Gophers Prepare for a Gruelling Contest with the Cornhusker Team.

By O'Loughlin.

Minnesota's football team starts in today on the final preparation for what will doubtless prove to be one of the hardest fought and best games of the season. This Nebraska team is coming up to the four city with all sorts of courage. The victory over the strong Colorado team, which was won by a score of 21 to 0, has given the Gophers a boost to that enticed after Coach Booth returned to Lincoln after the Wisconsin-Minnesota game and told the team that the Gophers could be whipped if the Nebraska team would get up on its toes.

Nebraska has a very strong team, most of it veteran in experience and large in size. The followers of the Lincoln team protest that they keep them away from the field by pointing out that the cardinal and white striped jerseys have the effect of making their men appear larger than they really are. This may be true, but Nebraska is big and has a lot of beef. The members of the team are not filled with an overconfidence which would hurt them, but they believe that they can win by hard playing and are preparing to make the attempt.

The Nebraska team will leave Lincoln on a special car Thursday night and arrive in St. Paul Friday morning. They will be in the field to follow the Pull King policy and request their players to pull King policy and request their players to pull King policy and request their players to pull King policy.

CHICAGO ON THE OUTLOOK

All Agree that Western Football Championship Is High in the Air.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—The Record-Herald says: Results of western football Saturday helped little to give a positive line upon the contests in which Chicago is to play. The Chicago team are to vie for final honors. Interest in the Michigan-Wisconsin game next Saturday and in the Chicago-Minnesota contest Thursday day was rather increased than lessened and the two contests, taken together, promise a fitting finale to the season in which the championship is likely to be determined satisfactorily.

Only the Chicago-Purdue battle afforded a good indication of the season. In both Michigan and Wisconsin against weak opponents won easily. Purdue, however, showed its unimpaired fitness and ability to bore out the statement made in this column earlier in the season that Purdue is a factor.

To a man interested in the Chicago game, who believes Heston's statement that the West line this year is better on defense than ever, Saturday's contest itself the Michigan must win the Thanksgiving Day game.

Maroons Are Blue.

"If Michigan is as good as last year and Chicago no better than it showed against Purdue," said one eastern critic who saw the Thanksgiving Day game by a score of 40 to 0.

Chicago hopes this is an extreme view. But Dan Boone, director of athletics, and the other marooned players, who have been on a decided business, but there remain over a week's rest and working days and much may be done in that time.

Wisconsin is not to be mean for the Yost men to face Saturday and the wolverine coach realize this. Pull King is the Pull King of old and no greater respect will be shown him in a victory over Minnesota the first year of his return to Madison.

Chronicle Less Anxious.

The Chronicle says: All the eyes of the football world were turned toward Marshall field Saturday afternoon. There was not another gridiron battle in the west that had any importance in declaring the final championship team, not another one that was even interesting to the gridiron fan.

The Chicago-Purdue struggle on Marshall field was the most interesting of the season. It was a test of the maroons, who are to meet Michigan Thanksgiving day, and it was a test of the wolverines, who are to meet Wisconsin Saturday.

Michigan Charged.

The most discouraging condition of the mid-western football season is the fact that the big halfback who was protested by Purdue and declared ineligible. There is much discussion over the matter, and it is claimed by many that it came from Michigan indications.

The Chicago Tribune says: The finish of the Chicago Tribune says: With the finish of the season, interest which has been unusual in the west this season, is bound to increase on Thanksgiving day. In the east, where the big games are not allowed to interfere with the school year, the end will come a week from next Saturday.

There remain three games in the west which are of importance. The first of these is the game at Ann Arbor next Saturday, the second is the game at Chicago on Thanksgiving day, and the last and most important is the game at Minneapolis on Thanksgiving day.

Northwest Football.

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 12.—Superior high won from Duluth Central Saturday by a score of 21 to 0. The visitors were much heavier than the home team, and the game was a hard one for the man. The line plunges of Arthur Buchanan and the long end runs of his brother Henry were what won the game for the visitors.

The pleasant weather brought out a large crowd. The partisans of both teams were very enthusiastic and several fights were suppressed with considerable difficulty. One man was compelled to leave the grounds for regains as the result of a fistie encounter. For a time it looked as if the players would cut out football and indulge in a good, old-fashioned fight.

Sherburne Girls Have a Strong Team

Special to the Journal.

Sherburne, Minn., Nov. 13.—The Sherburne high school basketball team, which won the southern Minnesota championship last year, has reorganized and hopes to duplicate last year's record. They won every game played last year.

Boone's loss has caused Chicago's stock to take a perceptible drop, and Coach Staggs says that he is not sure that the team is ready to take the field. The loss of Boone may ruin the chances in the Thanksgiving game, as he is intended to keep Walker out and play Boone at right half.

On the whole, the outlook is bad for a victory over Yost's wonderful machine, but there will be a chance if Wisconsin makes trouble for Michigan.

Coach McCormack will now set to work to point the purple team for the game with Minnesota at Minneapolis on Nov. 25, and says that he is confident that his team will win. This week there will be hard training nearly every day, and next week the team will have only light practice.

FOOTBALL'S EVIL IN GATE RECEIPTS

After having been the target for the full strength of a mud battery we stop the press of the greatest daily in the great northwest to remark that our feelings, under the circumstances, are much the same of those of the civet cat who looked after the departing automobile with the query, "What's the use?"

Nebraska rooters are working overtime practicing at a new locomotive yell which is guaranteed to knock the coping off the wall surrounding Northrop field.

Down at Grinnell, Iowa, officers of the Humane society attended the football game Saturday to see to it that there was no brutality. The ambulance was left outside the arena, and the presence of the S. P. C. A. officers so cowed the players that the rooters down that way say the game was not worth the price of admission.

HUMAN SOCIETY FOR CLEAN GAME

Special to the Journal.

Grinnell, Iowa, Nov. 13.—An interesting feature of the game played here last Saturday between Ames and Grinnell was the presence of representatives of the Humane society on the sidelines watching for any case of unnecessary roughness and brutality which might occur during the progress of the game.

President Hale Bump stated before the game that he was not opposed to the game when properly played, but that he was opposed to the unexcused roughness which is characteristic of so many games. The Humane society proposes to aid President Roosevelt in his reform movement in football as it is played at present. The game will be played in a clean game seen here this season and no occasion will be given for the action of the Humane society. According to state law, the detention of any player for the period of three hours might have been caused on mere suspicion.

Watches Grinnell-Ames Battle for Possible Evidence of Football Brutality.

Journal Special Service.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 13.—Coaches King and Holt returned last night from an Arbor, where they witnessed Yost's football machine go against Ohio university Saturday. All that the coaches would say was that Michigan has a splendid team, but that they propose to defeat it next Saturday. This is the final game of the season for Wisconsin, and every effort is to be made to wipe out the stingy memory of the defeat by reaching Jackson, Mich., the following morning and playing to put the finishing touches to the Wisconsin team.

All of the regulars who took part in the game with Beloit Saturday came out of it in good condition.

The squad will leave for Ann Arbor Thursday evening, traveling in a special coach attached to one of the fast passenger trains. It is expected to reach Jackson, Mich., the following morning and probably will remain there until Saturday morning. The students' special will leave Friday night.

HOPE OF VICTORY IN PURPLE CAMP

Special to the Journal.

New York, Nov. 13.—Optimism has replaced pessimism in the Northwestern football camp, and the Methodists are now looking forward to a better result in the west than they had hopes of victory. The purple team has made wonderful improvement since the Chicago game. The eleven which showed practically no work against the maroons, have been working with machine-like precision. McCormack believes that the team will win the championship against any eleven in the country.

The past week has been one of revolution. McCormack, always a devotee of the close mass style of offense, has taken to open attack, and so successfully by the maroons and Michigan. The ease with which the Chicago backs gained thru his line by their ability to attack and the inability of his pushing style of offense to penetrate the Chicago line, caused McCormack to revise his offensive system.

Stagg's men used up all the strength of the Purdue men, however, and the game was a hard one for the Chicago players. Coach Loventhal of the Illinois team stated he believed the maroons had a fine chance to defeat Michigan.

BEEF AND BRAWN IGNORED IN EAST

Journal Special Service.

New York, Nov. 13.—Two factors in football—speed and stamina—have superseded all other beef and brawn in the east. The east is to a lesser consideration and the coming gridiron player must be a feet, hardy man instead of a stout, heavy man.

It is a transition in football requirements that has gradually developed, but the Pennsylvania-Harvard game on Saturday stamped a proof of its requisite value in a team that was for victory. Harvard with her new style of play was played to a standstill by Pennsylvania's quick, stocky eleven. The crimson massive men, relying on bulk and breadth of chest for a fortune of defense, had a force of weight for offense, were left sprawling in their tracks while the swift Quakers played all around them.

The simplest tricks of the game, many would say, were not even dreamed of by Pennsylvania. The Quakers were not even dreamed of by Pennsylvania. The Quakers were not even dreamed of by Pennsylvania.

Get Dark Sweaters.

The most singular development of the week was the change of the sweaters of the players from purple to gray. The purple jerseys worn by the Methodists made it an easy matter for the opposing team to identify the man carrying the ball, as the pigskin stood out in bold relief against the color. It is believed that the change to gray will have the effect of making western opponents to select the man with the ball.

Grinnell will be one of the main features of the Northwestern attack against Minnesota. McCormack has had a special class in hurdling and hurdling will be the main feature of the game. McCormack has had a special class in hurdling and hurdling will be the main feature of the game.
