SEEDLING APPLES WANTED

State Horticultural Society Desires Full Exhibit at Meeting Here.

The Minnesota State Horticultural society, which meets in the union station, is desirous of having a full exhibit at that meeting of all the valuable varieties of seedling apples now growing in the northwest.

New and hardy varieties of late-keeping apples of high quality are needed for this section, and probably the only way they ever be secured is by growing them from the seed. It may be that what is wanted is now growing, and it is what the horticultural society wishes to ascertain at this meeting and why $100 is offered at that time to divide among the exhibitors of seedling apples of some commercial merit. Growers of valuable seedling apples are requested to send by express, prepaid, five specimens, with history and description of tree, to reach the secretary, A. W. Latham, 207 Kasota block, Minneapolis, not later than Monday, Dec. 4.

CALLS FOOTBALL A BRUTAL SHOW

PRESIDENT WALLACE OF MACALESTER IS SEVERE.

Declares Game Tends to Demoralize Higher Education and Promote Gambling and that, Like Gladiatorial Shows of Ancient Rome, It is Sapping Moral and Intellectual Life of Colleges.

Present-day football seems to have few, if any, friends among the principals of the colleges and high schools of St. Paul. Dr. James Wallace of Macalester, Dr. Humphrey Moynahan of St. Thomas, G. F. Weibrecht of the Mechanics Arts high school and Dr. E. V. Robertson of the St. Paul Central high school see nothing of good and much of evil in the game.

In addition to expressing an adverse opinion of the game, they do not hesitate to blame the large universities of the country and presumably the University of Minnesota in particular, for the evils which they assert have become features of the game. They maintain that, as the universities have been the leaders in the movement that has brought about alleged brutality and professionalism, they must also be the leaders in movements for reform. A plea of independence and sturdiness on the part of the colleges and high schools is openly confessed, the men in question saying that their schools have followed the lead of the universities and are now tending toward improvement.

Dr. Wallace Severe.

Dr. Wallace of Macalester is by far the most outspoken in his criticism of the game, asserting that it is brutal, that it tends to demoralize higher education, that it encourages gambling and that, like the gladiatorial shows of ancient Rome, it is sapping the moral and intellectual life of the educational institutions of the country to a degree that is appalling and beyond belief. He is of the opinion that it would be better to have the athletes go into the open market in search of professional material, as do the national baseball associations.

He says that the game reeks with dishonesty, and, like the athletes of ancient Greece and Rome, its evils have become flagrant and deeply imbedded in the commercial interests of the country. He does not hope for reform, but says that the only way to stop the distribution of literature that might accomplish some good. He fears, too, that the universities have started a movement, they cannot stop, which will lead to the complete abolition of the game. He suggests that professional coaches be one way with that, and that there be no early season training.

Dr. Moynahan Hopeful.

Dr. Moynahan of St. Thomas is less pessimistic and hopes to see a modification of the game, but that it will eliminate some of the objectionable features. He believes public opinion will demand and secure changes for the better. Professionalism and brutality are in his opinion the greatest evils of the game. He believes the colleges have imbibed some of the evils of university football and that they will as quickly adopt any reform measures. "With open play and an approximation of the association rules, I favor the retention of the game," he says.

The high school principals, especially Mr. Weibrecht of the Mechanics Arts, believe the game is too strenuous for high school boys, who, as a rule, are not sufficiently mature to withstand hard play without danger of permanent injury. They believe the high school should not attempt to play teams out of their own class in weight and age, and that in such contests a handicapping system should be adopted. They do not believe that high school football is characterized by any special brutality, but see objections in the interference with studies, and the tendency to gambling and to the placing of bets on their respective teams.

High School Football.

High school football is more under the control of the principals, who have the power to select players even when they have filled out their quota with regard to age and work in school. The principals also control the finances.

Professor Robertson sees the same danger in college football, where a physical injury to immature athletes has fallen his students, who, he admits, have been well trained. He believes that high school teams should not be allowed to play with heavier college teams, and that teams of greater weight and superior strength.

ARRANGEMENT COMMITTEES WANT TO MAKE G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT IN MINNEAPOLIS FINEST IN HISTORY.

If ample preparation will make a success of the national G. A. R. encampment next summer, the Minneapolis encampment will be the finest in history. The G. A. R. bodies of the city, together with other interested organizations, have asked the Commercial club to make arrangements for the work of preparation. The public affairs committee of the club is especially well equipped to handle the vast amount of detail necessary, as its complete organization will enable the workers to work to much better advantage than would be possible with a special temporary organization.

Tomorrow evening Wallace G. Nye, secretary of the committee, will leave for Denver to confer with those who had charge of the encampment there last year. The committee believes that in this way many valuable suggestions can be secured and mistakes made last year avoided. Mr. Nye will go to the entire work of the Denver committee and will report to the committee and special advisory G. A. R. committee.

Dr. J. C. Tanner, the commanding-in-chief of the G. A. R., will visit Minneapolis to confer with the local committees and to definitely set the date of the encampment. The time in July is preferred by the local interests, although the encampments of later years have been held later in the summer.

SOFT COAL TAKES A JUMP UPWARD TODAY

Soft coal takes a jump upward today. The advance applies to steam and domestic coals. Smokeless coal is practically out of the market, or will be in a few weeks.

The coal is the justification offered by the barons for an advance which has long been predicted. Youghogheny, Hoeking and similar coals for steam purposes will sell at a deplorable price. These coals will retail at $6 a ton for domestic purposes. Washed coal will sell on a $7.75 retail basis and Illinois lump at $5.

The smokeless coal is about to take its departure from the northwest as its favorite fuel. The supply in houses is low. At the lake docks the smokeless is practically cleaned and is gradually passing from a lake and rail coal to an all-rail coal. It is predicted that it will remain in this class, but because eastern lines will not allow cars to pass from their jurisdiction it will be seen that smokeless is likely soon to be rated among the extinct fuels as far as Minneapolis is concerned.

DR. MONTGOMERY TO TRY DENVER AGAIN

Much hangs on the effect that the Denver altitude will have on Dr. J. S. Montgomery when he preaches in his old pulpit at Trinity Methodist church, Denver, next Sunday. When Dr. Montgomery first went to Denver he was affected by the altitude within three days. If he does not feel bad results from his visit to this week it is possible that Trinity church may be able to regain him as pastor, although it has accepted his resignation.

Dr. Montgomery left Minneapolis last night for Denver, where his household goods still remain. He boarded the train he had expressed no decision as to his future, although opportunities were plentiful. Trinity is loath to give Dr. Montgomery up and when his officers make up their minds to anything it is hard to withstand them. For this reason it is possible that, barring climate hindrances, Dr. Montgomery may be induced to remain at Trinity. However, no refusal or acceptance of his call has been offered to Powell church official board.

Mrs. Montgomery is at the Hampshire Arms.

PROHIBITIONISTS MEET

Will Hold a County Convention and Hear Noted Speaker.

The prohibitionists of Hennepin county will meet in convention Tuesday, Dec. 4, at 2 p. m., for the purpose of electing delegates to the county nominating convention, to be held soon after the first of the month at a new county committee. The meeting will be held at the new Richmond hall, Third avenue S and Fifth street. The call is issued by D. Engle, chairman of the county committee.

The convention will be followed by the annual state prohibition banquet, to be held at the same place at 6:30. The principal speaker at the convention will be Dr. E. L. Eaton of Pittsburg, Pa., an eminent prohibition orator who has met with great success in his work and addresses. "No man in reform work," said a Chicago daily recently, "has done more in recent years ever received a more inspiring and recent testimonial of admiration and confidence than has Dr. Eaton."

Dr. Eaton will also speak at the banquet in the evening, and others will talk informally on that occasion.

HONOR FIRST MINNESOTA PASSENGERS IN SOO TRAIN PRISONERS IN BLIZZARD.

DAKOTA PRAIRIE

For Sixty-five Hours Travelers Had Nothing to Eat but Bread and Cold Meat Brought by Section Crew from Nearest Station—Train Pulls in Three Days Late.

Seventeen survivors of the gallant old First Minnesota, together with about eighty-five friends and relatives, gathered in the old capitol building in St. Paul yesterday, for the fourth annual Thanksgiving meeting and supper. The aged veterans, most of them bearing wounds received in the service, were the guests of honor.

Following the dinner, Captain R. L. McGregor, as toastmaster, introduced the speakers of the evening and directed the interesting program. Rev. Alexander McGregor urged that the history and deeds of the regiment be made a special lesson in patriotism and devotion to country for the school children of Minnesota. Judge John W. Willis offered a handsome verbal tribute to the battle-scarred veterans.

"When I was a boy of 6 years," he said, "I saw the First Minnesota march away, 1,140 strong, and three years later I saw what was left of the regiment come back, 309 men. Out of that gallant host 831 men fell on the battlefield or were stricken with malaria."

"The fame of the First Minnesota is assured forever, and in generations to come and whose deeds of heroism are mentioned with pride, the name of the regiment will be ever discussed. Men will say a hundred years hence 'My grandfather was a member of the First Minnesota.' The fact and glory of this gallant regiment will never fade, and the pen of the historian can never trace the history of the nation without inscribing in bold letters the name of the First Minnesota regiment and an account of its glorious deeds."

Music numbers were furnished by Mrs. J. C. Tanner and Mrs. W. Segor, Miss Brodie, Miss Henniger and an orchestra.

The ladies in charge of the evening's dinner and program were Miss Miller, Mrs. J. C. Tanner, Mrs. J. C. Tanner, Mrs. Benson, Mrs. A. Bolton and Miss Chaney.

STRICKEN JUST AFTER THANKSGIVING DINNER

Felix A. Newman, 2536 Tenth avenue S., died suddenly of apoplexy last evening just after finishing his Thanksgiving dinner. His death was a great shock to the family, for he was apparently in the best of health, and after the meal was making paper toys for the baby when he was stricken. He fell back in his chair unconscious and died before a physician could do anything for him.

Mr. Newman was 38 years old and had been a clerk in the postoffice for eight years. He is survived by a widow and three children. Funeral announcement will be made later.

STALLED ON IGY DAKOTA PRAIRIE

For Sixty-five Hours Travelers Had Nothing to Eat but Bread and Cold Meat Brought by Section Crew from Nearest Station—Train Pulls in Three Days Late.

The force of the cold wave is broken and the thermometer is steadily rising, the after effects of the cold and storm of the past three days are still very evident at the railway stations. Yesterday evening train No. 18 on the Soo pulled in three days late. For sixty-five hours the train, crowded with passengers, was stalled in a blizzard on the North Dakota prairie. The passengers had nothing to eat but cold meat and bread brought by a section crew from the nearest station. The first night of their imprisonment the thermometer went down to -14 degrees, the second night to -16 and the third night to -24.

At the union depot the traincar is about as bad. Great Northern No. 2, due here at 12:35 p. m. yesterday, was so late that it was run in as a second section of No. 8, which was due here from Fargo at 7:35 a. m. today, but lost time steadily on the down run and did not pull in till nearly noon. No. 6 on the Ferrus Falls division, due here at 7:10 a. m., has been annulled. On the Northern Pacific, No. 8, due here at 6:50 a. m., was five hours late, and now, due at 7:05, was also five hours late.

The telephone companies now have their regular winter force in the field and have ceased to regard breaks as out of the ordinary run of business. With winter weather settled down, there are bound to be a certain number of interruptions, and the companies are preparing to meet them by keeping good line crews in readiness at all times.

The weather itself has shown a decided change since yesterday. At 8 a. m. today the government thermometer registered 20 degrees, while at the same hour yesterday the reading was -8 degrees. Reports from the west and northwest show that the back of the cold wave is broken and that a section of warmer atmosphere is moving this way.

Weather statistics for the month of November just passed are not yet complete, but even the incomplete returns are somewhat interesting facts. There were only three days in the past month on which the temperature did not go below the freezing point. The total precipitation—2.47 inches—was considerably in excess of the average precipitation for the month—1.21 inches.

Ellen Thorneycroft Fowler (Mrs. A. T. Felkin), author of "Concerning Isabel Carney" and other famous stories, has written a short series of essays, this one entitled "The Art of Being Disagreeable." Mrs. Felkin finds three kinds of disagreeable people—and she has lectures on each of them. Disagreeable people, she maintains, are a public nuisance that must be publicly attacked and publicly put down, and she is aiming against the common weal as long as we leave them to continue their pernicious course un molested. She will tell all about them in The Journal's great magazine next Sunday.

PROHIBITIONISTS MEET

Will Hold a County Convention and Hear Noted Speaker.

The prohibitionists of Hennepin county will meet in convention Tuesday, Dec. 4, at 2 p. m., for the purpose of electing delegates to the county nominating convention, to be held soon after the first of the month at a new county committee. The meeting will be held at the new Richmond hall, Third avenue S and Fifth street. The call is issued by D. Engle, chairman of the county committee.

The convention will be followed by the annual state prohibition banquet, to be held at the same place at 6:30. The principal speaker at the convention will be Dr. E. L. Eaton of Pittsburg, Pa., an eminent prohibition orator who has met with great success in his work and addresses. "No man in reform work," said a Chicago daily recently, "has done more in recent years ever received a more inspiring and recent testimonial of admiration and confidence than has Dr. Eaton."

Dr. Eaton will also speak at the banquet in the evening, and others will talk informally on that occasion.
