In Social Circles

As vivacity is the gift of women, gravity is that of men.—Addison.

Mrs. George H. Partridge gave a large reception this afternoon at her home on Groveland terrace, to introduce her daughter Marion. Miss Marion Partridge is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Partridge, and she returned only last week from New York, where she has been visiting. Miss Partridge attended Miss Spence's school in New York and she has traveled extensively in this country and in Europe.

The handsome Partridge residence was charmingly decorated with southern smilax and quantities of exquisitely tinted roses and shaggy chrysanthemums. The reception hall was banked with spreading ferns, maroon chrysanthemums, and the new pots of the stairway were topped with graceful plants. A nook on the landing was screened with smilax, behind which a string orchestra played during the afternoon. The reception room was bright with American Beauty roses and the library was in yellow. Golden chrysanthemums showed in bold relief against a background of smilax and ferns, and the punchbowl was placed in a leafy nook. The living room was gay with foliage and chrysanthemums and baskets of pink roses and tapers shaded in pink completed the pretty appointments of the dining room. Upstairs the loggia was converted into a charming floral retreat, where tea was served.

Miss Marion Partridge wore a princess gown of white satin crepe de chine trimmed with silver rose applique, and carried orchids and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Partridge's gown was white, heavily embroidered, and Miss Helen Partridge was in an empire gown of white crepe de chine and gold embroidery. Mrs. Partridge was assisted by Mrs. L. P. Day, E. Semple, G. W. Porter, Henry Staples, Z. T. Mullen of Washington, D. C., Franklin Crosby, Henry Cole, Charles Fisher Heppburn, George Case, Walter Hudson, Misses

WB CORSETS

IF W. B. Corsets' cost more than other corsets there might be an excuse for accepting a substitute. But both are sold in all qualities from $1 the pair up to the most exquisite productions with every detail of cloth, craftsmanship and trimming as fine as a woman could want.

W. B. Nuforms

AND

They possess so many points of difference (and each "difference" means a betterment) that you should insist upon a W. B. when you buy a corset.

The only corsets unqualifiedly endorsed by the National Dressmakers' Conventions. On sale at all dealers.

WEINGARTEN BROS., Makers, 877-879 Broadway, New York

Corinne DeLaitre, Wyman, Rehocca Semple, Leila Winston, Natalie Jordan and Margaret Wells. Mrs. Partridge will entertain the assisting women at a buffet dinner tonight, to which the husbands of the matrons are also invited.

A number of affairs are being planned for Miss Marion Partridge, both here and in St. Paul. The dates have not definitely been decided.

Mrs. Sarah H. Knight announces the engagement of her daughter, Edith H., to George Kimball Bolden.

Mrs. Thomas F. Quimby received this afternoon at her home on Clinton avenue. A different color scheme was carried out in each room with great clusters of chrysanthemums against a background of palms and ferns, while the lights were all shaded to correspond with the flowers. Yellow flowers were in the hall, yellow in the parlors, the library was in pink and a great cluster of pink roses in a Japanese basket formed the centerpiece in the dining room. A string orchestra played during the receiving hours, which were from 2 until 6 o'clock, and over two hundred women called. Mrs. Worrall, formerly lived in Minneapolis. William B. MacLean and E. W. Ensign, and alternating in the library and at the frappe table were Mmes. A. J. Schaller, Albert Schaller and Miss Schaller, Hastings, Minn.—Mmes. Hugh L. Wakefield, Misses Florence Cornelius, Jessie Caplin, Elnor Holtz, Ruth Cecil, Rose Marie Schaller and Florence Gibson.

Minneapolis people will be interested in the marriage of Miss Charlotte Adeline Barrett of Washington, D. C., and Mr. Worrall of New York, which took place in New York in the Calvary Episcopal church, Sunday, Rev. James Lewis Parks read the service. Mr. Worrall formerly lived in Minneapolis. He is a son of Mrs. Kate Whitling, who resided in Minneapolis until she went to Washington a few years ago to take her home.

The engagement is announced of Miss Minnie J. Joseph of Des Moines, Iowa, to Charles L. Levitt of this city.

Judge and Mrs. C. B. Elliott will give a musical this evening in their home, 1003 Eighth street SE, in honor of Mrs. Alice B. Marshall. Miss Edna Hall will assist in the program, to be played by Mrs. Marshall and will be accompanied by Miss Anna De Witt Cook. Mrs. Marshall will play a double number with Miss Blanche Strong.

Dr. and Mrs. O. W. Anderson have issued invitations for a musical which they will give Saturday evening at their home, 130 Groveland avenue.

Mrs. Thomas Chester Montgomery entertained at dinner last evening at her home on Hennepin avenue, in honor of her sister, Miss Ella Pearl Bundy, who will assist in the program, to be played by Mrs. Marshall and will be accompanied by Miss Anna De Witt Cook. Mrs. Marshall will play a double number with Miss Blanche Strong.

Miss Bundy was the guest of honor at a parcel shower Monday evening of which the Misses Ojertson were the hostesses. Cards were written and a dainty luncheon was served. The parcels were wheeled in to the bride in a wheelbarrow by Miss Gladys Stewart and Felix John Rogers. About thirty young people were present.

Mrs. Jay Lawrence gave a parcel shower Monday evening at her home on Monroe street for Miss Myrtle Grosvenor, whose marriage to William Charles Anderson will take place Tuesday. The rooms were prettily adorned with daisies and trailing vines, and the gifts were presented to Miss Grosvenor by Miss Edna Robinson, whose wedding will take place tonight at the home of the bride's parents on Oak Grove street. Pink roses formed an effective centerpiece for the table and covers were laid for six.

Mrs. M. J. Hemperley was given a pleasant surprise party Monday evening at the home of Charles Axtell, 2708 Bloomington avenue, the occasion being the twenty-eighth anniversary of her birthday. Mrs. Hemperley is one of the pioneers of Minneapolis, having been a resident here since 1857. A program of music was given by Miss Irene Boyington of Seattle, Mable Ross and Jessie McLaughlin and Dr. A. E. Carr. Refreshments were served.

It's true, common skin becomes satia skin using Satin skin cream and powder.

Mr. Carlo Fischer's music as a cellist is always acceptable to music lovers, not only because of his superior technical ability, but because he gives to every effort the masterful interpretation which marks the work of the artist.

The Grieg sonata which he will play at the Metropolitan Music company's pianola recital tomorrow is a work of great breadth and worthy of serious attention. A group of smaller compositions will make up Mr. Fischer's other number.

The balance of the program will include some very interesting sketches from MacPherson's works, also the famous K. W. Ostrow by Rubinstein and a polca by Bohm.
