OFFERS MADSTONE FOR PERSONS BITTEN

DR. G. M. CHURCH VOLUNTEERS USE OF RARE REMEDY.

Magic Articles, Found in Stomach of Deer or Walrus, Are the Traditional Cure for Those Bitten by Mad Dog—Victims of Yesterday Are Doing Well.

Dr. G. M. Church of 309 Tenth street S. has secured the use of several madstones for those who were bitten by the mad dog at Third street and First avenue S. yesterday.

The existence of the madstone has been known for many hundred years. It is found in the stomachs of deer and of the walrus, but only occasionally. It is gray, oblong in shape, and somewhat large enough to be cut into two or three separate stones.

All the victims of supposedly mad-dog are doing as nicely as could be expected under the circumstances.

Dr. J. Frank Corbett, city bacteriologist, has inoculated several rabbits with virus from the brain of the dog, which was shot and skinned.

The health department is desirous that all who were bitten by the dog should report their names and addresses to the health department so that a record may be kept of the progress of the disease if it proves to be rabies.

"Rabies is an infectious disease, which is communicated from one animal to another or to human beings without regard to weather conditions," said Dr. Corbett.

CAN MAKE LIQUID AIR CARNEGIE MEDAL FOR DEAD HERO

REMARKABLE MACHINE IS RECEIVED AT UNIVERSITY—GOOD GOVERNMENT CLUB PROJECTED.

A machine for the manufacture of liquid air, the third to be installed in American colleges, is now a part of the equipment in the department of physics at the University of Minnesota.

Liquid air can be manufactured in radio-activity, and from a student standpoint is one of the most interesting features of the laboratory.

Prominent speakers have been obtained for the debating mass-meeting which will be held at the university Friday morning, and judging from campus sentiment the affair will resemble a rousing football meeting so far as enthusiasm is concerned.

The mass-meeting will be in an endeavor to arouse enthusiasm in an intercollegiate debate which is to be held with Northwestern university Friday night.

Efforts to induce Andrew Carnegie to issue to the widow of Captain John Berwin a medal commemorative of her husband's heroism will be instituted at once by Mayor David P. Jones.

Not delay, and I am confident that we shall be able to obtain this deserved prize needed to strike the blow for the Carnegie roll of honor and the handsome medal that has been provided by the philanthropist for acts of signal bravery," said Mayor Jones.

TO HAVE CHARGE OF OPENING LECTURE

ATTENDANCE SHOWS THE NEED OF BIG CONVENTION HALL

Great Host of Exhibitors and Members Attend First Session of Second Annual Convention of Northwestern Association—Prejudices Against Important Industry Steadily Being Removed.

That the cement product has made immense strides in importance in the past year, and that Minneapolis needs a convention hall of proportions suitable for such a gathering, is demonstrated by the second annual meeting of the Northwestern Cement Products association, which convened today in the old Vivian carriage repository at Eighth street and Hennepin avenue.

Five hundred exhibitors have already registered, a number that was not reached during the entire 1905 meeting. The number promises to be increased.

The convention rooms are filled with all sorts of machinery, and the cement manufacturers are making a good show of materials. The exhibit is thus divided into cement materials and cement products.

Two interesting exhibits are presented by C. W. Stevens of Harvey, Ill., the pioneer in the poured, or cast, block manufacture; and by H. S. Palmer of Washington, D. C., the originator of the moulded block.

While very close attention is being paid by the members of the association and visitors to the exhibits, from all interest is being shown in the lectures slated for the three-day program.

At 2 p.m. Mayor David P. Jones delivered the address of welcome. Mayor Stover of Watertown, S. D., followed with an address, which told "How Conventions Can Help Us."

By Paying High Price for Street Lighting for Two Years the City Has Virtually Bought the Patterson Company an Entire Supply of Lampheads, Says the Executive.

In discussing the recent decision of the district court anent the council's method of awarding contracts and the effect of the decision with reference to the contract with the Patterson Street Lighting company for incandescent lighting in this city Mayor David P. Jones today expressed the opinion that the offer of the Patterson company was unfair to city.

"In the two years in which the Patterson company has had the incandescent lighting contract in this city," said Mayor Jones, "the city has paid for all the lampheads, and this is easily susceptible of proof, yet the company has not seen fit to give the city any substantial benefit in the third year's contract in return for its generosity."

While not desiring to anticipate what I shall have to say when the Patterson contract comes before me in a regular way, it is proper to say that I do not consider the Patterson bid one that should be accepted.

In Other Cities. "After a careful investigation of the subject of incandescent lighting in Chicago and Cleveland I find that lampheads of the same or as good a design as those in this city can be secured in Chicago for $6.50 each or less, and in Cleveland at a much lower figure."

"Kindly place the inclosed check for $25 to the credit of the Captain Berwin fund. Heroes are scarce—these families should be taken care of. My wife and I are proud to have our names on the fund up to $10,000 at least."

The facsimile of a boy's letter which contained 52 cents and expressed this ardent city feels for Captain Berwin's signal heroism and the wide extent of the sympathy for the fund is designed to support as they would have been supported by their dead provider.

The Journal today received a telegram from a prominent Minneapolis man who is touring the west, to place a contribution of $200 in the fund for him. The item appended in the figure below.

At 3 p.m. today the various funds stood as follows:

The Journal. Previously reported $900.10. "Tourist" 200.00. Palace Clothing House 25.00.

Chamber of Commerce. Previously reported $2,570.00. Klein & Pautz 10.00. Louis Sorenson, Sheldon, N. D. 5.00. Slide 2.00.

City Council Committee. Previously reported $70.00. Other Sources. Previously reported $80.00. Young America 5.00. Gift to Chief Canterbury 5.00.

Other sources, total $90.00. Grand total, all funds, $3,976.10.

FIGHT SMOKE NUISANCE. Big Plants Install Anti-Smoke Devices—Others to Follow.

More than fifty large buildings and industrial plants in the city are now being supplied with various devices for the abatement of the smoke nuisance.

Smoke Inspector J. W. Allen would like to see the downward attachment for furnaces and boilers installed, but the owners shy at the proposition on account of the expense, not only for the attachment, but for the extra consumption of fuel.

CEMENT PRODUCTS UP TO SURETY COMPANY

IF ARMORY BOARD GETS IN THE HOLE, SOMEONE WILL HAVE TO DIG.

While the armory board expects to be as prudent as possible in expending its funds for the completion of the new armory, it is likely that it will have a considerable shortage, and in that event the surety company on the bond of the William Porten company will be required to make good the additional expense.

At a meeting of the board today at the office of Mayor D. P. Jones, the situation was discussed at some length and it was decided not to undertake any new work for the present.

The work of inclosing the building will be prosecuted as rapidly as possible. The action of Lieutenant-Colonel F. W. Corriston in selecting three practical builders as foremen on the different classes of work was approved, and these men will spare no pains to have the building inclosed within the shortest time.

When this task has been disposed of the board will look around for a new superintendent to supervise the work. The armory will have the best quality of work done and will secure a man in which it can place implicit reliance.

STATE TO PRINT NEW STATUTES. TRYING TO GET BIG JOB DONE IN MILWAUKEE.

Twin City Plants Unable to Handle Work, Which Is Barely Started, and Must Be Out Before March 1—State Printer Goes to Meet Milwaukee Workmen.

A. N. Dare, state expert printer, has left for Milwaukee to arrange for the printing of the revised statutes. The situation is a serious one. The Pioneer Press company of St. Paul seems unable to fill the contract and furnish copies of the code before March 1, when it takes effect.

Owing to the peculiar form in which the code is to be set, it is claimed that only one other printing establishment in the twin cities can set it, and that company is as badly tied up by the strike as the Pioneer Press. There is no strike in Milwaukee, but when copy was sent there the union printers were called out because the work was being done for a struck shop.

The only way out seems to be for the state to assume charge and get the code printed. The company holding the contract will be held to it, and will be liable on its $5,000 bond for any extra cost incurred, but the main thing is to get the printing done without a day's delay.

Special to The Journal. Milwaukee, Jan. 17.—Fourteen members of the local branch of the International Typographical Union, employed by a local printing establishment, quit work today because, it is alleged, the firm is doing work for the state of Minnesota without a contract.

The printing firm received a telegram signed by Attorney General E. T. Young and State Printer A. N. Dare, advising "do not work without a contract between the government and the Panamanians over the commissary it is doubtful whether the government will do anything to increase this dissatisfaction by permitting the printers to register at the government hotel, however."

Mr. Wood spent five months in the government work, and says that in six months Panama will be a comfortable place for transients. Owing to the friction between the government and the Panamanians over the commissary it is doubtful whether the government will do anything to increase this dissatisfaction by permitting the printers to register at the government hotel, however.
