Women bestow on friendship what they borrow from love.

Mrs. Alonzo T. Rand gave a handsomely appointed dancing party last evening at her home on Franklin avenue for her daughter, Miss Rebecca Semple. Christmas greens and smilax were used for the room's decoration. Clusters of poinsettia blossoms, vividly effective against the green tangles. Southern smilax trailed its glossy leaves over the woodwork and was caught here and there with a holly leaf or a knot of bright scarlet ribbon. The beautiful Florentine fountain in the hall was banked with ferns and palms while the great lily pads rested lightly on the waters in the marble basin. Everywhere was the riotous tangle of greens, suggestive of the joyous holiday season and forming a most effective setting for many of the most treasured of the house. Mr. and Mrs. Rand and Miss Semple received their guests in the drawing-room. Mrs. Rand wore a white point applique empire gown over white silk with a courtly train and a wide ruffle of gold tulle. Her ornaments were a diamond tiara, a family heirloom, and a collar of pearls and a necklace of diamonds and emeralds. Miss Semple's gown was white point de esprit over white with garlands and old-fashioned pink wall-flowers looped on skirt and bodice, and she wore a necklace of pearls.

green above a bank of palms and pine. Suspended from the green were bright wedding bells, and bows of green were fastened among the foliage. Miss Lotie Roosen and Miss Florence Earl played the nuptial music on their flutes with piano accompaniment by Everett McElroy. The Mendelssohn march was the professional music and following the service, the "Flower Song" and other selections were played.

Miss Laura Ott and Mrs. Orr were met at the improvised altar by Dr. Orr. She was gowned in heliotrope silk accented with white trimmings of fine lace. The bouquet was of bride roses.

During the informal reception which followed the service Dr. and Mrs. Orr were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. William Lang of New Prague, and Mr. and Mrs. McElroy. Mrs. Fred L. Gray presided in the dining room, assisted by a bevy of young girls, Misses Vera Jones, Irene Parker, Abbie Reed and Marion Fish. The decorations were in red roses and smilax. The center piece was a basket of roses, and red satin ribbons were stretched over the cloth and caught in large bows at the corners of the table.

Dr. and Mrs. Orr left in the evening for New Prague where they will be at home after Jan. 5. Mrs. Orr wore a handsome going-away gown of black with a fur coat and hat to match. Among the guests from out of the city were Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Goodrich of La Crosse, Dr. and Mrs. Osborne Orr, a brother and sister of the bridegroom from Jordan, Minn.; Dr. Carl Jones of Huron, S. D.; Edward Bennett of Winnipeg; Frank Spofford of Sprague, Miss Helen Quilan of Chaska; Mrs. Taylor and Miss May Harrington, St. Paul.

Miss Claudia Wold and Louis Mosthal of Rugby, N. D., were married last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Odin Wold, 818 Fourth street SE. About sixty guests witnessed the service, which was read by Rev. Charles F. Hubbard. The decorations were of Christmas greens. Miss Polly Wold played the wedding march, and Mrs. Wold was her sister's maid of honor, and wore white and carried pink carnations. The bride was in white crepe de chine and her flowers were bride roses. Mathew Mosthal of Madelia, Minn., was best man. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wold of Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Mosthal and his bride will make their home in Rugby, where Mr. Mosthal is an attorney.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mansfield of New York were honor guests Wednesday evening at a dinner of ten covers which was given at the Plaza by John S. Bradstreet. Clusters of pink and white roses in Japanese urns and vases furnished a quaint table decoration and the place settings were ornamented with sketches of geisha girls.

After dinner there was a reception and musicale at the Crafts House on Seventh street S. in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield. Unfortunately Mr. Bradstreet was unable to be present on account of illness. Receiving with Mrs. Mansfield were Meses, Charles J. Martin, W. D. Washburn, Jr., Morris L. Hallowell, George Porter and William G. Northrup. Mrs. Mansfield's program of songs. The Crafts House with its wealth of art treasures needs little decoration, but flowers were used in the quaint Japanese fashion and the great oriental lanterns cast a soft glow thru the rooms. The guests included fifty of the old friends of Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield.

Miss Amy Agate and William I. Roerig were married Wednesday at high noon at the home of Rev. Father Harrington, Gray. The bride was a daughter of Mrs. Wm. Verne, and her father was flower girl and ring bearer. Harry Bartlett acted as best man. The bride's gown was of cream silk chiffon with a white feather hat, trimmed with violets and chiffon and carried bride roses. Mrs. Armstrong was in white cashmere with a hat of pale blue feathers and carried pink carnations. The little flower girl wore a frock of white silk and lace and carried a basket of pink roses. The wedding breakfast was served to the bridal party after the service.

About fifty guests attended the reception which was given in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Roerig will receive after Jan. 1 at 56 Thirtieth street S.

Minneapolis people at New York hotels are as follows: Hollander, N. Threlk, Marlborough, E. D. Butler; Herald Square, W. G. Gooding; Woodward, W. A. Benton.

Supper was served at midnight from small tables arranged in the dining-room, where American Beauty roses nodded their heavy heads on table and buffet, or were held captive in an antique urn above the great fireplace. The punch table was in the library, where the bowl was almost hidden by the poinsettia blossoms. The guests included 250 of the younger set, and among them were several Yule men, Theodore Jeckle, who is a guest at the Partridge residence; James Cunningham of New York and Mr. Crane of Dayton, Ohio, guests of Sumner T. McKnight, and Miss Newport and Reece Newport from St. Paul and Ogden Hammond of Duluth.

Mr. and Mrs. Le Grand Powers of Washington, D. C. formerly of Minneapolis announce the engagement of their daughter, Irma Inelle, to Ernest H. Koch of Philadelphia. Miss Powers is a graduate of the Central high school, a former student in the University of Minnesota, and a recent graduate of Pratt institute of Brooklyn, N. Y. which is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, and has taken postgraduate courses at Harvard, Cornell and Columbia. He is a member of the faculty of Pratt school of science and technology. The wedding will take place the coming summer.

Mrs. George W. Porter has issued invitations for a luncheon and bridge whist party which she will give Saturday afternoon, Jan. 6, at the Plaza for Miss Marion Partridge and Miss Rebecca Semple.

As so many of the young people will have to leave early in the week to return to school and college, Mrs. George H. Partridge has changed the date of the holiday dance she will give to her daughters from Tuesday evening to Monday night, and it will be one of the attractive affairs of New Year's.
