

AWFUL PSORIASIS 35 YEARS

Terrible Scaly Humor in Patches All Over the Body—Skin Cracked and Bleeding—Itching Unbearable—Cured by Cuticura in Thirty Days at Cost of $4.75.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE BY CUTICURA

"I was afflicted with psoriasis for thirty-five years. It was in patches all over my body. I used three cakes of Soap, six boxes of Cuticura Ointment, and two bottles of Cuticura Resolvent. I bathed with the Soap, applied the Ointment once a day, and took the Resolvent as directed. In thirty days I was completely cured, and I think permanently, as it was about five years ago."

"The psoriasis first made its appearance in red spots, generally forming a circle, leaving in the center a spot about the size of a silver dollar of sound flesh. In a short time the affected circle would form a heavy dry scale of a white silvery appearance and would gradually drop off. To remove the entire scales by bathing or using oil to soften them the flesh would be perfectly raw, and a light discharge of bloody substance would come out. That scaly crust would form again in twenty-four hours. It was worse on my arms and limbs, although it was in spots all over my body, also on my scalp. If I let the scales remain too long without removing by bath or otherwise, the skin would crack and bleed. I suffered intensely itching, worse at night after getting warm in bed, or blood warm by exercise, when it would be almost unbearable."

"To sum it all up, I would not go through such another ordeal of affliction for thirty-five years for the State of Kansas. (Signed) W. M. Childs, Hutchinson, Kan., April 20, 1905."

VOLUNTEERS FIGHT BIG FIRE AT MORA

Two Buildings in Business Block Destroyed, Causing $12,000 Loss.

Mora, Minn., Jan. 20.—Fire was discovered at an early hour today in the second story of the building occupied by the Mora Produce company and the Hagelle restaurant. It had gained such headway before being discovered that it was impossible to save any part of either the building in which it originated or the one adjoining on the north, occupied by the Cruse Bazaar store.

So rapidly did the flames spread that it was only by the heroic efforts of the volunteer fire company of the village and the aid of one of the best systems of waterworks in the state that the fire was checked before it reached other adjoining buildings in the same block. The losses are estimated as follows: Mora Produce building, $3,000; Hagelle restaurant, $1,000; Mora Produce company, $2,000; Cruse Bazaar store, $2,000. The losses are well covered by insurance.

BONDS ARE REFUSED

Albert Lea School District Paper Found Illegal. ALBERT LEA, MINN.—The special school meeting held last Saturday night that authorized the board of education to borrow money for a short time, and pay $10,000 of the bonded indebtedness of the district, proves to have been illegally called, and the bonds who were furnished the money do not care to take the risk. Taxes have been levied in part of this indebtedness, and the district did not care to have the bonds renewed for another term of years. It is expected, however, the money will be secured and the bond paid.

HAKAKADUTA WINS

Interesting Sioux Indian Suit Decided at New Rockford. NEW ROCKFORD, N. D.—A suit of more than usual interest was conducted in county court yesterday involving a question of descent. The case is Orensia vs. Hakakaduta, and refers to the estate of Father Orensia, deceased. All persons interested are Sioux Indians of the Devils Lake Sioux reservation of North Dakota. The evidence shows Orensia to be the father of the deceased. Hakakaduta was married by a priest of the Catholic church to a woman who some four years afterwards deserted him, and to escape punishment at the hands of the Indian agent, fled to Canada in 1890 and 1891. The allotments were made under the Daws bill in the fall of 1891. Hakakaduta, without first having procured a divorce from his former wife, who, according to his own testimony was still living, married Esther Orensia at the Presbyterian church on the same agency. The contention of the respondent, backed by all the United States machinery at the command of Superintendent Latta, agent in charge, was that, notwithstanding the fact Hakakaduta was legally married by the Catholic priest to another woman and placed said Indians under the laws of the state, both civil and criminal, he could by the reason of the desertion of his first wife, fall back to the old Indian custom of divorce and marry again without divorce proceedings. The court held that the case could not be judged from both the Indian and the civil standpoint at one and the same time; that either one of the tests must be applied; that inasmuch as Hakakaduta had complied with the civilized usage in the matters of his marriage and further had complied with the terms of the Daws act, and taken his allotment under the act in fact severed tribal relations and that therefore decided that Orensia, the father, was heir in fact to the allotment of the deceased. The attorneys for the respondent gave notice of appeal.

MINNESOTA GIRL A SEATTLE SUICIDE

Man Strips Rings from Fingers of His Dying Sweet-heart. Seattle, Wash., Jan. 20.—Violet Searles, common-law wife of Dan Carleton, a traveling salesman for the American Tobacco company, committed suicide in their rooms by taking cyanide of potassium, apparently because she believed that Carleton had ceased to love her and was preparing to desert her.

For eighteen months or more Violet Searles has lived in Seattle. She came here from Oskalia, Minn., where her mother, Mrs. D. A. Hardin, now lives. For six months or more the woman was employed at the Bon Marche as a cloak model, where she became known as one of the handsomest women in Seattle. She was unusually attractive and it was not long until she became well known by sight to many persons who are often upon the streets and the streets of the city.

With all that, Violet Searles was modest appearing and gave no apparent notice that she was conscious of the fact that she was being admired. Carleton, whom the friends of Violet Searles say is the cause of the girl's suicide, was the only eyewitness to the deed.

The last breath had scarcely left the body of the woman when Carleton stepped to the bedside of his dead sweetheart and coolly removed two diamond rings and a ruby ring from her fingers, shoved them in his pockets, lighted a cigaret, and then accompanied the doctors down the street.

Nothing is known here of the life of Violet Searles since she left her Minneapolis home. She appeared to be about 28 years of age.

Everybody's Magazine

For February Just Out Fiction and Fact-Stories

Lawson's fact-story—startling revelation of the inner workings of the Bay State Gas conspiracy, and his highly dramatic and picturesque court scene—is as quick reading as Rex E. Beach's exciting novel of Alaskan life, "The Spoilers." Russell's fact-story—"Soldiers of the Common Good"—tells how Germany keeps herself free from bosses, graft and trusts; kills fewer people on her railroads in a year than American railroads do in a week; gives better railroad service for less money—vital facts, and no less interesting because they come in easy reading story-form. A corking good fiction-story, too, by Gilbert Parker, and other good stories, real and fictional, serious and humorous. The magazine of today must be good reading—Everybody's is that. Must give people something to think of—Everybody's is that. Must stand for something—Everybody's is that. Don't let another day go by without finding out for yourself—what Everybody's is, and is doing. 15 cents a copy. $1.50 a year and worth it.
