PRES. ROOSEVELT ON THE MASSACHUSETTS LAW

"Here in Massachusetts you have what I regard as, on the whole, excellent corporation laws. I think that most of our difficulties would be in a fair way of solution if we had the power to put on the national statute books, and did put on them, laws for the nation like those you have here, on the subject of corporations in Massachusetts."

The Massachusetts insurance laws are a part of the general corporation laws to which President Roosevelt refers. The insurance laws are conceded to be superior to those of any other state, and the developments in the New York investigation have emphasized the wisdom and the superiority of these laws, so that insurers now see the advantage of placing their insurance in a Massachusetts company more than ever before.

Married Women

Every woman covets a shapely, pretty figure, and many of them deplore the loss of their girlish form after marriage. The bearing of children is often destructive to the mother's shapeliness. All of this can be avoided, however, by the use of Mother's Friend before baby comes, as this great liniment always prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of her form. Mother's Friend overcomes all the danger of child-birth, and carries the expectant mother safely through this critical period without pain. It is woman's greatest blessing. Thousands gratefully tell of the benefit and relief derived from the use of this wonderful remedy. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Our little book, telling all about this liniment, will be sent free.

Directory of Candidates in Sight for State Offices—Dinehart Out for Treasurer—Owatonna Paper Launches Diment in Gubernatorial Race—Legislative Gossip.

Herewith is a list of actual and possible candidates for state office. It does not include a number of "mentionees" who have bobbed up spasmodically during the past few months. It does not include a good many who are not now candidates, especially in the list of possibilities for governor. Some in that list have declared they would not be candidates, but the situation is so peculiar that the convention may do almost anything, and the list does not pretend to exhaust possibilities. It will be convenient, however, as a directory. The list follows:

Governor—Samuel Lord, Kasson; Julius H. Block, St. Peter; J. F. Jacobson, Madison; Peter E. Hanson, Litchfield; Loren Fletcher, Minneapolis; A. L. Cole, Walker; Frank M. Eddy, Sauk Center; J. M. Diment, Owatonna; A. H. Lindeler, St. Paul; Lyman D. Baird, Austin; W. B. Douglas, St. Paul; C. L. Staples, West St. Paul; Granville S. Pease, Anoka; H. W. Childs, St. Paul.

Lieutenant Governor—C. M. Sprague, Sauk Center; A. D. Stephens, Crookston; L. O. Thorpe, Willmar; B. B. Hawkins, Biwabik.

Secretary of State—Julius Schmalz, Redwood Falls; E. A. Nelson, Hallock; Thomas H. Girling, Minneapolis; J. Lommen, Ada; Captain Joseph Osborne, Minneapolis; M. S. Noellius, Vasa.

State Treasurer—P. C. Koerner, Litchfield; Louis G. Vogel, New Ulm; Clarence C. Dinehart, Slayton; Henry Feig, Atwater.

State Auditor—S. G. Iverson, Rushford; Odin Halden, Duluth.

Attorney General—E. T. Young, Appleton.

Railroad and Warehouse Commissioner—C. F. Staples, West St. Paul.

Clerk of the Supreme Court—C. A. Plügeon, Buffalo; Walter T. Lemons, St. Paul.

Chief Justice of the Supreme Court—Charles M. Start, Rochester.

The latest addition to the list of candidates is Clarence C. Dinehart of Slayton, Murray county, who is announced by the Slayton Gazette as a candidate for state treasurer. The announcement states that he has received assurances of support from every county in the second district, which ought to give him the district delegation solid. Nothing is said as to the probable course of Louis G. Vogel of New Ulm, who was a candidate in 1904 and has been expected to enter. If the Dinehart proposition is so strongly endorsed Vogel will probably keep out; otherwise there would be a fight for the support of the district.

This column commented only two days ago on the situation as to treasurer, but will not claim any credit for including the Dinehart entry. Slayton man and his mind made up before. His qualifications are stated by his home paper as follows: He is a graduate of the University of Minnesota and of the law school of Harvard university. He has served as mayor of Slayton and is a stockholder of the State Bank of Slayton. In secretary of the Dinehart & Week Security company and is interested in important financial institutions. Aside from his academic and legal training, Mr. Dinehart's association with the banking business has been especially for the important work of handling the state's cash. Besides these qualifications, he is a man of high character, of sterling integrity, a man that would reflect credit on any position.

The Owatonna Journal of Thursday contained what looks very much like an announcement of James M. Diment as a candidate for governor. Diment's name is commended to republicans of the state as a suitable choice in an article which gives him a splendid eulogy, but says nothing as to his attitude. It is presumed that the endorsement was not printed without cause. There has been considerable Diment talk during months past, and it now begins to look serious. The editorial says in part: "Widely as he is known, Mr. Diment has no political enemies to push any private schemes to advance; he wears no man's collar; he does his own thinking and keeps his own counsel. His methods are conservative."

The McKinley day banquet in Minneapolis Monday night is going to be a regular gathering of the class of 1904. Many prominent republicans from outside the twin cities will be there, including a good many candidates, and it promises to be the opening love-feast of the state campaign. Another will come in St. Paul, Feb. 12.

The Fairmont Independent says Jacobson should suit the Dunn men as a candidate, because he "politically is Mr. Dunn's twin." That's good enough for a funny column. Dunn and Jacobson resemble each other politically because they are so different. No two men in Minnesota have been so diametrically opposed on live state issues in recent years. The incident of the extra session in 1902 is still fresh in memory, when Dunn was fighting the tax code and Jacobson was its chief champion; when Jacobson attacked Dunn on the floor of the house for his inconsistency and his activity against the bill, and when Dunn appeared before the senate to talk against Jacobson's substitute bill. It was in that same year that the merger issue developed. Jacobson was enthusiastic for an anti-merger man; Dunn was Van Sant's chief critic. Dunn in his campaign for governor had Mr. Hill's "best wishes"; Jacobson always had his worst. They are a funny pair of "political twins."

The St. Cloud Journal-Press has the following expression of its opinion on the convention date, the representation, the candidate and the platform: "It gives an early convention, with a platform in harmony with President Roosevelt's policy, and the voters will do the rest. The corporation laws are the policy of the party, and this fact might as well be recognized and a candidate selected who stands for the people and who has a record in harmony with this idea. There has been more or less discussion as to whether the vote should be based upon the President Roosevelt, the vote for governor or the average vote of all the candidates on the ticket. The latter is the fairest to all sections of the state."

The Austin Transcript says: "Elsewhere we report an item from the Minneapolis Journal indicating a movement for Lyman D. Baird, of this city for the next republican candidate for governor. He certainly would make a strong and worthy candidate. He is a native of Minnesota, is entirely free from political entanglements, has never succeeded in all his undertakings and is genial and popular. J. A. Johnson's friends worked the native-born Baird into a session of the legislature. He has a native-born candidate in Baird that would outclass Johnson in ability, good judgment and in other important particulars."

A contest is threatened over the senatorship in Freeborn county between Ole I. Oppahl of Mansfield, one of the representatives in session, and C. Blackmer of Albert Lea. An effort is being made to get the two to run for different offices, in the interests of harmony. Senator Morgan is not a candidate for reelection.

R. H. Jefferson of Bingham Lake, whose independence and ability as a fighter won attention in the last house, is likely to be a candidate for the senate in the Jackson-Cottonwood district. Captain D. L. Riley of Lakefield, a former representative, and W. G. Malchow of Wilder are possible candidates from Jackson county.

The Ortonville Herald-Star says that F. M. Geier of that village may contest the senatorial nomination in the fifty-sixth district with Senator H. W. Stone of Benson.

W. I. Nolan has reconsidered his farewell, and says he expects to be a candidate for reelection to the house, where he has served two terms and won a high position. He has been invited to run for the senate, for alderman and for county commissioner, and is going back to the house as re-elected. President the other representative from the forty-second will probably be a candidate against

It is so Easy to Read

That you turn over page after page with that pleasant surprise which greets you when you open your favorite monthly magazine. The Magazine of The Sunday Journal is so different from the usual Sunday sections that there is no comparison.

The Tremendous Popularity of Conan Doyle's Entrancing Romance

has caused an insistent demand for The Sunday Journal, but the installments so far published will be supplied free on request to new subscribers. Think of paying $25,000 for magazine rights only of this story for this publication. Isn't this proof positive that the best is obtained for Sunday Journal readers whatever the cost?

And the other features are a fitting accompaniment to this greatest of stories by the greatest living story writer. For example, next Sunday's issue contains, besides "Sir Nigel":

Theatrical Premiers

By Bronson Howard, the famous American playwright. Describes first nights in London and New York. Unique stories about first-night failures and successes.

The Rancher's Ball

By Agnes C. Laut, the noted historian of the Northwest. This is a ludicrous tale of a cowboy ball.

John Habberton

Author of "Helen's Babies," presents a novel solution of the question, "What Are the Best Stories?"

There is Attractive Miscellany in Prose and Verse, Anecdote, Wit, Humor and Sentiment—something for Everybody

The beautiful first page in rich colors, by Karl Anderson, "Wanted—Another Pair of Skates," is a fitting introduction to the many illustrations by other famous artists which adorn the text. The Karl Anderson Girl, if always as charming as she is in her skating costume, is quite likely to become as popular as any of the celebrated "Artist" girls.

THE SUNDAY JOURNAL MAGAZINE

FREE TO THE SICK

If you are sick I want to help you. I want to show you the way to future happiness, and I offer you free my beautiful book, illustrated with photographs of fully developed people, showing how many begin to break down as a result of overwork, and how they recover the health of youth in a few weeks' application of electricity. This book contains a lot of information which explains many points they want to know.

It is written in plain language, and the illustrations are of the highest type of art, showing the best developed specimens of bodily strength. No one who feels any doubt as to their physical powers should be without this book. I send it closely sealed, without marks, free, if you will send the coupon below.

MY WAY OF RESTORING STRENGTH IS DIFFERENT FROM ALL OTHERS.

It's easy to be cured my way. You put my appliance on when you go to bed; you feel a glowing warmth passing through your body and the electric power gives you new life. When you wake up in the morning you feel bright, lively and vigorous, and you wonder where your pains and aches have gone. My belt has removed the cause and they will never return. That's a better way than making a drug store of your stomach. And who ever saw anybody actually cured by drugs? I tell you drugs don't cure, and if you have tried them you know it. Nearly all my patients tried drugs first.

I CURE WHERE OTHERS FAIL.

I want to talk with those who have tried every other known remedy; those who have about given up trying and think that there is no cure for them. I don't think you do justice to yourself if your poor stomach with drugs day after day, when you don't see anything but temporary stimulation in them. (If you want stimulation, take whisky; it is alcohol, like the drugs, and does less harm than the same way.) I want to explain how health is restored by electricity, and I can prove to you that strength is nothing but electricity. Then you can see that your sickness can be cured by electricity and can understand why drugs don't cure you. Come and let me show you the only road to health, strength and happiness. No healthy person was ever unhappy, because a heart full of vitality is light and joyous, and quickly shakes off the gloom and depression which is called grief. Some people are unhappy without cause. That is depression due to ill health.
