

Dismore is a member, will also entertain before her wedding, and Mrs. Louis Koch will give the bridal dinner at her home on Second avenue S. Wednesday evening, Jan. 17.

A group of well-known women, Meses. Eibert L. Carpenter, James Gray, Hugh G. Harrison, David P. Jones, Preston King, Reginald H. Passmore, William Passmore, David F. Simpson, D. Edmund Smith, Andrew S. Ueland, Frederick C. Van Jusen, Thomas G. Winter, will act as patronesses for the very delightful evening which Miss Sara Cone Bryant will give in the Unitarian church Tuesday. Miss Bryant's program will include the stories and songs of Ireland and she will perfect it with a brief explanation of what the Gaelic league has accomplished in Ireland. Tickets may be obtained at the Metropolitan Music store.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pease entertained at dinner last night at their home 2421 Girard avenue. Covers were laid for eighteen and the appointments were in red. Large clusters of poinsettias were arranged among the green palms and ferns, and a bouquet of the flowers made the centerpiece. The lights were shaded in red, and the name cards were decorated with a water color design of poinsettias.

It is quite the custom, and a delightful one at that, to go away for the winter and to be able to spend a whole season either south or on the Pacific coast, where there is no snow and ice, no streets covered deep with snow, no blustering winds from the northwest to make the days bleak and dreary. If Minneapolis people play truant they cannot be blamed. After a winter of two in the north, the Minneapolisites get the "winter-home fever," and that is the reason a dozen or more of our travelers are touring either in the south or on the coast just "looking around." "Just looking around" means making up their minds whether they will build a winter home or not, at least that is the way one of our society women informs it. It will not be so very long before Minneapolis residents will flit back and forth between Minneapolis and Florida or Minneapolis and southern California, just as they are doing now between Minneapolis and Lake Minnetonka. They will have a home either at Daytona or at Nassau or those who prefer California will choose Pasadena or Riverside. Of course, the servants will have to be taken along, and the servant problem will be most satisfactorily solved, as there is no record of a maid having refused to accompany the family on a winter's sojourn.

Along the Indian river in Florida, at pretty Ft. Pierce, there is a little colony of winter guests. They live in about the same way as do our lake people at the Lafayette club. There is a charming clubhouse with cottages surrounding it for families. Mrs. Josiah Thompson has one of the cottages, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Modisette are domiciled in another. Mrs. J. W. Raymond has a winter home at Pasadena, Cal., and Mr. and Mrs. John W. Sewell will leave some time this month for Pasadena to "look around." Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Miller left Monday evening for Havana, which in all probability will become their permanent winter home. Mrs. Miller is now quite an enthusiastic about living in Havana, and Mr. Miller after his first visit, and thought large estate will have a fine home built on it before long.

Mrs. Frederick B. Wells gave a delightful children's party Tuesday afternoon at her home on Oak avenue for Mary and Thomas Wells. About fifty small boys and girls with their mothers and nurses gathered in the nursery, which was attractively decorated with flowers and greens and listened to a program of holiday stories told by Miss Sara Cone Bryant.

Mrs. Howard Mansfield, who was in Minneapolis for the Dean-Northrup wedding, returned to New York just in time to fill her place as one of the hostesses at an afternoon tea in honor of Miss Sembrich, Thursday afternoon. The tea was given after a charming recital which Mrs. Sembrich gave for the benefit of the Music School settlement on East Third street in the studio of A. A. Anderson. Mrs. Mansfield is one of the directors of the settlement.

Miss George Weaver of 1605 East Twenty-seventh street entertained at theater party at the Orpheum last evening in honor of her cousin, Miss Flora Hatch of Hewitt, Minn. Miss Dora Nickerson of 45 Spruce place gave a dinner New Year's in honor of Miss Hatch. Covers were laid for ten.

M. J. Scanlon was host at a banquet for the members of the Optimist club Friday evening at the Plaza. The banquet table was handsomely decked with American Beauty roses, and covers were laid for twenty-five. Frank G. Walker was toastmaster and responses were made by Victor Weatherly, L. C. Davis, Eugene Yates, George Partridge, Harry Coolidge and Orlando Waiving.

The pretty ballroom that has just been completed at 1207 Hennepin avenue will be formally opened Monday evening, Jan. 15, when Mrs. S. H. Noble will give a dance for the married people.

The new ballroom promises to be a popular place for dances and a number of parties will be given there. The Saturday Night club has already made arrangements for a dance to be given Saturday evening, Jan. 27. Mrs. E. F. Osborne and Mrs. W. E. Ford are the officers who are making arrangements for the affair.

Mrs. George Kampff entertained the members of the Deutscher Frauen club at her home, 2300 Marshall street N.E., Thursday afternoon. Six-hand euchre was played and light refreshments were served at the close of the games. The rooms were decorated in the German and American colors and bouquets of fragrant flowers stood here and there. Meses. T. Mareek, Edwin Aich and Burns assisted the hostess. Thirty guests were present. During the afternoon the tickets for the annual ball of the Deutscher Frauen club, which is to be given Jan. 24, were distributed. The plan for the affair was discussed. The ball is always one of the very prominent mid-winter events, and the women are planning to make it unusually attractive this season.

John F. Wilcox entertained at his country home, Old Orchard, Wilburst, Lake Minnetonka, Saturday, for a number of men who have been associated with him in business for the past twenty years. In the afternoon the men enjoyed ice boating, sleighing and other winter sports and in the evening they gathered around the glowing log fire and told stories. Present were George A. Wheaton, George W. Coburn, Fred E. Coburn, Ole DeBach, Del Lambert, Frank Paul, James Long, Oscar E. Johnston, G. W. Lewis, Frank E. Wilcox, Harry E. Wilcox and R. D. Wilcox.

Willett Bunyan and Lloyd Dunnean of Minneapolis are two of the six boys from the northwest who are now on the way to East Coast, Fla. They are students of the Louisville, Ky., military institute. Friday evening the entire institute, about one hundred and ten boys, left for Florida, accompanied by the faculty and the whole household to remain in Florida for the coming three months. The trip was made on a special train and some time will be spent in Daytona and St. Augustine, Fla. The winter sojourn will be arranged in accommodation with the rules of a strictly conducted military camp, but the severe regulations will be relieved by the charming surroundings and by the many pleasant out-of-doors sports which are to be provided.

Mrs. M. Friebe of Girard avenue N. entertained at her home Friday afternoon for Mrs. Martin Abraham of Mitchell, S. D. Mrs. Abraham was formerly Miss Adela Sherer of this city and twelve guests had been invited to a handsomely appointed luncheon to meet her. Pink carnations, palms and ferns were used in the reception room. The centerpiece in the dining room was a large basket of white carnations and similar. Mrs. Sherer will entertain a pretty post-nuptial affair next week.

Miss Florence M. Mason and John I. Rittenhouse were quietly married at the home of the bride, 1023 Sixth avenue S. Mrs. Rittenhouse is a well known telephone worker in the state. Miss Agnes M. Nelson and Earl H. Hewitt of Minneapolis were married Wednesday, Dec. 26, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Nelson in Red Wing, Minn. Miss Alma Nelson was maid of honor and Lew F. Hewitt of Minneapolis was best man. Rev. G. Rast read the service. Mr. Hewitt and his bride are at home in Minneapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster Reid Clement are at Hotel Del Coronado, Cal., for a short visit. Later they will go to Los Angeles for a week or two and then return to the Coronado for a longer stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Hall and son and Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Hall will leave Wednesday for Pasadena, Cal., to spend the remainder of the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Scanlon expect to leave Monday, Jan. 15, for a trip to Cuba and Bermuda.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Walker will leave this evening for Jamaica.

M. J. Mallon left last evening for New York.

Edwin J. Fisher and daughter, Margharita, with Miss Clara Fisher left Wednesday for California to spend the rest of the winter in Pasadena.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Carpenter have moved to 1774 Bryant avenue S for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Thorp have returned from their trip to California by Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Couch and Miss Etta Couch. They expect to leave in about two weeks, and will make a winter home in Santa Ana.

Lindsay S. Smith left for Yale college Friday evening to resume his studies.

Miss Edith Hazen, who has been spending the week with her aunt, Mrs. J. L. Smith, left for her home in Duluth Friday morning.

Mrs. J. W. Add and Mrs. Russell Dibble will leave tomorrow evening for Florida for the remainder of the winter. They will go first to Daytona and later visit several of the other resorts.

Miss Alice Ball, of Cleveland, Ohio, who has been visiting Miss Caroline Sewall, will return to her home this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Porter will leave Jan. 15 for Pasadena, Cal., to spend the remainder of the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Rand left last night for Bryn Mawr college to continue her studies. Miss Rand was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. R. R. Rand, as far as Chicago.

Mrs. M. B. Koon are expecting to leave the end of next week for a winter trip.

John DeLaitre and Miss DeLaitre are planning a trip to Japan, and will probably go some time in February.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Fayram are contemplating a trip to Jamaica later in the winter.

Miss Marie Cool, daughter of Dr. B. A. Cool, and Mrs. Harry Cool and daughter leave for New York this evening to spend the rest of the winter visiting friends.

E. J. Phelps is making an automobile trip from Los Angeles to San Francisco in his 40-horse power. Mr. Phelps is accompanied by his sons, Mrs. Phelps and Miss Phelps joined him at Santa Barbara and went north by rail.

In California.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Chapman of Viola, Minn., and Mr. and Mrs. Burton of Elgin, Minn., were holiday guests of R. J. Cunningham and family at Long Beach.

Miss Alice Brown of Austin, Minn., has arrived at Santa Barbara to spend the winter with her sister, Mrs. R. C. Hunt.

Miss Myrtle Butchard of Duluth is in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Shepperd and children are at La Jolla for the remainder of the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Kearney and daughter of Minneapolis are at Redlands.

H. A. Colt, of Albert Lea, Minn., is the guest of his father, William Colt, of Whittier.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Richardson have arrived in Los Angeles for the winter.

Mrs. Harry Newton of St. Paul is the guest of friends in Santa Ana.

Mrs. W. H. Hammond of St. Paul is in Santa Monica.

J. W. Squire of Sherburne, Minn., has bought an orange ranch near Upland and will take his family there this month.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Phelps and Miss Ruth Phelps of Minneapolis have arrived at Pasadena.

Mrs. Ellen Bradley and Miss Callie Bradley of St. Paul, who are visiting Mrs. T. L. Harding of Los Angeles, were guests of honor at a dinner which was given by Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Johnson at Casa Verdugo. The dinner was served in the old Spanish style.

H. P. Courtney of Minneapolis is in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Helen Christie of Austin, Minn., will arrive shortly to be with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Gates, in Compton.

J. W. Guernsey of Mankato, Minn., is visiting Dr. W. Geomans in Whittier.

Mrs. Clarence Barlowe of Redlands have gone to Minneapolis to spend several weeks.

A Budget of Society Chat From the National Capitol

MISS HELEN CANNON, Who, as Daughter of Speaker Cannon, is a Social Leader in the Congressional Circle.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6. THE first presidential reception of the present season took place at the White House Thursday night and 2,000 invitations were issued for it. This first reception was to the ambassadorial and ministerial corps and was the most brilliant of the winter, because of the presence of the diplomats in full court dress. Mrs. Roosevelt looked unusually well in her inaugural ball-gown of a soft shade of blue satin, brocaded in silver, the pattern being a flight of small birds. She carried a bunch of white roses. Miss Roosevelt wore light blue with effective lace trimmings. Miss Roosevelt and her fiancé were a center of attraction and they stood the scrutiny well. Senator and Mrs. La Follette were among the guests and they too came in for a good deal of attention. It was their first social event of this sort since the senator was a member of congress years ago.

Of the many youthful pictures of Miss Roosevelt now in circulation, one which includes her mother and baby Alice at 2 years old or thereabouts is most interesting. The first Mrs. Roosevelt was Alice Lee, a daughter of George Lee. A recent article in a Boston paper says: "Theodore Roosevelt met Miss Alice Lee when he was a student at Harvard college, and called often at her father's beautiful home at Chestnut Hill. The Lee estate is one of the most beautiful in that region of fine homes, and the house is, or rather the houses are, since there are several of them on the estate, all dignified and elegant without being prideful. The houses were occupied when Miss Roosevelt was a little girl by three aunts, sisters of Miss Roosevelt's mother. They were Mrs. Sewell A. Fessenden, Mrs. Reginald Gray and Mrs. George Saltonstall Mumford. All the men of these families were well-known figures in State street, where all of them were in business. Alice Lee's life as wife of Theodore Roosevelt was full of happiness. She was a woman of the greatest charm and sweetness of manner, and many people see in her daughter, a replica of her character. Miss Alice Roosevelt was always, from her earliest days, a great favorite in the family of her grandfather, George Lee. She has spent several weeks every summer in Brookline all her life until the last few years. And while there she has always gone to church on Sundays in the little wooden structure, just at the entrance to the grounds of the Lee estate, in which her mother was married. The building is indeed owned by the Lee estate, and Mr. Lee gave half of it for the use of a private school for the children of the neighborhood." The Longworth fortune, of which so much is said nowadays, was founded much as the Astor millions were. The great-grandfather of the future husband of the president's daughter was Nicholas Longworth, who was born in Newnam, N. J., in 1789 and went out to Cincinnati in 1803, the year that Ohio became a state. There were probably a thousand inhabitants in the town. He invested his small means in land. For the first time he won at law he received two copper whisky stills. These he exchanged for thirty-three acres of woodland, which before he died had a value of $2,000,000. By 1819 his holdings were so large that he was obliged to give up his profession to take care of his property. When he died in 1863 his estate was valued at $15,000,000, and was divided between his two sons—Joseph and Nicholas. The daughter of the former is Maria, wife of Bellamy Storer, United States ambassador to Austria-Hungary, who founded the Rockwood pottery. Nicholas Longworth left his large fortune to his wife, and it will not be long after her death that Clara, who married Count de Chambrun, Annie, who is the wife of Buckner Wallingford, of Cincinnati, and Representative Longworth will come into possession, altho of late years Mrs. Longworth has, from time to time, transferred valuable properties to her children, each in turn.

Miss Helen Cannon, the daughter of the speaker of the house of representatives, is a striking success as the leading lady in the congressional circle. She is a brilliant, tactful and gracious woman and has proved herself fully equal to her prominent position. She has presided at a series of weekly dinners all winter that have made the speaker's home a noted center of hospitality. She has supplemented these with a round of teas on her own behalf which have been greatly enjoyed by the ladies of the official circle.

The secretary of the navy and Mrs. Bonaparte will be the hosts of the president and Mrs. Roosevelt in a formal state dinner on board the U. S. S. Mayflower, Feb. 2.

The dinner company will include thirty guests, who will be received in the historic cabin where the president presented the Russian and Japanese plenipotentiaries to one another on Aug. 5. This will probably be the first time the president has been aboard the Mayflower since that memorable day. The secretary and Mrs. Bonaparte have a home in Baltimore and a country place in the suburbs of that city. They have rented apartments for the winter in Washington, and the secretary will follow the custom of Secretary Long, who gave his first cabinet dinner to the president on board the Dolphin.

Lieutenant Commander Andrew T. Long, commander of the Mayflower, has brought his ship from Alexandria to the navyyard, where she is berthed alongside the landing. Miss Anna Dewey Paulding will again spend a Washington winter with her uncle, Chauncey M. Dewey, at his new house on N and Eighteenth streets, and thus again enter the matrimonial lists in which she was such a prominent figure some four or five years ago. Miss Paulding has a handsome fortune in her own name, and altho not a beauty, yet instant popularity among the titled youths and ambitious mammas at the capital. The aspirants to her hand and dowry have been many, but none has approached so near the goal as did young Edie, at that time an enthusiastic heiress hunter. His courtship was brief and brilliant. The engagement of the couple was announced with a fanfare of trumpets from the Corean house, then occupied by the New York gentleman. When young Edie appeared too solicitous concerning the marriage portion which Miss Paulding was to bring with her to the altar, the careful uncle decided that one high financier in the family was enough, and promptly had the engagement broken.

As a form of entertainment the theater party has proved immensely popular in Washington, and altho some of the older people think it makes rather a long evening, the younger guests find it so eminently satisfactory that the fashion grows in favor each year. It is possible to make a theater party rather simple or a most elaborate affair, and this, of course, adds to its popularity, for it affords such a good field for getting ahead of one's best friends in the matter of expense, and besides it takes a lot of responsibility off a hostess' shoulders.

Mrs. Lorraine Roosevelt makes her debut in New York this season, and later on she is to come to Washington for some festivities here. Miss Roosevelt is the daughter of Mrs. J. West Roosevelt, and has made her bow to society at a series of homes given by her mother, and now is to make a more dramatic entry into the social world at a dance to be given for her at Sherry's by Mrs. Robert M. Thompson. Mrs. Thompson, it will be remembered, was a Miss Gibbs, as was also Mrs. D'Orion. Mrs. Roosevelt's mother. This season is to be the debutante of the year only, but is to be very charming and attractive.

Mrs. Robert W. Patterson has returned to her marble palace on Dupont circle and will inaugurate a campaign of gaiety which had originally been planned to take place when she first occupied her new home in Washington, but which was interrupted by her daughter's marriage to Count Gayzki and the countess' subsequent illness on her husband's estate in Poland.

Ex-Senator John M. Thurston of Nebraska announces the engagement of his daughter, Miss Mary M. Thurston, to Omaha, Mr. Barrow is the son of B. H. Barrow, formerly consul general to Dublin, and is now spending the holidays as the guest of William M. Thurston. The wedding will take place in the early spring, after which the young couple will make their home in the west.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Belmont, who promise to be a very distinct acquisition to Washington's winter colony, have arranged for a music at their home on Scott circle late in January. The star of the occasion is to be Caruso, the tenor of the Metropolitan Opera company, now delighting New York audiences.

Mrs. Peirce, wife of the future minister to Norway, is now with her husband at the Arlington, where she will be at home Mondays in January, beginning tomorrow. The beneficiaries' ball, something new in the way of dances, will be inaugurated at the New Willard on Feb. 9. The subscribers, including ten of the prominent young married men of the city, will each invite four couples and five chaperones, limiting the number of guests to 150. The affair will take place at 10:30 p.m. and supper will be served at 12:30, after which the cotillion of fifty couples will be danced.

The bachelors' german will take place at the New Willard Wednesday. Mrs. John Davis will receive, assisted by the committee, which includes Major Charles L. McCawley, P. Lee Phillips, Major Montgomery Macomb, Reginald Huidkoper, J. M. Carlisle, William R. Hitt and George Howard. The favors will consist of green wicker baskets, decorated with holly, hatpin cushions of red and white, and a pair of shoes with a fan attached to the end, for women, while for the men there will be flat gold pencils and paper cutters adorned with a parrot head. There will also be flower favors of red roses and carnations for both men and women.

Young People's Entertainment. The young people of the Portland Avenue Church of Christ, Portland avenue and Grant street, will give an entertainment in the church parlors Wednesday evening. The young men will have charge of the first half of the program and the young ladies the last half. No admission will be charged and no collection will be taken.

Chicago rules the world's prices for hides. Hides which six years ago were selling at 8 cents a pound are now realizing over 15 cents, or a higher price than beef itself.

Our Final Reductions in Furs

Ours is among the largest stock of Fine Furs in the city.

Fur Coats, Scarfs, Throws and Muffs at Unheard-of Prices

ABSOLUTELY never before in our past experience or to our knowledge have Furs of equal merit been sold so low—comparison will show that the prices are most extraordinary—an equal opportunity has never occurred in Minneapolis to buy such Furs at these prices.

WE are not a "year round" Fur House, although we do sell Furs at the lowest possible margin during the winter months. We never carry any over the season, no matter how great the stock or the loss when the time comes for our Annual Clearance. We positively make a clean sweep. Our furs are beautiful—carefully selected—no jobs—no tag ends—no cull over assortments of Fur Manufacturers—each piece is of the highest grade of its class.
