth rounds and were the ones that did the damage. Corbett looked fat and if he meets McGovern he will have to put up a much better contest than he did last night.

John W. Gates an Owner
The fourteen years track follower, Has Bought First Horse.

Harvard at Best Fears Brown
Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 28.—Light signal practice with minute attention to details was the program for the Harvard eleven yesterday. The team met at 10 o'clock in the morning. Brill and Carr were given a layoff but are in condition for the game. Pierce, the big guard, played on the right side of the line in the signals, but is superseded today by Kersberg, who has been playing the position during his absence. There will be no change in the line-up for the game. The game, who has been laid by with a broken collarbone, will not be at quarterback for the first time in several weeks. Nevalin, however, who will relieve him, has been playing brilliantly for the past few days and is counted upon to put up a fine exhibition. He is a former midget, but he runs his team well and is a far more clever man in running back punts than Starr.

Harvard at Best Fears Brown
The men took readily to the instructions of the coaches and adopted the tactics laid down in great haste. One turn the coaching took in the direction of working blocks, and the eleven got after the backs so fast that at times they were blocked and others went because of interference when the varsity linemen tore thru the scrum defense to keep the men low in the line. Foster Sanford gave the center trio much attention and Frank Hinkley demonstrated how to box tackle to the ends. Ed. Byrne and Vance McCormack looked after the backfield.

Carlisle Game Today is Crisis of Quakers
Philadelphia, Oct. 28.—It is not an exaggeration to say that the University of Pennsylvania football team met the crisis of its season today when it plays against the Carlisle Indians. It might almost be said that the success or failure of Pennsylvania's entire season hinges on the result of this one battle with the Carlisle Indians. The Quakers have been weakened so seriously by accidents, illness and the university athletic committee that they can expect to further progress however he will get in the game some time, as will also Guld, the fullback, who has been laid by with a broken collarbone. Indeed, they will be lucky if they retain what strength they now have. If they put the Indians to rout there will be a ray of hope left for the game. Harvard will be fortunate to hold down the scores of Harvard and Cornell.

Tipman Throws Up Gloves to Corbett
When Corbett found that he could not land in the face effectively, he began pounding Tipman with terrific right-hand smashes round of what was the sixth, seventh and eighth rounds and were the ones that did the damage. Corbett looked fat and if he meets McGovern he will have to put up a much better contest than he did last night.

John W. Gates an Owner
The fourteen years track follower, Has Bought First Horse.

Navay Feels It Must Gain Victory Today
Annapolis, Oct. 28.—The game between Swarthmore and the midshipmen today is regarded as the most important game of the season so far, and the midshipmen team recognizes that it will have to do the hardest kind of work to pull off a victory. A victory is the only way for the navy to gain a victory. It is the only way for Swarthmore to win the last season.

Harvard at Best Fears Brown
The men took readily to the instructions of the coaches and adopted the tactics laid down in great haste. One turn the coaching took in the direction of working blocks, and the eleven got after the backs so fast that at times they were blocked and others went because of interference when the varsity linemen tore thru the scrum defense to keep the men low in the line. Foster Sanford gave the center trio much attention and Frank Hinkley demonstrated how to box tackle to the ends. Ed. Byrne and Vance McCormack looked after the backfield.

Carlisle Game Today is Crisis of Quakers
Philadelphia, Oct. 28.—It is not an exaggeration to say that the University of Pennsylvania football team met the crisis of its season today when it plays against the Carlisle Indians. It might almost be said that the success or failure of Pennsylvania's entire season hinges on the result of this one battle with the Carlisle Indians. The Quakers have been weakened so seriously by accidents, illness and the university athletic committee that they can expect to further progress however he will get in the game some time, as will also Guld, the fullback, who has been laid by with a broken collarbone. Indeed, they will be lucky if they retain what strength they now have. If they put the Indians to rout there will be a ray of hope left for the game. Harvard will be fortunate to hold down the scores of Harvard and Cornell.

Tipman Throws Up Gloves to Corbett
When Corbett found that he could not land in the face effectively, he began pounding Tipman with terrific right-hand smashes round of what was the sixth, seventh and eighth rounds and were the ones that did the damage. Corbett looked fat and if he meets McGovern he will have to put up a much better contest than he did last night.

John W. Gates an Owner
The fourteen years track follower, Has Bought First Horse.

Accident at Orphanage
Immense Stone Lintel Falls and Crushes Workman at Wabasha.
WABASHA, MINN.—A had accident occurred at the new orphanage here yesterday. Workmen had just placed in position over the main entrance a stone lintel fourteen feet long and weighing several tons. When the workmen were warning it broke in the center and fell to the ground, striking several of the boys engaged in the work. The stone fell with great force, causing the stone steps and decorative work.

Harvard at Best Fears Brown
The men took readily to the instructions of the coaches and adopted the tactics laid down in great haste. One turn the coaching took in the direction of working blocks, and the eleven got after the backs so fast that at times they were blocked and others went because of interference when the varsity linemen tore thru the scrum defense to keep the men low in the line. Foster Sanford gave the center trio much attention and Frank Hinkley demonstrated how to box tackle to the ends. Ed. Byrne and Vance McCormack looked after the backfield.

Carlisle Game Today is Crisis of Quakers
Philadelphia, Oct. 28.—It is not an exaggeration to say that the University of Pennsylvania football team met the crisis of its season today when it plays against the Carlisle Indians. It might almost be said that the success or failure of Pennsylvania's entire season hinges on the result of this one battle with the Carlisle Indians. The Quakers have been weakened so seriously by accidents, illness and the university athletic committee that they can expect to further progress however he will get in the game some time, as will also Guld, the fullback, who has been laid by with a broken collarbone. Indeed, they will be lucky if they retain what strength they now have. If they put the Indians to rout there will be a ray of hope left for the game. Harvard will be fortunate to hold down the scores of Harvard and Cornell.

Tipman Throws Up Gloves to Corbett
When Corbett found that he could not land in the face effectively, he began pounding Tipman with terrific right-hand smashes round of what was the sixth, seventh and eighth rounds and were the ones that did the damage. Corbett looked fat and if he meets McGovern he will have to put up a much better contest than he did last night.

John W. Gates an Owner
The fourteen years track follower, Has Bought First Horse.

Burned to Death
Clear Lake Invalid Dies in His Burning Bed.
CLEAR LAKE, S. D.—Frits Donnenberg, an invalid, was burned to death in his home here today. It is thought he lit his pipe and, falling asleep, the pipe fell on his bedclothes and set fire to the bed.

Harvard at Best Fears Brown
The men took readily to the instructions of the coaches and adopted the tactics laid down in great haste. One turn the coaching took in the direction of working blocks, and the eleven got after the backs so fast that at times they were blocked and others went because of interference when the varsity linemen tore thru the scrum defense to keep the men low in the line. Foster Sanford gave the center trio much attention and Frank Hinkley demonstrated how to box tackle to the ends. Ed. Byrne and Vance McCormack looked after the backfield.

Carlisle Game Today is Crisis of Quakers
Philadelphia, Oct. 28.—It is not an exaggeration to say that the University of Pennsylvania football team met the crisis of its season today when it plays against the Carlisle Indians. It might almost be said that the success or failure of Pennsylvania's entire season hinges on the result of this one battle with the Carlisle Indians. The Quakers have been weakened so seriously by accidents, illness and the university athletic committee that they can expect to further progress however he will get in the game some time, as will also Guld, the fullback, who has been laid by with a broken collarbone. Indeed, they will be lucky if they retain what strength they now have. If they put the Indians to rout there will be a ray of hope left for the game. Harvard will be fortunate to hold down the scores of Harvard and Cornell.

Tipman Throws Up Gloves to Corbett
When Corbett found that he could not land in the face effectively, he began pounding Tipman with terrific right-hand smashes round of what was the sixth, seventh and eighth rounds and were the ones that did the damage. Corbett looked fat and if he meets McGovern he will have to put up a much better contest than he did last night.

John W. Gates an Owner
The fourteen years track follower, Has Bought First Horse.

Banker Acquitted
Jury Remains Out Seven Hours in Brown Case.
PRIGHAR, IOWA.—E. C. Brown, formerly president of the defunct Sheldon State bank, was acquitted on a charge of fraudulent banking by a jury at midnight, after being out seven hours.

Harvard at Best Fears Brown
The men took readily to the instructions of the coaches and adopted the tactics laid down in great haste. One turn the coaching took in the direction of working blocks, and the eleven got after the backs so fast that at times they were blocked and others went because of interference when the varsity linemen tore thru the scrum defense to keep the men low in the line. Foster Sanford gave the center trio much attention and Frank Hinkley demonstrated how to box tackle to the ends. Ed. Byrne and Vance McCormack looked after the backfield.

Carlisle Game Today is Crisis of Quakers
Philadelphia, Oct. 28.—It is not an exaggeration to say that the University of Pennsylvania football team met the crisis of its season today when it plays against the Carlisle Indians. It might almost be said that the success or failure of Pennsylvania's entire season hinges on the result of this one battle with the Carlisle Indians. The Quakers have been weakened so seriously by accidents, illness and the university athletic committee that they can expect to further progress however he will get in the game some time, as will also Guld, the fullback, who has been laid by with a broken collarbone. Indeed, they will be lucky if they retain what strength they now have. If they put the Indians to rout there will be a ray of hope left for the game. Harvard will be fortunate to hold down the scores of Harvard and Cornell.

Tipman Throws Up Gloves to Corbett
When Corbett found that he could not land in the face effectively, he began pounding Tipman with terrific right-hand smashes round of what was the sixth, seventh and eighth rounds and were the ones that did the damage. Corbett looked fat and if he meets McGovern he will have to put up a much better contest than he did last night.

John W. Gates an Owner
The fourteen years track follower, Has Bought First Horse.

Suspected Bank Robbers
Two Men Arrested Believed to Be Wanted for Burglary.
ABERDEEN, S. D.—Patsy Carroll and Jacko Wilson were arrested last night in Aberdeen. They are suspected of being two of the three men who robbed the Springfield bank in Lawrence, Kan., last week. Carroll is wanted for a charge of burglary and Wilson for a charge of fraud.

Harvard at Best Fears Brown
The men took readily to the instructions of the coaches and adopted the tactics laid down in great haste. One turn the coaching took in the direction of working blocks, and the eleven got after the backs so fast that at times they were blocked and others went because of interference when the varsity linemen tore thru the scrum defense to keep the men low in the line. Foster Sanford gave the center trio much attention and Frank Hinkley demonstrated how to box tackle to the ends. Ed. Byrne and Vance McCormack looked after the backfield.

Carlisle Game Today is Crisis of Quakers
Philadelphia, Oct. 28.—It is not an exaggeration to say that the University of Pennsylvania football team met the crisis of its season today when it plays against the Carlisle Indians. It might almost be said that the success or failure of Pennsylvania's entire season hinges on the result of this one battle with the Carlisle Indians. The Quakers have been weakened so seriously by accidents, illness and the university athletic committee that they can expect to further progress however he will get in the game some time, as will also Guld, the fullback, who has been laid by with a broken collarbone. Indeed, they will be lucky if they retain what strength they now have. If they put the Indians to rout there will be a ray of hope left for the game. Harvard will be fortunate to hold down the scores of Harvard and Cornell.

Tipman Throws Up Gloves to Corbett
When Corbett found that he could not land in the face effectively, he began pounding Tipman with terrific right-hand smashes round of what was the sixth, seventh and eighth rounds and were the ones that did the damage. Corbett looked fat and if he meets McGovern he will have to put up a much better contest than he did last night.

John W. Gates an Owner
The fourteen years track follower, Has Bought First Horse.