Hotel Plaza, opp. Loring park, takes transients. Really fireproof. Best only!

The adjourned annual meeting of the Baptist Union of Minneapolis will be held this evening at the St. James hotel. Directors will be chosen and important business transacted.

The lecture on welfare work of the N. C. R. company at Dayton, Ohio, will be given Feb. 2 at Plymouth church, and not Jan. 23 as advertised for yesterday. The lecture is under U. C. T. auspices.

The Engineers' club of Minneapolis will hold its annual meeting and dinner at Dayton's tearooms this evening. Dinner will be served at 6:15. The election of officers, annual reports and other proceedings will follow.

Frank Murphy, foreman at the Midland line, fell from a ladder while working about the place Saturday and sustained a broken leg. He was taken to his home in Northeast Minneapolis.

A benefit dance will be given for the fund of John Herwin in the Windsor hotel ballroom, Washington avenue and First avenue N., Thursday evening. Poter's orchestra will play and the receipts of the entertainment will be turned over to the John Herwin fund.

An important meeting of the Garfield Republican club will be held tomorrow evening at Morgan Post hall, Nicollet avenue and Third street. A large attendance of members is earnestly requested on account of the unusually large number of vital matters that will be up for consideration.

This evening the G. A. R. commanders and past commanders' association will meet in the rooms of the county commission in the courthouse to elect officers and to arrange for the department encampment to be held here in February or March. Other important questions will also be up for consideration. All past and present commanders are eligible and may vote. Adjutants will be present in the absence of the post commander.

TURNERS OUT IN FORCE

Quarterly Turnfest of Minnesota Turnerbund Proves Occasion of Note.

The quarterly turnfest of the Minnesota Turnerbund was held yesterday at St. Anthony Turner hall, Marshall street and Sixth avenue NE. Classes and delegates attended from the Lyceum, Wapleton, St. Paul, West St. Paul and St. Anthony Turnvereins. The hall was crowded all day and the visiting turners enjoyed themselves to their hearts' content.

The program yesterday afternoon consisted of class drills by the boys' and men's classes. The girls' class of the St. Anthonyverein made an unusually creditable showing and many of those present declared that the ladies could compete with any turning class in the country. Professor Herman Hein of New Ulm, who was in charge of the afternoon program, pronounced the girls' class to be the most successful one in many years.

In the evening there was dancing and other social pastimes, and supper was served in the gym by the ladies' auxiliary. The function was in charge of Carl G. Schober, assisted by Louis Malchow, both of the local society.

ANSWERS OBJECTIONS

Miss Alice Bolting Says Reincarnation Is Not a Theory.

Miss Alice Bolting, in treating the subject, "Objections to Reincarnation Answered," last evening at the First Unitarian church, said in part: "The theory of reincarnation is that which is brought against all the teachings. Reincarnation is opposed to sundry comfortable interests and prejudices among people who have taken for progress, enlightenment and freedom. A doctrine which teaches man to rely upon his own divinity will never find a convert among those who wish him to remain dependent upon organizations or the intercession of mediators. Only those who are too indolent to think for themselves can be prejudiced or turned against the teachings of reincarnation. Reincarnation, like other theological teachings, is not a system devised to fit people's notions of what ought to be. It is the truth; and the laws of nature will go on their way in spite of our narrow notions."

SUPERS WIN OUT

Eight "Extra Ladies" from St. Paul Get Their Money.

An unadvertised aftershow was put on at the Metropolitan theater shortly after the conclusion of the farewell performance of the County Chairman Saturday night.

The actors were the property man of the house and eight Amazonian "supers" from St. Paul, who had worked four days and wanted $4 therefor. The property man offered the girls $3 each and their shrill arguments attracted a policeman.

Threats of arrest finally quieted the actresses and induced the property man to pay the $32. This being done the curtain was rung down and quiet settled over the battle-field.

CERTIFICATES ISSUED.

Seven teachers have been granted state professional certificates by the examining board, after passing the examination. Fifteen renewals have also been allowed.

HUMANE SOCIETY HAD BUSY YEAR

WORK IS REVIEWED AT ANNUAL MEETING.

Marked Development Along Broader Humanitarian Lines a Feature of 1905—1,605 Animals and 2,399 Humans Aided in Year—More Money Needed in Work of Philanthropy.

Development along broader humanitarian lines has marked the progress of the Minneapolis Humane Society for the year just completed. This is shown in many ways by the report made by the secretary at the annual meeting held this afternoon in the juvenile courtroom.

Instead of being a society solely for the prevention of the cruelty to animals, as it was when first organized in Minneapolis, the humane society has grown to stand for humanitarianism in its entirety. Its object is to alleviate suffering, whether it be among the lower animals or among humans. When first organized the society cared for nothing but suffering cats and dogs and horses. In 1905 there were 1,605 of these animals cared for, but in addition there were 2,399 suffering human beings given aid. In 1904 there were nearly four hundred less human beings cared for than during 1905.

Financial matters were shown to be in a perfectly solvent condition, although the need of more money was dwelt upon at some length by the secretary. The thanks of the society was given to the police department and to many others who have assisted the society in carrying out its aims, but especially thanks were extended to County Attorney Al J. Smith, who has taken an active part in the humane work of the society.

A summary of the year's work is as follows:

Complaints received, 2,400; human beings relieved, 2,399; animals relieved, 1,605; young girls, 324; women, 224; men, 200; young boys, 64; animals, 1,605; horses, 1,223; animals in cages, 1,405; calves, 137; arrests, 253; cats, 274; cattle, 175; fowls, 137; horses, 253; dogs, 289; dogs secured by humane society, 68; men and women placed on probation to the society, 27; children compelled to support parents, 289; position secured by humane society, 47; children sent to the state school, 10; young girls sent to Home for Good, 10; young girls removed from immoral surroundings, 60.

BURGLARS, THIEVES AND BANDITS BUSY

Highwaymen and sneak thieves had their inning Saturday night, and the police were busy yesterday investigating the many cases reported.

A. E. Little, 423 Forest avenue, was held up at Nicollet avenue and Nineteenth street, while on his way home late Saturday night. He was walking along rapidly when he was confronted by a tall man with a revolver. He held up his hands without being asked and allowed the bandit to go through his pockets. The robber found no money and refused to take Mr. Little's watch. He also allowed Mr. Little to keep all his private papers, and he was released and reported to the police until Sunday afternoon and the officers do not expect to find the robber.

Benjamin Hand, 310 Eighth street, awoke early Sunday morning to find three men prowling about his room. One of them had a lighted match in his hand and was ready to burn the room thoro search for something. When Mr. Hand opened his eyes the three men hastened out of the room, but he thinks he recognized them. The three men in a carriage drove up in front of John Broderick's grocery store at 1022 East Lake street late Saturday night and entered the store through a window. They were noticed by a pedestrian, who called the police. Before an officer could arrive the men escaped without taking anything.

A horse and cutter were stolen from the stable of Mr. Campbell at 1612 Park avenue. The police were notified and the rig was found by the St. Paul police yesterday.

A sneak thief entered the Salvation Army hall and stole a guitar belonging to Louise Skaar, one of the workers. Kenzie, 206 Globe building, and two robes were stolen from Lee & Gould's lively stable, 1263 Thirteenth avenue S., late Saturday night.

FOR FIRE PROTECTION

U. C. T. Committee Will Draft Bill Relating to Hotels.

The executive committee of the northwestern jurisdiction of the United Commercial Travelers met yesterday afternoon at the Ryan hotel, St. Paul, for the discussion of hotel legislation, and a committee was named to draft a bill which will require more protection of guests from fire danger in hotels. This committee consists of the executive council and four St. Paul members—W. Baer, H. W. Shadle, J. A. McDermott and George W. Rodgers.

Several changes were made in the officers of the northwestern jurisdiction as a result of the removal from this jurisdiction of J. McPherson of Grand Forks, who was grand conductor. J. A. Vandever of Minneapolis was advanced from grand page to grand conductor; C. W. Sutton of Duluth from grand sentinel to grand page; F. J. Cox of Winnipeg was grand secretary and James F. Ellis of Minneapolis was given Mr. Cox's position on the grand committee.

VAN BUSKIRK IN TROUBLE

Two Young Girls Are Held to Await Investigation.

Richard Van Buskirk, 2441 Twenty-fifth avenue S., was arrested yesterday by Sergeant Bean of the Humane society and locked up on a charge of abduction. Two young girls were also locked up pending investigation. The two girls were found in a room with Van Buskirk on Washington avenue S. He said that they had told him that they were homeless, but that he was acting solely as their benefactor.

W. J. BETTINGEN HONORED

FORMER MINNEAPOLIS GRAIN MAN VICE PRESIDENT WINNIPEG GRAIN AND PRODUCE EXCHANGE.

William J. Bettingen, formerly a well known grain man of Minneapolis and now a resident of Winnipeg, has been the recipient of unusual honor in the Canadian town. He has recently been elected vice president of the Winnipeg Grain and Produce exchange, which means that he will be elected president in 1907.

Mr. Bettingen is the first American to be given this position and his election was decidedly a popular one. Beside this office, the former Minneapolis president of the Winnipeg Clearing House association and president of the Retail Lumber Dealers' association.

Mr. Bettingen was born in Fairbault, Minn., in 1869, and began his business career at the early age of 16, at which time he entered the National bank of Grafton, N. D., as accountant. Two years later he was cashier of the First National bank of Langdon, N. D.

In 1895 he became cashier of the First National bank of Detroit, Mich. From Detroit he migrated to the wider sphere of Minneapolis, and relinquished the grain trade for the lumber and timber trade. He has since established a line of elevators and lumber yards, which they operated until 1903.

In that year Mr. Bettingen, believing that the greatest opportunities for the grain trade lay in the Canadian west, the line of elevators and lumber yards, which they operated until 1903.

RESUME DRAINAGE SURVEY

ENGINEERS WILL TAKE UP WORK AND FINISH FIELD SURVEY BY JUNE 1—RALPH IN SOLE CHARGE.

The state drainage survey which was stopped last fall, will be resumed at once by the water surveyor, who is $7,500 appropriation for next year, which will not become available till Aug. 1, will be anticipated by arrangement with the engineer, George A. Ralph, who gave his opinion in favor of going ahead with the work. It will be easier getting around than the swamps when they are frozen than in summer, when they are bottomless in places, and the mosquitoes are always plentiful. Where the snow is very deep the surveying party will go on snowshoes. It will be easy to get lake levels, and the surveyors will cut thru the ice to find the depth.

The entire work will be in the charge of George A. Ralph, John Abercrombie of Alexandria, who did part of the work last year, is not in the country getting around, and has also been incapacitated for work. He is also incapacitated for work. He is also incapacitated for work.

The next legislature will be asked to do something toward providing for the new state reservation. If state land is chosen it can be ceded to the department at no expense or outlay of money to the state.

General Woods, in speaking of the plans, said it would not be necessary to put any improvements on the reservation for years unless, of course, the money could be spared easily. It might be a good idea to have a few headquarters and hospital at once, but otherwise nothing would be needed.

If the work of the national guard is to be done, the work could be under actual field conditions. In a reserve of this sort, an entire regiment could be thrown in by itself and kept moving every day of the year. The engineering corps could find plenty of work of practical value. Camps could be properly located, protected and improved from a sanitary standpoint. The engineering corps could find plenty of work of practical value. PLAN RAILROAD INQUIRY

COMMISSION CONTERS WITH ATTORNEY GENERAL AS TO QUESTION ROADS WILL BE ASKED.

The railroad and warehouse commissioners had a conference today with Attorney General Young about the plans for making a survey of railroad properties. No conclusion was reached, but several legal phases of the question were discussed.

The first step, it is agreed, will be to secure the value of the properties of their Minnesota property. This will be gotten by a series of questions, calling for the original cost of the property, the amount spent on betterments, value of all rolling stock and proportion to be assigned to Minnesota on a car mileage basis, also value of terminal property and buildings.

These questions will be answered by the roads. They want as high valuation fixed as possible, to justify their present rates and earnings, and so will put in everything possible. When their valuation is received, they will be the work of Dwight C. Morgan, the commissioner's expert, to verify the figures and find where they should be scaled down.

The man dispute will be over cost of roadbed. The commission will maintain that the proper basis is the present cost of reproducing the line. Many of the roads were built first on a cheap scale, with light rails, high grades and wide curves, and have since been practically rebuilt, the whole work going into the "construction" account. This account represents a building and rebuilding, and the state will claim that traffic charges should not be based on the full cost from the first to last, but on the cost of reproducing the road in its present condition.

RAILROAD EXPERT HAS A SUITE OF OFFICES

Dwight C. Morgan, the railroad engineer employed by the railroad and warehouse commission to value state railroad properties, has been established in offices of his own, indicating that in a few months he will be at the head of a roadbed. The commission has assigned him room 204, one of the house committee rooms, which has been used by the state census, and the census work is finished and that bureau is being closed up. It is understood that Mr. Morgan will later on require all the rooms used for the census work, which are convenient because they can be opened to gether.

FAIRMONT MAN PICKED

John H. Gill of Fairmont has been offered a place on the state game and fish commission by Governor Johnson, succeeding D. W. Meeker of Moorhead, whose term has expired. The appointment has not been made yet, and no selection has been made of a successor to William L. Lamprey of St. Paul, who also occupies the position. The appointment is made there will be three Johnson appointees on the board, out of five.

WOULD GIVE STATE GUARD REAL WORK

NEW CAMP GROUNDS AND MILITARY CAMPAIGN PLANNED.

Lakeview Grounds Deemed Too Small by General Wood, Who Wants to Teach Men Real Warfare—Will Ask Legislature to Provide Big Reservation for Troops.

If the plans of the powers that direct the affairs of the Minnesota National Guard materialize, and certain desired changes and improvements are brought about, the annual encampment will be more work and less play than at present.

For some time it has been realized that the present national guard camp at Lakeview, just below Lake City on Lake Pepin, is too small. Furthermore, the camp cannot be greatly enlarged, if at all. The grounds are hemmed in by high bluffs back from the river, on two sides. There is a little open ground toward Lake City, but it could not be used even if it were possible to secure it. The lake shuts in the fourth side.

The plans of Adjutant General F. B. Wood and others who are interested, contemplate an entirely new campsite, one that will offer every sort of topographical condition, and will be large enough for a brigade camp. This latter feature is new and would be entirely impossible at Lakeview.

Make It a Campaign.

It is also proposed to establish the camp in newer, more rugged country, and to make the annual encampment of the regiments of the guard a regular campaign of hard military work. This change is in keeping with the general tendency of national guard directors all over the country.

If the department can secure several sections of state land in northern Minnesota, it will be just what is wanted. The land need not be especially valuable, or, in fact, could be of little value for agricultural purposes. The site will be selected with a view to securing as many natural conditions as possible as occur in the country, and broken country and some water or swamps. With these conditions the new camp property would be but one vast playground where the real war problems could be worked out.

With a military reserve embracing from four to ten sections, the entire state national guard could go into camp at once under actual campaign conditions, and one regiment would never need conflict with another.

Might Take State Land.

The next legislature will be asked to do something toward providing for the new state reservation. If state land is chosen it can be ceded to the department at no expense or outlay of money to the state.

General Woods, in speaking of the plans, said it would not be necessary to put any improvements on the reservation for years unless, of course, the money could be spared easily. It might be a good idea to have a few headquarters and hospital at once, but otherwise nothing would be needed.

In a reserve of this sort, an entire regiment could be thrown in by itself and kept moving every day of the year. The engineering corps could find plenty of work of practical value. FIREMAN IS KILLED

NORTH OF GLENWOOD

Earl Roney of Minneapolis was killed in a wreck on the Winnipeg branch of the Soo line. The wreck occurred late Saturday night, four miles north of Glenwood.

The Winnipeg limited, which leaves St. Paul at 5 o'clock, caught up with and ran into a train of a freight. Roney, who was a fireman on the passenger engine, was caught between the boiler and the tender tank and received injuries from which he died. One leg and one arm was cut off, the other leg crushed and the rest of his body badly bruised. He lived several hours. Doctors from this place attended him, but he never regained consciousness.

Roney had been living at the Greenlund hotel, 3900 Central avenue, in Minneapolis, but his home was at Devils Lake, N. D.

The engineer on the passenger train was Charles E. Forsythe, 2425 Taylor street NE, Minneapolis. He was slightly injured and so were four of the passengers.

If you are tired of buying "cure" by the pound, try a little "prevention" by the ounce. Begin by advertising for a new tenant before the old one leaves!
