

EIGHTEEN KILLED IN CHURCH PANIC

Fire in Philadelphia Church Causes Wild Stampede of Colored Worshipers.

Philadelphia, Jan. 22.—Eighteen negroes were killed and fifty injured in a stampede following the discovery of a fire in St. Paul's Baptist church at last night's services. Many of the injured will die.

The text from which Rev. Mr. Johnson preached was the third verse of the seventh chapter of II Kings: "Why sit we here until we die?"

When the fire was discovered, the organist continued to play, increasing the volume of his instrument to thunderous tones, and the choir could not be heard, drowned out in the medley of shouts and screams from the panic-stricken negroes.

Mr. Johnson strove to quiet his people; he pleaded and prayed, but the audience turned its back and fled for the doors.

Eight hundred were in the auditorium of the church on the second floor when the fire started. The pastor had just concluded his sermon and was putting on his baptismal robe preparatory to baptizing two converts, when he saw smoke issue from a small crevice along the wall in front of the altar. A revival was in progress and the negroes were in a state of great excitement, a fact which may have had something to do with the terrible panic which followed.

Panic Seizes Crowd.

Others in the congregation saw the smoke almost as soon as the preacher, and some heard the noise of the fire. Instantly the cry swept thru the audience.

The choir was singing an anthem. The singers started to sing, and shrieks of fear, the ushers who were taking the collection dropped their collection boxes.

The stampede began with the first cry. There were no flames visible, no threatening glare; just a tiny thread of smoke trickling thru the wainscoting, but it had driven 800 men and women into a blind, unreasoning panic. The glass doors at the rear of the room were swept aside and shattered in the rush. Men and women began to pile up in the narrow, winding stairs. The first few got out in safety. Then some stumbled and fell, and the sacrifice began.

All Rushed to Same Stairs.

There was no stopping for any person once he had joined the mad rush. If any strove to stop he was pushed on by the resistless mass that crowded and shoved and struggled above. By some curious circumstance very few elected to descend by the south side stairs, which are exactly the same as those on the north side, except that the entrance is at the other end of the hallway. Everybody tried to get down the one flight and all wanted to get down at the same time.

In three seconds after the stampede began there was a tangled mass, mostly women who were the weakest, lying in a writhing mass of human beings unable to drag themselves out. The wide space at the foot of the stairs was filled with those who had fallen and were being trampled.

Women Suffer Most.

In the terrible crush few of the women or children had any chance for life. Of the ten victims taken to the Children's hospital, seven were women, two were small children and the other was an old man.

"Probably three hundred were jammed in that black hole at the foot of the stairs," said the sergeant in command, who was one of the first of the police to arrive. "Now and then a black form would roll from the heap and stagger to the sidewalk, but the majority were wedged in so tightly that they could not give away until the police and firemen pulled them out one by one."

BURIED ALIVE IN COAL DUST.

Duluth, Minn., Jan. 22.—Daniel Bolder, employed at a coke oven, was buried alive by falling into some coal dust he was loosening in a coal bin to make it flow more freely. He fell from a ladder and was covered in an instant by the coal dust, which gave him and fell too, but was not buried. Bolder was shoveled out within fifteen minutes, but was dead.

KENTUCKY REPAIRED.

New York, Jan. 22.—The United States battleship Kentucky, which was damaged in collision with the Albatross in this harbor two weeks ago, and since that time has been under repairs at the Brooklyn navy yard, sailed yesterday for Hampton Roads and thence she will go to the southern trial quarters with the North Atlantic fleet under Rear Admiral Evans.

DENVER'S DISTRICT ATTORNEY IN JAIL

Denver, Jan. 22.—With his cell full of flowers, District Attorney George Stidger spent Sunday in jail. He was committed for contempt Saturday night at 11 o'clock by District Judge Johnson, who fined him $500, which Mr. Stidger refused to pay. Judge Johnson alleged that District Attorney Stidger had obstructed the proceedings of the court in its efforts to close public gambling.

Nearly a thousand visitors called at the jail and scores of messenger boys brought flowers sent by admiring friends of the district attorney, who occupied a cell between Leonard Imboden and J. A. Hill, the bank robber, whom Stidger had indicted during the day. The perfume that passed between Stidger and his two bankrocker victims was amusing.

Stidger will appeal to the supreme court and expects to be released forthwith.

ROCKEFELLER'S WIG POSSIBLY A DISGUISE

New York, Jan. 22.—When John D. Rockefeller took to wearing a wig less than a year ago, he adopted a disguise that has proved almost impenetrable. It was thought when the black and gray head covering first made its appearance in the city that it was worn to ward it because of his abhorrence of a bald head.

A close friend of Mr. Rockefeller, however, says it was not the millionaire's vanity that prompted the change, but his desire to conceal his identity from an inquisitive public. Mr. Rockefeller, because of his hairless head and sharp features, is not easily recognized when traveling about the country. It is believed that the process-server in the Standard Oil investigation may have passed Mr. Rockefeller on the street without recognizing him.

POISON IN STOMACH POINTS TO MURDER

St. Louis, Jan. 22.—Arsenic has been discovered in the stomach of Frederick Mueller, the eccentric German farmer of St. Louis county, who married a woman twenty-five years his junior Dec. 19, and is spending in the night-of-way of the Frisco railway. Sixteen days later he was dead. The coroner had the body exhumed against the protests of the young wife, who by his death became possessed of one-half the farmer's estate by the terms of an ante-nuptial contract. The stomach was sent to St. Louis chemists with the result that unmistakable evidence of arsenic poisoning was obtained.

Mrs. Mueller declared when the body was exhumed that if any sign of poison was found it would mean he had taken it voluntarily. She indignantly denied stories of a mystery being connected with the death of her first husband and her 16-year-old son.

"PREP" IN SOUTH IS KILLED BY HAZERS

Natchez, Miss., Jan. 22.—Telegraphic advices received here from Greensburg, La., state that Joseph Sitman, a freshman, who left Jefferson military academy in Natchez, Miss., to attend college at his home in that place, and it is alleged his death was due to injuries received at the hands of a crowd of hazers at the college. The institution took French leave of the institution and Washington, Miss., about six miles from this place.

Railroads TO SPEND $100,000,000

Pennsylvania Railroad Contemplates Gigantic Improvements.

New York, Jan. 22.—The Pennsylvania railroad has announced its plans for the development of its facilities in and around New York until they involve the expenditure of $100,000,000, a sum twice as large as that which was originally contemplated. President Cassatt today made public the details of the plans in a letter addressed to Mayor McClellan and President Orr of the rapid transit commission. He announces that in connection with the elimination of grade crossings on the lines of the Long Island railroad within the city limits it has been decided to enlarge vastly the facilities for freight distribution in Brooklyn and Queensborough.

Booklet Is a Beauty.

The Milwaukee road has just issued one of the most attractive and meritorious booklets that has ever been put out under railway auspices concerning California. "Winter's Summer Garden." It is a booklet long enough to be readable and is printed in large type on fine book paper. Much space has been devoted to the work of pencil and engraving artists. Views are reproduced in colors and fanciful sketches help to please the eye. On the back page is a map of the route of the Overland Limited, with a thru time table.

Great Northern Enlarges Shops.

The Great Northern road has completed the foundation of the additional coach shop at St. Paul and will begin the brick superstructure at once. It will be two stories high, 200 feet square and will cost $27,000. The capacity of the shops will be doubled by this building. It will be used for painting and repairing exclusively.

SOCIETY WOMEN TO HAPGOOD'S AID

New York Women May Testify in Defense of Editor of Collier's Weekly.

New York, Jan. 22.—Several society women in this city are seriously considering the advisability of going on the witness stand in Judge Fitzgerald's court to give testimony for the defense in the trial of Norman Hapgood, editor of Collier's Weekly, charged with criminal libel upon the complaint of Judge Joseph M. Duell of the court of special sessions.

The names of these women are known to Robert J. Collier, and James W. Osborne and Edward M. Shepard, counsel for the defense, have been made acquainted with them and what they can testify to. Whether they will go on the witness stand and tell what they know about Town Topics will depend upon future developments.

While the defense in the Hapgood case does not desire to subpoena these society women, it is expected that some of them will volunteer their testimony. What they had feared up to Friday was that they might be subjected to severe cross-examination, but when they learned that O. H. P. Belmont was allowed to leave the witness chair after testifying for the defense in the Hapgood case without being cross-questioned by Mr. Jerome, several of these society women said they, too, would be willing to tell what their experiences had been. None of the attorneys for the defense would say anything today about this feature of the case.

There will be no request from today for the defendant to dismiss the case, as the Colliers are determined to have all the evidence submitted to the jury.

Mr. Osborne, in opening for the defense, will argue that the district attorney has not only failed to make out a case, but that the defense has already proved its side.

MILLIONAIRE'S SON WORKS IN SHOPS

Pittsburg, Jan. 22.—George Westinghouse, Jr., graduate of Yale and the only son of George Westinghouse, the famous inventor and multimillionaire, has put his son to work as an apprentice in his own shops.

Ever since he graduated at Yale young Westinghouse has been drudging about the plants of which he one day will become the principal owner. His father pays no more attention to him in his work than he does to the other hundreds of apprentices, nor does the young man secure any privileges not given other employees. He receives his 15 cents an hour, working nine and ten hours a day. And when employed in a department working overtime, he is compelled to report for work the same as the other workmen. He carries his lunchbasket daily and has to attend the same courses of study and lectures as the other apprentices. It is said he is exceedingly popular with his fellow workmen.

Hoodwinks the Oculist. Madden Eye Medicin cures eyes. (Don't smart.) 25c.

Washington, Jan. 22.—According to a statement by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor, exports from the United States to the Netherlands in the fiscal year 1905 amounted to $73,000,000 and our imports from the Netherlands to $22,000,000. Our exports to Belgium in the same year were $38,500,000 and our imports from that country $26,000,000.

Copper exports to the Netherlands in 1905 aggregated $20,000,000, while the imports from that country in 1905 were very large proportion, it is stated, were luxuries, the largest item being diamonds amounting to $9,000,000. Cotton exports to Belgium in 1905 amounted to $6,250,000. Rubber imports from that country reached $4,500,000 and diamonds and other precious stones $6,500,000.

NETHERLAND TRADE OF AMERICA LARGE

Indiana, Ind., Jan. 22.—"There is no political office in the United States that I would resign the presidency of the United Mine Workers of America to accept."

President John Mitchell of that organization used these words yesterday while speaking on a resolution forbidding officers of the union to accept any political position.

"But benefits would accrue to trades unions if their chief officers were permitted, yes, encouraged to seek and hold legislative offices," said Mr. Mitchell. "I would make a distinction between offices of purely political or executive significance and positions in which legislation can be originated and carried to successful issues."

"The history of trades unionism in England for the last twenty years shows that they have taken care to elect their chief officers to seats in parliament and to maintain them in their positions, and the good they have thus been able to accomplish is incalculable."
