

MISS MARIAN McCULLOCH, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. McCulloch, has chosen Wednesday, Feb. 21, as the date of her marriage to Dr. John B. Maguire, of Lexington, Ky., and the ceremony will be quietly solemnized at the McCulloch home on Bryant avenue S. Miss McCulloch was one of the group of prettiest debutantes of the season as she was only recently introduced by her mother at a large reception in November. Indeed, this has been an eventful year for her as her graduation from Campbell-Hagerman college in Lexington in June was followed in November by her coming-out party. The announcement of her engagement was made shortly after and now her marriage will take place in considerably less than a year.

Dr. Maguire belongs to an old Kentucky family that has been prominent in the affairs of Lexington for many years. He spent last summer abroad studying in the hospitals of Vienna, Paris and London and is one of the leading young surgeons of his home town. Dr. Maguire spent the holidays as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. McCulloch and his visit was a round of gaieties, as the many friends of his fiancée were anxious to entertain for them during his stay so there was some affair on for every day.

Miss McCulloch will have as her maid of honor at her wedding Miss Elizabeth Laudeman, of Lexington, Ky., who is a relative of Dr. Maguire's, and she will come north about the middle of February.

Mrs. Albert W. Strong will issue invitations the first of the week for a large reception which she will give Thursday afternoon, Jan. 25, from 4 until 6 o'clock, at her home, 2324 Pillsbury avenue, in honor of Mrs. H. S. Kirtland, of Youngstown, Ohio. Mrs. Kirtland has come to Minneapolis to spend several months with her son, Lucian S. Kirtland, and is with him at the Virginia.

Jingle, jingle, jingle. The sleighbells kept up a ringing accompaniment to many a merry sleighing party last week, and the Minikahda club was a rallying place for the young people who found nothing more delightful than a bob ride to the club for the skating and tobogganing. The weather was perfect, the way flooded with moonlight and never was there more enjoyable sport.

Minneapolis is really fortunate in having so many places within easy driving distance for a supper or a dance. The club is hardly far enough for a long ride but the parks—Merriam, St. Anthony, Hamline—or St. Paul, Fort Snelling or Hopkins are popular places for sleighing parties to visit, and so long as the weather remains mild, the club will prove a most popular form of amusement.

The Minikahda club had a good share of guests last evening in spite of the weather. Miss Leila Winston entertained a party at the club and Mrs. L. B. Newell chaperoned the young people. During the evening other groups of the younger married and unmarried sets gathered for an informal dance.

Mrs. I. L. Corse, Mrs. W. S. Dwinell and Mrs. C. T. Jaffray gave a tobogganing party for the younger people and entertained thirty-five guests Thursday evening. Supper was served in the dining-room of the club. The tobogganing party which Miss Bernadette Kelley was to have given Thursday had to be postponed until the coming week. Miss Kelley's guests will spend the evening at tobogganing and coasting and a dinner will be served.

The names of the new committee on entertainments for the club have been announced and with F. B. Wells, as presiding chairman, Mrs. F. T. Heffelfinger, Charles S. Pillsbury, Mrs. L. B. Newell, David Tenney, Miss M. E. Heffelfinger, W. G. Hudson and Charles S. Albert will have charge of the doings at the club.

The Wells college clubwomen have been comparing notes at a special meeting held Tuesday at the home of Miss Marjorie Higbee, and found that the receipts from the play were far ahead of the expenses and that they had made a neat little sum for the endowment fund of the college. Miss Higbee has been the general manager for the affair, and much of the success was due to her energy in pushing the plan. Mrs. Elbert L. Carpenter and Mrs. G. C. Webber arranged for the decorations, and the burden of looking after the stage properties rested with Mrs. C. T. Thompson. As a social medium of bringing the students and former graduates of the college together it was delightful, and the plan worked so successfully that a repetition may be expected. As it is generally known each of the Wells college graduates pledges herself to raise $100 for the endowment fund, but the infrequent receipts will in no way lessen the obligations which the girls individually bear. In the pledge the girls are asked not to take the money from their parents, for the idea is to have them earn it themselves.

One of the St. Louis girls, who has very wealthy parents, and who could easily have obtained $100, took pride in earning every cent of it by preparing dainty luncheon dishes and selling them to the students at colleges and schools in St. Louis. Another Wells graduate is gradually increasing her contribution by spending her spare time in darning and mending the clothes of her friends for a substantial return in cash.

It may be possible for a hostess to be mistress of herself the china fall, but it is not such an easy matter when it is the caterer instead of the porcelain that tumbles. At one of the smartest of the recent large affairs the mistress of a handsome Park avenue home was entertaining several hundred guests in honor of a popular couple who were married last fall. It was a musical evening and the program, a most delightful one, was to be followed by an elaborate supper, when the hostess was called from the drawing room to hear the direful news that the caterer had fallen down the cellar stairs and broken her leg. It was a more than awkward situation, but the hostess met it ably and none of her guests knew what she had to contend with, for the supper was served as planned after the sufferer had been made comfortable and sent home in an ambulance.

Mrs. Horace Danforth Dickenson and Mrs. Margaret J. Dickenson have cards out for a reception which they will give Thursday afternoon, Jan. 24, from 3 until 6 o'clock at the home of Mrs. H. D. Dickenson in the Imperial. The guest of honor will be Mrs. William Hastings Dickenson, a bride of December. Mrs. Dickenson, you remember, was Miss Helen Watzke.

Mrs. R. H. Newlon will entertain at an informal bridge whist party Friday at her apartments in the Hampton on Blaisdell avenue. This is one of a number of small affairs Mrs. Newlon is giving.

Mrs. John F. Wilcox will be hostess at an informal luncheon in Donaldson's tearoom, followed by a theater party Wednesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. C. A. Couch.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Rand gave a small dinner Wednesday evening at their home on Franklin avenue for Rev. Phabus Smizeley, rector of the Chicago North Side Episcopal church. Covers were laid for ten. Mr. Smizeley is a cousin of Mrs. Rand, and was a guest at the Rand home for a week.

The Rands are planning a delightful trip to Honolulu and will probably leave the latter part of the month for Chicago, where they will meet Miss Rebecca Semple. Miss Semple, Kenneth Rand and William Semple will accompany them on the two months' trip.

Miss Florence Wells of Oak Grove street entertained a small group of the younger people at a dancing party Friday evening at her home.

How people are fitting. This is the season when the Mediterranean countries, the West Indies and Honolulu seems wonderfully attractive to people who can exchange the snow drifts of Minneapolis for the palms of the orient and W. B. Chandler has had his hands full booking travelers. There has been such a demand for accommodation that it has not always been a question of going when the travelers wished, but when they could and everybody has not been able to secure passage on a favorite steamer.

James S. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bell and little daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Bell and little son, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Forman and Mrs. F. B. Forman will sail from San Francisco, Cal., on the Siberia, Jan. 23, for Honolulu. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bell and daughter left Tuesday evening, and they are planning to be away until the middle of April. The Formans went Thursday evening and Mr. and Mrs. James F. Bell and son and James S. Bell will go the first of the week.

F. J. Cosgrove, T. S. Harris, Dr. W. S. Laton and S. T. McKnight will sail from San Francisco on the same date, Jan. 23, for China and, of course, they will visit Honolulu and Japan on the way. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Eliel will sail for Italy Jan. 27. Mr. and Mrs. George C. Bagley and Ralph C. Bagley are booked for Egypt Jan. 30. Rev. and Mrs. Marion D. Shutter and son will sail for Egypt, also, on Jan. 30. Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Brackett, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Gregory and son, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Gowran, C. H. Button, E. C. Gale and S. C. Gale will not take a steamer for the Mediterranean trip until Feb. 8. Mr. and Mrs. George W. Peavey leave for France the preceding day, Feb. 7.

L. Lamb sailed yesterday for Athens, Greece, and Mr. and Mrs. George H. Warren and Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Dever left for the Mediterranean trip a week ago.

The West Indians will have a number of Minneapolis visitors in the next few weeks. Willis Jones will sail Monday for a trip of the islands and Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Martin are planning to go Feb. 6.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Washburn sailed Tuesday from New York for Spain and Mr. and Mrs. George F. Piper left the same day for Italy, where they will meet Mrs. Grace Stone and Miss Franta Sowie and go on with them to Egypt.

Preparations are going merrily on for the annual charity ball of the Deutscher Frauen club, which will be given Wednesday, Jan. 24. The ball has always been noted for the beauty of its appointments and decorations and this year will be no exception, for Masonic Temple will be transformed into a Japanese garden and the only colors used will be those of the cherry blossoms, pink, white and green. Albert's orchestra will play a program of popular dances. The women who are looking after the arrangements are Mmes. Edwin Aich, August Gebhardt, Edward Rhombert, Joseph H. Heisser, Louis Gluek and Titus Mareck. The reception group will include Mmes. C. O. Lampe, Carl Baehr, Burns, John Gluek, Mary Heinrich, F. H. Huxmann, George Kampff, Henry A. Oswald, Carl Zachow, Mary Massolt, G. Schober, A. E. Whitmore, E. J. Willmann and Miss E. Miller. C. O. Lampe will be master of ceremonies and will be assisted by the following floor committee: Joseph H. Heisser, John Gluek, C. C. Schultz, O. MacClain, Edward Rhombert, Henry Gjertson, George Gfroerer, Henry Oswald, Edwin Aich, Carl Zachow and George Kampff.

The ball is an annual affair, eagerly anticipated by the Germans, and is given to raise funds to aid the women in their philanthropic work. It is expected that there will be over 500 guests.

With the big society event of the college year, the junior ball, only four weeks away, the members of the association are busy with plans to make the dance of Feb. 9 a memorable affair. The important question of music has been decided and the program will be played by the Fort Snelling band, which furnished music for several more formal affairs in the twin cities this season, the charity ball at the Auditorium and the Roosevelt club ball in St. Paul. There are thirty pieces in the band and the dance program will be preceded by several concert numbers. All the seats in the gallery will be placed on sale before long so the public will have an opportunity of enjoying the concert. The aim of the committee on decorations will be to have an especially attractive effect from the gallery. The decorations will be arranged by Dayton's and Mr. Ammodt is planning a number of novel and original features, but the only thing that is to be known about them before the ball is that the class colors, green and white, will be prominently used.

A large number of guests is expected, and in order that everyone may have a good chance to have the best possible time and a well-filled program, the members of the association have decided not to begin filling out their dance cards before Jan. 20.

Miss Helen Louise Grahm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Grahm, will be a Valentine bride, as she has chosen Wednesday, Feb. 14, as the date of her marriage to Lindley Williams Holbrook. The wedding will be a church ceremony and will take place in the Fifth Avenue Congregational church.

MARGARET MILDRED BALTUFF, Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Baltuff, Will Be One of the Flower Girls at the Meyer-Dunsmore Wedding.

Another wedding of February will be that of Miss Alice Bernice Ahern and William Franklin Hurley of Merriam park, which will take place Wednesday, Feb. 14, at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Ahern, 2749 Chicago avenue. Miss Ahern is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ahern of Chicago.

Mrs. C. Ray Davis will entertain informally on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon at her home on Colfax avenue S.

The Theta Delta Chi fraternity will give an informal dancing party Friday evening in the Roosevelt club rooms.

An informal dancing party will be given in Johnson hall Thursday evening.

Little Dorothea Mae North and little Margaret Mildred Baltuff, who are to be the attendants at the marriage of Miss Margaret Dunsmore, are two charming little mites. Dorothea is the daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. W. H. North C. Nye, Raymond Robertson and Dr. F. T. Gerecke form the committee in charge of the arrangements.

Dr. and Mrs. Marion D. Shutter will be entertained at a number of informal affairs before they leave, the last of the month, for Egypt. An interesting affair of last week was the gathering of the women of the church of the Redeemer at the home of Mrs. Emma Crosby in Mrs. Shutter's honor. Mrs. Shutter was presented by the women with a handsome traveling bag and shopping bag, and Dr. Shutter received a suitcase.

The people of Fowler M. E. church will give a reception Tuesday evening in the church parlors to welcome the new pastor, Rev. J. S. Montgomery, and Mrs. Montgomery, who have recently returned to Minneapolis from Denver, Col. It will be the first opportunity that the friends of Dr. and Mrs. Montgomery have had to meet them socially since their return, and it will doubtless be a large affair. A committee of the church women, with Mrs. W. O. Timmerman as chairman, will make the arrangements for the affair.

Miss Dorothy Mitchell gave a box party at the Orpheum yesterday afternoon, and after the performance entertained at a luncheon at Donaldson's tea rooms. Her guests were Gertrude Ingram, Henrietta Prindle, Dorothy Cogan, Dorothy Rendell, Sylvia Simon, Ellen Fertig, Lorraine Reynolds, Muriel Thayer, Frances Browne, Caroline Lyon, Gertrude Hopcock.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Ware, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Scriver and son, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gillette, W. L. Martin, Misses Grace Robbins, Ruth Robbins and Amy Robbins, Louise Martin and Edith Martin, Della Town and Roland Ware and Paul Ware went to Duluth in a special car Monday to be present at the marriage of Miss Calla De Vos Blanchard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Blanchard of Duluth, formerly of Minneapolis, which was solemnized Monday evening at the Blanchard home in the Belvedere. Everything was in gold and white with masses of southern smilax, white and yellow tulips and roses, and numerous softly shaded candles to carry out the color effect. The bride wore a stunning gown of white imported lace over white and caught at the bodice with a subburst of pearls and diamonds, a gift of the bridegroom. Her veil was fastened with lilies of the valley and she carried a shower bouquet of the lilies. Mrs. Norman Leach was the matron of honor and wore a gown of pale gray and carried pink roses. Miss Ruth Ware and Miss Town wore the ribbon bearers and wore white point d'esprit over pink and carried white carnations tied with pink bows. Roland Ware was the best man. The bridal party stood before an improvised altar of palms and smilax relieved by white tulips and lighted with candles. Rev. John W. Powell read the marriage lines and Mrs. V. L. Beau, Miss Virginia Bean and Frank Kellar played the bridal music. Misses Lou Smallwood, Bessie Hoopes and Grace Ware presided in the reception hall, where punch was served from a bower of green, lighted with tiny electric light bulbs, and shaded with daisy petals. Misses Winnifred Bardon and Grace Waldo were the hostesses in the dining room, which was exquisitely appointed in white and green. Mr. and Mrs. Ware left on Mr. Blanchard's private car for a southern wedding tour after which they will go to the new home which Mr. Ware has prepared for his bride in Omaha, Neb.
