HILL FIGHTS FOR LAKE BUSINESS

GREAT NORTHERN WILL SPEND $35,000 AT WAYZATA.

Ferndale Station Is to Be Discontinued and $8,000 Station Erected in Wayzata Proper—Extensive Steamer Service Is Planned and Running Time from Minneapolis Will Be Shortened.

Wayzata and Excelsior are to rival Minnetonka ports next summer. For some time it has been known that James J. Hill was not to fight Thomas Lowry for the Minnetonka lake business, and now additional details are available. The improvements which Mr. Hill is planning for Wayzata will cost $35,000 to $40,000 and will give the little village a new start.

For ten years or more there has been no station in the village of Wayzata proper. The residents of the town were forced to use the Wayzata station a half mile below the town or the Ferndale station a half mile above Wayzata. Now the Ferndale station is to be discontinued and a fine, $8,000, modern station is to be erected in the village proper. The old Wayzata station below town will be retained.

To show that he is really after the lake business, Mr. Hill is planning an extensive steamer service also. Few steamers have been making Wayzata proper for some seasons, but under the new plan the town will be one of the best served in the lake. A huge, new, roofed pier is to be built and maintained by the railroad at the nearest point of the station. The approach to the pier itself will be covered for protection against the weather, and it will be fitted up for a recreation and observation pier.

Rise in Grade. The original plans for the Wayzata improvements contemplated a considerable rise in grade thru the town, but the village committee, both here and finally compromised, and beginning at Broadway and extending about one thousand feet toward the upper end of town, which is the highest point, it is to be a grade of about eighteen inches, to which there is no objection. The water tank is to be moved to the new station and standpipes erected on both sides of the street, which will in part take water while making the station stop, and thereby lose no time. Extensive yards are to be put in between the new station and the old Ferndale station.

With its improvements for handling the traffic comfortably and with little inconvenience to the public, the Great Northern is to be a great improvement. Its present trains are running from the Union station to Wayzata the first lake stop, in twenty minutes. The fast trains make it in less than an hour and the next summer the time will be further reduced. The distance from Minneapolis is but thirteen miles and the time will be cut to about fifteen minutes.

Can Beat Trolley. With this quick service, the Great Northern can make its principal steam or electric line in the city. It is the time it will be possible for the Minneapolis and St. Paul Suburban Railway company to reach its distributing point at Excelsior. The distance from Minneapolis to Mound, the last lake station on the Great Northern is twenty-two miles.

Work on the new station is already under way and the entire village is enthusiastic over the prospects of a revival of prosperity for the once busy and important little lake town. The station is to be of concrete, stone and brick and will be the largest and best on the line. It is to be steam heated and will be provided with every modern convenience.

It is said that the improvements were to a great extent accepted by the belief that the street railway company was planning to run a branch trolley line into Excelsior from the old Milwaukee lake line that is to be taken over next summer. The street railway company, however, has made a survey from Groveland station on the Milwaukee line to Wayzata over the regular county road across the bridge and the line is to be along the lake shore to Wayzata. It was thought that it even might be the beginning of a trolley around the north shore, which is at present exclusively served by the Great Northern. Street railway officials have denied that they contemplate any line around the lake.

Whatever may be the outcome of the rivalry between steam and electricity, lake residents will not suffer in the meantime from any lack of attention from the rivals. With two interests fighting for the lake business, the lake dwellers feel sure that they will have all the comforts of city life as far as transportation accommodations are concerned.

WILL SOLICIT FUNDS FOR RELIEF OF JEWS

Permanent organization for the collection in Minneapolis of a fund toward the relief of oppressed Jews in Russia was effected Monday night at a general conference held at the Waldorf Astoria Temple. Jonas Weil was elected chairman, Isaac Schulman, secretary, and Max W. Frank, treasurer. These officers also constitute an executive committee.

Representatives from every Jewish organization in Minneapolis were present, numbering about seventy-five. It was decided not to hold any public meetings and not to issue any further appeal, but the city was divided into districts and authorized solicitors will call upon the Jewish residents of each district to solicit funds.

It is confidently expected that at least $2,500 can be raised in Minneapolis, as it is felt that in comparison with the amounts secured in other cities that amount is far from excessive. The money will be forwarded to Jacob H. Schiff, head of the relief movement in this country.

Mr. Weil yesterday sent $400 to Mr. Schiff, which, with the $400 sent last Saturday, makes $800 already sent. The money was collected at the two informal meetings, which have been held.

HID IN THE BARN

Edman Evidently Knew What Was on His Breath. Anne Edman, a quiet little woman, told Judge D. F. Simpson today of a long list of indignities and cruelties heaped upon her by her husband, Gust. She swore that her spouse had been intoxicated most of the time for a year, that he had come home drunk to Christmas dinner and after biding in the barn had disgraced himself and her before their guests. She asserted that he had also attempted to horsewhip her in the public street. A divorce was granted. Decrees of separation were also granted to Goldie Margolis from Jacob Margolis, the defendant being confined in the county jail. A divorce was granted to Robert D. Wilson from Annie Wilson on the ground of desertion.

CUBAN MAJORITY NOT UNGRATEFUL

REPORTS OF HATED OF AMERICA EXAGGERATED.

E. J. Phelps, Who Returns from the Sunny Island Republic to Encounter Winty Blasts in Minneapolis, Paints Attractive Picture of the Progress in Land Despoiled by the Spaniards.

Cubans do not dislike and fear America and the reports to that effect which appear from time to time in the press are greatly exaggerated. With its tobacco, sugarcane, fruit and livestock, the island has a great future.

These are the statements of E. J. Phelps, just back from sunny Cuba, in his report to the press on his trip to a Minnesota winter. F. W. Lyman, also of Minneapolis, who is his traveling companion.

"There is a class of Cuban torians which is opposed to the Americans, and the old Spanish families naturally cannot forget the war," said Mr. Phelps today, "but the great majority of the people are the business men and the educated classes in particular—are not only grateful for the splendid manner in which this country came to the aid of Cuba, but desire close relations with the people of this island. The business classes, as a matter of fact, favor annexation to the United States, but the politicians oppose any movement in this direction."

"Cuba is rapidly growing in prosperity and there is very little political agitation. The triumph of the moderates means a continuance of the policy of President Palma and insures increased development and advancement. Immigrants are coming in at a rapid rate, mostly from Spain and the Canary islands, but some from South America and the West Indian islands. Labor is in good demand and wages have materially advanced. The official reports for the year ending June 30 show an increase of 37,000 immigrants and it is estimated that this will be doubled in the present year. For the same period the imports aggregated $24,000,000, showing an increased purchasing capacity. The balance of trade is in favor of Cuba, for it exports were valued at $20,000,000, being an increase of $6,000,000 over the exports for the preceding year. The sugar exports were valued at $9,000,000 and the tobacco at about $25,000,000. The island is well adapted for raising stock, the native grasses being plentiful and nutritious. Large quantities of cattle are shipped in every year and stockraising is destined to be one of the great industries of the present the home market is the only one supplied."

Havana a Clean City. "We had many opportunities to meet Cuban officials and almost without exception found them courteous, able and progressive. Havana is a remarkably clean city and the great credit is due our people to see how thoroughly the work is done. The open sewers are flushed with a disinfecting solution every day and the health department maintains a strict control which visits every house in the city at least once a week. These men do their work most thoroughly."

"Automobiles is quite a sport on the island. Where a good road there are good I saw many cars in Havana, most of them of foreign make. There are nine good roads leading out of Havana, the longest being to San Cristobal, a distance of 100 miles. It is here that the automobile races are run. The other roads extend from ten to thirty miles."

"The institutions of the island and which is doing fine work is the experimental farm at Palacatos. This is in charge of Americans and they are doing splendid work. P. P. Felt, formerly of Minneapolis, is the official photographer for the farm. His former partner, C. J. Hibbard, is in Havana in a photographic supply house. I saw many of the photographs here and there for instance Harry Barber, who is doing well on his sugar plantation near Calbarien, in Santa Clara province, and Mr. Whitson, formerly in the Chamber of Commerce building, who is also a sugar planter. It was a little early for the American winter invasion, but the indications were that it would be a large one."

"It would be wise for Americans intending to visit Cuba this winter to secure their steamship and hotel accommodations pretty well in advance or they might have considerable difficulty."

During their stay on the island, Messrs. Phelps and Lyman saw much of Cuba and the winter weather here and west into Pinar del Rio and as far east as Placetas del Sur and Calbarien, returning by another route thru Matanzas. Both men are most impressed with the rapid recovery of the island from the devastating effects of the war.

ST. PAUL MADE INDEPENDENT.

By an order from Willis M. Moore, the chief of the United States weather bureau, the St. Paul weather office has been removed from the jurisdiction of the Minneapolis office. For some years T. S. Outram, the local weather observer, has been in nominal control of both offices.

Something to Remember about "LOWNEYS"

We are manufacturers, not mixers. We buy the highest cost cocoa beans that are grown—and those only—and make of them what we call Lowneys.

We buy everything in the largest quantities. We have marvelously perfect machinery and the most skilful and experienced people.

We have a reputation to maintain, and we use no dyes or adulterants. Our Chocolate Bonbons, Breakfast Cocoa, Culinary Chocolate and Eating Chocolate are world famous.

Nothing finer or better can be made than we make. We sell at a low price as such goods can possibly be sold. When other makers offer to sell at lower prices, what is the logical conclusion?

LUMBER PRICES ADVANCE AGAIN

FIFTH UPWARD MOVE IN BARELY A YEAR'S TIME.

Product of Local Mills Falls Short of Last Year, and Wholesale Stocks Are Much Lighter Than Usual at This Time of Year—Outside Buyers Responsible for Bidding Up Market.

Lumber has advanced again. Practically every product of the local sawmills has gone up except finish lumber and white pine flooring and siding. Dimension lumber is $1 a thousand higher, boards and fencing 50 cents to $1 higher, and lath has advanced 25 cents a thousand.

The rise in prices comes just at the end of the local sawing season, which finds the mills with smaller stocks than ever before at this time of year. Their cut this season will be at least 20 per cent below last year, which was the smallest in several years. Lumber shipments have been as heavy this year as ever, and there has been a heavy consumption of lumber at home in buildings and for factory material. The result is that a very light stock will be carried over the winter, and there will be a scarcity next spring and summer. The situation is much the same at other sawmill centers in the northwest. Eastern buyers have been in the market offering high prices for lumber and shipping it by all-rail routes, and there is no trouble anticipated in selling at the advanced prices.

Partial price advances have been made five times within the span of a year. One was scored last November, then another in February, one in July, one in September, and the new advance comes in closing down this fall for the last time, and the production of northern pine next year will show another decline.

RULERS OF THE WORLD.

Meat Eating Nations Are the Leaders in Every Branch of Human Achievements.

The ruling nations of the world are meat eaters and history records that they always have been. Vegetarians and food cranks may expound their grain and fruit theories, but the facts remain that the Americans, English, French, Russians and Germans are meat-eating nations, and they are also the most energetic and most progressive.

The principal food of the heroic Boer soldier, known as Bilting, is a sort of dried beef, affording a great deal of nourishment in a highly concentrated form.

The weak races of people are the rice-eating Chinese, Hindoos, and Siamese, regarded since the dawn of history as non-progressive, superstitious and inferior physically and mentally to the meat-eating nations.

The structure of the teeth plainly indicates that human beings should subsist upon a variety of food, meat, fruit and grain, and that it is unhygienic to confine one's diet to any one of these classes to the exclusion of another.

Meat is the most concentrated and most easily digested of foods, but our manner of living is often so unnatural that the digestive organs refuse to properly digest meat, eggs and similar nutritious and wholesome food, but it is not because such food is unwholesome, but the real reason is that the stomach lacks, from disease or weakness, some necessary digestive element; hence arising indigestion and, later on, chronic dyspepsia.

Nervous people should eat plenty of meat, convalescents should make meat the principal part of their diet, and people have to do so, and brain-workers and office men should eat, not so much meat, but at least once a day, and to insure its perfect digestion one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets should be taken after each meal, because they supply the pepsines, diastase and fruit acids, lacking in every case of stomach trouble.

Nervous dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, gastritis, sour stomach, gas and acidity are only different names for indigestion, the failure to digest wholesome food, and the use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cures them all because, by affording perfect digestion, the stomach has time to rest and recover its natural tone and vigor.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the real household medicine; it is as safe and pleasant for the stomach as the baby's diet is for the imperfect digestion of its grand sire.

They are not a cathartic, but a digestive, and no pill habit can ever follow their use; the only habit Stuart's Tablets induce is the habit of good digestion and consequently good health.
