"A woman without a laugh in her is the greatest bore in nature." —Thackeray.

Mrs. Thomas M. Levering and Mrs. Winthrop W. Lawrence entertained fifty women at cards this afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. E. Kenwood. The parlors were bright with pink roses and the lights were shaded in pink. Poinsettia blossoms and carnations flamed in the reception room and den, and baskets of yellow chrysanthemums were in the dining room. Six-hand euchre was played, and after the games a dainty luncheon was served. Mrs. Winthrop's tiny daughter, Miss Geraldine Winthrop, received with her mother and made a charming wee hostess. The assisting women were Meses W. E. Ford, E. B. Clements and Miss Egan of St. Paul. Tomorrow afternoon Mrs. Levering and Mrs. Lawrence will entertain a second group of women at cards.

Mrs. Franklin M. Crosby gave a prettily appointed luncheon this afternoon at her home on Park avenue for Miss Nora Wells, a bride of the week. Covers were placed for eight.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Hobart announce the engagement of their daughter, Ethel Alice, to Francis A. Tyler. The wedding will take place on Christmas day.

The engagement of Miss Maud Moody and Frank Gibbons was announced Saturday evening at an informal affair given by Mr. and Mrs. L. A. deCoo at their home on Twelfth street N. The announcement was made to the thirty guests by the distribution of cards, two red hearts tied with ribbon and bearing the names of the couple, while the "Lohengrin" bride and groom were Red and white carnations and ferns brightened the rooms. The marriage of Miss Moody and Mr. Gibbons will take place early in January.

The charity ball this evening will be given at the Auditorium and will be one of the large and brilliant affairs of the winter. The Auditorium is such an ideal place for a ball that there will be an unusually large attendance. The Fort Snelling band will play and a group of well-known men will have charge of the floor.

The Phoenix club will give an informal dancing party tomorrow evening in the Auditorium annex. C. F. Berg, I. Moss, S. J. Levy and C. N. Aschheim form the committee in charge of the arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin G. Potter entertained informally at cards Saturday evening at their home on 12th street S. It was rather a neighborhood affair and five hundred was played by the thirty guests. Southern smilax and red roses made an attractive decoration thru the rooms.

Miss Ora Ellis gave a red and white luncheon Saturday at her home, 2035 James avenue. In honor of her sister, Mrs. Meta Jane Arf, whose marriage to Hoy Howard Maxfield has been announced for Dec. 6. There were twelve guests and the name-cards were in pen and ink, designs showing a little cupid on each. There are quite a number of affairs to be given for Miss Arf during the next ten days. Tomorrow evening Miss Minnie Hainich and Nellie Wingate will entertain; Mrs. Maxfield, the bridegroom's mother, will give the bridal dinner Tuesday evening, Dec. 5, at her home on Aldrich avenue S. Following the ceremony at St. Andrew Episcopal church, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Ellis will give a large reception at their home.

Miss Arf will have her sister, Miss Ora Ellis, as maid of honor, and Murray Davenport will be the best man. The four bridesmaids will be Meses Beryl Blair, Nellie Wingate, Mamie Keidel and Helen Williams of Marshall, Minn.; Alexander Barnes, Bessie Keidel, Garish and Ted Stevens will be the ushers. Mr. Maxfield and his bride will reside at the Maxfield home on Aldrich avenue S this winter. Miss Williams will arrive from Marshall next Sunday.

Mrs. J. McNulty gave the bridal dinner last evening at her home, 520 Second street N.E. for Miss Margaret Garvey and Edward F. Furey, whose wedding will take place Thanksgiving Day. The guests were the members of the bridal party.

Miss Helen Adair entertained Wednesday evening at her home on Park avenue. Roses decked the reception-hall, where nappes were served by Misses Elsie Williams and Grace Thorne. The drawing-room was bright with yellow and white chrysanthemums and the dining-room was in pink and green, with a basket of pink roses on the table. The favors for the girls were silver mugs and for the men tiny silver pipes. Assisting in the dining-room were Meses Ruth Fowler, Ida Smith, Amy Hudson and Mafie Jorie Pierce. A musical program was given by Russel Chapman, Meses Cora Lincoln, Bessie Norris and Marguerite Purple, and later there was dancing. The presenters were Misses Gertrude and Geneva Simons, Louise Pierce, Florence Samuels, Sella Albrecht, Agnes Taylor, Alice Lotz, Alma Satechell, Della Magraw, Ethel Cheever of Cincinnati, Messrs. Arthur Green, Herbert Chapman, Stanley Taylor, Waldo Nelson, Alan Butterworth, Eugene Albrecht, Jesse Norris, William Leitner, Ernest Bullis, Harry Lotz, Raymond Chapman, Harold Savage, Carrill Speers, Arthur Stewart, George Utter, Dan Gould, Robert Smith and Lawrence Brice of Denver, Col.

The college girls and boys had their parties in honor of some of their friends from Northwestern university Saturday afternoon and evening. After the football game they were diners and the young people met at the chapter houses or at the homes of some sorority or fraternity members. The Delta Upsilon girls had a delightful dancing party at the chapter house. About thirty couples were present and the program was interspersed with selections in a comic opera strain by some of the talented members. Purple, the Northwestern color, and the maroon and gold were used in the decorations and were shown in the banners and pennants along the walls. Meses Woodcock, Frank Leavitt and John Taylor were the chaperones.

At the Beta Theta Pi house, where six of the men from Northwestern university were visitors, an informal dance was given in the evening. Colors of the two universities blended prettily in the decorations and there were flowers and other attractive arrangements in honor of the event.

Twenty-five of the active members of the Alpha Phi sorority entertained an equal number of men at an informal dance at the home of Miss Elsie Ueland on Harriet boulevard in the evening for four of the Northwestern university sorority girls who will be in Minneapolis until this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey R. Lamb and Mr. and Mrs. Eder Moulton entertained box parties at the Orpheum theater Saturday evening.

The Apollo club concert tomorrow evening in the First Baptist church promises to be something of a social gathering, as the subscribers are people prominent in society. This will be the first time that Mme. Wellington has been heard here, and there is considerable interest shown in her coming. The program will begin at 8:15 o'clock.

One of the most delightful of the many affairs of last week was the reception which Alexis Fournier gave at Clow's, where his splendid collection of pictures is being shown. Several hundred invitations had been sent out and the theater was thronged with people who revelled in the paintings and in the discussions of their rival merits. Mr. Fournier was assisted by Mrs. Arthur Strachaner, Mrs. F. L. Meott and Miss Gertrude Hill.

It is good news to announce that a dozen or more of Mr. Fournier's pictures will remain in Minneapolis. Mrs. E. L. Carpenter has bought the beautiful "Autumn Afternoon," and R. J. Menz is now the owner of "Even Tide." Mrs. Moffett and Dr. Storke have also purchased pictures and there are a number of other people who are unable to decide yet between the merits of some of the canvasses.

George Wharton James, the well-known lecturer and writer of western life, was in the city last week, a guest of his cousin, F. W. Clifford of Clifton avenue. Mr. James' home is in Pasadena, Cal., but he is on a lecture trip thru the country. He is an old friend of Mr. Fournier, both men are greatly interested in the Indians, and he spent some time with him at the exhibition. He will visit Mr. Fournier at East Aurora, N. Y., next summer for a month.

Hugo Froelich, the well-known artist, was in Minneapolis last week visiting the public schools, and by the way, he was very much interested and very enthusiastic over the work that is being done here. Wednesday evening Meses Emma Roberts, Helen Ganger and Mrs. Mary Bookwalter invited a group of the Minneapolis people who are interested in art and design to meet Mr. Froelich at the Handicraft guild on Second street S. It was a most informal affair, and the different workshops were open so the visitors had a chance to see the clay classes at work, and to visit the metal workshop, both of which are under the direction of Miss Florence E. Willetts. Mr. Froelich gave an informal talk on art and crafts, and a Russian tea was served by Miss Annette Wales.

Six of the young girls at Graham hall gave a charming little party Friday evening. The small actresses, Meses Evelyn Davis, Caroline Lyon, Elizabeth Martin, Abigail von Schlegel, Marjorie Lyman and Helen Ganger, were coached by Miss Bachelor. Piano selections were given by Meses Laura Farman, Julia Zanger and Ethel Talmadge and Miss Kathryn Watkins sang.

Of course the dancing classes will celebrate Thanksgiving with holiday parties. The boys and girls who have their cards at the dancing trip, Mrs. McRoberts was formerly Miss Edith Murray of Lake City, Minn., and her marriage took place Wednesday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Murray. Mrs. McRoberts attended Stanley hall and she has visited here frequently so that she has many friends who will be interested in the announcement of her marriage. Mr. and Mrs. McRoberts will be at home after Dec. 1 at Casselton, N. D.

Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Tuttle gave a dinner at their home, 2746 Clinton avenue, Friday evening, in honor of their guest, Mrs. Lucie Smith. The evening was spent at cards. Mrs. Smith leaves for her home in Niagara, Tuesday.

The Alpha Tau Omega fraternity entertained at cards Friday evening at the chapter house. Light refreshments were served.

Mrs. J. Keenan of 2406 Sixteenth avenue S. entertained at progressive cinch Wednesday evening. Prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. Fleetham, Miss Keenan and Mr. Tierney. The rooms were decorated with American Beauty roses and ferns. Dainty refreshments were served. Vocal selections were given by Messrs. W. McPherson, T. Hickey and Tierney, and piano selections were by A. Fleetham.

The Misses Bolin and Houghton entertained a number of friends Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Houghton on First avenue S. Present were Misses Eleanor and Alma Clarke, McKee, Clement, Bolin, Hudson, Nelson, Messrs. Gifford, McBride Houghton, Jim Struthers, Ed. Parker, Frank Struthers, Field, Branch and Raymond.

EARTHQUAKE IN ITALY.

Rome, Nov. 27.—A slight shock of earthquake was recorded in all the observatories of the kingdom yesterday. It was felt especially thruout the eastern, central and southern parts of the country, but caused little damage except to the cathedral of Ariano in Apulia, in the extreme southeastern section, which suffered considerably. No lives were lost.

The Old Peabody Pew

KATE DOUGLAS WIGGIN'S Fascinating Romance of An Old Country Meeting-House

Which begins in the Christmas number of THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL, goes on deepening in interest as the sweet love-story of Justin Peabody and Nancy Wentworth unfolds itself round the quaint old Orthodox church on Tory Hill. How Nancy's ten long years of waiting are ended and how her handsome young farmer-lover turns failure into success is told in the later chapters with even more than the usual vivacity and grace of the author of "Rebecca" and "Rose o' the River."

THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL

For DECEMBER is rich in Christmas stories—rich in illustrations and full of practical suggestion for the Christmas celebration.
